United States Cellular (U.S. Cellular) Unfulfilled Voice and Broadband Telephony Service Requests Resolution FCC Form 481 Line 310/330

If a request comes from a customer residing in any area where U.S. Cellular does not provide service, U.S. Cellular follows a series of steps to provide service:

- * First, it determines whether the customer's equipment can be modified or replaced to provide acceptable service;
- * Second, it determines whether a roof-mounted antenna or other network equipment can be deployed at the premises to provide service;
- * Third, it determines whether adjustments at the nearest cell site can be made to provide service;
- * Fourth, it determines whether there are any other adjustments to network or customer facilities which can be made to provide service;
- * Fifth, it explores the possibility of offering the resold service of carriers that have facilities available to that location; and
- * Sixth, U.S. Cellular determines whether an additional cell site, a cell-extender, or repeater can be employed or constructed to provide service, and evaluates the costs and benefits of using scarce high-cost support to serve the number of customers requesting service.

If there is no possibility of providing service short of these measures, U.S. Cellular will notify the customer and notify the Commission as to the number of requests for service that could not be filled in its next annual report filed pursuant to Section 54.313 of the Commission's Rules.

Functionality in Emergency Situations

FCC Form 481 Line 610

Section 54.313(a)(6) requires ETCs to certify that they are “able to function in emergency situations as set forth in §54.202(a)(2)”¹ in connection with their provision of voice and broadband services. Although the Commission’s Rules do not require an ETC to describe how it is capable of handling emergencies, Section 54.202(a)(2) of the Commission’s Rules requires that each eligible telecommunications carrier (“ETC”) applicant must “[d]emonstrate its ability to remain functional in emergency situations, including a demonstration that it has a reasonable amount of back-up power to ensure functionality without an external power source, is able to re-route traffic around damaged facilities, and is capable of managing traffic spikes resulting from emergency situations.”² Although United States Cellular Corporation is not an applicant, it will rely on Section 54.202(a)(2) to describe its network’s emergency functionality for purposes of Section 54.313(a)(6) as follows:

United States Cellular Corporation: 1) deploys generators, batteries, and microwave facilities to ensure that a reasonable amount of back-up power is available to ensure functionality without an external power source; 2) employs a state-of-the art National Network Operations Center (“NNOC”) which monitors and manages our redundant core network to ensure our customers’ voice and broadband services are fully operational; and (3) United States Cellular Corporation uses a combination of technologies to manage spikes in voice and broadband traffic resulting from emergency situations.

U.S. Cellular contacted the Tribal Governments via certified letter on November 12, 2012 and again, with a follow up letter on December 21, 2012, January 14, 2014, August 28, 2014, August 27, 2015, and August 26, 2016, to request a meeting to discuss the above matters.
