IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Telephone Assistance Available For Those That Qualify

Telephone service is vital for connecting people with family, friends, businesses and emergency services. That's why Qwest® offers assistance programs that make telephone service more affordable for eligible customers.

Lifeline provides eligible customers with a monthly credit to help offset the cost of their home telephone line. (Telephone service must be billed to the individual applying for assistance.)

Link-Up provides eligible customers with a one-time credit to help offset the installation charge for a home telephone line. Customers who qualify for Lifeline assistance automatically receive the Link-Up credit if their application for telephone assistance is received within 60 days of their home phone installation date and if they have not previously received a Link-Up credit at the same address.

Who is Eligible?

Customers are generally eligible for these telephone assistance programs if they already participate in low-income programs such as Medicaid, Food Stamps, Public Housing Assistance, Low-Income Home Energy Assistance, or the National School Lunch Program. In some states, individuals will also qualify if their household income is at or below 135% of the poverty guidelines.

To learn more about the eligibility requirements in your state and how to apply for telephone assistance, visit www.qwest.com/TAP or call Qwest at 1 800-244-1111.

Federal Universal Service Fund Increases

The Federal Universal Service Fund (USF) rate for residential and single-line business customers is increasing from 10.2% to 10.9%, effective April 1, 2006. The USF surcharge is used to keep local telephone service affordable for all customers. Qwest will apply the new rate against all Qwest local line, high-speed Internet, private-line interstate, long-distance interstate and international charges. The rate for Centrex and multi-line business customers varies by state as follows:

State	Centrex (per individual station)		Multi-line (per individual line or trunk)

 - Telephone Equipment

*A Teletypewriter (TTY) or telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) allows a person to plug a regular telephone into a small keyboard that has a visual terminal. When one TTY user calls another, they can communicate by typing what they want to say to one another. Users can choose to print out the message or read it on a screen.

Telephone Assistance Programs

Qwest supports the following Telephone Assistance Programs designed to reduce the cost of telephone service for qualifying low-income customers who currently receive government assistance from programs such as Food Stamps and Medicaid.

Lifeline Service reduces the monthly cost of your residential phone line. The amount of the credit will vary depending on your state.

Tribal Lifeline Service reduces the cost of a residential phone line to as little as $1 per month (plus applicable taxes and surcharges) for qualifying customers who live on Tribal Lands. For both of these programs, the telephone service must be provided at your primary residence, and the name on the phone bill must match the name of the person who is eligible for the program.

Link Up Assistance reduces the cost of installing your main phone line by 50% and provides a deferred payment schedule for additional installation charges. Link Up benefits are only available on one phone line per household, and Link Up credits cannot be applied towards the cost of jacks and wiring.

To learn more about Telephone Assistance Programs and eligibility in your state, contact the Center for Customers with Disabilities or visit www.lifelinesupport.org.

Relay Service is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. There are no restrictions on the number or length of calls you can make. Long-distance calls placed for you can be billed collect, charged to a pre-paid calling card or charged through third-party billing.

Making a call is simple:

- Dial 711 or the TRS toll-free number listed in your telephone directory
- You'll be connected with a communications assistant (they're trained to help your conversation flow easily and accurately)
- Give the communications assistant the number you would like to call
- The agent will stay on the line
- All calls are confidential

TRS providers offer Captioned Telephone and Hearing-Carry-Over (HCO), for people with hearing loss to receive word-for-word captions of the conversation while listening to the voice of the other party; Spanish Relay, for Spanish speaking hearing- or speech-disabled individuals; Speech-to-Speech (STS), for individuals with speech difficulties to converse with the help of a specially trained CA; Text Telephone (TTY) relay; Computer (ASCII) relay; and Voice-Carry-Over (VCO), for people who have difficulty hearing on the phone to voice their conversations directly to the hearing person and receive the other party's conversation as text.
