_____)

COMES NOW, Sorenson Engineering, Inc. (“Sorenson”) by and through its attorney of record, Peter J. Richardson, and files its erratum to Comments filed in the above captioned docket.

In said comments the following sentence was inadvertently inserted twice on page one of the Comments:

It is a successful engineer, developer, owner and operator of numerous small power production facilities in the Northwest.

In addition, in the second to the last paragraph on page three of the Comments the following sentence omitted the word “not” which word is included and underscored below:

Under this set of circumstances a dispute over specific power purchase agreement terms is not yet relevant since the drafting of an initial agreement has not occurred or a draft agreement has not been provided by the Public Utility.

Please note the above changes on your copy of our comments. In addition, for your convenience, we have enclosed herewith replacement pages one and three for your files.

Respectfully submitted this 10th day of June, 2008.

proposed rule(s) to any circumstances whereby a potential qualifying facility is attempting to complete the application phase for a power purchase agreement but has not been successful in meeting the conditions or requirements as determined by the discretion of the Public Utility or due to the Public Utility's own actions or inactions. Under this set of circumstances a dispute over specific power purchase agreement terms is not yet relevant since the drafting of an initial agreement has not occurred or a draft agreement has not been provided by the Public Utility.

In summary, any qualifying facility should be afforded the option to utilize the dispute resolution rule(s), while not being precluded from any other available remedies provided that the underlying issue of disagreement between the qualifying facility and the Public Utility can be demonstrated to be jurisdictional to the Commission.

Respectfully submitted this 10th day of June, 2008.
