Re: CP 1517
In re the Cancellation of the Certificate of Authority Held by Onvoy, Inc.
Request for Reconsideration

Dear Ms. Meerdink:

On behalf of Onvoy, Inc. ("Onvoy"), this letter notifies the Commission that Onvoy has submitted a Residential Service Protection Fund ("RSPF") Exception Form (attached) with the Commission and, therefore, is now current with its RSFP filing requirements. Further, Onvoy requests that the Commission reconsider Order No. 12-383 cancelling Onvoy's Certificate of Authority ("CoA") for failure to comply with the RSPF reporting requirements and reinstate Onvoy's CoA at the earliest possible date.

At this time, Onvoy does not provide services that would obligate Onvoy to contribute to the RSPF and failed to file the required Exception Form due to an oversight. Onvoy is now aware of its obligation to file annually the Exception Form or file monthly a RSPF report when it no longer qualifies for an exception. Onvoy apologizes for its former oversight and will endeavor to comply with all Commission requirements in the future.

Should you have any questions regarding this filing, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Respectfully submitted,

Jean L. Kiddoo

Oregon Public Utility Commission (PUC) Residential Service Protection Fund (RSPF) Surcharge Exception Form

Chapter 290, Section 7, Oregon Laws 1987 states, in relevant part, as follows:

The surcharge shall be applied on a telecommunications circuit designated for a particular subscriber. One subscriber line shall be counted for each circuit that is capable of generating usage on the line side of the switched network regardless of the quantity of customer premises equipment connected to each circuit. For providers of central office based services, the surcharge shall be applied to each line that has unrestricted connection to the telecommunications relay service. These central office based service lines that have restricted access to the telecommunications relay service shall be charged based on software design. For cellular, wireless or other radio common carriers, the surcharge must be applied on a per instrument basis, but applies only to subscribers whose place of primary use, as defined and determined under 4 U.S.C. 116 to 126, is within this state.

Please complete this form if your company is not collecting and/or remitting the RSPF surcharge from its telephone or cellular customers.
