Re: Preferred Long Distance, Inc., Fictitious Name Assumption and CMRS and VoIP
Service Initiation Notification

Dear Mr. Conway:

Preferred Long Distance, Inc. ("Preferred") hereby requests that the Oregon Public Utility Commission ("Commission") amend Preferred's Oregon Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity ("CPC&N") to reflect the Company's adoption of two fictitious names associated with its provision of telecommunications services in Oregon. Preferred further provides the Commission with courtesy notification of the Company's initiation of Voice over Internet Protocol ("iVoIP") services and Commercial Mobile Radio Services ("CMRS").

Preferred maintains a CPC&N to provide competitive local exchange and interexchange telecommunications services in Oregon.¹ The Company is now separately planning to provide iVoIP services and CMRS in Oregon.² To distinguish between services, Preferred has registered four fictitious, "doing business as," names: "Telplex," "Telplex Communications," "Ringplanet," "Ringplanet Communications" with the State of Oregon Secretary of State. A copy of each the Company's Trade Name Registrations from the State of Oregon Secretary of State is attached as evidence of name registration.

² It is Preferred's understanding that no additional authority is required for Preferred to initiate its provision of CMRS or iVoIP service in Arizona, though the Company takes this opportunity to advise the Commission of the Company's intent to introduce these services in Arizona.

Current and new retail³ local exchange and/or interexchange telecommunications service subscribers and subscribers that presubscribe to the Company's retail local exchange and/or interexchange telecommunications and CMRS services will be served under the "Preferred Long Distance, Inc. dba Telplex Communications" or shortened "Preferred Long Distance, Inc. dba Telplex" name. Subscribers that do not presubscribe to the Company's retail local exchange and/or interexchange services but presubscribe to the Company's CMRS and/or iVoIP service will be served under the "Preferred Long Distance, Inc. dba Ringplanet Communications" or shortened "Preferred Long Distance, Inc. dba Ringplanet" name. The Company's operations and contact information of record with the Commission remain otherwise unchanged. Notification of trade name assumption has been sent to current subscribers of record.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Questions may be directed to the undersigned.

Sincerely,

MILLER ISAR, INC.
