Dear John Savage:

I'm very sorry to hear that P.U.C. has made a draft recommendation that Oregon get rid of net metering. This recommendation is in direct contradiction of the state's goal of reducing greenhouse gas emissions. Net metering has accelerated the growth of renewable energy in Oregon, and has served the general public, even those of us who do not have electricity to return to the grid. Please reconsider the draft recommendation.

Dear Commissioner Stephen Bloom,

We support net metering! PUC's draft recommendations that Oregon get rid of net metering is in direct contradiction to Oregon's stated goals to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Net metering has accelerated the growth of renewable energy, and helps everyone - except ALEC.

Sincerely yours,

Kate Gessert
