SUPPLEMENT, DATED MARCH 18, 2013, TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR, DATED SEPTEMBER 15, 2010

The opinions of Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, Portland, Oregon, delivered on September 29, 1992 stated that under then existing laws, court decisions, rulings and regulations: (a) assuming continuing compliance by the Issuers with their covenants relating to the federal tax-exempt status of the interest on the Bonds, under Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the interest on the Bonds was not then includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners thereof (other than any Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Facilities relating to such Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and rules and regulations promulgated or applicable thereunder); and (b) the State of Wyoming imposed no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. Bond Counsel also observed that the interest on the Bonds would not be subject to the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. Such opinion has not been updated. In the opinions of Chapman and Cutler to be delivered in connection with the delivery of the Replacement Letters of Credit, the delivery of the Replacement Letters of Credit will not adversely affect the status of interest on the related Bonds as not includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE REOFFERING CIRCULAR DATED SEPTEMBER 15, 2010, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED HERETO AS APPENDIX E (THE “ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR” AND, TOGETHER WITH THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR, THE “REOFFERING CIRCULAR”), WAS PREPARED IN CONNECTION WITH THE OFFERING OF THREE SEPARATE ISSUES OF BONDS RELATING TO THE COMPANY.

THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR DOES NOT CONTAIN COMPLETE DESCRIPTIONS OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION WHICH IS SET FORTH IN THE ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR, EXCEPT WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A CHANGE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR MORE RECENT INFORMATION SINCE THE DATE OF THE ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR SHOULD THEREFORE BE READ ONLY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR.

This Supplement to Reoffering Circular is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the reoffering of three separate issues of revenue refunding bonds (collectively, the “Bonds”) in the aggregate principal amount of $38,125,000, issued by the respective issuers (individually, the “Issuer,” and, collectively, the “Issuers”), as follows:

- (i) $22,485,000 aggregate principal amount of Converse County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1992 (the “Converse Bonds”);
- (ii) $9,335,000 aggregate principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1992A (the “Sweetwater 1992A Bonds”); and
- (iii) $6,305,000 aggregate principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1992B (the “Sweetwater 1992B Bonds,” referred to collectively with the Sweetwater 1992A Bonds as the “Sweetwater Bonds”).

The Converse Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds were issued pursuant to separate Trust Indentures, each dated as of September 1, 1992, each as heretofore amended and supplemented (individually, an “Original Indenture” and, collectively, the “Original Indentures”), and as further amended and restated by separate Third Supplemental Trust Indentures, each dated as of September 1, 2010 (individually, a “Third Supplemental Indenture” and, collectively, the “Third Supplemental Indentures”), and each between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as Trustee (the “Trustee”). The Original Indentures, as amended and restated by the Third Supplemental Indentures, are sometimes individually referred to herein as an “Indenture” and collectively as the “Indentures.”

Pursuant to separate Loan Agreements, each dated as of September 1, 1992 (individually, an “Original Loan Agreement” and, collectively, the “Original Loan Agreements”) between the respective Issuers and PacifiCorp (the “Company”), as amended and restated by separate First Supplemental Loan Agreements, each dated as of September 1, 2010 (the “First Supplemental Loan Agreement”), between the Company and the respective Issuer, the respective Issuers have loaned the proceeds from the sale of the Converse Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds to the Company. Under the Agreements, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds (the “Loan Payments”) and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds to be purchased at the option of the Owners thereof or upon mandatory tender thereof. The Original Loan Agreements, as amended and restated by the First Supplemental Loan Agreements, are sometimes individually referred to herein as a “Loan Agreement” and collectively as the “Loan Agreements.”

The Bonds of each issue contain substantially the same terms and provisions as, but will be entirely separate from, the Bonds of any other issue. The Bonds of one issue will not be payable from or entitled to any revenues delivered to the Trustee in respect of Bonds of any other issue. The mechanism for determining the interest rate may result in a rate for the Bonds of one issue different from that of the Bonds of any other issue. Redemption of the Bonds of one issue may be made in the manner described in the Reoffering Circular without redemption of any other issue, and a default in respect of the Bonds of one issue will not of itself constitute a default in respect of the Bonds of any other issue; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default with respect to the Bonds of all issues.

The Bonds of each issue, together with premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited and not general, obligations of the applicable Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the applicable Issuer nor any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof, shall be payable solely from the applicable Revenues (as defined in the applicable Indenture and which includes moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit) and other moneys pledged therefor under the applicable Indenture, and shall be a valid claim of the respective holders thereof only against the applicable Bond Fund (as defined in the applicable Indenture), Revenues and other moneys held by the Trustee as part of the applicable Trust Estate (as defined in the applicable Indenture). The Issuers shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of any of the Bonds from any source.

No recourse shall be had for the payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any of the Bonds or for any claim based thereon or upon any obligation, covenant or agreement contained in any Indenture, against any past, present or future officer or employee of any Issuer, or any incorporator, officer, director or member of any successor corporation, as such, either directly, or through any Issuer or any successor corporation, under any rule of law or equity, statute or constitution or by the enforcement of any assessment or penalty or otherwise, and all such liability of any such incorporator, officer, director or member as such was expressly waived and released as a condition of and in consideration for the execution of each Indenture and the issuance of any of the Bonds.

The Company has exercised its right under the Agreement and the Indenture to terminate the three separate Letters of Credit, each dated September 22, 2010 (individually, a “Existing Letter of Credit” and, collectively, the “Existing Letters of Credit”) and issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the “Prior Bank”), with respect to each issue of Bonds, each of which has supported payment of the principal, interest and purchase price of the applicable Bonds since the date the Existing Letters of Credit were issued. Pursuant to the Indentures, the Company has elected to replace each Existing Letter of Credit with a separate Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (individually, the “Letter of Credit,” and, collectively, the “Letters of Credit”) to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, a bank organized under the laws of Canada, acting through its New York Agency (the “Bank”). The three Letters of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee on March 26, 2013 (the “Effective Date”) and, after such date, the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letters of Credit.

With respect to the Bonds of each issue, the Trustee will be entitled to draw under the related Letter of Credit up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 48 days’ accrued interest on the applicable Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. Each Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn on with respect to related Bonds bearing interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate under the Indenture.

After the date of delivery of the Letters of Credit, the Company is permitted under the Agreements and the Indentures to provide a substitute letter of credit (the “Substitute Letter of Credit”), which is issued by the same Bank that issued the then existing Letter of Credit and which is identical to such Letter of Credit except for (i) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate (as defined in the Indenture), (ii) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period (as defined in the Indenture) or (iii) any combination of (i) and (ii). As used hereafter, “Letter of Credit” shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit from and after the issuance date thereof. The Company also is permitted under the Agreements and Indentures to provide for the delivery of an alternate credit facility, including a letter of credit of a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, or any other credit support agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or first mortgage bonds of the Company or an insurance policy), the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee (an “Alternate Credit Facility”), to replace a Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of a Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. See “THE LETTERS OF CREDIT” and the Reoffering Circular under the caption “THE BONDS—Purchase of Bonds.”

Prior to the delivery of the Letters of Credit, the Bonds of each issue were bearing interest at a Weekly Interest Rate. Following the delivery of the Letters of Credit, the Bonds of each issue will continue to bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate; each subject to the right of the Company to cause the interest rate on the Bonds of each issue to be converted to other interest rate determination methods as described in the Reoffering Circular.

Reference is hereby made to the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Brief descriptions of the Issuers, the Bonds, the Letters of Credit, the Reimbursement Agreements, the Agreements and the Indentures are included in this Supplement to Reoffering Circular, including the Original Reoffering Circular attached as Appendix E hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in Appendix A attached hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as Appendix B hereto. The descriptions herein, including in Appendix E, of the Agreements, the Indentures, the Letters of Credit and the Reimbursement Agreements are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois and at the principal offices of the Remarketing Agent in New York, New York. The letters of credit described in the Original Reoffering Circular are no longer in effect as of March 26, 2013 and the information in the Original Reoffering Circular with respect thereto should be disregarded.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT AND THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENTS

The following is a brief summary of certain provisions of the Replacement Letters of Credit and those certain Letter of Credit and Reimbursement Agreements, each dated March 26, 2013, as amended and supplemented, and each between the Company and The Bank of Nova Scotia (together with all related documents, the "Reimbursement Agreements"). This summary is not a complete recital of the terms of the Replacement Letters of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreements and reference is made to each Replacement Letter of Credit or each Reimbursement Agreement, as applicable, in its entirety.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT

Each Replacement Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of the Bank to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 48 days' accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letters of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate pursuant to the related Indenture. The Replacement Letters of Credit will be substantially in the forms attached hereto as Appendix F. The Replacement Letters of Credit will be issued pursuant to three separate Letter of Credit Reimbursement Agreements, each dated March 26, 2013 (each, a "Reimbursement Agreement"), and each between the Company and the Bank.

The Bank's obligation under each Replacement Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee to pay the purchase price of applicable Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest only on the applicable Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the applicable Replacement Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated on the eighth (8th) Business Day following the Bank's honoring of such drawing by the amount drawn, unless the Trustee has received notice (a "Non-Reinstatement Notice") from the Bank by the seventh (7th) Business Day following the date of such honoring that there will be no reinstatement.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of Bonds due to an event of default under the applicable Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the applicable Replacement Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 48 days' interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds (less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Replacement Letter of Credit has not been reinstated).

Each Replacement Letter of Credit shall expire on the earliest of: (a) March 26, 2015 (such date, as it may be extended as provided in such Replacement Letter of Credit, the "Scheduled Expiration Date"), (b) four (4) Business Days following the Trustee's receipt of (i) written notice from the Bank that an event of default has occurred under the related Reimbursement Agreement or (ii) a Non-Reinstatement Notice, (c) the date that the Trustee informs the Bank that the conditions for termination of the Replacement Letter of Credit as set forth in the Indenture have been satisfied and that the Replacement Letter of Credit has terminated in accordance with its terms, (d) the date that is 15 days after the conversion of the related series of Bonds to an interest rate mode other than a daily rate or a weekly rate under the Indenture, and (e) the date of a final drawing under the applicable Replacement Letter of Credit.

REMARKETING AGENT

General. J.P. Morgan Securities LLC (the “Remarketing Agent”), will continue as remarketing agent for the Bonds. Subject to certain conditions, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to determine the rates of interest on the Bonds and use its best efforts to remarket all tendered Bonds.

In the ordinary course of its business, the Remarketing Agent has engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with the Company, its subsidiaries and its other affiliates, for which it has received and will receive customary compensation.

Special Considerations. The Remarketing Agent is paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent’s responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indentures and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Supplement. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Account. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own account. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own account and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to each Indenture and Remarketing Agreement, for each issue of Bonds, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the applicable Bonds (including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances, the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

TAX EXEMPTION

In connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, as Bond Counsel to the Company, delivered separate opinions on September 29, 1992 with respect to each issue of the Bonds. Such opinions have not been updated by either Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey or Chapman and Cutler LLP. No independent investigation has been made to confirm that the tax covenants of the Issuers and the Company have been complied with.

A copy of the opinion letters provided by Bond Counsel in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds is set forth in Appendix C, but inclusion of such copy of the opinion letters is not to be construed as a reaffirmation of the opinion contained therein. The opinion letters speak only as of their date.

Chapman and Cutler LLP, which is currently acting as Bond Counsel to the Company, will deliver opinions in connection with the delivery of the Letters of Credit to the effect that the delivery of the Letters of Credit complies with the terms of the applicable Loan Agreement and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt (as defined in the Indenture) status of the related issue of the Bonds. Except (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in the Chapman and Cutler LLP opinion, dated November 12, 1999, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1999, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2005, (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit and (e) as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Chapman and Cutler LLP has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to the prior opinions of Bond Counsel or the Bonds subsequent to their date of issuance.

The proposed forms of such opinions of Chapman and Cutler LLP are set forth in Appendix D. The opinions delivered in connection with delivery of the Letters of Credit are not to be interpreted as a reissuance of any of the original approving opinions as of the date of this Supplement to Reoffering Circular.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S Corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

We have reviewed a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance by Converse County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), of the above referenced bonds (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as from time to time supplemented and amended (the "Act"), a Bond Resolution of the County adopted on September 2, 1992 (the "Resolution") and a Trust Indenture dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Indenture") by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, a national banking association, as Trustee. All terms used in this opinion and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture.

The Bonds are being issued to provide funds which will be used to refund and redeem on October 1, 1992 the Issuer's Collateralized Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1976 (the "1976 Bonds") currently Outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $22,485,000. October 1, 1992 is the date set for the irrevocable redemption of all then outstanding 1976 Bonds. The Issuer will make the funds arising from the sale of the Bonds available to PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated September 1, 1992 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"), the proceeds of which Loan will be used, together with certain other moneys provided by the Company, to pay the principal of, and interest on, the 1976 Bonds on and after October 1, 1992 as such 1976 Bonds are presented for payment. The Bonds are dated as of September 1, 1992, commence to accrue interest as of the date of initial issuance and delivery thereof and bear interest at the rates, mature on the date, and are subject to purchase and optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity on the terms and conditions and at the prices, all as set forth in the Indenture.

The Bonds are secured by a pledge of the Trust Estate. The Trust Estate initially includes an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee for the account of the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on September 29, 1995, unless extended or renewed by the Bank. In addition, pursuant to the Indenture, the Letter of Credit may, under certain circumstances, be terminated, in which event it may (or under certain conditions, may not) be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon: (i) an opinion of even date herewith rendered by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, counsel to the Bank, and assumed the accuracy of certain opinions expressed by Henrici, Wicki & Guggisberg, Swiss Counsel to the Bank, regarding the due authorization, execution, delivery, validity and enforceability of the Letter of Credit, and (ii) an opinion of even date herewith of Thomas A. Burley, County Attorney of the Issuer, regarding the due execution and delivery of the Bonds.

We have assumed the genuineness of all documents and signatures presented to us. In addition, we have assumed (but express no opinion) that all documents, instruments, agreements and certificates required to be executed and delivered by parties other than the Issuer in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds and related transactions have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such parties. With respect to matters of fact relevant to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon (without having undertaken to independently verify) various certifications, representations and warranties made by the Company and other parties in the various documents relating to the issuance and sale of the Bonds, but have not undertaken to verify independently, and have assumed, the accuracy of the factual matters represented, warranted or certified in the documents, and all of the legal conclusions contained in the opinions, referred to herein. Furthermore, we have assumed compliance with all covenants and agreements contained in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the certificate executed by the Company on the date hereof regarding, among other things, compliance with the Code requirements necessary to assure that interest on the Bonds will not be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes. Furthermore, we have undertaken no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the Official Statement or other offering materials relating to the Bonds and express no opinion relating thereto.

Certain terms of the Bonds, and other terms, requirements and procedures contained or referred to in the Indenture and other relevant documents, may or will be adjusted or changed and certain actions may or will be taken, under the circumstances and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such documents. The opinions set forth below are qualified to the extent that we express no opinion as to whether, following any such adjustment or change or the taking of any such action, the interest on the Bonds will continue to be excludible for federal income tax purposes from the gross incomes of the Owners.

The opinions expressed herein are based on the analysis of existing laws, regulations, rulings and court decisions and cover certain matters not directly addressed by such authorities. Such opinions may be affected by actions taken or omitted or events occurring after the date hereof. We have not undertaken to determine, or to inform any person, whether such actions or events are taken or do occur. Our engagement with respect to the Bonds has concluded with their delivery, and we disclaim any obligation to update this letter.

In reliance on the opinions and certifications, representations and warranties described above and based upon our examination of the foregoing and the pertinent laws of the United States of America and the State of Wyoming and such other documents, certificates, instruments and agreements as we have deemed necessary or appropriate, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer has full power and authority under the Act to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to authorize, issue, execute, sell and deliver the Bonds for the purposes described in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement.

2. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, are in full force and effect, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with their terms.

3. The Bonds have been duly authorized, issued, delivered and sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law (including the Act) and constitute the valid, legal and binding limited obligations of the Issuer secured by the Indenture and enforceable in accordance with their terms and the terms of the Indenture.

4. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely and only from the Trust Estate pledged thereto under the Indenture. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer, nor are they payable out of any moneys or assets of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer not specifically pledged thereto. The Owners of the Bonds have no right to compel the Issuer to exercise its taxing powers for the purpose of paying any amounts owing under or with respect to the Bonds.

5. Under existing laws, rulings, regulations and judicial decisions, and assuming the continuing compliance by the Issuer and the Company with the Tax Covenants, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation pursuant to Section 103 of the Code (other than the gross income of an Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Project refinanced out of the proceeds of the Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Code).

The failure of the Issuer or the Company to continuously comply with the Tax Covenants as they relate to the Bonds could result in the interest on the Bonds becoming includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners and former Owners thereof, which includibility in gross income could be retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. We advise you that, as a practical matter, compliance with the Tax Covenants is a matter within the control of the Company and not the Issuer. We have not undertaken, and will not undertake, to monitor the continuing compliance by the Issuer or the Company with the Tax Covenants or to inform any person whether or not the Tax Covenants are being complied with.

The Bonds are "private activity bonds" within the meaning of Section 141(a) of the Code, however, the Bonds are being issued to refund bonds issued prior to August 8, 1986, and we observe that, as a consequence, the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of the federal alternative minimum taxes applicable to individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. However, we further observe that for purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations (as defined for federal income tax purposes), interest on the Bonds is taken into account in determining adjusted current earnings.

6. The State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Receipt of interest on tax-exempt obligations such as the Bonds may result in collateral federal or state tax consequences to certain individuals or other taxable entities. Except as set forth in paragraphs 5 and 6 above, we express no opinion regarding other federal or state tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of, or the accrual or receipt of interest with respect to, the Bonds.

The foregoing opinions are qualified to the extent that the rights or remedies of the Owners of the Bonds (including any rights or remedies conferred on the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds under the Indenture) and the enforceability of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement may be limited or otherwise affected by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws and general principles of equity affecting or limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, whether now existing or hereafter in effect. We express no opinion as to the investment quality of the Bonds or the adequacy or priority of the security therefor.

All parties to the transactions pertaining to the issuance and sale of the Bonds and their respective counsel may rely upon this opinion as if it were specifically addressed to each.

$9,335,000
POLLUTION CONTROL REFUNDING REVENUE BONDS
(PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1992A

We have reviewed a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), of the above referenced bonds (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as from time to time supplemented and amended (the "Act"), a Bond Resolution of the County adopted on September 14, 1992 (the "Resolution") and a Trust Indenture dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Indenture") by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, a national banking association, as Trustee. All terms used in this opinion and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture.

The Bonds are being issued to provide funds which will be used to refund and redeem on October 1, 1992 the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1975A (the "1975A Bonds") currently Outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $9,335,000. October 1, 1992 is the date set for the irrevocable redemption of all then outstanding 1975A Bonds. The Issuer will make the funds arising from the sale of the Bonds available to PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated September 1, 1992 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"), the proceeds of which Loan will be used, together with certain other moneys provided by the Company, to pay the principal of, and interest on, the 1975A Bonds on and after October 1, 1992 as such 1975A Bonds are presented for payment. The Bonds are dated as of September 1, 1992, commence to accrue interest as of the date of initial issuance and delivery thereof and bear interest at the rates, mature on the date, and are subject to purchase and optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity on the terms and conditions and at the prices, all as set forth in the Indenture.

The Bonds are secured by a pledge of the Trust Estate. The Trust Estate initially includes an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee for the account of the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on September 29, 1995, unless extended or renewed by the Bank. In addition, pursuant to the Indenture, the Letter of Credit may, under certain circumstances, be terminated, in which event it may (or under certain conditions, may not) be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon: (i) an opinion of even date herewith rendered by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, counsel to the Bank, and assumed the accuracy of certain opinions expressed by Henrici, Wicki & Guggisberg, Swiss Counsel to the Bank, regarding the due authorization, execution, delivery, validity and enforceability of the Letter of Credit, and (ii) an opinion of even date herewith of Sue Kearns, County and Prosecuting Attorney of the Issuer, regarding the due execution and delivery of the Bonds.

We have assumed the genuineness of all documents and signatures presented to us. In addition, we have assumed (but express no opinion) that all documents, instruments, agreements and certificates required to be executed and delivered by parties other than the Issuer in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds and related transactions have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such parties. With respect to matters of fact relevant to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon (without having undertaken to independently verify) various certifications, representations and warranties made by the Company and other parties in the various documents relating to the issuance and sale of the Bonds, but have not undertaken to verify independently, and have assumed, the accuracy of the factual matters represented, warranted or certified in the documents, and all of the legal conclusions contained in the opinions, referred to herein. Furthermore, we have assumed compliance with all covenants and agreements contained in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the certificate executed by the Company on the date hereof regarding, among other things, compliance with the Code requirements necessary to assure that interest on the Bonds will not be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes. Furthermore, we have undertaken no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the Official Statement or other offering materials relating to the Bonds and express no opinion relating thereto.

Certain terms of the Bonds, and other terms, requirements and procedures contained or referred to in the Indenture and other relevant documents, may or will be adjusted or changed and certain actions may or will be taken, under the circumstances and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such documents. The opinions set forth below are qualified to the extent that we express no opinion as to whether, following any such adjustment or change or the taking of any such action, the interest on the Bonds will continue to be excludible for federal income tax purposes from the gross incomes of the Owners.

The opinions expressed herein are based on the analysis of existing laws, regulations, rulings and court decisions and cover certain matters not directly addressed by such authorities. Such opinions may be affected by actions taken or omitted or events occurring after the date hereof. We have not undertaken to determine, or to inform any person, whether such actions or events are taken or do occur. Our engagement with respect to the Bonds has concluded with their delivery, and we disclaim any obligation to update this letter.

In reliance on the opinions and certifications, representations and warranties described above and based upon our examination of the foregoing and the pertinent laws of the United States of America and the State of Wyoming and such other documents, certificates, instruments and agreements as we have deemed necessary or appropriate, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer has full power and authority under the Act to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to authorize, issue, execute, sell and deliver the Bonds for the purposes described in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement.

2. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, are in full force and effect, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with their terms.

3. The Bonds have been duly authorized, issued, delivered and sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law (including the Act) and constitute the valid, legal and binding limited obligations of the Issuer secured by the Indenture and enforceable in accordance with their terms and the terms of the Indenture.

4. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely and only from the Trust Estate pledged thereto under the Indenture. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer, nor are they payable out of any moneys or assets of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer not specifically pledged thereto. The Owners of the Bonds have no right to compel the Issuer to exercise its taxing powers for the purpose of paying any amounts owing under or with respect to the Bonds.

5. Under existing laws, rulings, regulations and judicial decisions, and assuming the continuing compliance by the Issuer and the Company with the Tax Covenants, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation pursuant to Section 103 of the Code (other than the gross income of an Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Project refinanced out of the proceeds of the Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Code).

The failure of the Issuer or the Company to continuously comply with the Tax Covenants as they relate to the Bonds could result in the interest on the Bonds becoming includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners and former Owners thereof, which includibility in gross income could be retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. We advise you that, as a practical matter, compliance with the Tax Covenants is a matter within the control of the Company and not the Issuer. We have not undertaken, and will not undertake, to monitor the continuing compliance by the Issuer or the Company with the Tax Covenants or to inform any person whether or not the Tax Covenants are being complied with.

The Bonds are "private activity bonds" within the meaning of Section 141(a) of the Code, however, the Bonds are being issued to refund bonds issued prior to August 8, 1986, and we observe that, as a consequence, the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of the federal alternative minimum taxes applicable to individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. However, we further observe that for purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations (as defined for federal income tax purposes), interest on the Bonds is taken into account in determining adjusted current earnings.

6. The State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Receipt of interest on tax-exempt obligations such as the Bonds may result in collateral federal or state tax consequences to certain individuals or other taxable entities. Except as set forth in paragraphs 5 and 6 above, we express no opinion regarding other federal or state tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of, or the accrual or receipt of interest with respect to, the Bonds.

The foregoing opinions are qualified to the extent that the rights or remedies of the Owners of the Bonds (including any rights or remedies conferred on the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds under the Indenture) and the enforceability of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement may be limited or otherwise affected by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws and general principles of equity affecting or limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, whether now existing or hereafter in effect. We express no opinion as to the investment quality of the Bonds or the adequacy or priority of the security therefor.

All parties to the transactions pertaining to the issuance and sale of the Bonds and their respective counsel may rely upon this opinion as if it were specifically addressed to each.

$6,305,000
POLLUTION CONTROL REFUNDING REVENUE BONDS
(PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1992B

We have reviewed a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), of the above referenced bonds (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as from time to time supplemented and amended (the "Act"), a Bond Resolution of the County adopted on September 14, 1992 (the "Resolution") and a Trust Indenture dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Indenture") by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, a national banking association, as Trustee. All terms used in this opinion and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture.

The Bonds are being issued to provide funds which will be used to refund and redeem on December 1, 1992 the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1975B (the "1975B Bonds") currently Outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $6,305,000. December 1, 1992 is the date set for the irrevocable redemption of all then outstanding 1975B Bonds. The Issuer will make the funds arising from the sale of the Bonds available to PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated September 1, 1992 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"), the proceeds of which Loan will be used, together with certain other moneys provided by the Company, to pay the principal of, and interest on, the 1975B Bonds on and after December 1, 1992 as such 1975B Bonds are presented for payment. The Bonds are dated as of September 1, 1992, commence to accrue interest as of the date of initial issuance and delivery thereof and bear interest at the rates, mature on the date, and are subject to purchase and optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity on the terms and conditions and at the prices, all as set forth in the Indenture.

The Bonds are secured by a pledge of the Trust Estate. The Trust Estate initially includes an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee for the account of the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on September 29, 1995, unless extended or renewed by the Bank. In addition, pursuant to the Indenture, the Letter of Credit may, under certain circumstances, be terminated, in which event it may (or under certain conditions, may not) be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon: (i) an opinion of even date herewith rendered by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, counsel to the Bank, and assumed the accuracy of certain opinions expressed by Henrici, Wicki & Guggisberg, Swiss Counsel to the Bank, regarding the due authorization, execution, delivery, validity and enforceability of the Letter of Credit, and (ii) an opinion of even date herewith of Sue Kearns, County and Prosecuting Attorney of the Issuer, regarding the due execution and delivery of the Bonds.

We have assumed the genuineness of all documents and signatures presented to us. In addition, we have assumed (but express no opinion) that all documents, instruments, agreements and certificates required to be executed and delivered by parties other than the Issuer in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds and related transactions have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such parties. With respect to matters of fact relevant to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon (without having undertaken to independently verify) various certifications, representations and warranties made by the Company and other parties in the various documents relating to the issuance and sale of the Bonds, but have not undertaken to verify independently, and have assumed, the accuracy of the factual matters represented, warranted or certified in the documents, and all of the legal conclusions contained in the opinions, referred to herein. Furthermore, we have assumed compliance with all covenants and agreements contained in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the certificate executed by the Company on the date hereof regarding, among other things, compliance with the Code requirements necessary to assure that interest on the Bonds will not be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes. Furthermore, we have undertaken no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the Official Statement or other offering materials relating to the Bonds and express no opinion relating thereto.

Certain terms of the Bonds, and other terms, requirements and procedures contained or referred to in the Indenture and other relevant documents, may or will be adjusted or changed and certain actions may or will be taken, under the circumstances and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such documents. The opinions set forth below are qualified to the extent that we express no opinion as to whether, following any such adjustment or change or the taking of any such action, the interest on the Bonds will continue to be excludible for federal income tax purposes from the gross incomes of the Owners.

The opinions expressed herein are based on the analysis of existing laws, regulations, rulings and court decisions and cover certain matters not directly addressed by such authorities. Such opinions may be affected by actions taken or omitted or events occurring after the date hereof. We have not undertaken to determine, or to inform any person, whether such actions or events are taken or do occur. Our engagement with respect to the Bonds has concluded with their delivery, and we disclaim any obligation to update this letter.

In reliance on the opinions and certifications, representations and warranties described above and based upon our examination of the foregoing and the pertinent laws of the United States of America and the State of Wyoming and such other documents, certificates, instruments and agreements as we have deemed necessary or appropriate, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer has full power and authority under the Act to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to authorize, issue, execute, sell and deliver the Bonds for the purposes described in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement.

2. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, are in full force and effect, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with their terms.

3. The Bonds have been duly authorized, issued, delivered and sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law (including the Act) and constitute the valid, legal and binding limited obligations of the Issuer secured by the Indenture and enforceable in accordance with their terms and the terms of the Indenture.

4. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely and only from the Trust Estate pledged thereto under the Indenture. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer, nor are they payable out of any moneys or assets of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer not specifically pledged thereto. The Owners of the Bonds have no right to compel the Issuer to exercise its taxing powers for the purpose of paying any amounts owing under or with respect to the Bonds.

5. Under existing laws, rulings, regulations and judicial decisions, and assuming the continuing compliance by the Issuer and the Company with the Tax Covenants, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation pursuant to Section 103 of the Code (other than the gross income of an Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Project refinanced out of the proceeds of the Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Code).

The failure of the Issuer or the Company to continuously comply with the Tax Covenants as they relate to the Bonds could result in the interest on the Bonds becoming includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners and former Owners thereof, which includibility in gross income could be retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. We advise you that, as a practical matter, compliance with the Tax Covenants is a matter within the control of the Company and not the Issuer. We have not undertaken, and will not undertake, to monitor the continuing compliance by the Issuer or the Company with the Tax Covenants or to inform any person whether or not the Tax Covenants are being complied with.

The Bonds are "private activity bonds" within the meaning of Section 141(a) of the Code, however, the Bonds are being issued to refund bonds issued prior to August 8, 1986, and we observe that, as a consequence, the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of the federal alternative minimum taxes applicable to individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. However, we further observe that for purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations (as defined for federal income tax purposes), interest on the Bonds is taken into account in determining adjusted current earnings.

6. The State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Receipt of interest on tax-exempt obligations such as the Bonds may result in collateral federal or state tax consequences to certain individuals or other taxable entities. Except as set forth in paragraphs 5 and 6 above, we express no opinion regarding other federal or state tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of, or the accrual or receipt of interest with respect to, the Bonds.

The foregoing opinions are qualified to the extent that the rights or remedies of the Owners of the Bonds (including any rights or remedies conferred on the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds under the Indenture) and the enforceability of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement may be limited or otherwise affected by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws and general principles of equity affecting or limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, whether now existing or hereafter in effect. We express no opinion as to the investment quality of the Bonds or the adequacy or priority of the security therefor.

All parties to the transactions pertaining to the issuance and sale of the Bonds and their respective counsel may rely upon this opinion as if it were specifically addressed to each.

Re: $22,485,000
 Converse County, Wyoming
 Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
 (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with Section 4.03(b) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of September 1, 1992, as amended and restated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Loan Agreement"), between Converse County, Wyoming (the "Issuer") and PacifiCorp (the "Company"). Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the $22,485,000 Converse County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1992 (the "Bonds") was secured by an Irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Existing Letter of Credit"). On the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, New York Agency (the "Bank"), for the benefit of the Trustee (defined below).

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of that certain Trust Indenture, dated as of September 1, 1992, as amended and restated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee (the "Trustee"), and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.
2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey rendered their approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in our opinion dated November 12, 1999, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1999, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2005, (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated September 22, 2010 and (e) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Re: $9,335,000
Sweetwater County, Wyoming
Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992A

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with Section 4.03(b) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of September 1, 1992, as amended and restated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Loan Agreement"), between Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer") and PacifiCorp (the "Company"). Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the $9,335,000 Sweetwater County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1992A (the "Bonds") was secured by an Irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Existing Letter of Credit"). On the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, New York Agency (the "Bank"), for the benefit of the Trustee (defined below).

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of that certain Trust Indenture, dated as of September 1, 1992, as amended and restated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee (the "Trustee"), and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.
2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey rendered their approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in our opinion dated November 12, 1999, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1999, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2005, (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated September 22, 2010 and (e) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Re: $6,305,000
Sweetwater County, Wyoming
Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992B

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with Section 4.03(b) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of September 1, 1992, as amended and restated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Loan Agreement"), between Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer") and PacifiCorp (the "Company"). Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the $6,305,000 Sweetwater County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1992B (the "Bonds") was secured by an Irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Existing Letter of Credit"). On the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, New York Agency (the "Bank"), for the benefit of the Trustee (defined below).

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of that certain Trust Indenture, dated as of September 1, 1992, as amended and restated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee (the "Trustee"), and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.
2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey rendered their approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in our opinion dated November 12, 1999, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1999, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2005, (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated September 22, 2010 and (e) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX E

REOFFERING CIRCULAR DATED SEPTEMBER 15, 2010

REOFFERING CIRCULAR

NOT NEW ISSUES

Book-Entry Only

The opinions of Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, Portland, Oregon delivered on September 29, 1992 stated that under then existing laws, court decisions, rulings and regulations: (a) assuming continuing compliance by the Issuers with their covenants relating to the federal tax-exempt status of the interest on the Bonds, under Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the interest on the Bonds was not then includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners thereof (other than any Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Facilities relating to such Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and rules and regulations promulgated or applicable thereunder); and (b) the State of Wyoming imposed no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. Bond Counsel also observed that the interest on the Bonds would not be subject to the federal alternative minimum tax imposed on individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. Such opinion has not been updated. See "TAX EXEMPTION" for a more complete discussion.

The Bonds of each issue described in this Reoffering Circular are limited obligations of the respective Issuer and, except to the extent payable from Bond proceeds and certain other moneys pledged therefor, are payable solely from and secured by a pledge of payments to be made under the Loan Agreements entered into between the Issuer and

PacifiCorp

On September 22, 2010, the Bonds of each issue will be remarketed and will bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate payable the first Business Day of each month commencing October 1, 2010. The initial Weekly Interest Rate and each subsequent Weekly Interest Rate to be borne by each issue of Bonds will be determined by the Remarketing Agent. Thereafter, the interest rate on the Bonds may be changed from time to time to Daily, Weekly, Flexible or Term Interest Rates, designated and determined in accordance with the Indenture and, in the case of the Daily and Weekly Interest Rates, as described herein. The Bonds are subject to purchase at the option of the owners thereof and, under certain circumstances, are subject to mandatory purchase in the manner and at the times described herein. The Bonds are subject to optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity as described herein.

Following the remarketing of the Bonds on September 22, 2010, the payment of the principal of and interest on each issue of the Bonds and the payment of the purchase price of each issue of the Bonds tendered for purchase and not remarketed will be supported by a separate irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, to The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as Trustee, for the benefit of the registered holders of the related Bonds.

Wells Fargo Bank, National Association

Each Letter of Credit will expire by its terms on September 22, 2011, unless it expires earlier in accordance with its terms. Each Letter of Credit will be automatically extended to, and shall expire on September 22, 2012, unless the Trustee receives notice of the Bank's election not to extend on or before August 24, 2011. Each Letter of Credit may be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility as permitted under the Indenture and Loan Agreement. Unless a Letter of Credit is extended before its scheduled expiration date, the related Bonds will be subject to mandatory tender for purchase prior to such expiration date. THIS REOFFERING CIRCULAR ONLY PERTAINS TO THE BONDS WHILE THEY ARE SECURED BY THE LETTERS OF CREDIT PROVIDED BY THE BANK.

The Bonds are issuable as fully registered Bonds without coupons and will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as registered owner and nominee for The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York. DTC initially will act as securities depository for the Bonds. Only beneficial interests in book-entry form are being offered. The Bonds are issuable during any Weekly Interest Rate Period in denominations of $100,000 and any integral multiple thereof (provided that one Bond need not be in a multiple of $100,000 but may be in such denomination greater than $100,000 as is necessary to account for any principal amount of the Bonds not corresponding directly with $100,000 denominations). So long as Cede & Co. is the registered owner of the Bonds, as nominee for DTC, the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds will be paid by the Trustee directly to DTC, which will, in turn, remit such amounts to DTC participants for subsequent disbursement to the beneficial owners of the Bonds. See "THE BONDS—Book-Entry System."

The Bonds are reoffered by the Remarketing Agent referred to below, subject to withdrawal or modification of the offer without notice and certain other conditions. At the time of the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, Bond Counsel to the Company, delivered its opinion as to the legality of the Bonds. Such opinion spoke only as to its date of delivery and will not be reissued in connection with this reoffering. Certain legal matters in connection with the reoffering will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler LLP, Bond Counsel to the Company. Certain legal matters in connection with the remarketing will be passed upon for PacifiCorp by Paul J. Leighton, Esq., counsel to the Company. It is expected that delivery of the Bonds will be made through the facilities of DTC in New York, New York, on or about September 22, 2010.

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

This Reoffering Circular sets forth certain information with respect to three separate issues of pollution control revenue refunding bonds (individually, an “Issue” or a “Series” and collectively, the “Bonds”) as follows:

(i) $22,485,000 principal amount of Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992 (the “Converse Bonds”) issued by Converse County, Wyoming (“Converse”);

(ii) $9,335,000 principal amount of Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992A (the “Sweetwater 1992A Bonds”) issued by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (“Sweetwater”); and

(iii) $6,305,000 principal amount of Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992B (the “Sweetwater 1992B Bonds,” referred to collectively with the Sweetwater 1992A Bonds as the “Sweetwater Bonds” and, collectively with the Converse Bonds, the “Bonds”) issued by the Sweetwater Issuer.

Converse and Sweetwater are referred to individually as an “Issuer” and, collectively, as the “Issuers.”

The Converse Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds were issued pursuant to separate Trust Indentures, each dated as of September 1, 1992, each as heretofore amended and supplemented (individually, an “Original Indenture” and collectively, the “Original Indentures”), and as further amended and restated by separate Third Supplemental Trust Indentures, each dated as of September 1, 2010 (individually, a “Third Supplemental Indenture” and collectively, the “Third Supplemental Indentures”), and each between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as Trustee (the “Trustee”). The Original Indentures, as amended and restated by the Third Supplemental Indentures, are sometimes individually referred to herein as an “Indenture” and, collectively, as the “Indentures.”

Pursuant to separate Loan Agreements, each dated as of September 1, 1992 (individually an “Original Loan Agreement” and, collectively, the “Original Loan Agreements”) between the respective Issuers and PacifiCorp (the “Company”) as amended and restated by separate First Supplemental Loan Agreements, each dated as of September 1, 2010 (the “First Supplemental Loan Agreement”), between the Company and the respective Issuer, the respective Issuers have loaned the proceeds from the sale of the Converse Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds to the Company. Under the Agreements, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds (the “Loan Payments”) and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds to be purchased at the option of the Owners thereof or upon mandatory tender thereof. The Original Loan Agreements, as amended and restated by the First Supplemental Loan Agreements, are sometimes individually referred to herein as a “Loan Agreement”) and, collectively, as the “Loan agreements.”

The proceeds of the Converse Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used to provide for the redemption on October 1, 1992, of an equal principal amount of the Converse Issuer’s Collateralized Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1976 (the “Converse Series 1976 Bonds”). The Converse Series 1976 Bonds were issued to finance a portion of the cost of the acquisition, construction, improvement and installation of certain air and water pollution control facilities (the “Dave Johnston Project”) at the Company’s Dave Johnston coal-fired, steam electric generating plant (the “Dave Johnston Plant”) located in Converse County, Wyoming.

The proceeds of the Sweetwater 1992A Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used to provide for the redemption on October 1, 1992, of an equal principal amount of the Sweetwater Issuer’s Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1975A (the “Sweetwater Series 1975A Bonds”). The proceeds of the Sweetwater 1992B Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used to provide for the redemption on December 1, 1992 of an equal principal amount of the Sweetwater Issuer’s Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1975B (the “Sweetwater Series 1975B Bonds”). The Sweetwater Series 1975A Bonds and the Sweetwater Series 1975B Bonds were issued to finance a portion of the cost of the acquisition, construction, improvement and installation of the Company’s undivided 66 2/3% interest in certain air and water pollution control facilities (the “Jim Bridger Project” and, collectively with the Dave Johnston Project, the “Projects”) at the Jim Bridger coal-fired, steam electric generating plant (the “Jim Bridger Plant” and, collectively with the Dave Johnston Plant, the “Plant”) located in Sweetwater County, Wyoming.

The Converse Series 1976 Bonds, the Sweetwater Series 1975A Bonds and the Sweetwater 1975B Bonds, are hereinafter referred to collectively as the “Prior Bonds.”

The Bonds, together with the premium, if any, and interest thereon, will be limited obligations and not general obligations of the Issuer thereof. None of the Indentures, the Bonds or the Loan Agreements constitutes a debt or gives rise to a general obligation or liability of the Issuers or constitutes an indebtedness under any constitutional or statutory debt limitation. The Bonds of an Issue will not constitute or give rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuers thereof and will not constitute any charge against the Issuer’s general credit or taxing powers; nor will the Bonds of an Issue constitute an indebtedness of or a loan of credit of the Issuer. The Bonds are payable solely from the receipts and revenues to be received from the Company as payments under the Loan Agreements, and from any other moneys pledged therefor. Such receipts and revenues and all of the Issuer's rights and interests under the Loan Agreements (except as noted under "THE INDENTURES—Pledge and Security" below) are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security, equally and ratably, for the payment of the related Series of the Bonds. The payments required to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement will be sufficient, together with other funds available for such purpose, to pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the related Series of the Bonds. Under no circumstances will either Issuer have any obligation, responsibility or liability with respect to the Projects, the Loan Agreements, the Indentures, the Bonds or this Reoffering Circular, except for the special limited obligation set forth in the Indentures and the Loan Agreements whereby each Series of the Bonds is payable solely from amounts derived from the Company and the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility (as hereinafter defined), as the case may be). Nothing contained in the Indentures, the Bonds or the Loan Agreements, or in any other related documents may be construed to require any Issuer to operate, maintain or have any responsibility with respect to any Project. The Issuers have no liability in the event of wrongful disbursement by the Trustee or otherwise. No recourse may be had against any past, present or future commissioner, officer, employee, official or agent of the Issuers under the Indentures, the Bonds, the Loan Agreements or any related document. The Issuers have no responsibility to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds under federal or state law nor any responsibility for any other tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of the Bonds.

Each Issue of the Bonds will be supported by a separate irrevocable Letter of Credit (each a "Letter of Credit" and, collectively, the "Letters of Credit") to be issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Bank"), in favor of the Trustee, as beneficiary. The Letters of Credit have substantially identical terms.

Under each of the Letters of Credit, the Trustee will be entitled to draw, upon a properly presented and conforming drawing, up to an amount sufficient to pay one hundred percent (100%) of the principal amount of the related Series of Bonds on the date of the draw (whether at maturity, upon acceleration, mandatory or optional purchase or redemption), plus 48 days' accrued interest on such Bonds, at a rate of up to the maximum interest rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum calculated on the basis of a year of 365 days for the actual days elapsed, so long as such Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate or the Daily Interest Rate. The Company has agreed to reimburse the Bank for drawings made under a Letter of Credit and to make certain other payments to the Bank. Each Letter of Credit will expire on September 22, 2011, unless extended or earlier terminated in accordance with its terms. See "THE LETTERS OF CREDIT."

Under certain circumstances described in the applicable Loan Agreement, a Letter of Credit may be replaced by an alternate credit facility supporting payment of the principal of and interest on the related Series of Bonds when due and for the payment of the purchase price of tendered or deemed tendered Bonds (an "Alternate Credit Facility"). The entity or entities, as the case may be, obligated to make payment on an Alternate Credit Facility are referred to herein as the "Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility." The replacement of a Letter of Credit or an

Alternate Credit Facility will result in the mandatory purchase of Bonds. See “THE LOAN AGREEMENTS—The Letter of Credit; Alternate Credit Facility.”

J.P. Morgan Securities LLC has been appointed by the Company as Remarketing Agent with respect to each Series of the Bonds (in such capacity, the “Remarketing Agent”). The Company has previously entered into a Remarketing Agreement with the Remarketing Agent with respect to the Bonds to be remarketed by the Remarketing Agent.

Brief descriptions of the Issuers, the Projects and the Bank and summaries of certain provisions of the Bonds, the Loan Agreements, the Letters of Credit and the Indentures are included in this Reoffering Circular, including the Appendices hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in and incorporated by reference in APPENDIX A hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as APPENDIX B hereto. APPENDIX C sets forth the approving opinions of Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, Bond Counsel, delivered on the date of original issuance of the Bonds. APPENDIX D sets for the form of opinions of Chapman and Cutler LLP, relating to the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Letters of Credit.

The descriptions herein of the Loan Agreements, the Indentures and the Letters of Credit are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors’ rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois.

This Reoffering Circular provides certain information with respect to the Bank, the terms of, and security for the Bonds and other related matters. While certain information relating to the Company is included and incorporated within, the Bonds are being remarketed on the basis of their respective Letter of Credit and the financial strength of the Bank and are not being remarketed on the basis of the financial strength of the Issuers, the Company or any other security. This Reoffering Circular does not describe the financial condition of the Company and no representation is made concerning the financial status or prospects of the Company or the value or financial viability of the Project.

As this Reoffering Circular is being initially circulated in connection with the delivery of the Letters of Credit while the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, generally only the Daily and Weekly Interest Rate Periods are described herein.

THE ISSUERS

Converse County and Sweetwater County are both political subdivisions, duly organized and existing under the Constitution and laws of Wyoming. Pursuant to Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended (the “Act”), each Issuer was and is authorized to issue its respective Series of Bonds, to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement to which it is a party and to secure such Bonds by a pledge to the Trustee of the payments to be made by the Company under such Loan Agreement.

THE BONDS

The three issues of Bonds are each an entirely separate issue but contain substantially the same terms and provisions. The following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Bonds. A default in respect of one issue will not, in and of itself, constitute a default in respect of any other issue; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default with respect to more than one issue. No issue of the Bonds is entitled to the benefits of any payments or other security pledged for the benefit of the other issues. Optional or mandatory redemption of one issue of the Bonds may be made in the manner described below without redemption of the other issues. Reference is hereby made to the forms of the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof. References to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank, the Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, the Bonds, the Prior Bonds, the Plant, the Project, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Letter of Credit and other documents and parties are deemed to refer to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank, the Paying Agent, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, the Bonds, the Prior Bonds, the Plant, the Project, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Letter of Credit and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of the Bonds. Initially capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined are used as defined in the Indenture.

GENERAL

The Bonds have been issued only as fully registered Bonds without coupons in the manner described below. The Bonds were dated as of their initial date of delivery and mature on the date set forth on the cover page of this Reoffering Circular. The Bonds may bear interest at Daily, Weekly, Flexible or Term Interest Rates designated and determined from time to time in accordance with the Indenture and, with respect to the Daily and Weekly Interest Rates, as described herein. Following the reoffering of the Bonds on June 1, 2010, the Rate Period (as defined below) for the Bonds will be a Weekly Interest Rate Period. The Bonds are subject to purchase at the option of the holders of the Bonds, and under certain circumstances are subject to mandatory purchase, in the manner and at the times described herein. The Bonds are subject to optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity in the manner and at the times described herein.

Bonds may be transferred or exchanged for other Bonds in authorized denominations at the principal office of the Trustee as the registrar and paying agent (in such capacities, the “Registrar” and the “Paying Agent”). The Bonds will be issued in authorized denominations of $100,000 or any integral multiple of $100,000 (provided that one Bond need not be in a multiple of $100,000, but may be in such denomination greater than $100,000 as is necessary to account for any principal amount of the Bonds not corresponding directly with $100,000 denominations) when the Bonds bear interest at a Daily or Weekly Interest Rate (the “Authorized Denominations”). Exchanges and transfers will be made without charge to the Owners, except for any applicable tax or other governmental charge.

A “Business Day” is a day except a Saturday, Sunday or other day (a) on which commercial banks located in the cities in which the principal office of the Bank or the principal office of the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, the principal office of the Trustee, the principal office of the Remarketing Agent or the principal office of the Paying Agent are located are required or authorized by law to remain closed or are closed, or (b) on which The New York Stock Exchange, Inc. is closed.

“Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility” means (a)(i) the date specified in the Alternate Credit Facility as the expiration date for the Alternate Credit Facility, (ii) the date on which an Alternate Credit Facility is delivered or substituted in accordance with the provisions hereof and of the Agreement for the commitment of the then-existing Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility or (iii) the date on which the Company terminates the Alternate Credit Facility in accordance the Loan Agreement, or (b) the date on which the commitment of the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility to provide moneys for the purchase of Bonds pursuant to the Alternate Credit Facility is otherwise terminated in accordance with its terms. See also “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—The Letter of Credit; Alternate Credit Facility.”

“Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit” means (a)(i) the “Expiration Date” as defined in the Letter of Credit or (ii) the date on which an Alternate Credit Facility is delivered or substituted for the Letter of Credit in accordance with the provisions hereof and of the Agreement or (iii) the date on which the Company terminates the Letter of Credit in accordance with the Loan Agreement, or (b) the date on which the commitment of the Bank to provide moneys for the purchase of Bonds pursuant to the Letter of Credit is otherwise terminated in accordance with its terms. See also “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—The Letter of Credit; Alternate Credit Facility.”

“Record Date” means with respect to any Interest Payment Date in respect of any Daily Interest Rate Period or Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Business Day next preceding such Interest Payment Date.

“Tax-Exempt” means, with respect to interest on any obligations of a state or local government, including the Bonds, that such interest is not includible in gross income of the owners of such obligations for federal income tax purposes, except for any interest on any such obligations for any period during which such obligations are owned by a person who is a “substantial user” of any facilities financed or refinanced with such obligations or a “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the “1954 Code”), whether or not such interest is includible as an item of tax preference or otherwise includible directly or indirectly for purposes of calculating other tax liabilities, including any alternative minimum tax or environmental tax under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”).

PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

The principal of and premium, if any, on the Bonds is payable to the Owners upon surrender thereof at the principal office of the Paying Agent. Except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form (see “Book-Entry System”), interest is payable (i) by bank check or draft mailed by first class mail on the Interest Payment Date to the Owners as of the Record Date or (ii) in immediately available funds (by wire transfer or by deposit to the account of the Owner of any such Bond if such account is maintained with the Paying Agent), but in respect of any Owner of Bonds in a Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period only to any Owner which owns Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of at least $1,000,000 on the Record Date and who has provided wire transfer instructions to the Paying Agent prior to the close of business on such Record Date.

Interest on each Bond is payable on each Interest Payment Date for each such Bond for the period commencing on the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date (or if no interest has been paid thereon, commencing on the date of issuance thereof) to, but not including, such Interest Payment Date. Interest is computed, in the case of any Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period, on the basis of a 365- or 366-day year, as applicable, for the number of days actually elapsed.

RATE PERIODS

The term of the Bonds is divided into consecutive Rate Periods, during which such Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate, Flexible Interest Rate or Term Interest Rate.

WEEKLY INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Weekly Interest Rate. During each Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the first day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and thereafter no later than Tuesday of each week during such Weekly Interest Rate Period, unless any such Tuesday is not a Business Day, in which event the Weekly Interest Rate will be determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the Business Day next preceding such Tuesday.

The Weekly Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent has not determined a Weekly Interest Rate for any period, the Weekly Interest Rate will be the same as the Weekly Interest Rate for the immediately preceding week. The first Weekly Interest Rate determined for each Weekly Interest Rate Period applies to the period commencing on the first day of the Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday. Thereafter, each Weekly Interest Rate applies to the period commencing on each Wednesday and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday, unless such Weekly Interest Rate Period ends on a day other than Tuesday, in which event the last Weekly Interest Rate for such Weekly Interest Rate Period applies to the period commencing on the Wednesday preceding the last day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on such last day. In no event may the Weekly Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect (initially 12% per annum).

Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds may be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice must specify the effective date of such adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate, which must be a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee); provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date.

Notice of Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "Rescission of Election"), (b) the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (e) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (f) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

DAILY INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Daily Interest Rate. During each Daily Interest Rate Period, the Bonds bear interest at the Daily Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent either on each Business Day for such Business Day or on the next preceding Business Day for any day that is not a Business Day.

The Daily Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then-prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent has not determined a Daily Interest Rate for any day by 10:00 a.m., New York time, the Daily Interest Rate for such day will be the same as the Daily Interest Rate for the immediately preceding Business Day. In no event may the Daily Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect (initially 12% per annum).

Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds may be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice must specify the effective date of the adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate, which must be a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee); provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date.

Notice of Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "Rescission of Election"), (b) the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (e) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (f) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

DETERMINATION CONCLUSIVE

The determination of the interest rates referred to above is conclusive and binding upon the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Issuer, the Company and the Owners of the Bonds.

RESCISSION OF ELECTION

The Company may rescind any election by it to adjust to a Rate Period prior to the effective date of such adjustment by giving written notice of rescission to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) prior to such effective date. At the time the Company gives notice of the rescission, it may also elect in such notice to continue the Rate Period then in effect. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission prior to the time the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of the change in Rate Periods, then such notice of change in Rate Periods is of no force and effect and will not be given to the Owners. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission after the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of an adjustment or an attempted adjustment from one Rate Period to another Rate Period does not become effective for any other reason, then the Rate Period for the Bonds will automatically adjust to or continue in a Daily Interest Rate Period and the Trustee will immediately give notice thereof to the Owners of the Bonds. If a Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any Daily Interest Rate Period to which a Rate Period is adjusted in accordance with this paragraph is not determined as described in “-Daily Interest Rate Period-Determination of Daily Interest Rate,” the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). The Trustee will immediately give written notice of each such automatic adjustment to a Rate Period as described in this paragraph to the Owners.

Notwithstanding the rescission by the Company of any notice to adjust or continue a Rate Period, if notice has been given to Owners of such adjustment or continuation, the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase as specified in such notice.

OPTIONAL PURCHASE

Weekly Interest Rate Period. During any Weekly Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) will be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Wednesday, or if such Wednesday is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee of an irrevocable written notice or telephonic notice (promptly confirmed by telecopy or other writing) by 5:00 p.m., New York time, on any Business Day, which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be purchased and the date on which such Bond is to be purchased, which date may not be prior to the seventh day next succeeding the date of the delivery of such notice to the Trustee; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a bank, trust company or member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. to the Delivery Office of the Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on the purchase date specified in such notice.

Daily Interest Rate Period. During any Daily Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) will be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE BONDS THROUGH ITS DIRECT PARTICIPANT (AS HEREINAFTER DEFINED) MUST GIVE NOTICE TO THE TRUSTEE TO ELECT TO HAVE SUCH BONDS PURCHASED, AND MUST EFFECT DELIVERY OF SUCH BONDS BY CAUSING SUCH DIRECT PARTICIPANT TO TRANSFER ITS INTEREST IN THE BONDS EQUAL TO SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNER'S INTEREST ON THE RECORDS OF DTC TO THE TRUSTEE'S PARTICIPANT ACCOUNT WITH DTC. THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE ARE DEEMED SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DTC PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE "—BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM."

MANDATORY PURCHASE

The Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the purchase date described below, upon the occurrence of any of the events stated below:

- (a) on the effective date of any change in a Rate Period; or
- (b) on the Business Day preceding an Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or an Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility; or
- (c) on the next succeeding Business Day following the day that the Trustee receives notice from the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, that, following a drawing on the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility on an Interest Payment Date for the payment of unpaid interest on the Bonds, the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not be reinstated in accordance with its terms.

If the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with the provisions described in subparagraph (b) of the preceding paragraph, the Trustee will give notice by mail to the Remarketing Agent and the Owners of the Bonds of the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, not less than 15 days prior to the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which notice must (a) describe generally the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility in effect prior to such Expiration, and any Alternate Credit Facility to be in effect upon such Expiration and state the effect date and the name of the provider thereof; (b) state the date of the Expiration; (c) state the rating or ratings, if any, which the Bonds are expected to receive from any rating agency following such Expiration; (d) state that the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase; (e) state the purchase date; and (f) except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form, state that the Bonds must be delivered to the New York office designated by the Trustee as the “Delivery Office of the Trustee.”

If the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with the provisions described in subparagraph (c) of the preceding paragraph, the Trustee will, immediately upon receipt of notice from the Bank or the Obligor on a Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, that the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not be reinstated in accordance with its terms, give notice electronically and notice by overnight mail service to the Remarketing Agent and to the Owners of the Bonds at their addresses shown on the registration books kept by the Registrar, which notice shall (a) describe generally any Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility in effect prior to such mandatory purchase; (b) state that the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is not being reinstated in accordance with its terms; (c) state that the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase; (d) state the purchase date; and (e) except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form, state that the Bonds must be delivered to the Delivery Office of the Trustee.

PURCHASE OF BONDS

On the date on which Bonds are delivered to the Trustee for purchase as specified above under “—Optional Purchase” or “—Mandatory Purchase,” the Trustee will pay the purchase price of such Bonds solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, and the Trustee has no obligation to use funds from any other source:

(a) Available Moneys (as hereinafter defined) furnished by the Company to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds;

(b) proceeds of the sale of such Bonds (other than Bonds sold to the Company, any subsidiary of the Company, any guarantor of the Company, or the Issuer

or any “insider” (as defined in the United States Bankruptcy Code) of any of the aforementioned) by the Remarketing Agent;

(c) Available Moneys or moneys provided pursuant to the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds furnished by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of Bonds deemed paid in accordance with the defeasance provisions of the Indenture;

(d) moneys furnished pursuant to the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the Trustee for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds; and provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds may be derived only from the sources described in (c) above.

“Available Moneys” means (a) during such time as a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is in effect, (i) moneys on deposit in trust with the Trustee as agent and bailee for the Owners of the Bonds for a period of at least 123 days prior to and during which no petition in bankruptcy or similar insolvency proceeding has been filed by or against the Company or the Issuer (or any subsidiary of the Company, any guarantor of the Company or any insider (as defined in the United States Bankruptcy Code), to the extent that such moneys were deposited by any of such subsidiary, guarantor or insider) or is pending (unless such petition shall have been dismissed and such dismissal shall be final and not subject to appeal) and (ii)(A) proceeds of the issuance of refunding bonds (including proceeds from the investment thereof), and (B) any other moneys, if, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters selected by the Company (which opinion shall be in a form acceptable to the Trustee, to Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and to S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P and shall be delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of the deposit of such proceeds with the Trustee), the deposit and use of such proceeds (referred to in clause (A) above) or other moneys (referred to in clause (B) above) will not constitute a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event either the Issuer or the Company were to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code, and (b) at any time that a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is not in effect, any moneys on deposit with the Trustee as agent and bailee for the Owners of the Bonds and proceeds from the investment thereof.

REMARKETING OF BONDS

The Remarketing Agent will offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket any Bond subject to purchase pursuant to the optional or mandatory purchase provisions described above, any such remarketing to be made at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the purchase date. The Company may direct the Remarketing Agent from time to time to cease and to resume sales efforts with respect to some or all of the Bonds.

Anything in the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, at any time during which the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is in effect, there will be no sales of Bonds as described in the preceding paragraph, if (a) there has occurred and has not been cured or waived an Event of Default described in paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) under the caption “THE INDENTURE—Defaults” of which the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee have actual knowledge or (b) the Bonds have been declared to be immediately due and payable as described under the caption “THE INDENTURE—Remedies” and such declaration has not been rescinded pursuant to the Indenture.

OPTIONAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS

Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Company (but only with consent of the Bank (or, if applicable, by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, if required by the Alternate Credit Facility)), in whole, or in part by lot, prior to their maturity date on any Business Day during a Daily Interest Rate Period or Weekly Interest Rate Period, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption.

EXTRAORDINARY OPTIONAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS

At any time, the Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of the Company (but only with the consent of the Bank (or, if applicable, by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, if required by the Alternate Credit Facility)) in whole or in part (and if in part, by lot), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, upon receipt by the Trustee of a written notice from the Company stating that any of the following events has occurred and that the Company therefore intends to exercise its option to prepay the payments due under the Loan Agreement in whole or in part and thereby effect the redemption of the Bonds in whole or in part to the extent of such prepayments:

(a) the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Plant is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable for any reason; or

(b) the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Project is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable due to (i) the imposition of taxes, other than ad valorem taxes currently levied upon privately owned property used for the same general purpose as the Project, or other liabilities or burdens with respect to the Project or the operation thereof, (ii) changes in technology, in environmental standards or legal requirements or in the economic availability of materials, supplies, equipment or labor or (iii) destruction of or damage to all or part of the Project; or

(c) all or substantially all of the Project or the Plant has been condemned or taken by eminent domain; or

(d) the operation of the Project or the Plant has been enjoined or has otherwise been prohibited by, or conflicts with, any order, decree, rule or regulation of any court or of any federal, state or local regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental body.

SPECIAL MANDATORY REDEMPTION OF BONDS

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption upon the occurrence of the following events.

The Bonds will be redeemed in whole within 180 days following a “Determination of Taxability” as defined below; provided that, if in the opinion of nationally recognized bond counsel (“Bond Counsel”) delivered to the Trustee, the redemption of a specified portion of the Bonds outstanding would have the result that interest payable on the Bonds remaining outstanding after such redemption would remain Tax-Exempt, then the Bonds will be redeemed in part by lot (in Authorized Denominations) in such amount as Bond Counsel in such opinion has determined is necessary to accomplish that result. A “Determination of Taxability” is deemed to have occurred if, as a result of an Event of Taxability (as defined below), a final decree or judgment of any federal court or a final action of the Internal Revenue Service determines that interest paid or payable on any Bond is or was includible in the gross income of an owner of the Bonds for federal income tax purposes under the Code (other than an owner who is a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code). However, no such decree or action will be considered final for this purpose unless the Company has been given written notice and, if it is so desired and is legally allowed, has been afforded the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of any owner of a Bond, and until conclusion of any appellate review, if sought. If the Trustee receives written notice from any owner stating (a) that the owner has been notified in writing by the Internal Revenue Service that it proposes to include the interest on any Bond in the gross income of such owner for the reasons described therein or any other proceeding has been instituted against such owner which may lead to a final decree or action as described in the Loan Agreement, and (b) that such owner will afford the Company the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of the owner, until a conclusion of any appellate review, if sought, then the Trustee will promptly give notice thereof to the Company, the Insurer, if any, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Issuer and the owner of each Bond then outstanding. If a final decree or action as described above thereafter occurs and the Trustee has received written notice thereof at least 45 days prior to the redemption date, the Trustee will make the required demand for prepayment of the amounts payable under the Loan Agreement for prepayment of the Bonds and give notice of the redemption of the Bonds at the earliest practical date, but not later than the date specified in the Loan Agreement, and in the manner provided by the Indenture. An “Event of Taxability” means the failure of the Company to observe any covenant, agreement or representation in the Loan Agreement, which failure results in a Determination of Taxability.

PROCEDURE FOR AND NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

If less than all of the Bonds are called for redemption, the particular Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed will be selected by the Trustee, by lot. In selecting Bonds for redemption, the Trustee will treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds which is obtained by dividing the principal amount of each Bond by the minimum Authorized Denomination. Any Bonds selected for redemption which are deemed to be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture will cease to bear interest on the date fixed for redemption. Subject to the procedures described below under “—Book-Entry System” for Bonds held in book-entry form, upon presentation and surrender of such Bonds at the place or places of payment, such Bonds will be paid and redeemed. Notice of redemption will be given by mail as provided in the Indenture, at least 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, provided that the failure to duly give notice by mailing to any Owner, or any defect therein, does not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of any other of the Bonds. Such notice will also be sent to the Remarketing Agent, the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, the Company Mortgage Trustee, Moody’s (if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s), S&P (if the Bonds are then rated by S&P), securities depositories and bond information services.

With respect to notice of any optional redemption of the Bonds, as described above, unless upon the giving of such notice, such Bonds are deemed to have been paid within the meaning of the Indenture, such notice may state that such redemption is conditional upon the receipt by the Trustee, on or prior to the date fixed for such redemption, of Available Moneys sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds to be redeemed. If such Available Moneys are not so received, the redemption will not be made and the Trustee will give notice, in the manner in which the notice of redemption was given, that such redemption will not take place.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, Pledged Bonds shall be redeemed prior to any other Bonds.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS RELATING TO THE BONDS

The Remarketing Agent is Paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent’s responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Reoffering Circular. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Accounts. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own accounts. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own accounts and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the Bonds (including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts, without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM

The following information in this section concerning The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York (“DTC”), and its book-entry system has been furnished for use in the Reoffering Circular by DTC. None of the Company, the Issuers or the Remarketing Agent take any responsibility for the accuracy of such information.

DTC will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds were issued as fully-registered bonds registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC’s partnership nominee). One fully-registered Bond certificate will be issued for the Bonds of each issue, in the aggregate principal amount thereof, and will be deposited with DTC. One fully-registered Bond was issued for each issue of the Bonds, in the aggregate principal amount of such issue, and was deposited with DTC.

DTC, the world's largest securities depository, is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds and provides asset servicing for over 3.5 million issues of U.S. and non-U.S. equity issues, corporate and municipal debt issues, and money market instruments (from over 100 countries) that DTC's participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organizations. DTC is a whole-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). DTC has Standard & Poor's highest rating: AAA. The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com and www.dtc.org.

Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each Beneficial Owner is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co, or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co., or such other DTC nominee, does not effect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults and proposed amendments to documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of notices be provided directly to them.

While Bonds are in the book-entry system, redemption notices will be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, redemption notices will be sent to Cede & Co. If less than all of the Bonds of any issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC's MMI Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to the Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, principal or purchase price of and premium, if any, and interest payments on, the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts upon DTC's receipt of fund and corresponding detailed information from the Issuer or the Trustee, on the payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, the Company, the Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent or the Issuer, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of principal, purchase price, premium and interest with respect to the Bonds to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Issuer or the Paying Agent, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants are the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners are the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

A Beneficial Owner must give notice to elect to have its Bonds purchased or tendered, through its Participant, to the Remarketing Agent, and must effect delivery of such Bonds by causing the Direct Participant to transfer the Participant's interest in the Bonds, on DTC's records, to the Remarketing Agent. The requirement for physical delivery of Bonds in connection with an optional tender or a mandatory purchase will be deemed satisfied when the ownership rights in the Bonds are transferred by Direct Participants on DTC's records and followed by a book-entry credit of tendered Bonds to the Remarketing Agent's DTC account.

DTC may discontinue providing its services as securities depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Issuer or the Trustee. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor securities depository is not obtained, Bond certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

The Company may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bond certificates will be printed and delivered.

None of the Issuer, the Company, the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee nor the Paying Agent will have any responsibility or obligation to any securities depository, any Participants in the Book-Entry System or the Beneficial Owners with respect to (a) the accuracy of any records maintained by the securities depository or any Participant; (b) the payment by the securities depository or by any Participant of any amount due to any Beneficial Owner in respect of the principal amount or redemption of, or interest on, any Bonds; (c) the delivery of any notice by the securities depository or any Participant; (d) the selection of the Beneficial Owners to receive payment in the event of any partial redemption of the Bonds; or (e) any other action taken by the securities depository or any Participant.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT AND THE CREDIT AGREEMENT

Each Letter of Credit will operate independently. A default under a Letter of Credit with respect to the Bonds of one issue may not, in and of itself, constitute a default under a Letter of Credit with respect to the Bonds of any other issue; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default under the Letter of Credit with respect to Bonds of more than one issue. The Letters of Credit contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Letters of Credit. All references in this summary to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank, the Remarketing Agent, the Letter of Credit, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Bonds and other documents and parties are deemed to refer to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank, the Remarketing Agent, the Letter of Credit, the Indenture, the Bonds and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of the Bonds.

LETTERS OF CREDIT

On the date of reoffering of the Bonds, the Bank will issue in favor of the Trustee a separate Letter of Credit for each Series of the Bonds in the form of a direct pay letter of credit. Each Letter of Credit will be issued in the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Bonds plus 48 days' interest at 12% per annum, on the basis of a 365 day year (as from time to time reduced and reinstated as provided in the Letter of Credit). Each Letter of Credit will permit the Trustee to draw up to an amount equal to the then outstanding principal amount of the related Series of Bonds to pay the unpaid principal thereof and accrued interest on such Bonds, subject to the terms, conditions and limitations stated therein. The Letter of Credit for each issue of the Bonds will be substantially in the form attached hereto as APPENDIX E.

Each Letter of Credit will expire on September 22, 2011, but will be automatically extended, without written amendment, to, and shall expire on, September 22, 2012, unless on or before August 24, 2011, notice is received by the Trustee stating that the Bank elects not to extend such Letter of Credit beyond September 22, 2011. The date on which a Letter of Credit expires as described in the preceding sentence, or if such date is not a Business Day then the first succeeding Business Day thereafter is defined in each Letter of Credit as the Expiration Date. As used in the Letter of Credit, the term "Business Day" means a day on which the U.S. Trade Services, Standby Letter of Credit Office of the Bank in San Francisco, California, is open for business.

Each drawing honored by the Bank under a Letter of Credit will immediately reduce the available amount thereunder by the amount of such drawing. Any drawing to pay interest will be automatically reinstated on the eighth (8th) Business Day following the date such drawing is honored by the Bank, unless the Company shall have received notice from the Bank no later than seven (7) Business Days after such drawing is honored that there shall be no such reinstatement. Any drawing to pay the purchase price of a Bond shall be reinstated if the Bonds related to such drawing are remarketed and the remarketing proceeds are paid to the Bank prior to the Expiration Date in an amount equal to the sum of (i) the amount paid to the Bank from such remarketing proceeds and (ii) interest on such amount. See APPENDIX E.

THE LOAN AGREEMENTS

Each Loan Agreement will operate independently. A default under one Loan Agreement will not necessarily constitute a default under the other Loan Agreements; however, the same occurrence that constitutes a default under one Loan Agreement may also constitute a default under the other Loan Agreement. The Loan Agreements contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Loan Agreements. All references in this summary to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and payments thereunder, the Indenture, the Letter of Credit, the Bonds, the Prior Bonds, the Facilities, the Project and other documents and parties are deemed to refer to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and such payments, the Indenture, the Letter of Credit, the Bonds, the Prior Bonds, the Facilities, the Project and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of the Bonds.

ISSUANCE OF THE BONDS; LOAN OF PROCEEDS

The Issuer issued the Bonds for the purpose of refunding the Prior Bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance or refinance, as the case may be, a portion of the Company's share of the costs of acquiring and improving the Project. The proceeds of the sale of the Bonds have been used to refund the Prior Bonds.

LOAN PAYMENTS; THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

As and for repayment of the loan made to the Company by the Issuer, the Company will pay to the Trustee, for the account of the Issuer, an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due on the dates, in the amounts and in the manner provided in the Indenture for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise ("Loan Payments"); provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such Loan Payment will be reduced by the amount of any reduction under the Indenture of the amount of the corresponding payment required to be made by the Issuer thereunder; and provided further that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment is deemed to be satisfied and discharged to the extent of the corresponding payment made (i) by the Bank to the Trustee under the Letter of Credit, (ii) by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility to the Trustee under such Alternate Credit Facility or (iii) by the Company of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the First Mortgage Bonds.

The Company's obligation to repay the loan made to it by the Issuer may be secured by First Mortgage Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal in principal amount to, and bearing interest at the same rate and maturing on the same date as, the Bonds. The payments to be made by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement and the First Mortgage Bonds are pledged under the Indenture by the Issuer to the Trustee, and the Company is to make all payments thereunder and thereon directly to the Trustee. At this time, the Company has not delivered any First Mortgage Bonds to secure the payment of any Series of the Bonds.

In the event the Company has delivered its First Mortgage Bonds, pursuant to the Loan Agreement, the Company may provide for the release of its First Mortgage Bonds by delivering to the Trustee collateral in substitution for the First Mortgage Bonds (“Substitute Collateral”), but only if the Company, on the date of delivery of such Substitute Collateral, simultaneously delivers to the Trustee (a) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that delivery of such Substitute Collateral and release of the First Mortgage Bonds complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (b) written evidence from the Insurer, if any, and from each Bank to the effect that they have reviewed the proposed Substitute Collateral and find it to be acceptable; and (c) written evidence from Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and from S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the Substitute Collateral and that the release of the First Mortgage Bonds and the substitution of the Substitute Collateral for the First Mortgage Bonds will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of such rating agency’s rating or ratings of the Bonds.

PAYMENTS OF PURCHASE PRICE

The Company will pay or cause to be paid to the Trustee amounts equal to the amounts to be paid by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of outstanding Bonds thereunder (see “THE BONDS-Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase”), such amounts to be paid to the Trustee as the purchase price for the Bonds tendered for purchase pursuant to the Indenture, on the dates such payments are to be made; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment under the Loan Agreement will be reduced by the amount of any moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture and available for such payment.

From the date of delivery of the Letter of Credit to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit (or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the amounts to be paid by the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds by providing for the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee has been directed to take such actions as may be necessary in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to obtain the moneys necessary to pay the purchase price of Bonds when due.

OBLIGATION ABSOLUTE

The Company’s obligation to make payments under the Loan Agreement and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds is absolute, irrevocable and unconditional and is not subject to cancellation, termination or abatement, or to any defense other than payment, or to any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment arising out of any breach under the Loan Agreement or the Indenture or otherwise by the Company, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, any Insurer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), or any other party or out of any obligation or liability at any time owing to the Company by any such party.

EXPENSES

The Company is obligated to pay reasonable compensation and to reimburse certain expenses and advances of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent, Moody's and S&P directly to such entity.

TAX COVENANTS; TAX-EXEMPT STATUS OF BONDS

The Company covenants that the Bond proceeds, the earnings thereon and other moneys on deposit with respect to the Bonds will not be used in such a manner as to cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of the Code.

The Company covenants that it has not taken, and will not take, or permit to be taken on its behalf, any action which would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds and will take, or require to be taken, such action as may, from time to time, be required under applicable law or regulation to continue to cause the Bonds to be Tax-Exempt. See "TAX EXEMPTION."

OTHER COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY

Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted. The Company covenants that it will maintain in good standing its corporate existence as a corporation organized under the laws of one of the states of the United States or the District of Columbia and will remain duly qualified to do business in the State of the Issuer, will not dissolve or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets and will not consolidate with or merge into another corporation; provided, however, that the Company may, without violating the foregoing, undertake from time to time any one or more of the following, if, prior to the effective date thereof, there shall have been delivered to the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the contemplated action will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds: (a) consolidate with or merge into another domestic corporation (i.e., a corporation incorporated and existing under the laws of one of the states of the United States or of the District of Columbia), or sell or otherwise transfer to another domestic corporation all or substantially all of its assets as an entirety and thereafter dissolve, provided the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation, as the case may be, must be the Company or a corporation qualified to do business in the State of the Issuer as a foreign corporation or incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of the Issuer, which as a result of the transaction has assumed (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds and the Reimbursement Agreement; or (b) convey all or substantially all of its assets to one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company so long as the Company remains in existence and primarily liable on all of its obligations under the Loan Agreement and such subsidiary or subsidiaries to which such assets are so conveyed guarantees in writing the performance of all of the Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds and the Reimbursement Agreement.

Assignment. With the consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility), the Company's interest in the Loan Agreement may be assigned in whole or in part by the Company to another entity, subject, however, to the conditions that no assignment will (a) adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds or (b) relieve (other than as described in "Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted" above) the Company from primary liability for its obligations to pay the First Mortgage Bonds or to make the Loan Payments or to make payments to the Trustee with respect to payment of the purchase price of the Bonds or for any other of its obligations under the Loan Agreement; and subject further to the condition that the Company has delivered to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility) an opinion of counsel to the Company that such assignment complies with the provisions described in this paragraph and an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that the proposed assignment will not impair the validity of the Bonds under the Act, or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds. The Company must, within 30 days after the delivery thereof, furnish to the Issuer and the Trustee a true and complete copy of the agreements or other documents effectuating any such assignment.

Maintenance and Repair; Taxes, Etc. The Company will maintain the Project in good repair, keep the same insured in accordance with standard industry practice and pay all costs thereof. The Company will pay or cause to be paid all taxes, special assessments and governmental, utility and other charges with respect to the Project.

The Company may at its own expense cause the Project to be remodeled or cause such substitutions, modifications and improvements to be made to the Facilities from time to time as the Company, in its discretion, may deem to be desirable for its uses and purposes, which remodeling, substitutions, modifications and improvements are included under the terms of the Loan Agreement as part of the Pollution Control Facilities; provided, however, that the Company may not exercise any such right, power, election or option if the proposed remodeling, substitution, modification or improvement would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Company will cause insurance to be taken out and continuously maintained in effect with respect to the Pollution Control Facilities in accordance with standard industry practice.

Anything in the Loan Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, the Company has the right at any time to cause the operation of the Pollution Control Facilities to be terminated if the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Project or the Pollution Control Facilities is uneconomical for any reason.

LETTER OF CREDIT; ALTERNATE CREDIT FACILITY

The Company may, at any time, at its option:

- (a) provide for the delivery on any Business Day to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states (I) the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit to be so provided, and (II) the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be replaced (which Expiration shall not be prior to the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be so provided), (B) describes the terms of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit, (C) directs the Trustee to give notice of the mandatory purchase of the Bonds on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be replaced (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (D) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to be replaced, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the later of the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility or the Substitute Letter of Credit to be provided and the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be replaced and thereupon to deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied);

(ii) on the date of delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility or the Substitute Letter of Credit (which shall be the effective date thereof), the Company shall furnish to the Trustee simultaneously with such delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit (which delivery must occur prior to 9:30 a.m., New York time, on such date, unless a later time on such date shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the delivery of such Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit (A) complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; and

(iii) in the case of the delivery of a Substitute Letter of Credit, the Company has received the written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility; or

(b) provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated,

(B) directs the Trustee to give notice of the mandatory purchase of the Bonds on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (C) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to be terminated, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated and to thereupon deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied); and

(ii) on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility, which is to be terminated, the Company shall furnish to the Trustee (prior to 9:30 a.m., New York time, on such Business Day, unless a later time on such Business Day shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the termination of such Alternate Credit Facility or Letter of Credit (A) complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

EXTENSION OF A LETTER OF CREDIT

The Company may, at its election, but only with the written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, at any time provide for one or more extensions of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, as the case may be, for any period commencing after its then-current expiration date.

DEFAULTS

Each of the following events constitute an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement:

(a) a failure by the Company to make when due any Loan Payment, any payment required to be made to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds or any payment on the First Mortgage Bonds, which failure has resulted in an “Event of Default” as described herein in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) under “THE INDENTURES—Defaults;”

(b) a failure by the Company to pay when due any amount required to be paid under the Loan Agreement or to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement on the Company’s part to be observed or performed under the Loan Agreement (other than a failure described in clause (a) above), which failure continues for a period of 60 days (or such longer period as the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee may agree to in writing) after written notice given to the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Trustee or to the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be and the Trustee by the Issuer; provided, however, that if such failure is other than for the payment of money and cannot be corrected within the applicable period, such failure does not constitute an Event of Default so long as the Company institutes corrective action within the applicable period and such action is being diligently pursued; or

(c) certain events of bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Company.

The Loan Agreement provides that, with respect to any Event of Default described in clause (b) above if, by reason of acts of God, strikes, orders of political bodies, certain natural disasters, civil disturbances and certain other events specified in the Loan Agreement, or any cause or event not reasonably within the control of the Company, the Company is unable in whole or in part to carry out one or more of its agreements or obligations contained in the Loan Agreement (other than certain obligations specified in the Loan Agreement, including its obligations to make when due Loan Payments and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, to pay certain expenses and taxes, to indemnify the Issuer, the Trustee and others against certain liabilities, to discharge liens and to maintain its existence), the Company will not be deemed in default by reason of not carrying out such agreements or performing such obligations during the continuance of such inability.

REMEDIES

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default described in (a) or (c) under “Defaults” above, and further upon the condition that, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Bonds have been declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Indenture, the Loan Payments will, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable. Any waiver of any Event of Default under the Indenture and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof. See “THE INDENTURES—Defaults.” Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default arising from a “Default” as such term is defined in the Company Mortgage, the Trustee, as holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, will, subject to the provisions of the Indenture, have the rights provided in the Company Mortgage. Any waiver made in accordance with the Indenture of a “Default” under the Company Mortgage and a rescission and annulment of its consequences constitutes a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Loan Agreement, the Issuer may take any action at law or in equity to collect any payments then due and thereafter to become due, or to seek injunctive relief or specific performance of any obligation, agreement or covenant of the Company under the Loan Agreement and under the First Mortgage Bonds.

Any amounts collected from the Company upon an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement will be applied in accordance with the Indenture.

AMENDMENTS

The Loan Agreement may be amended subject to the limitations contained in the Loan Agreement and in the Indenture. See “THE INDENTURES—Amendment of the Loan Agreement.”

THE INDENTURES

Each Indenture will operate independently. A default under one Indenture will not necessarily constitute a default under the other Indentures; however, the same occurrence that constitutes a default under one Indenture may also constitute a default under the other Indentures. The Indentures contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Indentures. All references in this summary to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and payments thereunder, the Indenture, the Bonds, the Bond Fund, the Letter of Credit, the Insurance Policy and other documents and parties are to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and such payments, the Indenture, the Bonds, the Bond Fund, the Letter of Credit, the Insurance Policy and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of Bonds.

PLEDGE AND SECURITY

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Loan Payments have been pledged by the Issuer to secure the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds. The Issuer has also pledged and assigned to the Trustee all its rights and interests under the Loan Agreement (other than its rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses and certain other rights), including the Issuer’s right to delivery of the First Mortgage Bonds, and has pledged to the Trustee all moneys and obligations deposited or to be deposited in the Bond Fund established with the Trustee; provided that the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent and the Registrar will have a prior claim on the Bond Fund for the payment of their compensation and expenses and for the repayment of any advances (plus interest thereon) made by them to effect performance of certain covenants in the Indenture if the Company has failed to make any payment which results in an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement.

APPLICATION OF PROCEEDS OF THE BOND FUND

The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds, excluding accrued interest, if any, were deposited with the trustee for the Prior Bonds and used to refund the Prior Bonds. There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund to be held by the Trustee and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. Payments made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds in respect of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and certain other amounts specified in the Indenture are to be deposited in the appropriate account in the Bond Fund. While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in a Tax Exemption Certificate and Agreement among the Trustee, the Issuer and the Company (the “Tax Certificate”), moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds as the same become due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or upon acceleration of maturity, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent and the Registrar to the extent described above in “Pledge and Security.”

INVESTMENT OF FUNDS

Subject to the provisions of the Tax Certificate, moneys in the Bond Fund will, at the direction of the Company, be invested in securities or obligations specified in the Indenture. Gains from such investments will be credited, and any loss will be charged, to the particular fund or account from which the investments were made.

DEFAULTS

Each of the following events will constitute an “Event of Default” under the Indenture:

(a) subject to the Remarketing Agents efforts to remarket Pledged Bonds, a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on any of the Bonds when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise;

(b) subject to the Remarketing Agents efforts to remarket Pledged Bonds, a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds for a period of one day after such interest has become due and payable;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due in respect of the purchase price of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase after such payment has become due and payable as provided under the captions “THE BONDS—Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase;”

(d) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any covenant, condition, agreement or provision contained in the Bonds or the Indenture (other than a failure described in clause (a), (b) or (c) above), which failure continues for a period of 90 days after written notice has been given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee, which notice may be given at the discretion of the Trustee and must be given at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, unless such period is extended prior to its expiration by the Trustee, or by the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, will be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer, or the Company on behalf of the Issuer, within such period and is being diligently pursued;

- (e) an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement;
- (f) a “Default” under the Company Mortgage; or
- (g) the Trustee’s receipt of written notice (which may be given by telefacsimile) from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of an event of default under and as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement and stating that such notice is given pursuant to the Indenture.

REMEDIES

Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b), (c), (f) or (g) under “Defaults” above or an Event of Default described in clause (e) under “Defaults” above resulting from an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement as described under clause (a) or (c) of “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—Defaults” herein, and further upon the conditions that, if (a) in accordance with the terms of the Company Mortgage, the First Mortgage Bonds have become immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Company Mortgage and (b) there has been filed with the Trustee a written direction of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and if no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its Insurance Policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), then the Bonds will, without further action, become immediately due and payable and, during the period the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is in effect, with accrued interest on the Bonds payable on the Bond Payment Date fixed as described in the Indenture and the Trustee will as promptly as practicable draw moneys under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the extent available thereunder, in an amount sufficient to pay principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds payable on the Bond Payment Date established as described in the Indenture; provided that any waiver of any “Default” under the Company Mortgage and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Indenture and rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraph are subject further to the condition that if, so long as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, after the principal of the Bonds have been so declared to be due and payable and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer will cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds and the principal of any and all Bonds which have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as are sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default under the Indenture (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which has become due by said declaration) has been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default is deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee will promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer and the Company and will give notice thereof to Owners of the Bonds by first-class mail; provided, however, that no such waiver, rescission and annulment will extend to or affect any other Event of Default or subsequent Event of Default or impair any right, power or remedy consequent thereon.

The provisions described in the second preceding paragraph are, further, subject to the condition that, if an Event of Default described in clause (g) under “Defaults” above has occurred and if the Trustee thereafter has received written notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) (a) that the notice which caused such Event of Default to occur has been withdrawn and (b) that the amounts available to be drawn on the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to pay (i) the principal of the Bonds or the portion of purchase price equal to principal and (ii) interest on the Bonds and the portion of purchase price equal to accrued interest have been reinstated to an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds Outstanding plus accrued interest thereon for the applicable Interest Coverage Period at the Interest Coverage Rate, then, in every such case, such Event of Default is deemed waived and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee will promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer, the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Remarketing Agent, and, if notice of the acceleration of the Bonds has been given to the Owners of Bonds, will give notice thereof by Mail to all Owners of Outstanding Bonds; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Indenture, the Trustee may, with the consent of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and if no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and upon the written direction of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) must, pursue any available remedy to enforce the rights of the Owners of the Bonds and require the Company, the Issuer, the Insurer or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to carry out any agreements, bring suit upon the Bonds or enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the Owners of the Bonds. So long as an Insurer Default has not occurred and is continuing, upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Insurer is entitled to control and direct the enforcement of all rights and remedies granted to the Owners or the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners under the Indenture. So long as a Bank Default has not occurred and is continuing, upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Bank is entitled to control and direct the enforcement of all rights and remedies granted to the owners or the Trustee for the benefit of Owners under the Indenture. The Trustee is not required to take any action in respect of an Event of Default (other than, in certain circumstances, to declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, to notify the Insurer of payments to be made pursuant to the Insurance Policy, to make certain payments with respect to the Bonds and to draw on the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be)) or to enforce the trusts created by the Indenture except upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and receipt of indemnity satisfactory to it.

The Owners of a majority in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings available to the Trustee under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee upon furnishing satisfactory indemnity to the Trustee (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) and provided that such direction does not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner of any Bond will have any right to institute any suit, action or proceeding in equity or at law for the execution of any trust or power of the Trustee unless such Owner has previously given the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding have made written request of the Trustee so to do, and unless satisfactory indemnity (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) has been offered to the Trustee and the Trustee has not complied with such request within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of any Owner to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Owner's Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of Bonds.

DEFEASANCE

All or any portions of Bonds (in Authorized Denominations) will, prior to the maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid for all purposes of the Indenture when:

(a) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof have been selected for redemption, the Trustee has given, or the Company has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, notice of redemption of such Bonds or portions thereof;

(b) there has been deposited with the Trustee moneys which constitute Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility;

(c) the moneys so deposited with the Trustee are in an amount sufficient (without relying on any investment income) to pay when due the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due and to become due (which amount of interest to become due is calculated at the Maximum Interest Rate unless the interest rate borne by all of such Bonds is not subject to adjustment prior to the maturity or redemption thereof, in which case the amount of interest is calculated at the rate borne by such Bonds) on said Bonds or portions thereof on and prior to the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be; provided, however, that if such payment is to be made upon optional redemption, such payment is made from Available Moneys;

(d) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof do not mature and are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, the Issuer at the direction of the Company has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, as soon as practicable in the same manner as a notice of redemption is given pursuant to the Indenture, a notice to the Owners of said Bonds or portions thereof and to the Insurer that the deposit required by clause (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds or portions thereof are deemed to have been paid and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof;

(e) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and the Insurer have received an opinion of an independent public accountant of nationally recognized standing, selected by the Company (an "Accountant's Opinion"), to the effect that the requirements set forth in clause (c) above have been satisfied;

(f) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee and the Insurer shall have received written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, that such action will not result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of the rating; and

(g) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and the Insurer have received an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such deposit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds ("Bond Counsel's Opinion").

Moneys deposited with the Trustee as described above may not be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and are held in trust for, the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof, or for the payment of the purchase price of Bonds in accordance with the Indenture; provided that such moneys, if not then needed for such purpose, will, to the extent practicable, be invested and reinvested in Government Obligations maturing on or prior to the earlier of (a) the date moneys may be required for the purchase of Bonds or (b) the Interest Payment Date next succeeding the date of investment or reinvestment, and interest earned from such investments are paid over to the Company, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

The provisions of the Indenture relating to (a) the registration and exchange of Bonds, (b) the delivery of Bonds to the Trustee for purchase and the related obligations of the Trustee with respect thereto, (c) the mandatory purchase of the Bonds in connection with the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term for Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and (d) payment of the Bonds from such moneys, will remain in full force and effect with respect to all Bonds until the maturity date of the Bonds or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds prior to maturity, notwithstanding that all or any portion of the Bonds are deemed to be paid; provided, however, that the provisions with respect to registration and exchange of Bonds will continue to be effective until the maturity or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds.

In the event the requirements of the next to the last sentence of the next succeeding paragraph can be satisfied, the preceding three paragraphs will not apply and the following two paragraphs will be applicable.

Any Bond will be deemed to be paid within the meaning of the Indenture when (a) payment of the principal of and premium, if any, on such Bond, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof (whether such due date is by reason of maturity or acceleration or upon redemption as provided in the Indenture) either (i) has been made or caused to be made in accordance with the terms thereof or (ii) has been provided for by irrevocably depositing with the Trustee in trust and irrevocably set aside exclusively for such payment, (A) moneys, which are Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, sufficient to make such payment and/or (B) Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and maturing as to principal and interest in such amount and at such time as will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment; provided, however, that if such payment is to be made upon optional redemption, such payment is made from Available Moneys or from Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys; (b) all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Issuer, the Trustee and the Registrar pertaining to the Bonds with respect to which such deposit is made have been paid or the payment thereof provided for to the satisfaction of the Trustee; and (c) an Accountant's Opinion, to the effect that such moneys and/or Government Obligations will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment, a Bankruptcy Counsel's Opinion to the effect that the payment of the Bonds from the moneys and/or Government Obligations so deposited will not result in a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event that either the Issuer of the Company were to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code and a Bond Counsel's Opinion has been delivered to the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P. The provisions of this paragraph apply only if (x) the Bond with respect to which such deposit is made is to mature or be called for redemption prior to the next succeeding date on which such Bond is subject to purchase as described herein under the captions "THE BONDS—Optional Purchase" and "—Mandatory Purchase" and (y) the Company waives, to the satisfaction of the Trustee, its right to convert the interest rate borne by such Bond.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, no deposit under clause (a)(ii) of the immediately preceding paragraph will be deemed a payment of such Bonds as aforesaid until: (a) proper notice of redemption of such Bonds has been previously given in accordance with the Indenture, or in the event said Bonds are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, until the Company has given the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, irrevocable instructions to notify, as soon as practicable, the Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, that the deposit required by clause (a)(ii) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid in accordance with the Indenture and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and the applicable redemption premium, if any, on said Bonds, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof; or (b) the maturity of such Bonds.

REMOVAL OF TRUSTEE

With the prior written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be (which consent, if unreasonably withheld, will not be required), the Trustee may be removed at any time by filing with the Trustee so removed, and with the Issuer, the Company, the Insurer, if any, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), an instrument or instruments in writing executed by (a) the Insurer, if any and if no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing, or (b) the Owners of not less than a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and, if no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing, the Insurer, if any. The Trustee may also be removed by the Issuer under certain circumstances.

MODIFICATIONS AND AMENDMENTS

The Indenture may be modified or amended by the Issuer and the Trustee by supplemental indentures without the consent of the Owners of the Bonds, but with the consent of the Bank in certain circumstances, for any of the following purposes: (a) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in the Indenture; (b) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Indenture or of the Company, the Insurer, if any, or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company which does not materially adversely affect the interests of Owners of the Bonds; (c) to confirm, as further assurance, any pledge of or lien on any property subjected or to be subjected to the lien of the Indenture; (d) to comply with the requirements of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; (e) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture or any supplemental indenture in any other respect which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; provided, however, that any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement will not take effect until the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, has consented in writing to such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement; provided further that in determining whether any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds, the Trustee will consider the effect on the Owners as if there were no Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds; (f) to implement a conversion of the interest rate on the Bonds or to evidence or give effect to or facilitate the delivery and administration under the Indenture of an Alternate Credit Facility or on a Substitute Letter of Credit; (g) to provide for a depository to accept tendered Bonds in lieu of the Trustee; (h) to modify or eliminate the book-entry registration system for any of the Bonds; (i) to provide for uncertificated Bonds or for the issuance of coupons and bearer Bonds or Bonds registered only as to principal, but only to the extent that such would not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (j) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category (as defined in the Indenture) and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (k) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies; (l) to provide for any Substitute Collateral and the release of any First Mortgage Bonds; (m) to provide for the appointment of a successor Trustee, Registrar or Paying Agent; (n) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (o) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (p) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture in any other respect, if the effective date of such supplemental indenture or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased; and (q) to provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Insurance Policy or replacement of any Insurer or for an additional Insurer following the occurrence of an Insurer Default or to provide for an additional Insurer following the withdrawal or suspension or reduction below AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's of the long-term ratings of any Insurer then providing an Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds provided that the insurance policy provided by the replacement or additional Insurer would result in a long-term rating on the Bonds equal to AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's.

Before the Issuer and the Trustee enter into any supplemental indenture as described above, there must be delivered to the Trustee, the Company, the Insurer, if any, and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms, and will not impair the validity under the Act, of the Bonds or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Trustee will provide written notice of any Supplemental Indenture to the Insurer, if any, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), Moody's, S&P and the Owners of all the Bonds then outstanding at least 30 days prior to the effective date of such Supplemental Indenture. Such notice must state the effective date of such Supplemental Indenture, briefly describe the nature of such Supplemental Indenture and state that a copy thereof is on file at the principal office of the Trustee for inspection by the parties mentioned in the preceding sentence.

Except for supplemental indentures entered into for the purposes described above, the Indenture will not be modified, altered, amended supplemented or rescinded without the consent of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and no Bank Default has occurred and is continuing) or the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), together with not less than 60% in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding, who have the right to consent to and approve any supplemental indenture; provided that, unless approved in writing by the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and no Bank Default has occurred and is continuing) or Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Owners of all the Bonds then affected thereby, there will not be permitted (a) a change in the times, amounts or currency of payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any Bond, a change in the terms of the purchase thereof by the Trustee, or a reduction in the principal amount or redemption price thereof or the rate of interest thereon, (b) the creation of a claim or lien on or a pledge of the Revenues ranking prior to or on a parity with the claim, lien or pledge created by the Indenture, or (c) a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds the consent of the Owners of which is required to approve any such supplemental indenture or which is required to approve any amendment to the Loan Agreement. No such amendment of the Indenture will be effective without the prior written consent of the Company.

AMENDMENT OF THE LOAN AGREEMENT

Without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds, the Issuer may, with the consent of the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement, and the Trustee may consent thereto, as may be required (a) by the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture; (b) for the purpose of curing any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity therein; (c) in connection with any other change therein which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; provided, however, that any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement will not take effect until the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, have consented in writing to such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement; provided further that in determining whether any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds, the Trustee will consider the effect on the Owners as if there were no Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds; (d) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (e) in connection with the delivery and substitution of any Substitute Collateral and the release of any First Mortgage Bonds; (f) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Loan Agreement or of the Company or of any Insurer or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to facilitate the delivery and administration of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company, which does not materially adversely affect the interest of the Owners of the Bonds; (g) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies, (h) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (i) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of interest on the Bonds; (j) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement in any other respect, including amendments which would otherwise be described herein, if the effective date of such supplement or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased; and (k) to provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Insurance Policy or replacement of any Insurer or for an additional Insurer following the occurrence of an Insurer Default or to provide for an additional Insurer following the withdrawal or suspension or reduction below AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's of the long-term ratings of any Insurer then providing an Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds provided that the insurance policy provided by the replacement or additional Insurer would result in a long-term rating on the Bonds equal to AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's.

Before the Issuer enters into, and the Trustee consents to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, (a) the Trustee will cause notice of such proposed modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to be provided to the Bank, the Insurer, if any, Moody's and S&P, stating that a copy thereof is on file at the office of the Trustee for inspection by the Insurer, if any, Moody's and S&P and (b) there must be delivered to the Bank, the Issuer, the Insurer, if any, and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Act, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Issuer will not enter into and the Trustee will not consent to any other amendment, change or modification of the Loan Agreement without the written approval or consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Owners of not less than 60% in the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time outstanding; provided, however, that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all Bonds affected thereby, nothing in the Indenture may permit, or be construed as permitting, a change in the obligations of the Company to make Loan Payments or payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds or the nature of the obligations of the Company on the First Mortgage Bonds. No amendment of the Loan Agreement will become effective without the prior written consent of the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Company and under certain circumstances, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

Before the Issuer enters into, and the Trustee consents to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, there must be delivered to the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Insurer, if any, and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Act, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent has agreed with the Company, subject to the terms and provisions of the Remarketing Agreement, that the Remarketing Agent will use its best efforts, as remarketing agent, to solicit purchases from potential investors of the Bonds. Pursuant to such Remarketing Agreement, the Company has agreed to indemnify the Remarketing Agent against certain liabilities and expenses, including liabilities arising under federal and state securities laws, and to pay for certain expenses in connection with the reoffering of the Bonds.

APPENDIX C

APPROVING OPINIONS OF BOND COUNSEL

September , 1992

$22,485,000
POLLUTION CONTROL REFUNDING REVENUE BONDS
(PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1992

We have reviewed a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance by Converse County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), of the above referenced bonds (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as from time to time supplemented and amended (the "Act"), a Bond Resolution of the County adopted on September 2, 1992 (the "Resolution") and a Trust Indenture dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Indenture") by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, a national banking association, as Trustee. All terms used in this opinion and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture.

The Bonds are being issued to provide funds which will be used to refund and redeem on October 1, 1992 the Issuer's Collateralized Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1976 (the "1976 Bonds") currently Outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $22,485,000. October 1, 1992 is the date set for the irrevocable redemption of all then outstanding 1976 Bonds. The Issuer will make the funds arising from the sale of the Bonds available to PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated September 1, 1992 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"), the proceeds of which Loan will be used, together with certain other moneys provided by the Company, to pay the principal of, and interest on, the 1976 Bonds on and after October 1, 1992 as such 1976 Bonds are presented for payment. The Bonds are dated as of September 1, 1992, commence to accrue interest as of the date of initial issuance and delivery thereof and bear interest at the rates, mature on the date, and are subject to purchase and optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity on the terms and conditions and at the prices, all as set forth in the Indenture.

The Bonds are secured by a pledge of the Trust Estate. The Trust Estate initially includes an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee for the account of the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on September 29, 1995, unless extended or renewed by the Bank. In addition, pursuant to the Indenture, the Letter of Credit may, under certain circumstances, be terminated, in which event it may (or under certain conditions, may not) be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon: (i) an opinion of even date herewith rendered by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, counsel to the Bank, and assumed the accuracy of certain opinions expressed by Henrici, Wicki & Guggisberg, Swiss Counsel to the Bank, regarding the due authorization, execution, delivery, validity and enforceability of the Letter of Credit, and (ii) an opinion of even date herewith of Thomas A. Burley, County Attorney of the Issuer, regarding the due execution and delivery of the Bonds.

We have assumed the genuineness of all documents and signatures presented to us. In addition, we have assumed (but express no opinion) that all documents, instruments, agreements and certificates required to be executed and delivered by parties other than the Issuer in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds and related transactions have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such parties. With respect to matters of fact relevant to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon (without having undertaken to independently verify) various certifications, representations and warranties made by the Company and other parties in the various documents relating to the issuance and sale of the Bonds, but have not undertaken to verify independently, and have assumed, the accuracy of the factual matters represented, warranted or certified in the documents, and all of the legal conclusions contained in the opinions, referred to herein. Furthermore, we have assumed compliance with all covenants and agreements contained in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the certificate executed by the Company on the date hereof regarding, among other things, compliance with the Code requirements necessary to assure that interest on the Bonds will not be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes. Furthermore, we have undertaken no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the Official Statement or other offering materials relating to the Bonds and express no opinion relating thereto.

Certain terms of the Bonds, and other terms, requirements and procedures contained or referred to in the Indenture and other relevant documents, may or will be adjusted or changed and certain actions may or will be taken, under the circumstances and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such documents. The opinions set forth below are qualified to the extent that we express no opinion as to whether, following any such adjustment or change or the taking of any such action, the interest on the Bonds will continue to be excludible for federal income tax purposes from the gross incomes of the Owners.

The opinions expressed herein are based on the analysis of existing laws, regulations, rulings and court decisions and cover certain matters not directly addressed by such authorities. Such opinions may be affected by actions taken or omitted or events occurring after the date hereof. We have not undertaken to determine, or to inform any person, whether such actions or events are taken or do occur. Our engagement with respect to the Bonds has concluded with their delivery, and we disclaim any obligation to update this letter.

In reliance on the opinions and certifications, representations and warranties described above and based upon our examination of the foregoing and the pertinent laws of the United States of America and the State of Wyoming and such other documents, certificates, instruments and agreements as we have deemed necessary or appropriate, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer has full power and authority under the Act to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to authorize, issue, execute, sell and deliver the Bonds for the purposes described in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement.

2. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, are in full force and effect, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with their terms.

3. The Bonds have been duly authorized, issued, delivered and sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law (including the Act) and constitute the valid, legal and binding limited obligations of the Issuer secured by the Indenture and enforceable in accordance with their terms and the terms of the Indenture.

4. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely and only from the Trust Estate pledged thereto under the Indenture. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer, nor are they payable out of any moneys or assets of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer not specifically pledged thereto. The Owners of the Bonds have no right to compel the Issuer to exercise its taxing powers for the purpose of paying any amounts owing under or with respect to the Bonds.

5. Under existing laws, rulings, regulations and judicial decisions, and assuming the continuing compliance by the Issuer and the Company with the Tax Covenants, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation pursuant to Section 103 of the Code (other than the gross income of an Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Project refinanced out of the proceeds of the Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Code).

The failure of the Issuer or the Company to continuously comply with the Tax Covenants as they relate to the Bonds could result in the interest on the Bonds becoming includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners and former Owners thereof, which includibility in gross income could be retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. We advise you that, as a practical matter, compliance with the Tax Covenants is a matter within the control of the Company and not the Issuer. We have not undertaken, and will not undertake, to monitor the continuing compliance by the Issuer or the Company with the Tax Covenants or to inform any person whether or not the Tax Covenants are being complied with.

The Bonds are "private activity bonds" within the meaning of Section 141(a) of the Code, however, the Bonds are being issued to refund bonds issued prior to August 8, 1986, and we observe that, as a consequence, the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of the federal alternative minimum taxes applicable to individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. However, we further observe that for purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations (as defined for federal income tax purposes), interest on the Bonds is taken into account in determining adjusted current earnings.

6. The State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Receipt of interest on tax-exempt obligations such as the Bonds may result in collateral federal or state tax consequences to certain individuals or other taxable entities. Except as set forth in paragraphs 5 and 6 above, we express no opinion regarding other federal or state tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of, or the accrual or receipt of interest with respect to, the Bonds.

The foregoing opinions are qualified to the extent that the rights or remedies of the Owners of the Bonds (including any rights or remedies conferred on the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds under the Indenture) and the enforceability of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement may be limited or otherwise affected by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws and general principles of equity affecting or limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, whether now existing or hereafter in effect. We express no opinion as to the investment quality of the Bonds or the adequacy or priority of the security therefor.

All parties to the transactions pertaining to the issuance and sale of the Bonds and their respective counsel may rely upon this opinion as if it were specifically addressed to each.

$9,335,000
POLLUTION CONTROL REFUNDING REVENUE BONDS
(PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1992A

We have reviewed a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), of the above referenced bonds (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as from time to time supplemented and amended (the "Act"), a Bond Resolution of the County adopted on September 14, 1992 (the "Resolution") and a Trust Indenture dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Indenture") by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, a national banking association, as Trustee. All terms used in this opinion and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture.

The Bonds are being issued to provide funds which will be used to refund and redeem on October 1, 1992 the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1975A (the "1975A Bonds") currently Outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $9,335,000. October 1, 1992 is the date set for the irrevocable redemption of all then outstanding 1975A Bonds. The Issuer will make the funds arising from the sale of the Bonds available to PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated September 1, 1992 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"), the proceeds of which Loan will be used, together with certain other moneys provided by the Company, to pay the principal of, and interest on, the 1975A Bonds on and after October 1, 1992 as such 1975A Bonds are presented for payment. The Bonds are dated as of September 1, 1992, commence to accrue interest as of the date of initial issuance and delivery thereof and bear interest at the rates, mature on the date, and are subject to purchase and optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity on the terms and conditions and at the prices, all as set forth in the Indenture.

The Bonds are secured by a pledge of the Trust Estate. The Trust Estate initially includes an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee for the account of the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on September 29, 1995, unless extended or renewed by the Bank. In addition, pursuant to the Indenture, the Letter of Credit may, under certain circumstances, be terminated, in which event it may (or under certain conditions, may not) be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon: (i) an opinion of even date herewith rendered by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, counsel to the Bank, and assumed the accuracy of certain opinions expressed by Henrici, Wicki & Guggisberg, Swiss Counsel to the Bank, regarding the due authorization, execution, delivery, validity and enforceability of the Letter of Credit, and (ii) an opinion of even date herewith of Sue Kearns, County and Prosecuting Attorney of the Issuer, regarding the due execution and delivery of the Bonds.

We have assumed the genuineness of all documents and signatures presented to us. In addition, we have assumed (but express no opinion) that all documents, instruments, agreements and certificates required to be executed and delivered by parties other than the Issuer in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds and related transactions have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such parties. With respect to matters of fact relevant to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon (without having undertaken to independently verify) various certifications, representations and warranties made by the Company and other parties in the various documents relating to the issuance and sale of the Bonds, but have not undertaken to verify independently, and have assumed, the accuracy of the factual matters represented, warranted or certified in the documents, and all of the legal conclusions contained in the opinions, referred to herein. Furthermore, we have assumed compliance with all covenants and agreements contained in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the certificate executed by the Company on the date hereof regarding, among other things, compliance with the Code requirements necessary to assure that interest on the Bonds will not be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes. Furthermore, we have undertaken no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the Official Statement or other offering materials relating to the Bonds and express no opinion relating thereto.

Certain terms of the Bonds, and other terms, requirements and procedures contained or referred to in the Indenture and other relevant documents, may or will be adjusted or changed and certain actions may or will be taken, under the circumstances and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such documents. The opinions set forth below are qualified to the extent that we express no opinion as to whether, following any such adjustment or change or the taking of any such action, the interest on the Bonds will continue to be excludible for federal income tax purposes from the gross incomes of the Owners.

The opinions expressed herein are based on the analysis of existing laws, regulations, rulings and court decisions and cover certain matters not directly addressed by such authorities. Such opinions may be affected by actions taken or omitted or events occurring after the date hereof. We have not undertaken to determine, or to inform any person, whether such actions or events are taken or do occur. Our engagement with respect to the Bonds has concluded with their delivery, and we disclaim any obligation to update this letter.

In reliance on the opinions and certifications, representations and warranties described above and based upon our examination of the foregoing and the pertinent laws of the United States of America and the State of Wyoming and such other documents, certificates, instruments and agreements as we have deemed necessary or appropriate, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer has full power and authority under the Act to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to authorize, issue, execute, sell and deliver the Bonds for the purposes described in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement.

2. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, are in full force and effect, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with their terms.

3. The Bonds have been duly authorized, issued, delivered and sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law (including the Act) and constitute the valid, legal and binding limited obligations of the Issuer secured by the Indenture and enforceable in accordance with their terms and the terms of the Indenture.

4. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely and only from the Trust Estate pledged thereto under the Indenture. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer, nor are they payable out of any moneys or assets of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer not specifically pledged thereto. The Owners of the Bonds have no right to compel the Issuer to exercise its taxing powers for the purpose of paying any amounts owing under or with respect to the Bonds.

5. Under existing laws, rulings, regulations and judicial decisions, and assuming the continuing compliance by the Issuer and the Company with the Tax Covenants, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation pursuant to Section 103 of the Code (other than the gross income of an Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Project refinanced out of the proceeds of the Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Code).

The failure of the Issuer or the Company to continuously comply with the Tax Covenants as they relate to the Bonds could result in the interest on the Bonds becoming includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners and former Owners thereof, which includibility in gross income could be retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. We advise you that, as a practical matter, compliance with the Tax Covenants is a matter within the control of the Company and not the Issuer. We have not undertaken, and will not undertake, to monitor the continuing compliance by the Issuer or the Company with the Tax Covenants or to inform any person whether or not the Tax Covenants are being complied with.

The Bonds are "private activity bonds" within the meaning of Section 141(a) of the Code, however, the Bonds are being issued to refund bonds issued prior to August 8, 1986, and we observe that, as a consequence, the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of the federal alternative minimum taxes applicable to individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. However, we further observe that for purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations (as defined for federal income tax purposes), interest on the Bonds is taken into account in determining adjusted current earnings.

6. The State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Receipt of interest on tax-exempt obligations such as the Bonds may result in collateral federal or state tax consequences to certain individuals or other taxable entities. Except as set forth in paragraphs 5 and 6 above, we express no opinion regarding other federal or state tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of, or the accrual or receipt of interest with respect to, the Bonds.

The foregoing opinions are qualified to the extent that the rights or remedies of the Owners of the Bonds (including any rights or remedies conferred on the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds under the Indenture) and the enforceability of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement may be limited or otherwise affected by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws and general principles of equity affecting or limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, whether now existing or hereafter in effect. We express no opinion as to the investment quality of the Bonds or the adequacy or priority of the security therefor.

All parties to the transactions pertaining to the issuance and sale of the Bonds and their respective counsel may rely upon this opinion as if it were specifically addressed to each.

$6,305,000
POLLUTION CONTROL REFUNDING REVENUE BONDS
(PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1992B

We have reviewed a transcript of the proceedings relating to the issuance by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), of the above referenced bonds (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as from time to time supplemented and amended (the "Act"), a Bond Resolution of the County adopted on September 14, 1992 (the "Resolution") and a Trust Indenture dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Indenture") by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, a national banking association, as Trustee. All terms used in this opinion and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture.

The Bonds are being issued to provide funds which will be used to refund and redeem on December 1, 1992 the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1975B (the "1975B Bonds") currently Outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $6,305,000. December 1, 1992 is the date set for the irrevocable redemption of all then outstanding 1975B Bonds. The Issuer will make the funds arising from the sale of the Bonds available to PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated September 1, 1992 between the Issuer and the Company (the "Loan Agreement"), the proceeds of which Loan will be used, together with certain other moneys provided by the Company, to pay the principal of, and interest on, the 1975B Bonds on and after December 1, 1992 as such 1975B Bonds are presented for payment. The Bonds are dated as of September 1, 1992, commence to accrue interest as of the date of initial issuance and delivery thereof and bear interest at the rates, mature on the date, and are subject to purchase and optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity on the terms and conditions and at the prices, all as set forth in the Indenture.

The Bonds are secured by a pledge of the Trust Estate. The Trust Estate initially includes an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee for the account of the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on September 29, 1995, unless extended or renewed by the Bank. In addition, pursuant to the Indenture, the Letter of Credit may, under certain circumstances, be terminated, in which event it may (or under certain conditions, may not) be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility.

In rendering the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon: (i) an opinion of even date herewith rendered by Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, counsel to the Bank, and assumed the accuracy of certain opinions expressed by Henrici, Wicki & Guggisberg, Swiss Counsel to the Bank, regarding the due authorization, execution, delivery, validity and enforceability of the Letter of Credit, and (ii) an opinion of even date herewith of Sue Kearns, County and Prosecuting Attorney of the Issuer, regarding the due execution and delivery of the Bonds.

We have assumed the genuineness of all documents and signatures presented to us. In addition, we have assumed (but express no opinion) that all documents, instruments, agreements and certificates required to be executed and delivered by parties other than the Issuer in connection with the issuance and sale of the Bonds and related transactions have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by such parties. With respect to matters of fact relevant to the opinions set forth herein, we have relied upon (without having undertaken to independently verify) various certifications, representations and warranties made by the Company and other parties in the various documents relating to the issuance and sale of the Bonds, but have not undertaken to verify independently, and have assumed, the accuracy of the factual matters represented, warranted or certified in the documents, and all of the legal conclusions contained in the opinions, referred to herein. Furthermore, we have assumed compliance with all covenants and agreements contained in the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the certificate executed by the Company on the date hereof regarding, among other things, compliance with the Code requirements necessary to assure that interest on the Bonds will not be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes. Furthermore, we have undertaken no responsibility for the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the Official Statement or other offering materials relating to the Bonds and express no opinion relating thereto.

Certain terms of the Bonds, and other terms, requirements and procedures contained or referred to in the Indenture and other relevant documents, may or will be adjusted or changed and certain actions may or will be taken, under the circumstances and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in such documents. The opinions set forth below are qualified to the extent that we express no opinion as to whether, following any such adjustment or change or the taking of any such action, the interest on the Bonds will continue to be excludible for federal income tax purposes from the gross incomes of the Owners.

The opinions expressed herein are based on the analysis of existing laws, regulations, rulings and court decisions and cover certain matters not directly addressed by such authorities. Such opinions may be affected by actions taken or omitted or events occurring after the date hereof. We have not undertaken to determine, or to inform any person, whether such actions or events are taken or do occur. Our engagement with respect to the Bonds has concluded with their delivery, and we disclaim any obligation to update this letter.

In reliance on the opinions and certifications, representations and warranties described above and based upon our examination of the foregoing and the pertinent laws of the United States of America and the State of Wyoming and such other documents, certificates, instruments and agreements as we have deemed necessary or appropriate, we are of the opinion that:

1. The Issuer has full power and authority under the Act to enter into the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to perform its obligations under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement and to authorize, issue, execute, sell and deliver the Bonds for the purposes described in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement.

2. The Indenture and the Loan Agreement have been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, are in full force and effect, and constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with their terms.

3. The Bonds have been duly authorized, issued, delivered and sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law (including the Act) and constitute the valid, legal and binding limited obligations of the Issuer secured by the Indenture and enforceable in accordance with their terms and the terms of the Indenture.

4. The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely and only from the Trust Estate pledged thereto under the Indenture. The Bonds are not general obligations of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer, nor are they payable out of any moneys or assets of the Issuer or any agency or instrumentality of the Issuer not specifically pledged thereto. The Owners of the Bonds have no right to compel the Issuer to exercise its taxing powers for the purpose of paying any amounts owing under or with respect to the Bonds.

5. Under existing laws, rulings, regulations and judicial decisions, and assuming the continuing compliance by the Issuer and the Company with the Tax Covenants, interest on the Bonds is excluded from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation pursuant to Section 103 of the Code (other than the gross income of an Owner who is a "substantial user" of the Project refinanced out of the proceeds of the Bonds or a "related person" as such terms are used in Section 147(a) of the Code).

The failure of the Issuer or the Company to continuously comply with the Tax Covenants as they relate to the Bonds could result in the interest on the Bonds becoming includible for federal income tax purposes in the gross incomes of the Owners and former Owners thereof, which includibility in gross income could be retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. We advise you that, as a practical matter, compliance with the Tax Covenants is a matter within the control of the Company and not the Issuer. We have not undertaken, and will not undertake, to monitor the continuing compliance by the Issuer or the Company with the Tax Covenants or to inform any person whether or not the Tax Covenants are being complied with.

The Bonds are "private activity bonds" within the meaning of Section 141(a) of the Code, however, the Bonds are being issued to refund bonds issued prior to August 8, 1986, and we observe that, as a consequence, the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference for purposes of the federal alternative minimum taxes applicable to individuals, corporations and other taxpayers. However, we further observe that for purposes of computing the alternative minimum tax imposed on corporations (as defined for federal income tax purposes), interest on the Bonds is taken into account in determining adjusted current earnings.

6. The State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Receipt of interest on tax-exempt obligations such as the Bonds may result in collateral federal or state tax consequences to certain individuals or other taxable entities. Except as set forth in paragraphs 5 and 6 above, we express no opinion regarding other federal or state tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of, or the accrual or receipt of interest with respect to, the Bonds.

The foregoing opinions are qualified to the extent that the rights or remedies of the Owners of the Bonds (including any rights or remedies conferred on the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners of the Bonds under the Indenture) and the enforceability of the Indenture and the Loan Agreement may be limited or otherwise affected by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other similar laws and general principles of equity affecting or limiting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally, whether now existing or hereafter in effect. We express no opinion as to the investment quality of the Bonds or the adequacy or priority of the security therefor.

All parties to the transactions pertaining to the issuance and sale of the Bonds and their respective counsel may rely upon this opinion as if it were specifically addressed to each.

Re: $22,485,000
 Converse County, Wyoming
 Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
 (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1992 (the "Bonds")

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with (a) Sections 12.02(c)(ii) and 12.06 of that certain Trust Indenture, dated as of September 1, 1992, as heretofore amended and supplemented (the "Original Indenture"), between Converse County, Wyoming (the "Issuer") and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as successor trustee (the "Trustee") and (b) Section 4.03(b) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of September 1, 1992 (the "Original Loan Agreement"), between the Issuer and PacifiCorp (the "Company"). Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the Bonds was not secured by a credit facility. On the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Bank"), for the benefit of the Trustee. In order to provide for the delivery of the Letter of Credit and to make certain other permitted changes in connection therewith to the Original Indenture and the Original Loan Agreement, (a) the Company, pursuant to Section 12.02 of the Original Indenture, has requested the Issuer and the Trustee to enter into the Third Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of September 1, 2010 (the "Third Supplemental Indenture"), in order to amend and restate the Original Indenture and (b) the Company and the Issuer, pursuant to Section 12.06 of the Original Indenture and Section 9.04 of the Original Loan Agreement, have determined to enter into the First Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of September 1, 2010 (the “First Supplemental Loan Agreement”), to amend and restate the Original Loan Agreement. It has been represented to us that the Owners of all of the Bonds have consented to the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement.

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of the Original Indenture and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The form of the restated bond prescribed in the Third Supplemental Indenture (the “Restated Bonds”) satisfies the requirements of the Act and the Original Indenture and the authentication of the Restated Bonds will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.
2. The Third Supplemental Indenture is authorized or permitted by the Original Indenture and the Act and complies with their respective terms.
3. The modification, alteration, amendment or supplement of the Original Loan Agreement by the First Supplemental Loan Agreement is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or the Original Indenture and the Act and complies with their respective terms.
4. The Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement will, upon execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding obligations of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors’ rights generally or usual equitable principals in the event equitable remedies should be sought.
5. The delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Original Loan Agreement.
6. The (a) execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and (b) the delivery of the Letter of Credit will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey rendered their approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Original Indenture, the Original Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Original Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in our opinion dated November 12, 1999, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1999, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2005 and (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted, restate the Original Indenture and (b) the Company and the Issuer, pursuant to Section 12.06 of the Original Indenture and Section 9.04 of the Original Loan Agreement, have determined to enter into the First Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of September 1, 2010 (the "First Supplemental Loan Agreement"), to amend and restate the Original Loan Agreement. It has been represented to us that the Owners of all of the Bonds have consented to the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement.

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of the Original Indenture and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The form of the restated bond prescribed in the Third Supplemental Indenture (the "Restated Bonds") satisfies the requirements of the Act and the Original Indenture and the authentication of the Restated Bonds will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.
2. The Third Supplemental Indenture is authorized or permitted by the Original Indenture and the Act and complies with their respective terms.
3. The modification, alteration, amendment or supplement of the Original Loan Agreement by the First Supplemental Loan Agreement is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or the Original Indenture and the Act and complies with their respective terms.
4. The Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement will, upon execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding obligations of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equitable principals in the event equitable remedies should be sought.
5. The delivery of the Letters of Credit complies with the terms of the Original Loan Agreement.
6. The (a) execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and (b) the delivery of the Letters of Credit will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey rendered their approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Original Indenture, the Original Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Original Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in our opinion dated November 12, 1999, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1999, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 1, 2005 and (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Letters of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

With respect to any demand that is honored hereunder, the total amount of this Letter of Credit shall be reduced as follows:

With respect to each A Drawing paid by us, the total amount of this Letter of Credit shall be reduced by the amount of such A Drawing with respect to all demands presented to us after the time we receive such A Drawing; provided, however, that the amount of such A Drawing shall be automatically reinstated on the eighth (8th) Business Day following the date such A Drawing is honored by us, unless (i) you shall have received notice from us sent to you at your above address by express courier or registered mail, or by facsimile transmission to the Beneficiary Fax Number, no later than seven (7) Business Days after such A Drawing is honored by us that there shall be no such reinstatement, or (ii) such eighth (8th) Business Day falls after the Expiration Date;

With respect to each B Drawing paid by us, the total amount of this Letter of Credit shall be reduced with respect to all demands presented to us after the time we receive such B Drawing by the sum of (1) the amount inserted as principal in paragraph

SUPPLEMENT, DATED MARCH 18, 2013, TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR, DATED MAY 25, 2010

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on January 17, 1991, stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer of Bonds with certain covenants, under then-existing law (a) interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended) and (b) interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Such opinion of Bond Counsel was also to the effect that under then-existing law such interest will be exempt from certain Wyoming taxes. Such opinion has not been updated as of the date hereof. In the opinion of Bond Counsel to be delivered in connection with the delivery of the Replacement Letters of Credit, the delivery of the Replacement Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the status of interest on the Bonds as not includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR DOES NOT CONTAIN COMPLETE DESCRIPTIONS OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION WHICH IS SET FORTH IN THE REOFFERING CIRCULAR DATED MAY 25, 2010, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED HERETO AS APPENDIX C (THE “ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR” AND, TOGETHER WITH THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR, THE “REOFFERING CIRCULAR”), EXCEPT WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A CHANGE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR MORE RECENT INFORMATION SINCE THE DATE OF THE ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR SHOULD THEREFORE BE READ ONLY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORIGINAL REOFFERING CIRCULAR.

This Supplement to Reoffering Circular is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the reoffering of the Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1991, the “Bonds”) in the aggregate principal amount of $45,000,000, issued by Lincoln County, Wyoming (the “Issuer”).

The Bonds were issued pursuant to a Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1999 (the “Indenture”), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. (successor in interest to The First National Bank of Chicago), as Trustee (the “Trustee”), as further amended and restated by a Fourth Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of June 1, 2010 (the “Fourth Supplemental Indenture”), between the Issuer and the Trustee, and under a resolution of the governing body of the Issuer. The Trust Indenture, as amended and restated by the Fourth Supplemental Indenture, is sometimes referred to herein as the “Indenture.” Pursuant to a Loan Agreement dated as of January 1, 1991, as heretofore amended, supplemented and restated (the “Original Loan Agreement”), between PacifiCorp (the “Company”) and the Issuer, as further amended and restated by a Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of June 1, 2010 between the Company and the Issuer (the “Second Supplemental Loan Agreement”), the Issuer has lent the proceeds from the original sale of the Bonds to the Company. The Original Loan Agreement, as amended and restated by the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, is sometimes referred to herein as the “Loan Agreement.” Under the Agreement, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds (the “Loan Payments”) and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds. The proceeds of the Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used for the purposes set forth in the Original Reoffering Circular.

The Bonds, together with premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited and not general, obligations of the Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer nor any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof, shall be payable solely from the Revenues (as defined in the Indenture and which includes moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit) and other moneys pledged therefor under the Indenture, and shall be a valid claim of the respective holders thereof only against the Bond Fund (as defined in the Indenture), Revenues and other moneys held by the Trustee as part of the Trust Estate (as defined in the Indenture). The Issuers shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of any of the Bonds from any source.

No recourse shall be had for the payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any of the Bonds or for any claim based thereon or upon any obligation, covenant or agreement contained in the Indenture, against any past, present or future officer or employee of the Issuer, or any incorporator, officer, director or member of any successor corporation, as such, either directly, or through the Issuer or any successor corporation, under any rule of law or equity, statute or constitution or by the enforcement of any assessment or penalty or otherwise, and all such liability of any such incorporator, officer, director or member as such was expressly waived and released as a condition of and in consideration for the execution of the Indenture and the issuance of the Bonds.

The Company has exercised its right under the Agreement and the Indenture to terminate the Letter of Credit dated June 1, 2010 (the "Existing Letter of Credit") and issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Prior Bank") with respect to the Bonds, which has supported payment of the principal, interest and purchase price of the Bonds since the date the Existing Letter of Credit was issued. Pursuant to the Indenture, the Company has elected to replace the Existing Letter of Credit with an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, a bank organized under the laws of Canada, acting through its New York Agency (the "Bank"). The Letter of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee on March 26, 2013 (the "Effective Date") and, after such date, the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letter of Credit.

With respect to the Bonds, the Trustee will be entitled to draw under the Letter of Credit up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 48 days' accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn on with respect to the Bonds bearing interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate under the Indenture.

After the date of delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Company is permitted under the Agreement and the Indenture to provide a substitute letter of credit (the "Substitute Letter of Credit"), which is issued by the same Bank that issued the then existing Letter of Credit and which is identical to such Letter of Credit except for (i) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate (as defined in the Indenture), (ii) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period (as defined in the Indenture) or (iii) any combination of (i) and (ii). As used hereafter,

“Letter of Credit” shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit from and after the issuance date thereof. The Company also is permitted under the Agreement and Indenture to provide for the delivery of an alternate credit facility, including a letter of credit of a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, or any other credit support agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or first mortgage bonds of the Company or an insurance policy), the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee (an “Alternate Credit Facility”), to replace a Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of a Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. See “THE LETTER OF CREDIT” and the Reoffering Circular under the caption “THE BONDS—Purchase of Bonds.”

Prior to the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds were bearing interest at a Weekly Interest Rate. Following the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds will continue to bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, subject to the right of the Company to cause the interest rate on the Bonds to be converted to other interest rate determination methods as described in the Reoffering Circular.

Reference is hereby made to the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Brief descriptions of the Issuer, the Bonds, the Letter of Credit, the Reimbursement Agreement, the Agreement and the Indenture are included in this Supplement to Reoffering Circular, including the Original Reoffering Circular attached as Appendix C hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in Appendix A attached hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as Appendix B hereto. The descriptions herein, including in Appendix C, of the Agreement, the Indenture, the Letter of Credit and the Reimbursement Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors’ rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois and at the principal offices of the Remarketing Agent in New York, New York. The letter of credit described in the Original Reoffering Circular is no longer in effect as of March 26, 2013 and the information in the Original Reoffering Circular with respect thereto should be disregarded.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT AND THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENT

The following is a brief summary of certain provisions of the Replacement Letter of Credit and that certain Letter of Credit and Reimbursement Agreement, dated March 26, 2013, as amended and supplemented, between the Company and The Bank of Nova Scotia (together with all related documents, the “Reimbursement Agreement”). This summary is not a complete recital of the terms of the Replacement Letter of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreement and reference is made to the Replacement Letter of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreement, as applicable, in its entirety.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT

The Replacement Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of the Bank to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 48 days' accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate pursuant to the Indenture. The Replacement Letter of Credit will be substantially in the form attached hereto as Appendix F. The Replacement Letter of Credit will be issued pursuant to a Letter of Credit Reimbursement Agreement, dated March 26, 2013 (the "Reimbursement Agreement"), between the Company and the Bank.

The Bank's obligation under the Replacement Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee to pay the purchase price of the Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest only on the Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the Replacement Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated on the eighth (8th) business day following the Bank's honoring of such drawing by the amount drawn, unless the Trustee has received notice (the "Non-Reinstatement Notice") from the Bank by the seventh (7th) business day following the date of such honoring that there will be no reinstatement.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of Bonds due to an event of default under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the Replacement Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 48 days' interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds (less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Replacement Letter of Credit has not been reinstated).

The Replacement Letter of Credit shall expire on the earliest of: (a) March 26, 2015 (such date, as it may be extended as provided in such Replacement Letter of Credit, the "Scheduled Expiration Date"), (b) four (4) Business Days following the Trustee's receipt of (i) written notice from the Bank that an event of default has occurred under the Reimbursement Agreement or (ii) a Non-Reinstatement Notice, (c) the date that the Trustee informs the Bank that the conditions for termination of the Replacement Letter of Credit as set forth in the Indenture have been satisfied and that the Replacement Letter of Credit has terminated in accordance with its terms, (d) the date that is 15 days after the conversion of the Bonds to an interest rate mode other than a daily rate or a weekly rate pursuant to the Indenture and (e) the date of a final drawing under the Replacement Letter of Credit.

expressly waived by the Company and (d) in addition to other rights and remedies provided for in the Reimbursement Agreement or in the Custodian Agreement or otherwise available to the Bank, as holder of the Pledged Bonds or otherwise, exercise all the rights and remedies of a secured party on default under the Uniform Commercial Code in effect in the State of New York at that time; provided that, if an Event of Default described in subpart (g) or (i) under the heading “Events of Default,” above, shall have occurred, automatically, (x) the obligation of the Bank under the Reimbursement Agreement to issue the Replacement Letter of Credit shall terminate, and (y) all Reimbursement Obligations, all interest thereon and all other amounts payable under the Reimbursement Agreement or under any other Credit Document will become due and payable, without presentment, demand, protest, or further notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by the Company.

REMARKETING AGENT

General. Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the “Remarketing Agent”), will continue as remarketing agent for the Bonds. Subject to certain conditions, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to determine the rates of interest on the Bonds and use its best efforts to remarket all tendered Bonds.

In the ordinary course of its business, the Remarketing Agent has engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with the Company, its subsidiaries and its other affiliates, for which it has received and will receive customary compensation.

Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (“WFBNA”), the Remarketing Agent for the Bonds, has entered into an agreement (the “Distribution Agreement”) with its affiliate, Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC (“WFA”), for the distribution of certain municipal securities offerings, including the Bonds. Pursuant to the Distribution Agreement, WFBNA will share a portion of its remarketing agent compensation with respect to the Bonds with WFA. WFBNA also utilizes the distribution capabilities of its affiliates, Wells Fargo Securities, LLC (“WFSLLC”) and Wells Fargo Institutional Securities, LLC (“WFIS”), for the distribution of municipal securities offerings, including the Bonds. In connection with utilizing the distribution capabilities of WFSLLC, WFBNA pays a portion of WFSLLC’s expenses based on its municipal securities transactions. WFBNA, WFSLLC, WFIS, and WFA are each wholly-owned subsidiaries of Wells Fargo & Company.

Special Considerations. The Remarketing Agent is paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent’s responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indentures and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Supplement. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Account. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own account. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own account and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to each Indenture and Remarketing Agreement, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the Bonds (including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances, the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

TAX EXEMPTION

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on January 17, 1991 stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, under then-existing law, interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related project or facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), and the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (because the Prior Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. As indicated in such opinions, the failure to comply with certain of such covenants of the applicable Issuer and the Company could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Chapman and Cutler LLP (“Bond Counsel”) has made no independent investigation to confirm that such covenants have been complied with.

Bond Counsel will deliver an opinion for the Bonds in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit, in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix E, to the effect that the delivery of the Letter of Credit (i) complies with the terms of the Agreement and (ii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt (as defined in the Indenture) status of the Bonds. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinion, Bond Counsel has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to its opinion dated January 17, 1991 subsequent to its issuance other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds described in our opinions dated (i) December 17, 1999 and January 19, 2000, (ii) May 2, 2003 and June 3, 2003 and (iii) June 1, 2010, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 2000, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 2, 2003, (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Trust Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, each dated as of June 1, 2003, (e) the execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement and the Existing Letter of Credit and (f) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. The opinion delivered in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit is not to be interpreted as a reissuance of the original approving opinion as of the date of this Supplement to Reoffering Circular.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S Corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

MISCELLANEOUS

This Supplement to Reoffering Circular has been approved by the Company for distribution by the Remarketing Agent to current Bondholders and potential purchasers of the Bonds. THE ISSUER MAKES NO REPRESENTATION WITH RESPECT TO AND HAS NOT PARTICIPATED IN THE PREPARATION OF ANY PORTION OF THIS SUPPLEMENT TO REOFFERING CIRCULAR.

APPENDIX C

REOFFERING CIRCULAR DATED MAY 25, 2010

REOFFERING CIRCULAR

NOT A NEW ISSUE

Book-Entry Only

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, delivered on January 17, 1991, states that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants, in the opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, under then existing law (a) interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended), and (b) interest on the Bonds is not treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. However, such interest is taken into account in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Such opinion of Bond Counsel was also to the effect that under then existing law the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. Such opinion has not been updated as of the date hereof. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

$45,000,000
LINCOLN COUNTY, WYOMING
(PACIFICORP PROJECT)
SERIES 1991

Dated: January 17, 1991

Due: January 1, 2016

The Bonds described in this Reoffering Circular are limited obligations of the Issuer and, except to the extent payable from Bond proceeds and certain other moneys pledged therefor, are payable solely from and secured by a pledge of payments to be made under the Loan Agreement entered into by the Issuer with, and secured by First Mortgage Bonds issued by,

PacifiCorp

On June 1, 2010, the Bonds will be remarketed and will bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate payable the first Business Day of each month commencing July 1, 2010. The initial Weekly Interest Rate and each subsequent Weekly Interest Rate to be borne by the Bonds will be determined by the Remarketing Agent. Thereafter, the interest rate on the Bonds may be changed from time to time to Daily, Weekly, Flexible or Term Interest Rates, designated and determined in accordance with the Indenture and, in the case of the Daily and Weekly Interest Rates, as described herein. The Bonds are subject to purchase at the option of the owners thereof and, under certain circumstances, are subject to mandatory purchase in the manner and at the times described herein. The Bonds are subject to optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity as described herein.

Following the remarketing of the Bonds on June 1, 2010, the payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds and the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds tendered for purchase and not remarketed will be supported by an irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, to The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as Trustee, for the benefit of the registered holders of the Bonds.

Wells Fargo Bank, National Association

The Letter of Credit will expire by its terms on June 1, 2011, unless it expires earlier in accordance with its terms. The Letter of Credit will be automatically extended to, and shall expire on June 1, 2012, unless the Trustee receives notice of the Bank's election not to extend on or before May 2, 2011. The Letter of Credit may be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility as permitted under the Indenture and Loan Agreement. Unless the Letter of Credit is extended before its scheduled expiration date, the Bonds will be subject to mandatory tender for purchase prior to such expiration date. THIS REOFFERING CIRCULAR ONLY PERTAINS TO THE BONDS WHILE THEY ARE SECURED BY THE LETTER OF CREDIT PROVIDED BY THE BANK.

The Bonds are issuable as fully registered Bonds without coupons and will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as registered owner and nominee for The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York. DTC initially will act as securities depository for the Bonds. Only beneficial interests in book-entry form are being offered. The Bonds are issuable during any Weekly Interest Rate Period in denominations of $100,000 and any integral multiple thereof (provided that one Bond need not be in a multiple of $100,000 but may be in such denomination greater than $100,000 as is necessary to account for any principal amount of the Bonds not corresponding directly with $100,000 denominations). So long as Cede & Co. is the registered owner of the Bonds, as nominee for DTC, the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds will be paid by the Trustee directly to DTC, which will, in turn, remit such amounts to DTC participants for subsequent disbursement to the beneficial owners of the Bonds. See "THE BONDS—Book-Entry System."

The Bonds are reoffered by the Remarketing Agent referred to below, subject to withdrawal or modification of the offer without notice and certain other conditions. At the time of the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds, Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel to the Company, delivered its opinion as to the legality of the Bonds. Such opinion spoke only as to its date of delivery and will not be reissued in connection with this reoffering. Certain legal matters in connection with the reoffering will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler LLP, Bond Counsel to the Company. Certain legal matters in connection with the remarketing will be passed upon for PacifiCorp by Paul J. Leighton, Esq., counsel to the Company. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Remarketing Agent by King & Spalding LLP. It is expected that delivery of the Bonds will be made through the facilities of DTC in New York, New York, on or about June 1, 2010.

(PACIFICORP PROJECT)

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

This Reoffering Circular, including the Appendices hereto and the documents incorporated by reference herein, is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the reoffering by Lincoln County, Wyoming (the “Issuer”) of $45,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1991 (the “Bonds”).

The Bonds have been issued under a Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1991, as heretofore amended, supplemented and restated (the “Trust Indenture”), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as successor trustee (the “Trustee”), as further amended and restated by a Fourth Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of June 1, 2010, (the “Fourth Supplemental Indenture”), between the Issuer and the Trustee, and under a resolution of the governing body of the Issuer. The Trust Indenture, as amended and restated by the Fourth Supplemental Indenture, is sometimes referred to herein as the “Indenture.” Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of January 1, 1991, as heretofore amended, supplemented and restated (the “Original Loan Agreement”), between PacifiCorp (the “Company”) and the Issuer, as further amended and restated by a Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of June 1, 2010, between the Company and the Issuer (the “Second Supplemental Loan Agreement”), the Issuer has lent the proceeds from the original sale of the Bonds to the Company. The Original Loan Agreement, as amended and restated by the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, is sometimes referred to herein as the “Loan Agreement.”

The proceeds of the Bonds were used, together with certain other moneys of the Company, to refund all of the outstanding $45,000,000 principal amount of Lincoln County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Bonds 11-1/8% Series due April 1, 2011 (Utah Power & Light Company Project) (the “Prior Bonds”). The Prior Bonds were assumed by the Company as the surviving corporation in its 1989 merger with Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation, and PacifiCorp, a Maine corporation. The Prior Bonds were issued to finance certain qualifying air pollution control facilities as described herein. See “THE PROJECT.”

In order to secure the Company’s obligation to repay the loan made to it by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, the Company has issued and delivered to the Trustee its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds, Fourth 2003 Series (the “First Mortgage Bonds”) in a principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds. The First Mortgage Bonds may be released upon delivery of collateral in substitution for the First Mortgage Bonds provided that certain conditions are met as described below under “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—Loan Payments;

The First Mortgage Bonds.” The First Mortgage Bonds were issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 9, 1989 between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as successor trustee (the “Company Mortgage Trustee”), as supplemented and amended by various supplemental indentures, including a Fifteenth Supplemental Indenture, dated as of June 1, 2003 (the “Fifteenth Supplemental Indenture”), all collectively hereinafter referred to as the “Company Mortgage.” As holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, the Trustee will, ratably with the holders of all other first mortgage bonds outstanding under the Company Mortgage, enjoy the benefit of a lien on properties of the Company. See “THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS—Security” for a description of the properties of the Company subject to the lien of the Company Mortgage. The Bonds will not otherwise be secured by a mortgage of, or security interest in, the Project (as hereinafter defined). The First Mortgage Bonds will be registered in the name of and held by the Trustee for the benefit of the “Owners” of the Bonds and will not be transferable except to a successor trustee under the Indenture. “Owner” means the registered owner of any Bond; provided, however, when used in the context of the Tax-Exempt (as hereinafter defined) status of the Bonds, the term “Owner” includes each actual purchaser of any Bond (“Beneficial Owner”).

The Bonds, together with the premium, if any, and interest thereon, will be limited obligations and not general obligations of the Issuer. None of the Indenture, the Bonds or the Loan Agreement constitutes a debt or gives rise to a general obligation or liability of the Issuer or constitutes an indebtedness under any constitutional or statutory debt limitation. The Bonds will not constitute or give rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer thereof and will not constitute any charge against the Issuer’s general credit or taxing powers; nor will the Bonds constitute an indebtedness of or a loan of credit of the Issuer. The Bonds are payable solely from the receipts and revenues to be received from the Company as payments under the Loan Agreement, or otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, and from any other moneys pledged therefor. Such receipts and revenues and all of the Issuer’s rights and interests under the Loan Agreement (except as noted under “THE INDENTURE—Pledge and Security” below) are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security, equally and ratably, for the payment of the Bonds. The payments required to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement, or otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, will be sufficient, together with other funds available for such purpose, to pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds. Under no circumstances will the Issuer have any obligation, responsibility or liability with respect to the Project, the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, the Bonds or this Reoffering Circular, except for the special limited obligation set forth in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement whereby the Bonds are payable solely from amounts derived from the Company and the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility (as hereinafter defined), as the case may be). Nothing contained in the Indenture, the Bonds or the Loan Agreement, or in any other related documents may be construed to require the Issuer to operate, maintain or have any responsibility with respect to the Project. The Issuer has no liability in the event of wrongful disbursement by the Trustee or otherwise. No recourse may be had against any past, present or future commissioner, officer, employee, official or agent of the Issuer under the Indenture, the Bonds, the Loan Agreement or any related document. The Issuer has no responsibility to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds under federal or state law nor any responsibility for any other tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of the Bonds.

The Bonds will be supported by an irrevocable Letter of Credit (the “Letter of Credit”) to be issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the “Bank”) in favor of the Trustee, as beneficiary.

Under the Letter of Credit, the Trustee will be entitled to draw, upon a properly presented and conforming drawing, up to an amount sufficient to pay one hundred percent (100%) of the principal amount of the Bonds on the date of the draw (whether at maturity, upon acceleration, mandatory or optional purchase or redemption), plus 48 days’ accrued interest on the Bonds, at a rate of up to the maximum interest rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum calculated on the basis of a year of 365 days for the actual days elapsed, so long as the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate or the Daily Interest Rate. The Company has agreed to reimburse the Bank for drawings made under the Letter of Credit and to make certain other payments to the Bank. The Letter of Credit will expire on June 1, 2011, unless extended or earlier terminated in accordance with its terms. See “THE LETTER OF CREDIT.”

The Bank has also been appointed by the Company as Remarketing Agent with respect to the Bonds (in such capacity, the “Remarketing Agent”). The Company will enter into a Remarketing Agreement with the Remarketing Agent with respect to the Bonds to be remarketed by the Remarketing Agent.

Under certain circumstances described in the Loan Agreement, the Letter of Credit may be replaced by an alternate credit facility supporting payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds when due and for the payment of the purchase price of tendered or deemed tendered Bonds (an “Alternate Credit Facility”). The entity or entities, as the case may be, obligated to make payment on an Alternate Credit Facility are referred to herein as the “Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility.” Under certain circumstances, the replacement of the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility will result in the mandatory purchase of Bonds. See “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—The Letter of Credit; Alternate Credit Facility.”

Brief descriptions of the Issuer, the Project and the Bank and summaries of certain provisions of the Bonds, the Loan Agreement, the Letter of Credit, the Indenture and the First Mortgage Bonds are included in this Reoffering Circular, including the Appendices hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in and incorporated by reference in APPENDIX A hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as APPENDIX B hereto. APPENDIX C sets forth the approving opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, delivered on the date of original issuance of the Bonds. APPENDIX D sets for the form of opinion of Chapman and Cutler LLP, relating to the execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Letter of Credit. Included as APPENDIX F is a copy of the Continuing Disclosure Agreement that was executed and delivered by the Company on June 2, 2003 (the “Continuing Disclosure Agreement”), with respect to the Bonds.

The descriptions herein of the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, the Company Mortgage and the Letter of Credit are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds and the First Mortgage Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally. Copies of such documents, except the Company Mortgage, may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois. The Company Mortgage is available for inspection at the office of the Company and at the principal office of the Company Mortgage Trustee in New York, New York.

This Reoffering Circular provides certain information with respect to the Bank, the terms of, and security for the Bonds and other related matters. While certain information relating to the Company is included and incorporated within, the Bonds are being remarketed on the basis of the Letter of Credit and the financial strength of the Bank and are not being remarketed on the basis of the financial strength of the Issuer, the Company or any other security. This Reoffering Circular does not describe the financial condition of the Company and no representation is made concerning the financial status or prospects of the Company or the value or financial viability of the Project.

As this Reoffering Circular is being initially circulated in connection with the adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate Period and the delivery of the Letter of Credit, generally only the Daily and Weekly Interest Rate Periods are described herein.

Exchanges and transfers will be made without charge to the Owners, except for any applicable tax or other governmental charge.

A “Business Day” is a day except a Saturday, Sunday or other day (a) on which commercial banks located in the cities in which the principal office of the Bank or the principal office of the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, the principal office of the Trustee, the principal office of the Remarketing Agent or the principal office of the Paying Agent are located are required or authorized by law to remain closed or are closed, or (b) on which The New York Stock Exchange, Inc. is closed.

“Pledged Bonds” means Bonds purchased with moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit to be deemed owned by the Company for purposes of granting a first priority lien upon Pledged Bonds hereunder, registered in the name of the Bank, as pledgee, or in the name of the Trustee (or its nominee), as agent for the Bank, delivered to or upon the direction of the Bank pursuant to the Indenture.

“Rate Period” means any Daily Interest Rate Period, Weekly Interest Rate Period, Flexible Interest Rate Period or Term Interest Rate Period.

“Record Date” means with respect to any Interest Payment Date in respect of any Daily Interest Rate Period or Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Business Day next preceding such Interest Payment Date.

“Tax-Exempt” means, with respect to interest on any obligations of a state or local government, including the Bonds, that such interest is not includible in gross income of the owners of such obligations for federal income tax purposes, except for any interest on any such obligations for any period during which such obligations are owned by a person who is a “substantial user” of any facilities financed or refinanced with such obligations or a “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the “1954 Code”), whether or not such interest is includible as an item of tax preference or otherwise includible directly or indirectly for purposes of calculating other tax liabilities, including any alternative minimum tax or environmental tax under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”).

PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

The principal of and premium, if any, on the Bonds is payable to the Owners upon surrender thereof at the principal office of the Paying Agent. Except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form (see “Book-Entry System”), interest is payable (i) by bank check or draft mailed by first class mail on the Interest Payment Date to the Owners as of the Record Date or (ii) in immediately available funds (by wire transfer or by deposit to the account of the Owner of any such Bond if such account is maintained with the Paying Agent), but in respect of any Owner of Bonds in a Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period only to any Owner which owns Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of at least $1,000,000 on the Record Date and who has provided wire transfer instructions to the Paying Agent prior to the close of business on such Record Date.

Interest on each Bond is payable on each Interest Payment Date for each such Bond for the period commencing on the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date (or if no interest has been paid thereon, commencing on the date of issuance thereof) to, but not including, such Interest Payment Date. Interest is computed, in the case of any Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period, on the basis of a 365- or 366-day year, as applicable, for the number of days actually elapsed.

RATE PERIODS

The term of the Bonds is divided into consecutive Rate Periods, during which such Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate, Flexible Interest Rate or Term Interest Rate.

WEEKLY INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Weekly Interest Rate. During each Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the first day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and thereafter no later than Tuesday of each week during such Weekly Interest Rate Period, unless any such Tuesday is not a Business Day, in which event the Weekly Interest Rate will be determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the Business Day next preceding such Tuesday.

The Weekly Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent has not determined a Weekly Interest Rate for any period, the Weekly Interest Rate will be the same as the Weekly Interest Rate for the immediately preceding week. The first Weekly Interest Rate determined for each Weekly Interest Rate Period applies to the period commencing on the first day of the Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday. Thereafter, each Weekly Interest Rate applies to the period commencing on each Wednesday and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday, unless such Weekly Interest Rate Period ends on a day other than Tuesday, in which event the last Weekly Interest Rate for such Weekly Interest Rate Period applies to the period commencing on the Wednesday preceding the last day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on such last day. In no event may the Weekly Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect (initially 12% per annum).

Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds may be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice must specify the effective date of such adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate, which must be a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee); provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date.

Notice of Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "Rescission of Election"), (b) the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (e) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (f) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

DAILY INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Daily Interest Rate. During each Daily Interest Rate Period, the Bonds bear interest at the Daily Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent either on each Business Day for such Business Day or on the next preceding Business Day for any day that is not a Business Day.

The Daily Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then-prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent has not determined a Daily Interest Rate for any day by 10:00 a.m., New York time, the Daily Interest Rate for such day will be the same as the Daily Interest Rate for the immediately preceding Business Day. In no event may the Daily Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect (initially 12% per annum).

Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds may be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice must specify the effective date of the adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate, which must be a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee); provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date.

Notice of Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "Rescission of Election"), (b) the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (e) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (f) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

DETERMINATION CONCLUSIVE

The determination of the interest rates referred to above is conclusive and binding upon the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Issuer, the Company and the Owners of the Bonds.

RESCISSION OF ELECTION

The Company may rescind any election by it to adjust to a Rate Period prior to the effective date of such adjustment by giving written notice of rescission to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) prior to such effective date. At the time the Company gives notice of the rescission, it may also elect in such notice to continue the Rate Period then in effect. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission prior to the time the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of the change in Rate Periods, then such notice of change in Rate Periods is of no force and effect and will not be given to the Owners. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission after the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of an adjustment or an attempted adjustment from one Rate Period to another Rate Period does not become effective for any other reason, then the Rate Period for the Bonds will automatically adjust to or continue in a Daily Interest Rate Period and the Trustee will immediately give notice thereof to the Owners of the Bonds. If a Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any Daily Interest Rate Period to which a Rate Period is adjusted in accordance with this paragraph is not determined as described in “-Daily Interest Rate Period-Determination of Daily Interest Rate,” the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). The Trustee will immediately give written notice of each such automatic adjustment to a Rate Period as described in this paragraph to the Owners.

Notwithstanding the rescission by the Company of any notice to adjust or continue a Rate Period, if notice has been given to Owners of such adjustment or continuation, the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase as specified in such notice.

OPTIONAL PURCHASE

Weekly Interest Rate Period. During any Weekly Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) will be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Wednesday, or if such Wednesday is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE BONDS THROUGH ITS DIRECT PARTICIPANT (AS HEREINAFTER DEFINED) MUST GIVE NOTICE TO THE TRUSTEE TO ELECT TO HAVE SUCH BONDS PURCHASED, AND MUST EFFECT DELIVERY OF SUCH BONDS BY CAUSING SUCH DIRECT PARTICIPANT TO TRANSFER ITS INTEREST IN THE BONDS EQUAL TO SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNER'S INTEREST ON THE RECORDS OF DTC TO THE TRUSTEE'S PARTICIPANT ACCOUNT WITH DTC. THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE ARE DEEMED SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DTC PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE "—BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM."

MANDATORY PURCHASE

The Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the purchase date described below, upon the occurrence of any of the events stated below:

(a) on the effective date of any change in a Rate Period; or

(b) on the Business Day preceding an Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or an Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility; or

(c) on the next succeeding Business Day following the day that the Trustee receives notice from the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, that, following a drawing on the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility on an Interest Payment Date for the payment of unpaid interest on the Bonds, the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not be reinstated in accordance with its terms.

If the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with the provisions described in subparagraph (b) of the preceding paragraph, the Trustee will give notice by mail to the Remarketing Agent and the Owners of the Bonds of the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, not less than 15 days prior to the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which notice must (a) describe generally the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility in effect prior to such Expiration, and any Alternate Credit Facility to be in effect upon such Expiration and state the effect date and the name of the provider thereof; (b) state the date of the Expiration; (c) state the rating or ratings, if any, which the Bonds are expected to receive from any rating agency following such Expiration; (d) state that the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase; (e) state the purchase date; and (f) except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form, state that the Bonds must be delivered to the New York office designated by the Trustee as the "Delivery Office of the Trustee."

If the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with the provisions described in subparagraph (c) of the preceding paragraph, the Trustee will, immediately upon receipt of notice from the Bank or the Obligor on a Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, that the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not be reinstated in accordance with its terms, give notice electronically and notice by overnight mail service to the Remarketing Agent and to the Owners of the Bonds at their addresses shown on the registration books kept by the Registrar, which notice shall (a) describe generally any Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility in effect prior to such mandatory purchase; (b) state that the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is not being reinstated in accordance with its terms; (c) state that the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase; (d) state the purchase date; and (e) except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form, state that the Bonds must be delivered to the Delivery Office of the Trustee.

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, NOTICES OF MANDATORY PURCHASE OF BONDS WILL BE GIVEN BY THE TRUSTEE TO DTC ONLY, AND NEITHER THE ISSUER, THE TRUSTEE, THE COMPANY NOR THE REMARKETING AGENT HAS ANY RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE DELIVERY OF ANY SUCH NOTICES BY DTC TO ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS OF DTC, BY ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS TO ANY INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS OF DTC OR BY ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS TO BENEFICIAL OWNERS OF THE BONDS. FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE ARE DEEMED

SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE “BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM.”

PURCHASE OF BONDS

On the date on which Bonds are delivered to the Trustee for purchase as specified above under “—Optional Purchase” or “—Mandatory Purchase,” the Trustee will pay the purchase price of such Bonds solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, and the Trustee has no obligation to use funds from any other source:

(a) Available Moneys (as hereinafter defined) furnished by the Company to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds;

(b) proceeds of the sale of such Bonds (other than Bonds sold to the Company, any subsidiary of the Company, any guarantor of the Company, or the Issuer or any “insider” (as defined in the United States Bankruptcy Code) of any of the aforementioned) by the Remarketing Agent;

(c) Available Moneys or moneys provided pursuant to the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds furnished by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of Bonds deemed paid in accordance with the defeasance provisions of the Indenture;

(d) moneys furnished pursuant to the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the Trustee for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds; and provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds may be derived only from the sources described in (c) above.

(e) any other moneys furnished by the Company to the Trustee for purchase of the Bonds;

“Available Moneys” means (a) during such time as a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is in effect, (i) moneys on deposit in trust with the Trustee as agent and bailee for the Owners of the Bonds for a period of at least 123 days prior to and during which no petition in bankruptcy or similar insolvency proceeding has been filed by or against the Company or the Issuer (or any subsidiary of the Company, any guarantor of the Company or any insider (as defined in the United States Bankruptcy Code), to the extent that such moneys were deposited by any of such subsidiary, guarantor or insider) or is pending (unless such petition shall have been dismissed and such dismissal shall be final and not subject to appeal) and (ii)(A) proceeds of the issuance of refunding bonds (including proceeds from the investment thereof), and (B) any other moneys, if, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters selected by the Company (which opinion shall be in a form acceptable to the Trustee, to Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and to S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P and shall be delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of the deposit of such proceeds with the Trustee), the deposit and use of such proceeds (referred to in clause (A) above) or other moneys (referred to in clause (B) above) will not constitute a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event either the Issuer or the Company were to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code, and (b) at any time that a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is not in effect, any moneys on deposit with the Trustee as agent and bailee for the Owners of the Bonds and proceeds from the investment thereof.

REMARKETING OF BONDS

The Remarketing Agent will offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket any Bond subject to purchase pursuant to the optional or mandatory purchase provisions described above, any such remarketing to be made at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the purchase date. The Company may direct the Remarketing Agent from time to time to cease and to resume sales efforts with respect to some or all of the Bonds.

Anything in the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, at any time during which the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is in effect, there will be no sales of Bonds as described in the preceding paragraph, if (a) there has occurred and has not been cured or waived an Event of Default described in paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) under the caption “THE INDENTURE—Defaults” of which the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee have actual knowledge or (b) the Bonds have been declared to be immediately due and payable as described under the caption “THE INDENTURE—Remedies” and such declaration has not been rescinded pursuant to the Indenture.

OPTIONAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS

Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Company (but only with consent of the Bank (or, if applicable, by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, if required by the Alternate Credit Facility)), in whole, or in part by lot, prior to their maturity date on any Business Day during a Daily Interest Rate Period or Weekly Interest Rate Period, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption.

EXTRAORDINARY OPTIONAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS

At any time, the Bonds are subject to redemption at the option of the Company (but only with the consent of the Bank (or, if applicable, by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, if required by the Alternate Credit Facility)) in whole or in part (and if in part, by lot), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, upon receipt by the Trustee of a written notice from the Company stating that any of the following events has occurred and that the Company therefore intends to exercise its option to prepay the payments due under the Loan Agreement in whole or in part and thereby effect the redemption of the Bonds in whole or in part to the extent of such prepayments:

(a) the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Plant is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable for any reason; or

(b) the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Project is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable due to (i) the imposition of taxes, other than ad valorem taxes currently levied upon privately owned property used for the same general purpose as the Project, or other liabilities or burdens with respect to the Project or the operation thereof, (ii) changes in technology, in environmental standards or legal requirements or in the economic availability of materials, supplies, equipment or labor or (iii) destruction of or damage to all or part of the Project; or

(c) all or substantially all of the Project or the Plant has been condemned or taken by eminent domain; or

(d) the operation of the Project or the Plant has been enjoined or has otherwise been prohibited by, or conflicts with, any order, decree, rule or regulation of any court or of any federal, state or local regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental body.

SPECIAL MANDATORY REDEMPTION OF BONDS

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption upon the occurrence of the following events.

The Bonds will be redeemed in whole within 180 days following a “Determination of Taxability” as defined below; provided that, if in the opinion of nationally recognized bond counsel (“Bond Counsel”) delivered to the Trustee, the redemption of a specified portion of the Bonds outstanding would have the result that interest payable on the Bonds remaining outstanding after such redemption would remain Tax-Exempt, then the Bonds will be redeemed in part by lot (in Authorized Denominations) in such amount as Bond Counsel in such opinion has determined is necessary to accomplish that result. A “Determination of Taxability” is deemed to have occurred if, as a result of an Event of Taxability (as defined below), a final decree or judgment of any federal court or a final action of the Internal Revenue Service determines that interest paid or payable on any Bond is or was includible in the gross income of an owner of the Bonds for federal income tax purposes under the Code (other than an owner who is a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code). However, no such decree or action will be considered final for this purpose unless the Company has been given written notice and, if it is so desired and is legally allowed, has been afforded the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of any owner of a Bond, and until conclusion of any appellate review, if sought. If the Trustee receives written notice from any owner stating (a) that the owner has been notified in writing by the Internal Revenue Service that it proposes to include the interest on any Bond in the gross income of such owner for the reasons described therein or any other proceeding has been instituted against such owner which may lead to a final decree or action as described in the Loan Agreement, and (b) that such owner will afford the Company the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of the owner, until a conclusion of any appellate review, if sought, then the Trustee will promptly give notice thereof to the Company, the Insurer, if any, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Issuer and the owner of each Bond then outstanding. If a final decree or action as described above thereafter occurs and the Trustee has received written notice thereof at least 45 days prior to the redemption date, the Trustee will make the required demand for prepayment of the amounts payable under the Loan Agreement for prepayment of the Bonds and give notice of the redemption of the Bonds at the earliest practical date, but not later than the date specified in the Loan Agreement, and in the manner provided by the Indenture. An “Event of Taxability” means the failure of the Company to observe any covenant, agreement or representation in the Loan Agreement, which failure results in a Determination of Taxability.

PROCEDURE FOR AND NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

If less than all of the Bonds are called for redemption, the particular Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed will be selected by the Trustee, by lot. In selecting Bonds for redemption, the Trustee will treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds which is obtained by dividing the principal amount of each Bond by the minimum Authorized Denomination. Any Bonds selected for redemption which are deemed to be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture will cease to bear interest on the date fixed for redemption. Subject to the procedures described below under “—Book-Entry System” for Bonds held in book-entry form, upon presentation and surrender of such Bonds at the place or places of payment, such Bonds will be paid and redeemed. Notice of redemption will be given by mail as provided in the Indenture, at least 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, provided that the failure to duly give notice by mailing to any Owner, or any defect therein, does not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of any other of the Bonds. Such notice will also be sent to the Remarketing Agent, the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, the Company Mortgage Trustee, Moody’s (if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s), S&P (if the Bonds are then rated by S&P), securities depositories and bond information services.

With respect to notice of any optional redemption of the Bonds, as described above, unless upon the giving of such notice, such Bonds are deemed to have been paid within the meaning of the Indenture, such notice may state that such redemption is conditional upon the receipt by the Trustee, on or prior to the date fixed for such redemption, of Available Moneys sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds to be redeemed. If such Available Moneys are not so received, the redemption will not be made and the Trustee will give notice, in the manner in which the notice of redemption was given, that such redemption will not take place.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, Pledged Bonds shall be redeemed prior to any other Bonds.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS RELATING TO THE BONDS

The Remarketing Agent is Paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent's responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Reoffering Circular. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Accounts. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own accounts. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own accounts and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the Bonds (including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts, without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM

The following information in this section concerning The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York (“DTC”), and its book-entry system has been furnished for use in the Reoffering Circular by DTC. None of the Company, the Issuers or the Remarketing Agent take any responsibility for the accuracy of such information.

DTC will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds were issued as fully-registered bonds registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC’s partnership nominee). One fully-registered Bond certificate will be issued for the Bonds of each issue, in the aggregate principal amount thereof, and will be deposited with DTC. One fully-registered Bond was issued for each issue of the Bonds, in the aggregate principal amount of such issue, and was deposited with DTC.

DTC, the world’s largest securities depository, is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a “banking organization” within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a “clearing corporation” within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code and a “clearing agency” registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds and provides asset servicing for over 3.5 million issues of U.S. and non-U.S. equity issues, corporate and municipal debt issues, and money market instruments (from over 100 countries) that DTC’s participants (“Direct Participants”) deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants’ accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organizations. DTC is a whole-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation (“DTCC”). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly (“Indirect Participants”). DTC has Standard & Poor’s highest rating: AAA. The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com and www.dtc.org.

Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC’s records. The ownership interest of each Beneficial Owner is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants’ records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC’s partnership nominee, Cede & Co, or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co., or such other DTC nominee, does not effect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC’s records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults and proposed amendments to documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of notices be provided directly to them.

While Bonds are in the book-entry system, redemption notices will be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC’s practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, redemption notices will be sent to Cede & Co. If less than all of the Bonds of any issue are being redeemed, DTC’s practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC's MMI Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to the Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, principal or purchase price of and premium, if any, and interest payments on, the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts upon DTC's receipt of fund and corresponding detailed information from the Issuer or the Trustee, on the payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, the Company, the Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent or the Issuer, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of principal, purchase price, premium and interest with respect to the Bonds to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Issuer or the Paying Agent, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants are the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners are the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

A Beneficial Owner must give notice to elect to have its Bonds purchased or tendered, through its Participant, to the Remarketing Agent, and must effect delivery of such Bonds by causing the Direct Participant to transfer the Participant's interest in the Bonds, on DTC's records, to the Remarketing Agent. The requirement for physical delivery of Bonds in connection with an optional tender or a mandatory purchase will be deemed satisfied when the ownership rights in the Bonds are transferred by Direct Participants on DTC's records and followed by a book-entry credit of tendered Bonds to the Remarketing Agent's DTC account.

DTC may discontinue providing its services as securities depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Issuer or the Trustee. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor securities depository is not obtained, Bond certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

The Company may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bond certificates will be printed and delivered.

None of the Issuer, the Company, the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee nor the Paying Agent will have any responsibility or obligation to any securities depository, any Participants in the Book-Entry System or the Beneficial Owners with respect to (a) the accuracy of any records maintained by the securities depository or any Participant; (b) the payment by the securities depository or by any Participant of any amount due to any Beneficial Owner in respect of the principal amount or redemption of, or interest on, any Bonds; (c) the delivery of any notice by the securities depository or any Participant; (d) the selection of the Beneficial Owners to receive payment in the event of any partial redemption of the Bonds; or (e) any other action taken by the securities depository or any Participant.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT AND THE CREDIT AGREEMENT

LETTER OF CREDIT

On the date of reoffering of the Bonds, the Bank will issue in favor of the Trustee a Letter of Credit in the form of a direct pay letter of credit. The Letter of Credit will be issued in the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds plus 48 days' interest at 12% per annum, on the basis of a 365 day year (as from time to time reduced and reinstated as provided in the Letter of Credit). The Letter of Credit will permit the Trustee to draw up to an amount equal to the then outstanding principal amount of the Bonds to pay the unpaid principal thereof and accrued interest on the Bonds, subject to the terms, conditions and limitations stated therein. The Letter of Credit for the Bonds will be substantially in the form attached hereto as APPENDIX E.

The Letter of Credit will expire on June 1, 2011, but will be automatically extended, without written amendment, to, and shall expire on, June 1, 2012, unless on or before May 2, 2012, notice is received by the Trustee stating that the Bank elects not to extend such Letter of Credit beyond June 1, 2012. The date on which the Letter of Credit expires as described in the preceding sentence, or if such date is not a Business Day then the first succeeding Business Day thereafter is defined in the Letter of Credit as the Expiration Date. As used in the Letter of Credit, the term "Business Day" means a day on which the San Francisco Letter of Credit Operations Office of the Bank is open for business.

Each drawing honored by the Bank under the Letter of Credit will immediately reduce the available amount thereunder by the amount of such drawing. Any drawing to pay interest will be automatically reinstated on the eighth (8th) Business Day following the date such drawing is honored by the Bank, unless the Company shall have received notice from the Bank no later than seven (7) Business Days after such drawing is honored that there shall be no such reinstatement. Any drawing to pay the purchase price of a Bond shall be reinstated if the Bonds related to such drawing are remarketed and the remarketing proceeds are paid to the Bank prior to the Expiration Date in an amount equal to the sum of (i) the amount paid to the Bank from such remarketing proceeds and (ii) interest on such amount. See APPENDIX E.

THE LOAN AGREEMENT

ISSUANCE OF THE BONDS; LOAN OF PROCEEDS

The Issuer issued the Bonds for the purpose of refunding the Prior Bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance or refinance, as the case may be, a portion of the Company's share of the costs of acquiring and improving the Project. The proceeds of the sale of the Bonds have been used to refund the Prior Bonds.

LOAN PAYMENTS; THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

As and for repayment of the loan made to the Company by the Issuer, the Company will pay to the Trustee, for the account of the Issuer, an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due on the dates, in the amounts and in the manner provided in the Indenture for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise ("Loan Payments"); provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such Loan Payment will be reduced by the amount of any reduction under the Indenture of the amount of the corresponding payment required to be made by the Issuer thereunder; and provided further that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment is deemed to be satisfied and discharged to the extent of the corresponding payment made (i) by the Bank to the Trustee under the Letter of Credit, (ii) by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility to the Trustee under such Alternate Credit Facility or (iii) by the Company of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the First Mortgage Bonds.

The Company's obligation to repay the loan made to it by the Issuer is secured by First Mortgage Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal in principal amount to, and bearing interest at the same rate and maturing on the same date as, the Bonds. The payments to be made by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement and the First Mortgage Bonds are pledged under the Indenture by the Issuer to the Trustee, and the Company is to make all payments thereunder and thereon directly to the Trustee. See "THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS—General" below.

Pursuant to the Loan Agreement, the Company may provide for the release of its First Mortgage Bonds by delivering to the Trustee collateral in substitution for the First Mortgage Bonds (“Substitute Collateral”), but only if the Company, on the date of delivery of such Substitute Collateral, simultaneously delivers to the Trustee (a) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that delivery of such Substitute Collateral and release of the First Mortgage Bonds complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (b) written evidence from the Insurer, if any, and from each Bank to the effect that they have reviewed the proposed Substitute Collateral and find it to be acceptable; and (c) written evidence from Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and from S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the Substitute Collateral and that the release of the First Mortgage Bonds and the substitution of the Substitute Collateral for the First Mortgage Bonds will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of such rating agency’s rating or ratings of the Bonds.

PAYMENTS OF PURCHASE PRICE

The Company will pay or cause to be paid to the Trustee amounts equal to the amounts to be paid by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of outstanding Bonds thereunder (see “THE BONDS-Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase”), such amounts to be paid to the Trustee as the purchase price for the Bonds tendered for purchase pursuant to the Indenture, on the dates such payments are to be made; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment under the Loan Agreement will be reduced by the amount of any moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture and available for such payment.

From the date of delivery of the Letter of Credit to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit (or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the amounts to be paid by the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds by providing for the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee has been directed to take such actions as may be necessary in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to obtain the moneys necessary to pay the purchase price of Bonds when due.

OBLIGATION ABSOLUTE

The Company’s obligation to make payments under the Loan Agreement and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds is absolute, irrevocable and unconditional and is not subject to cancellation, termination or abatement, or to any defense other than payment, or to any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment arising out of any breach under the Loan Agreement or the Indenture or otherwise by the Company, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, any Insurer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), or any other party or out of any obligation or liability at any time owing to the Company by any such party.

EXPENSES

The Company is obligated to pay reasonable compensation and to reimburse certain expenses and advances of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent, Moody's and S&P directly to such entity.

TAX COVENANTS; TAX-EXEMPT STATUS OF BONDS

The Company covenants that the Bond proceeds, the earnings thereon and other moneys on deposit with respect to the Bonds will not be used in such a manner as to cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of the Code.

The Company covenants that it has not taken, and will not take, or permit to be taken on its behalf, any action which would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds and will take, or require to be taken, such action as may, from time to time, be required under applicable law or regulation to continue to cause the Bonds to be Tax-Exempt. See "TAX EXEMPTION."

OTHER COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY

Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted. The Company covenants that it will maintain in good standing its corporate existence as a corporation organized under the laws of one of the states of the United States or the District of Columbia and will remain duly qualified to do business in the State of the Issuer, will not dissolve or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets and will not consolidate with or merge into another corporation; provided, however, that the Company may, without violating the foregoing, undertake from time to time any one or more of the following, if, prior to the effective date thereof, there shall have been delivered to the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the contemplated action will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds: (a) consolidate with or merge into another domestic corporation (i.e., a corporation incorporated and existing under the laws of one of the states of the United States or of the District of Columbia), or sell or otherwise transfer to another domestic corporation all or substantially all of its assets as an entirety and thereafter dissolve, provided the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation, as the case may be, must be the Company or a corporation qualified to do business in the State of the Issuer as a foreign corporation or incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of the Issuer, which as a result of the transaction has assumed (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds and the Reimbursement Agreement; or (b) convey all or substantially all of its assets to one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company so long as the Company remains in existence and primarily liable on all of its obligations under the Loan Agreement and such subsidiary or subsidiaries to which such assets are so conveyed guarantees in writing the performance of all of the Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds and the Reimbursement Agreement.

Assignment. With the consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility), the Company's interest in the Loan Agreement may be assigned in whole or in part by the Company to another entity, subject, however, to the conditions that no assignment will (a) adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds or (b) relieve (other than as described in “Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted” above) the Company from primary liability for its obligations to pay the First Mortgage Bonds or to make the Loan Payments or to make payments to the Trustee with respect to payment of the purchase price of the Bonds or for any other of its obligations under the Loan Agreement; and subject further to the condition that the Company has delivered to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility an opinion of counsel to the Company that such assignment complies with the provisions described in this paragraph and an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that the proposed assignment will not impair the validity of the Bonds under the Act, or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds. The Company must, within 30 days after the delivery thereof, furnish to the Issuer and the Trustee a true and complete copy of the agreements or other documents effectuating any such assignment.

Maintenance and Repair; Taxes, Etc. The Company will maintain the Project in good repair, keep the same insured in accordance with standard industry practice and pay all costs thereof. The Company will pay or cause to be paid all taxes, special assessments and governmental, utility and other charges with respect to the Project.

The Company may at its own expense cause the Project to be remodeled or cause such substitutions, modifications and improvements to be made to the Facilities from time to time as the Company, in its discretion, may deem to be desirable for its uses and purposes, which remodeling, substitutions, modifications and improvements are included under the terms of the Loan Agreement as part of the Pollution Control Facilities; provided, however, that the Company may not exercise any such right, power, election or option if the proposed remodeling, substitution, modification or improvement would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Company will cause insurance to be taken out and continuously maintained in effect with respect to the Pollution Control Facilities in accordance with standard industry practice.

Anything in the Loan Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, the Company has the right at any time to cause the operation of the Pollution Control Facilities to be terminated if the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Project or the Pollution Control Facilities is uneconomical for any reason.

LETTER OF CREDIT; ALTERNATE CREDIT FACILITY

The Company may, at any time, at its option:

(a) provide for the delivery on any Business Day to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states (I) the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit to be so provided, and (II) the Expiration of the Term

(ii) on the date of delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility or the Substitute Letter of Credit (which shall be the effective date thereof), the Company shall furnish to the Trustee simultaneously with such delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit (which delivery must occur prior to 9:30 a.m., New York time, on such date, unless a later time on such date shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the delivery of such Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit (A) complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; and

(iii) in the case of the delivery of a Substitute Letter of Credit, the Company has received the written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility; or

(b) provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated, (B) directs the Trustee to give notice of the mandatory purchase of the Bonds on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (C) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to be terminated, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated and to thereupon deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied); and

(ii) on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility, which is to be terminated, the Company shall furnish to the Trustee (prior to 9:30 a.m., New York time, on such Business Day, unless a later time on such Business Day shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the termination of such Alternate Credit Facility or Letter of Credit (A) complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

EXTENSION OF A LETTER OF CREDIT

The Company may, at its election, but only with the written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, at any time provide for one or more extensions of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, as the case may be, for any period commencing after its then-current expiration date.

DEFAULTS

Each of the following events constitute an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement:

(a) a failure by the Company to make when due any Loan Payment, any payment required to be made to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds or any payment on the First Mortgage Bonds, which failure has resulted in an “Event of Default” as described herein in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) under “THE INDENTURE—Defaults;”

(b) a failure by the Company to pay when due any amount required to be paid under the Loan Agreement or to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement on the Company’s part to be observed or performed under the Loan Agreement (other than a failure described in clause (a) above), which failure continues for a period of 60 days (or such longer period as the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee may agree to in writing) after written notice given to the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Trustee or to the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee by the Issuer;

provided, however, that if such failure is other than for the payment of money and cannot be corrected within the applicable period, such failure does not constitute an Event of Default so long as the Company institutes corrective action within the applicable period and such action is being diligently pursued; or

(c) certain events of bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Company.

The Loan Agreement provides that, with respect to any Event of Default described in clause (b) above if, by reason of acts of God, strikes, orders of political bodies, certain natural disasters, civil disturbances and certain other events specified in the Loan Agreement, or any cause or event not reasonably within the control of the Company, the Company is unable in whole or in part to carry out one or more of its agreements or obligations contained in the Loan Agreement (other than certain obligations specified in the Loan Agreement, including its obligations to make when due Loan Payments and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, to pay certain expenses and taxes, to indemnify the Issuer, the Trustee and others against certain liabilities, to discharge liens and to maintain its existence), the Company will not be deemed in default by reason of not carrying out such agreements or performing such obligations during the continuance of such inability.

REMEDIES

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default described in (a) or (c) under “Defaults” above, and further upon the condition that, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Bonds have been declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Indenture, the Loan Payments will, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable. Any waiver of any Event of Default under the Indenture and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof. See “THE INDENTURE—Defaults.” Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default arising from a “Default” as such term is defined in the Company Mortgage, the Trustee, as holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, will, subject to the provisions of the Indenture, have the rights provided in the Company Mortgage. Any waiver made in accordance with the Indenture of a “Default” under the Company Mortgage and a rescission and annulment of its consequences constitutes a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Loan Agreement, the Issuer may take any action at law or in equity to collect any payments then due and thereafter to become due, or to seek injunctive relief or specific performance of any obligation, agreement or covenant of the Company under the Loan Agreement and under the First Mortgage Bonds.

Any amounts collected from the Company upon an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement will be applied in accordance with the Indenture.

AMENDMENTS

The Loan Agreement may be amended subject to the limitations contained in the Loan Agreement and in the Indenture. See “THE INDENTURE—Amendment of the Loan Agreement.”

THE INDENTURE

PLEDGE AND SECURITY

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Loan Payments have been pledged by the Issuer to secure the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds. The Issuer has also pledged and assigned to the Trustee all its rights and interests under the Loan Agreement (other than its rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses and certain other rights), including the Issuer’s right to delivery of the First Mortgage Bonds, and has pledged to the Trustee all moneys and obligations deposited or to be deposited in the Bond Fund established with the Trustee; provided that the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent and the Registrar will have a prior claim on the Bond Fund for the payment of their compensation and expenses and for the repayment of any advances (plus interest thereon) made by them to effect performance of certain covenants in the Indenture if the Company has failed to make any payment which results in an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement.

APPLICATION OF PROCEEDS OF THE BOND FUND

The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds, excluding accrued interest, if any, were deposited with the trustee for the Prior Bonds and used to refund the Prior Bonds. There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund to be held by the Trustee and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. Payments made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds in respect of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and certain other amounts specified in the Indenture are to be deposited in the appropriate account in the Bond Fund. While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in a Tax Exemption Certificate and Agreement among the Trustee, the Issuer and the Company (the “Tax Certificate”), moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds as the same become due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or upon acceleration of maturity, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent and the Registrar to the extent described above in “Pledge and Security.”

INVESTMENT OF FUNDS

Subject to the provisions of the Tax Certificate, moneys in the Bond Fund will, at the direction of the Company, be invested in securities or obligations specified in the Indenture. Gains from such investments will be credited, and any loss will be charged, to the particular fund or account from which the investments were made.

DEFAULTS

Each of the following events will constitute an “Event of Default” under the Indenture:

(a) subject to the Remarketing Agents efforts to remarket Pledged Bonds, a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on any of the Bonds when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise;

(b) subject to the Remarketing Agents efforts to remarket Pledged Bonds, a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds for a period of one day after such interest has become due and payable;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due in respect of the purchase price of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase after such payment has become due and payable as provided under the captions “THE BONDS—Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase;”

(d) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any covenant, condition, agreement or provision contained in the Bonds or the Indenture (other than a failure described in clause (a), (b) or (c) above), which failure continues for a period of 90 days after written notice has been given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee, which notice may be given at the discretion of the Trustee and must be given at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, unless such period is extended prior to its expiration by the Trustee, or by the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, will be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer, or the Company on behalf of the Issuer, within such period and is being diligently pursued;

(e) an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement;

(f) a “Default” under the Company Mortgage; or

(g) the Trustee’s receipt of written notice (which may be given by telefacsimile) from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of an event of default under and as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement and stating that such notice is given pursuant to the Indenture.

REMEDIES

Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b), (c), (f) or (g) under “Defaults” above or an Event of Default described in clause (e) under “Defaults” above resulting from an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement as described under clause (a) or (c) of “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—Defaults” herein, and further upon the conditions that, if (a) in accordance with the terms of the Company Mortgage, the First Mortgage Bonds have become immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Company Mortgage and (b) there has been filed with the Trustee a written direction of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and if no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its Insurance Policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), then the Bonds will, without further action, become immediately due and payable and, during the period the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is in effect, with accrued interest on the Bonds payable on the Bond Payment Date fixed as described in the Indenture and the Trustee will as promptly as practicable draw moneys under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the extent available thereunder, in an amount sufficient to pay principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds payable on the Bond Payment Date established as described in the Indenture; provided that any waiver of any “Default” under the Company Mortgage and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Indenture and rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraph are subject further to the condition that if, so long as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, after the principal of the Bonds have been so declared to be due and payable and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer will cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds and the principal of any and all Bonds which have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as are sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default under the Indenture (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which has become due by said declaration) has been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default is deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee will promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer and the Company and will give notice thereof to Owners of the Bonds by first-class mail; provided, however, that no such waiver, rescission and annulment will extend to or affect any other Event of Default or subsequent Event of Default or impair any right, power or remedy consequent thereon.

The provisions described in the second preceding paragraph are, further, subject to the condition that, if an Event of Default described in clause (g) under “Defaults” above has occurred and if the Trustee thereafter has received written notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) (a) that the notice which caused such Event of Default to occur has been withdrawn and (b) that the amounts available to be drawn on the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to pay (i) the principal of the Bonds or the portion of purchase price equal to principal and (ii) interest on the Bonds and the portion of purchase price equal to accrued interest have been reinstated to an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds Outstanding plus accrued interest thereon for the applicable Interest Coverage Period at the Interest Coverage Rate, then, in every such case, such Event of Default is deemed waived and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee will promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer, the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Remarketing Agent, and, if notice of the acceleration of the Bonds has been given to the Owners of Bonds, will give notice thereof by Mail to all Owners of Outstanding Bonds; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Indenture, the Trustee may, with the consent of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and if no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and upon the written direction of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) must, pursue any available remedy to enforce the rights of the Owners of the Bonds and require the Company, the Issuer, the Insurer or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to carry out any agreements, bring suit upon the Bonds or enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the Owners of the Bonds. So long as an Insurer Default has not occurred and is continuing, upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Insurer is entitled to control and direct the enforcement of all rights and remedies granted to the Owners or the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners under the Indenture. So long as a Bank Default has not occurred and is continuing, upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Bank is entitled to control and direct the enforcement of all rights and remedies granted to the owners or the Trustee for the benefit of Owners under the Indenture. The Trustee is not required to take any action in respect of an Event of Default (other than, in certain circumstances, to declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, to notify the Insurer of payments to be made pursuant to the Insurance Policy, to make certain payments with respect to the Bonds and to draw on the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be)) or to enforce the trusts created by the Indenture except upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and receipt of indemnity satisfactory to it.

The Owners of a majority in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings available to the Trustee under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee upon furnishing satisfactory indemnity to the Trustee (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) and provided that such direction does not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner of any Bond will have any right to institute any suit, action or proceeding in equity or at law for the execution of any trust or power of the Trustee unless such Owner has previously given the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding have made written request of the Trustee so to do, and unless satisfactory indemnity (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) has been offered to the Trustee and the Trustee has not complied with such request within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of any Owner to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Owner's Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of Bonds.

DEFEASANCE

All or any portions of Bonds (in Authorized Denominations) will, prior to the maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid for all purposes of the Indenture when:

(a) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof have been selected for redemption, the Trustee has given, or the Company has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, notice of redemption of such Bonds or portions thereof;

(b) there has been deposited with the Trustee moneys which constitute Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility;

(c) the moneys so deposited with the Trustee are in an amount sufficient (without relying on any investment income) to pay when due the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due and to become due (which amount of interest to become due is calculated at the Maximum Interest Rate unless the interest rate borne by all of such Bonds is not subject to adjustment prior to the maturity or redemption thereof, in which case the amount of interest is calculated at the rate borne by such Bonds) on said Bonds or portions thereof on and prior to the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be; provided, however, that if such payment is to be made upon optional redemption, such payment is made from Available Moneys;

(d) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof do not mature and are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, the Issuer at the direction of the Company has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, as soon as practicable in the same manner as a notice of redemption is given pursuant to the Indenture, a notice to the Owners of said Bonds or portions thereof and to the Insurer that the deposit required by clause (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds or portions thereof are deemed to have been paid and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof;

(e) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and the Insurer have received an opinion of an independent public accountant of nationally recognized standing, selected by the Company (an "Accountant's Opinion"), to the effect that the requirements set forth in clause (c) above have been satisfied;

(f) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee and the Insurer shall have received written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, that such action will not result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of the rating; and

(g) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and the Insurer have received an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such deposit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds ("Bond Counsel's Opinion").

Moneys deposited with the Trustee as described above may not be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and are held in trust for, the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof, or for the payment of the purchase price of Bonds in accordance with the Indenture; provided that such moneys, if not then needed for such purpose, will, to the extent practicable, be invested and reinvested in Government Obligations maturing on or prior to the earlier of (a) the date moneys may be required for the purchase of Bonds or (b) the Interest Payment Date next succeeding the date of investment or reinvestment, and interest earned from such investments are paid over to the Company, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

The provisions of the Indenture relating to (a) the registration and exchange of Bonds, (b) the delivery of Bonds to the Trustee for purchase and the related obligations of the Trustee with respect thereto, (c) the mandatory purchase of the Bonds in connection with the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term for Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and (d) payment of the Bonds from such moneys, will remain in full force and effect with respect to all Bonds until the maturity date of the Bonds or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds prior to maturity, notwithstanding that all or any portion of the Bonds are deemed to be paid; provided, however, that the provisions with respect to registration and exchange of Bonds will continue to be effective until the maturity or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds.

In the event the requirements of the next to the last sentence of the next succeeding paragraph can be satisfied, the preceding three paragraphs will not apply and the following two paragraphs will be applicable.

Any Bond will be deemed to be paid within the meaning of the Indenture when (a) payment of the principal of and premium, if any, on such Bond, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof (whether such due date is by reason of maturity or acceleration or upon redemption as provided in the Indenture) either (i) has been made or caused to be made in accordance with the terms thereof or (ii) has been provided for by irrevocably depositing with the Trustee in trust and irrevocably set aside exclusively for such payment, (A) moneys, which are Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, sufficient to make such payment and/or (B) Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and maturing as to principal and interest in such amount and at such time as will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment; provided, however, that if such payment is to be made upon optional redemption, such payment is made from Available Moneys or from Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys; (b) all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Issuer, the Trustee and the Registrar pertaining to the Bonds with respect to which such deposit is made have been paid or the payment thereof provided for to the satisfaction of the Trustee; and (c) an Accountant's Opinion, to the effect that such moneys and/or Government Obligations will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment, a Bankruptcy Counsel's Opinion to the effect that the payment of the Bonds from the moneys and/or Government Obligations so deposited will not result in a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event that either the Issuer of the Company were to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code and a Bond Counsel's Opinion has been delivered to the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P. The provisions of this paragraph apply only if (x) the Bond with respect to which such deposit is made is to mature or be called for redemption prior to the next succeeding date on which such Bond is subject to purchase as described herein under the captions "THE BONDS—Optional Purchase" and "—Mandatory Purchase" and (y) the Company waives, to the satisfaction of the Trustee, its right to convert the interest rate borne by such Bond.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, no deposit under clause (a)(ii) of the immediately preceding paragraph will be deemed a payment of such Bonds as aforesaid until: (a) proper notice of redemption of such Bonds has been previously given in accordance with the Indenture, or in the event said Bonds are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, until the Company has given the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, irrevocable instructions to notify, as soon as practicable, the Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, that the deposit required by clause (a)(ii) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid in accordance with the Indenture and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and the applicable redemption premium, if any, on said Bonds, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof; or (b) the maturity of such Bonds.

REMOVAL OF TRUSTEE

With the prior written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be (which consent, if unreasonably withheld, will not be required), the Trustee may be removed at any time by filing with the Trustee so removed, and with the Issuer, the Company, the Insurer, if any, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), an instrument or instruments in writing executed by (a) the Insurer, if any and if no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing, or (b) the Owners of not less than a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and, if no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing, the Insurer, if any. The Trustee may also be removed by the Issuer under certain circumstances.

MODIFICATIONS AND AMENDMENTS

The Indenture may be modified or amended by the Issuer and the Trustee by supplemental indentures without the consent of the Owners of the Bonds, but with the consent of the Bank in certain circumstances, for any of the following purposes: (a) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in the Indenture; (b) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Indenture or of the Company, the Insurer, if any, or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company which does not materially adversely affect the interests of Owners of the Bonds; (c) to confirm, as further assurance, any pledge of or lien on any property subjected or to be subjected to the lien of the Indenture; (d) to comply with the requirements of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; (e) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture or any supplemental indenture in any other respect which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; provided, however, that any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement will not take effect until the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, has consented in writing to such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement; provided further that in determining whether any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds, the Trustee will consider the effect on the Owners as if there were no Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds; (f) to implement a conversion of the interest rate on the Bonds or to evidence or give effect to or facilitate the delivery and administration under the Indenture of an Alternate Credit Facility or on a Substitute Letter of Credit; (g) to provide for a depository to accept tendered Bonds in lieu of the Trustee; (h) to modify or eliminate the book-entry registration system for any of the Bonds; (i) to provide for uncertificated Bonds or for the issuance of coupons and bearer Bonds or Bonds registered only as to principal, but only to the extent that such would not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (j) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category (as defined in the Indenture) and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (k) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies; (l) to provide for any Substitute Collateral and the release of any First Mortgage Bonds; (m) to provide for the appointment of a successor Trustee, Registrar or Paying Agent; (n) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (o) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (p) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture in any other respect, if the effective date of such supplemental indenture or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased; and (q) to provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Insurance Policy or replacement of any Insurer or for an additional Insurer following the occurrence of an Insurer Default or to provide for an additional Insurer following the withdrawal or suspension or reduction below AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's of the long-term ratings of any Insurer then providing an Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds provided that the insurance policy provided by the replacement or additional Insurer would result in a long-term rating on the Bonds equal to AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's.

Before the Issuer and the Trustee enter into any supplemental indenture as described above, there must be delivered to the Trustee, the Company, the Insurer, if any, and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms, and will not impair the validity under the Act, of the Bonds or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Trustee will provide written notice of any Supplemental Indenture to the Insurer, if any, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), Moody's, S&P and the Owners of all the Bonds then outstanding at least 30 days prior to the effective date of such Supplemental Indenture. Such notice must state the effective date of such Supplemental Indenture, briefly describe the nature of such Supplemental Indenture and state that a copy thereof is on file at the principal office of the Trustee for inspection by the parties mentioned in the preceding sentence.

Except for supplemental indentures entered into for the purposes described above, the Indenture will not be modified, altered, amended supplemented or rescinded without the consent of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and no Bank Default has occurred and is continuing) or the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), together with not less than 60% in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding, who have the right to consent to and approve any supplemental indenture; provided that, unless approved in writing by the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and no Bank Default has occurred and is continuing) or Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Owners of all the Bonds then affected thereby, there will not be permitted (a) a change in the times, amounts or currency of payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any Bond, a change in the terms of the purchase thereof by the Trustee, or a reduction in the principal amount or redemption price thereof or the rate of interest thereon, (b) the creation of a claim or lien on or a pledge of the Revenues ranking prior to or on a parity with the claim, lien or pledge created by the Indenture, or (c) a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds the consent of the Owners of which is required to approve any such supplemental indenture or which is required to approve any amendment to the Loan Agreement. No such amendment of the Indenture will be effective without the prior written consent of the Company.

AMENDMENT OF THE LOAN AGREEMENT

Without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds, the Issuer may, with the consent of the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement, and the Trustee may consent thereto, as may be required (a) by the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture; (b) for the purpose of curing any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity therein; (c) in connection with any other change therein which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; provided, however, that any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement will not take effect until the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, have consented in writing to such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement; provided further that in determining whether any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds, the Trustee will consider the effect on the Owners as if there were no Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds; (d) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (e) in connection with the delivery and substitution of any Substitute Collateral and the release of any First Mortgage Bonds; (f) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Loan Agreement or of the Company or of any Insurer or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to facilitate the delivery and administration of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company, which does not materially adversely affect the interest of the Owners of the Bonds; (g) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies, (h) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (i) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of interest on the Bonds; (j) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement in any other respect, including amendments which would otherwise be described herein, if the effective date of such supplement or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased; and (k) to provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Insurance Policy or replacement of any Insurer or for an additional Insurer following the occurrence of an Insurer Default or to provide for an additional Insurer following the withdrawal or suspension or reduction below AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's of the long-term ratings of any Insurer then providing an Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds provided that the insurance policy provided by the replacement or additional Insurer would result in a long-term rating on the Bonds equal to AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's.

Before the Issuer enters into, and the Trustee consents to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, (a) the Trustee will cause notice of such proposed modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to be provided to the Bank, the Insurer, if any, Moody's and S&P, stating that a copy thereof is on file at the office of the Trustee for inspection by the Insurer, if any, Moody's and S&P and (b) there must be delivered to the Bank, the Issuer, the Insurer, if any, and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Act, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Issuer will not enter into and the Trustee will not consent to any other amendment, change or modification of the Loan Agreement without the written approval or consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Owners of not less than 60% in the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time outstanding; provided, however, that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all Bonds affected thereby, nothing in the Indenture may permit, or be construed as permitting, a change in the obligations of the Company to make Loan Payments or payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds or the nature of the obligations of the Company on the First Mortgage Bonds. No amendment of the Loan Agreement will become effective without the prior written consent of the Insurer, if any (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Company and under certain circumstances, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

Before the Issuer enters into, and the Trustee consents to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, there must be delivered to the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Insurer, if any, and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Act, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

Pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture and Pledge Agreement, dated as of June 1, 2003 between the Company and the Trustee (the “Pledge Agreement”), the First Mortgage Bonds were issued by the Company to secure its obligations under the Loan Agreement. The following summary of certain provisions of the First Mortgage Bonds and the Company Mortgage referred to below does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference thereto and includes capitalized terms defined in such Mortgages.

GENERAL

The First Mortgage Bonds are in the same principal amount and mature on the same dates as the Bonds. In addition, the First Mortgage Bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity upon the same terms as the Bonds, so that upon any redemption of the Bonds, an equal aggregate principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds will be redeemed. The First Mortgage Bonds bear interest at the same rate, and be payable at the same times, as the Bonds. See “THE LOAN AGREEMENT—Loan Payments; The First Mortgage Bonds” above.

The Company Mortgage provides that in the event of the merger or consolidation of another electric utility company with or into the Company or the conveyance or transfer to the Company by another such company of all or substantially all of such company's property that is of the same character as Property Additions under the Company Mortgage, an existing mortgage constituting a first lien on operating properties of such other company may be designated by the Company as a Class "A" Mortgage. Any bonds thereafter issued pursuant to such additional mortgage would be Class "A" Bonds and could provide the basis for the issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds (as defined below) under the Company Mortgage.

The Company will receive a credit against its obligations to make any payment of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the First Mortgage Bonds and such obligations will be deemed fully or partially, as the case may be, satisfied and discharged, in an amount equal to the amount, if any, paid by the Company under the Loan Agreement, or otherwise satisfied or discharged, in respect of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Company Mortgage Bonds. The obligations of the Company to make such payments with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds will be deemed to have been reduced by the amount of such credit.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and the Pledge Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds will be registered in the name of and held by the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners and will not be transferable except to a successor trustee under the Indenture. At the time any Bonds cease to be outstanding under the Indenture, the Trustee will surrender to the Company Mortgage Trustee an equal aggregate principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds.

SECURITY AND PRIORITY

The First Mortgage Bonds and any other first mortgage bonds now or hereafter outstanding under the Company Mortgage ("Company Mortgage Bonds") are or will be, as the case may be, secured by a first mortgage Lien on certain utility property owned from time to time by the Company and by Class "A" Bonds, if any, held by the Company Mortgage Trustee, if any. All Company Mortgage Bonds, including the First Mortgage Bonds, issued and outstanding under the Company Mortgage are equally and ratably secured.

The Lien of the Company Mortgage is subject to Excepted Encumbrances, including tax and construction liens, purchase money liens and certain other exceptions.

There are excepted from the Lien of the Company Mortgage all cash and securities (except those specifically deposited); equipment, materials or supplies held for sale or other disposition; any fuel and similar consumable materials and supplies; automobiles, other vehicles, aircraft and vessels; timber, minerals, mineral rights and royalties; receivables, contracts, leases and operating agreements; electric energy, gas, water, steam, ice and other products for sale, distribution or other use; natural gas wells; gas transportation lines or other property used in the sale of natural gas to customers or to a natural gas distribution or pipeline company, up to the point of connection with any distribution system; the Company's interest in the Wyodak Facility; and all properties that have been released from the discharged Mortgages and Deeds of Trust, as supplemented, of Pacific Power & Light Company and Utah Power & Light Company and that PacifiCorp, a Maine corporation, or Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation, contracted to dispose of, but title to which had not passed at the date of the Company Mortgage.

The Company has reserved the right, without any consent or other action by holders of Bonds of the Eighth Series or any subsequently created series of Company Mortgage Bonds (including the First Mortgage Bonds), to amend the Company Mortgage in order to except from the Lien of the Company Mortgage allowances allocated to steam-electric generating plants owned by the Company, or in which the Company has interests, pursuant to Title IV of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, as now in effect or as hereafter supplemented or amended.

The Company Mortgage contains provisions subjecting after-acquired property to the Lien thereof. These provisions may be limited, at the option of the Company, in the case of consolidation or merger (whether or not the Company is the surviving corporation), conveyance or transfer of all or substantially all of the utility property of another electric utility company to the Company or sale of substantially all of the Company's assets. In addition, after-acquired property may be subject to a Class "A" Mortgage, purchase money mortgages and other liens or defects in title.

The Company Mortgage provides that the Company Mortgage Trustee shall have a lien upon the mortgaged property, prior to the holders of Company Mortgage Bonds, for the payment of its reasonable compensation and expenses and for indemnity against certain liabilities.

RELEASE AND SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY

Property subject to the Lien of the Company Mortgage may be released upon the basis of:

- (1) the release of such property from the Lien of a Class "A" Mortgage;
- (2) the deposit of cash or, to a limited extent, purchase money mortgages;
- (3) Property Additions, after making adjustments for certain prior lien bonds outstanding against Property Additions; and/or
- (4) waiver of the right to issue Company Mortgage Bonds.

Cash may be withdrawn upon the bases stated in (1), (3) and (4) above. Property that does not constitute Funded Property may be released without funding other property. Similar provisions are in effect as to cash proceeds of such property. The Company Mortgage contains special provisions with respect to certain prior lien bonds deposited and disposition of moneys received on deposited prior lien bonds.

ISSUANCE OF ADDITIONAL COMPANY MORTGAGE BONDS

The maximum principal amount of Company Mortgage Bonds that may be issued under the Company Mortgage is not limited. Company Mortgage Bonds of any series may be issued from time to time on the basis of:

- (1) 70% of qualified Property Additions after adjustments to offset retirements;

(2) Class “A” Bonds (which need not bear interest) delivered to the Company Mortgage Trustee;

(3) retirement of Company Mortgage Bonds or certain prior lien bonds; and/or

(4) deposits of cash.

With certain exceptions in the case of clauses (2) and (3) above, the issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds is subject to Adjusted Net Earnings of the Company for 12 consecutive months out of the preceding 15 months, before income taxes, being at least twice the Annual Interest Requirements on all Company Mortgage Bonds at the time outstanding, including the additional Company Mortgage Bonds that are to be issued, all outstanding Class “A” Bonds held other than by the Company Mortgage Trustee or by the Company, and all other indebtedness secured by a lien prior to the Lien of the Company Mortgage. In general, interest on variable interest bonds, if any, is calculated using the rate then in effect.

Property Additions generally include electric, gas, steam and/or hot water utility property but not fuel, securities, automobiles, other vehicles or aircraft, or property used principally for the production or gathering of natural gas.

The issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds on the basis of Property Additions subject to prior liens is restricted. Company Mortgage Bonds may, however, be issued against the deposit of Class “A” Bonds.

CERTAIN COVENANTS

The Company Mortgage contains a number of covenants by the Company for the benefit of holders of the Company Mortgage Bonds, including provisions requiring the Company to maintain the Company Mortgaged and Pledged Property as an operating system or systems capable of engaging in all or any of the generating, transmission, distribution or other utility businesses described in the Company Mortgage.

DIVIDEND RESTRICTIONS

The Company Mortgage provides that the Company may not declare or pay dividends (other than dividends payable solely in shares of common stock) on any shares of common stock if, after giving effect to such declaration or payment, the Company would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of business. Reference is made to the notes to the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K incorporated by reference herein for information relating to other restrictions.

FOREIGN CURRENCY DENOMINATED COMPANY MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company Mortgage authorizes the issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds denominated in foreign currencies, provided, however, that the Company deposit with the Company Mortgage Trustee a currency exchange agreement with an entity having, at the time of such deposit, a financial rating at least as high as that of the Company that, in the opinion of an independent expert, gives the Company at least as much protection against currency exchange fluctuation as is usually obtained by similarly situated borrowers. The Company believes that such a currency exchange agreement will provide effective protection against currency exchange fluctuations. However, if the other party to the exchange agreement defaults and the foreign currency is valued higher at the date of maturity than at the date of issuance of the relevant Company Mortgage Bonds, holders of such Company Mortgage Bonds would have a claim on the assets of the Company which is greater than that to which holders of dollar-denominated Company Mortgage Bonds issued at the same time would be entitled.

THE COMPANY MORTGAGE TRUSTEE

Affiliates of The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., may act as lenders and as administrative agents under loan agreements with the Company and affiliates of the Company. The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., serves as trustee under indentures and other agreements involving the Company and its affiliates. The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., is the Company Mortgage Trustee.

MODIFICATION

The rights of holders of the Company Mortgage Bonds may be modified with the consent of holders of 60% of the Company Mortgage Bonds, or, if less than all series of Company Mortgage Bonds are adversely affected, the consent of the holders of 60% of the series of Company Mortgage Bonds adversely affected. In general, no modification of the terms of payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest and no modification affecting the Lien or reducing the percentage required for modification is effective against any holder of the Company Mortgage Bonds without the consent of such holder.

Unless there is a Default under the Company Mortgage, the Company Mortgage Trustee generally is required to vote Class "A" Bonds held by it, if any, with respect to any amendment of the applicable Class "A" Company Mortgage proportionately with the vote of the holders of all Class "A" Bonds then actually voting.

DEFAULTS AND NOTICES THEREOF

Each of the following will constitute a "Default" under the Company Mortgage with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds:

- (1) default in payment of principal;
- (2) default for 60 days in payment of interest or an installment of any fund required to be applied to the purchase or redemption of any Company Mortgage Bonds;

- (3) default in payment of principal or interest with respect to certain prior lien bonds;
- (4) certain events in bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization;
- (5) default in other covenants for 90 days after notice;
- (6) the existence of any default under a Class “A” Company Mortgage which permits the declaration of the principal of all of the bonds secured by such Class “A” Company Mortgage and the interest accrued thereupon due and payable; or
- (7) an “Event of Default” as described in clauses (a), (b) or (c) under the caption “THE INDENTURE—Defaults” above.

An effective default under any Class “A” Mortgage or under the Company Mortgage will result in an effective default under all such mortgages. The Company Mortgage Trustee may withhold notice of default (except in payment of principal, interest or funds for retirement of Company Mortgage Bonds) if it determines that it is not detrimental to the interests of the holders of the Company Mortgage Bonds.

The Company Mortgage Trustee or the holders of 25% of the Company Mortgage Bonds may declare the principal and interest due and payable on Default, but a majority may annul such declaration if such Default has been cured. No holder of Company Mortgage Bonds may enforce the Lien of the Company Mortgage without giving the Company Mortgage Trustee written notice of a Default and unless the holders of 25% of the Company Mortgage Bonds have requested the Company Mortgage Trustee to act and offered it reasonable opportunity to act and indemnity satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities to be incurred thereby and the Company Mortgage Trustee shall have failed to act. The holders of a majority of the Company Mortgage Bonds may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceedings for any remedy available to the Company Mortgage Trustee or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Company Mortgage Trustee. The Company Mortgage Trustee is not required to risk its funds or incur personal liability if there is reasonable ground for believing that repayment is not reasonably assured.

The Company must give the Company Mortgage Trustee an annual statement as to whether or not the Company has fulfilled its obligations under the Company Mortgage throughout the preceding calendar year.

VOTING OF THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

So long as no Event of Default under the Indenture has occurred and is continuing, the Trustee, as holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, shall vote or consent proportionately with what officials of or inspectors of votes at any meeting of bondholders under the Company Mortgage, or the Company Mortgage Trustee in the case of consents without such a meeting, reasonably believe will be the vote or consent of the holders of all other outstanding Company Mortgage Bonds; provided, however, that the Trustee shall not vote in favor of, or consent to, any modification of the Company Mortgage which, if it were a modification of the Indenture, would require approval of the Owners of Bonds.

DEFEASANCE

Under the terms of the Company Mortgage, the Company will be discharged from any and all obligations under the Company Mortgage in respect of the Company Mortgage Bonds of any series if the Company deposits with the Company Mortgage Trustee, in trust, moneys or Government Obligations, in an amount sufficient to pay all the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on, the Company Mortgage Bonds of such series or portions thereof, on the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be. The Company Mortgage Trustee need not accept such deposit unless it is accompanied by an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that (a) the Company has received from, or there has been published by, the Internal Revenue Service a ruling or (b) since the date of the Company Mortgage, there has been a change in applicable federal income tax law, in either case to the effect that, and based thereon such Opinion of Counsel shall confirm that, the holders of such Company Mortgage Bonds or the right of payment of interest thereon (as the case may be) will not recognize income, gain or loss for federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit, and/or ensuing discharge and will be subject to federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same times, as would have been the case if such deposit, and/or discharge had not occurred.

Upon such deposit, the obligation of the Company to pay the principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on such series of Company Mortgage Bonds shall cease, terminate and be completely discharged.

In the event of any such defeasance and discharge of Company Mortgage Bonds of such series, holders of Company Mortgage Bonds of such series would be able to look only to such trust fund for payment of principal of (and premium, if any) and interest, if any, on the Company Mortgage Bonds of such series.

REMARKETING

The Remarketing Agent has agreed with the Company, subject to the terms and provisions of the Remarketing Agreement, to be dated May 28, 2010, between the Company and the Remarketing Agent, that the Remarketing Agent will use its best efforts, as remarketing agent, to solicit purchases from potential investors of the Bonds. The Company shall pay the Remarketing Agent, as compensation for its services as remarketing agent, a fee of $112,500. Pursuant to such Remarketing Agreement, the Company has agreed to indemnify the Remarketing Agent against certain liabilities and expenses, including liabilities arising under federal and state securities laws, and to pay for certain expenses in connection with the reoffering of the Bonds.

In the ordinary course of business, the Remarketing Agent and its affiliates have provided investment banking services or bank financing to the Company, its subsidiaries or affiliates in the past for which they have received customary compensation and expense reimbursement, and may do so again in the future.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS

Wells Fargo Bank, National Association is serving as both Remarketing Agent and Letter of Credit Provider for the Bonds.

TAX EXEMPTION

In connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds, Chapman and Cutler, as Bond Counsel to the Company, rendered an opinion with respect to the Bonds that subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants referenced in the opinion, under then existing law, interest on the Bonds would not be includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) and such interest is not treated as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest is taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the federal alternative minimum tax for certain corporations.

Bond Counsel also rendered an opinion that, under then existing statutes and laws of Wyoming, Wyoming imposed no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

A copy of the opinion letter provided by Bond Counsel in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Bonds is set forth in APPENDIX C, but inclusion of such copy of the opinion letter is not to be construed as a reaffirmation of the opinion contained therein. The opinion letter speak only as of its date.

Chapman and Cutler LLP will also deliver an opinion in connection with execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement relating to the Bonds and the delivery of the Letter of Credit to the effect that (a) such Fourth Supplemental Indenture (i) is authorized or permitted by the Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) upon the execution and delivery thereof, will be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds, (b) such Second Supplemental Loan Agreement (i) is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) will be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds and (c) the delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds. Except (A) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds on the date hereof and the adjustment of the interest rate described in our opinions dated (I) December 17, 1999 and January 19, 2000 and (II) May 2, 2003 and June 3, 2003, (B) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 2000, (C) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 2, 2003 (D) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Trust Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, each dated as of June 1, 2003, and (E) as necessary to render the foregoing opinion, Chapman and Cutler has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to the prior opinion of Bond Counsel or the Bonds subsequent to their date of issuance. The proposed form of such opinion is set forth in APPENDIX D.

CONTINUING DISCLOSURE

In connection with the remarketing of the Bonds and five other series of pollution control revenue refunding bonds, the proceeds of which were loaned to the Company by the issuers thereof (collectively, the “Related Bonds”), on June 2, 2003, the Company executed and delivered the Continuing Disclosure Agreement, a copy of which is attached hereto as APPENDIX F, for the benefit of the holders and beneficial owners of the Related Bonds as was then required by Section (b)(5)(i) of the Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 15c2-12 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1933, as amended (the “Rule”). While not obligated to do so while the Bonds bear interest in the Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Company determined not to terminate its obligations with respect to the Bonds under the Continuing Disclosure Agreement. The Continuing Disclosure Agreement has not been amended since its execution and will not be amended in connection with the remarketing of the Bonds.

A failure by the Company to comply with the Continuing Disclosure Agreement will not constitute a default under the Indenture and beneficial owners of the Bonds are limited to the remedies described in the Continuing Disclosure Agreement. A failure by the Company to comply with the Continuing Disclosure Agreement must be reported in accordance with the Rule and must be considered by any broker, dealer or municipal securities dealer before recommending the purchase or sale of the Bonds in the secondary market. Consequently, such a failure may adversely affect the transferability and liquidity of the Bonds and their market price. See “CONTINUING DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT” attached hereto as APPENDIX F for the information to be provided, the events which will be noticed on an occurrence basis and the other terms of the Continuing Disclosure Agreement, including termination, amendment and remedies.

The Company is in compliance with each and every undertaking previously entered into by it pursuant to the Rule.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters in connection with the remarketing will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler LLP, as Bond Counsel to the Company. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Company by Paul J. Leighton, Esq., as counsel for the Company. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Remarketing Agent by King & Spalding LLP. The validity of the Letter of Credit will be passed upon for the Bank by in-house counsel to the Bank.

Re: $45,000,000 Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1991 of Lincoln County, Wyoming

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Wyoming, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1991, in the aggregate principal amount of $45,000,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's $45,000,000 Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, 11-1/8% Series due April 1, 2011 (Utah Power & Light Company Project) (the "Refunded, Bonds"). The Refunded Bonds were issued for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of air pollution control facilities (the "Project") at the Naughton generating plant (the "Station") in Lincoln County, Wyoming, for use by Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation which, subsequent to the issuance of the Refunded Bonds, merged with PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"). The proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys provided by the Company, have been deposited with the trustee for the Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on January 1, 2016, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture, only as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for said issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Wyoming now in force.

CHAPMAN AND CUTLER

Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of January 1, 1991 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer, the Issuer has agreed to loan the Proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of refunding the Refunded Bonds, and the Company has agreed to pay amounts at least sufficient to pay the Principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, call for redemption or acceleration. The Loan Agreement (an executed counterpart of which has been examined by us) has, in our opinion, been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought.

We have also examined an executed counterpart of the Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1991 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), securing the Bonds and setting forth the covenants and undertakings of the Issuer in connection with the Bonds and making provision under certain conditions for the remarketing of the Bonds by a Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), for the fixing of Floating Interest Rates (as defined in the Indenture) to be borne by the Bonds, which Floating Interest Rates may be a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate or Flexible Rates (each as defined in the Indenture), and for the conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds to a different Floating Interest Rate or to a Term Interest Rate under certain conditions. The Indenture provides that the Bonds bear interest at Flexible Rates until conversion to a different Floating Interest Rate or to a Term Interest Rate. Under the Indenture, the revenues derived by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, together with certain of the rights of the Issuer thereunder, are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security for the Bonds. From such examination, we are of the opinion that the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above show lawful authority for the execution and delivery of the Indenture, that the Indenture is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought, that the Bonds have been validly issued under the Indenture, and that all requirements under the Indenture precedent to delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied.

In connection with the Company's obligation to make payments to the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, the Company has caused to be delivered to the Trustee an irrevocable Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") of Union Bank of Switzerland, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank"), under which the Trustee is permitted under certain conditions to draw up to (a) an amount equal to the principal of the outstanding Bonds (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds when due upon redemption or acceleration or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the purchase price or portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase and not remarketed, plus (b) an amount equal to 294 days' accrued interest on the outstanding Bonds (i) to pay interest on the Bonds or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds.

CHAPMAN AND CUTLER

Delivery of the Letter of Credit, however, does not release the Company from its payment obligation under the Loan Agreement. The stated expiration date of the Letter of Credit is January 31, 1994, subject to the provisions of the Letter of Credit.

We further certify that we have examined the form of bond prescribed in the Indenture and find the same in due form of law and in our opinion the Bonds, to the amount named, are valid and legally binding upon the Issuer according to the import thereof and, as provided in the Indenture and the Bonds, are payable by the Issuer solely out of payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement, except to the extent paid from moneys drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit.

Subject to the condition that the Company and the Issuer comply with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, we are of the opinion that under present law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code), and the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (because the Refunded Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Interest on the Bonds will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Failure to comply with certain of such Issuer and Company covenants could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon a certificate of even date herewith of the Company relating to the Station, the Project and the application of the proceeds of the Refunded Bonds and the proceeds of the Bonds with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

In our opinion, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

We are not passing upon the Letter of Credit or action taken by the Bank in connection therewith. Opinions of counsel to the Bank of even date herewith have been delivered with respect to the validity of the Letter of Credit.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, counsel to the Company, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith concerning the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon said opinion with respect to, among other things: (i) the due organization of the Company, (ii) the good standing or existence of the Company in the States of Wyoming and Oregon, (iii) the approval of the execution and delivery by the Company of the Loan Agreement by all necessary regulatory authorities exercising jurisdiction over the Company, (iv) the corporate power of the Company to enter into, and the due execution by the Company of, the Loan Agreement, and (v) the binding effect of the Loan Agreement on the Company.

Dennis L. Sanderson, counsel to the Issuer, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith with respect to the obligations of the Issuer under the Bonds, the Loan Agreement and the Indenture.

The opinions described above are in form satisfactory to us, both in scope and content.

We express no opinion as to the title to, the description of, or the existence of any liens, charges or encumbrances on the Project or the Station.

Re: $45,000,000
Lincoln County, Wyoming
Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1991 (the “Bonds”)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with (a) Sections 12.02(c)(ii) and 12.06 of that certain Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1991, as amended and restated as of June 1, 2003 (the “Original Indenture”), between Lincoln County, Wyoming (the “Issuer”) and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as successor trustee (the “Trustee”), (b) Section 4.03(a) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of January 1, 1991, as amended and restated as of June 1, 2003 (the “Original Loan Agreement”), between the Issuer and PacifiCorp (the “Company”) and (c) Section 5(e)(3)(B) of that certain Remarketing Agreement, dated May __, 2010, between the Company and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as remarketing agent. Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the Bonds was secured only by certain first mortgage bonds of the Company. In connection with the adjustment to a weekly interest rate period on the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the “Letter of Credit”) to be issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the “Bank”), for the benefit of the Trustee. In order to provide for the delivery of the Letter of Credit and to make certain other permitted changes in connection therewith to the Original Indenture and the Original Loan Agreement, (a) the Company, pursuant to Section 12.02 of the Original Indenture, has requested the Issuer and the Trustee to enter into the Fourth

Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of June 1, 2010 (the “Fourth Supplemental Indenture”), in order to amend and restate the Original Indenture and (b) the Company and the Issuer, pursuant to Section 12.06 of the Original Indenture and Section 9.04 of the Original Loan Agreement, have determined to enter into the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of June 1, 2010 (the “Second Supplemental Loan Agreement”), to amend and restate the Original Loan Agreement. It has been represented to us that the Owners of all of the Bonds have consented to the execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement.

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of the Original Indenture and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The form of the restated bond prescribed in the Fourth Supplemental Indenture (the “Restated Bonds”) satisfies the requirements of the Act and the Original Indenture and the authentication of the Restated Bonds will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.
2. The Fourth Supplemental Indenture is authorized or permitted by the Original Indenture and the Act and complies with their respective terms.
3. The modification, alteration, amendment and supplement of the Original Loan Agreement by the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or the Original Indenture and the Act and complies with their respective terms.
4. The Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement will, upon execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding obligations of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors’ rights generally or usual equitable principals in the event equitable remedies should be sought.
5. The delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Original Loan Agreement.
6. The (a) execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement and (b) the delivery of the Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, we rendered our approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Original Indenture, the Original Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Original Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since we rendered such approving opinion other than with respect to the Company in connection (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds on the date hereof and the adjustment of the interest rate described in our opinions dated (i) December 17, 1999 and January 19, 2000 and (ii) May 2, 2003 and June 3, 2003, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 2000, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 2, 2003 (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Trust Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, each dated as of June 1, 2003, and (e) the execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

No more than one A Drawing which we honor shall be presented to us during any consecutive twenty-seven (27) calendar day period. No A Drawing which we honor shall be for an amount more than U.S. $710,137.

CONTINUING DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

CONTINUING DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

This Continuing Disclosure Agreement (this “Agreement”) is executed and delivered by PacifiCorp (the “Company”) in consideration of the reoffering of the six issues of Bonds identified by Schedule I hereto in conjunction with the remarketing thereof by J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., Citigroup Global Markets Inc., Lehman Brothers Inc. and Bank One Capital Markets, Inc., as Remarketing Agents.

Section 1. The Company does hereby covenant and agree and enter into a written undertaking for the benefit of the holders and beneficial owners of the Bonds as required by Section (b)(5)(i) of Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 15c2-12 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (17 C.F.R. § 240.15c2-12) (the “Rule”). Capitalized terms used in this Agreement and not otherwise defined in the respective Indenture of Trust and Trust Indentures (collectively, the “Indenture”) identified by such Schedule I between the respective Issuers identified by such Schedule I and the respective Trustees identified by such Schedule I (collectively, the “Trustee”) shall have the meanings assigned such terms in Section 4 hereof. This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the written interpretative guidance and no-action letters published from time to time by the Securities and Exchange Commission and its staff with respect to the Rule.

Section 2. The Company undertakes to provide the following information in accordance with this Agreement as required by the Rule:

- (a) Annual Financial Information;
- (b) Audited Financial Statements, if any; and
- (c) Material Event Notices.

Section 3.

(a) The Company, while any Bonds are Outstanding, shall provide the Annual Financial Information on or before the date which is 180 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company (the “Report Date”) to each then existing NRMSIR and the SID, if any. The Company shall include with each submission of Annual Financial Information a written representation to the effect that the Annual Financial Information is the Annual Financial Information specified by this Agreement, that such Annual Financial Information complies with the applicable requirements of the Rule and that it has been provided to each then existing NRMSIR and the SID, if any. If the Company changes its fiscal year, it shall provide written notice of the change of fiscal year to each then existing NRMSIR or the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (the “MSRB”) and the SID, if any. It shall be sufficient if the Company provides to each then existing NRMSIR and the SID, if any, any or all of the Annual Financial Information by specific reference to documents previously provided to each NRMSIR and the SID, if any, or filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and, if such a document is a final official statement within the meaning of the Rule, available from the MSRB.

(b) If not provided as part of the Annual Financial Information, the Company shall provide the Audited Financial Statements when and if available while any Bonds are Outstanding to each then existing NRMSIR and the SID, if any.

(c) If a Material Event occurs while any Bonds are Outstanding, the Company shall provide a Material Event Notice in a timely manner to each then existing NRMSIR or the MSRB and the SID, if any. Each Material Event Notice shall be so captioned and shall prominently state the date, title and CUSIP numbers of the Bonds.

(d) The Company shall provide in a timely manner to each then existing NRMSIR or the MSRB and to the SID, if any, notice of any failure by the Company while any Bonds are Outstanding to provide to the NRMSIRs and the SID, if any, Annual Financial Information on or before the Report Date.

(a) The continuing obligation hereunder of the Company to provide Annual Financial Information, Audited Financial Statements, if any, and Material Event Notices shall terminate immediately once the Bonds no longer are Outstanding. This Agreement, or any provision hereof, shall be null and void in the event that the Company obtains an opinion of nationally recognized bond counsel to the effect that those portions of the Rule which require this Agreement, or any such provision, are invalid, have been repealed retroactively or otherwise do not apply to the Bonds, provided that the Company shall have provided notice of such delivery and the cancellation of this Agreement to each then existing NRMSIR or the MSRB and the SID, if any.

(b) This Agreement may be amended, without the consent of the Bondholders, but only upon the Company obtaining and providing an opinion of nationally recognized bond counsel to the effect that such amendment, and giving effect thereto, will not adversely affect the compliance of this Agreement and by the Company with the Rule, provided that the Company shall have provided notice of such delivery and of the amendment to each then existing NRMSIR or the MSRB and the SID, if any. Any such amendment shall satisfy, unless otherwise permitted by the Rule, the following conditions:

(i) The amendment may only be made in connection with a change in circumstances that arises from a change in legal requirements, change in law or change in the identity, nature or status of the Company or type of business conducted;

(ii) This Agreement, as amended, would have complied with the requirements of the Rule at the time of the primary offering, after taking into account any amendments or interpretations of the Rule, as well as any change in circumstances; and

(iii) The amendment does not materially impair the interests of Bondholders, as determined either by parties unaffiliated with the Company (such as nationally recognized bond counsel) or by approving vote of Bondholders pursuant to the terms of the Indenture at the time of the amendment.

The initial Annual Financial Information after the amendment shall explain, in narrative form, the reasons for the amendment and the effect of the change, if any, in the type of operating data or financial information being provided.

(c) The Company shall not transfer its obligations under this Agreement unless the transferee agrees to assume all obligations of the Company hereunder or to execute a continuing disclosure undertaking under the Rule.

Section 7. Any failure by the Company to perform in accordance with this Agreement shall not constitute an Event of Default with respect to the Bonds. If the Company fails to comply herewith, any Bondholder or beneficial owner may take such actions as may be necessary and appropriate, including seeking specific performance by court order, to cause the Company to comply with its obligations hereunder.

Re: $45,000,000
Lincoln County, Wyoming
Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1991

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with Section 4.03(b) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of January 1, 1991, as amended and restated as of June 1, 2010 (the "Loan Agreement"), between Lincoln County, Wyoming (the "Issuer") and PacifiCorp (the "Company"). Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the $45,000,000 Lincoln County, Wyoming Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1991 (the "Bonds") was secured by an Irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Existing Letter of Credit"). On the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, New York Agency (the "Bank"), for the benefit of the Trustee (defined below).

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of that certain Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1991, as amended and restated as of June 1, 2010 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee (the "Trustee"), and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.
2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, we rendered our approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the adjustment of the interest rate on the Bonds on the date hereof and the adjustment of the interest rate described in our opinions dated (i) December 17, 1999 and January 19, 2000 and (ii) May 2, 2003 and June 3, 2003, (b) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 2000, (c) the execution and delivery of the Second Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of March 2, 2003, (d) the execution and delivery of the Third Supplemental Trust Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement, each dated as of June 1, 2003, and (e) the execution and delivery of the Fourth Supplemental Indenture and the Second Supplemental Loan Agreement and the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated June 1, 2010 and (f) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

SUPPLEMENT, DATED MARCH 18, 2013, TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, DATED DECEMBER 17, 1995

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on December 14, 1995 stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants, under then-existing law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or the 1990A Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended or Section 147(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended). Such interest is included, however, as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations under the Code. Such opinion of Bond Counsel was also to the effect that under then-existing law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. Such opinions have not been updated as of the date hereof. In the opinion of Bond Counsel to be delivered in connection with the delivery of the Replacement Letter of Credit, the delivery of the Replacement Letter of Credit will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

The Bonds are limited obligations of the Issuer payable solely from and secured by a pledge of payments to be made under the Loan Agreement between the Issuer and

PACIFICORP

Effective on March 26, 2013, and until March 26, 2015, unless earlier terminated or extended, the Bonds will be supported by an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (the "Replacement Letter of Credit") issued with respect to the Bonds by the New York Agency of

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

Under the Replacement Letter of Credit, the Trustee will be entitled to draw up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such outstanding unpaid principal amount and (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 50 days' accrued interest on the Bonds, calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate pursuant to the Indenture. Failure to pay the purchase price when due and payable is an event of default under the Indenture.

The Bonds are currently supported by a Letter of Credit issued by the New York Branch of Barclays Bank PLC (the "Existing Letter of Credit"). On March 26, 2013, the Replacement Letter of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee in substitution for the Existing Letter of Credit, and the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letter of Credit after such substitution.

As of the date hereof, the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Rate. The Bonds bearing interest at a Daily Rate are issuable as fully registered Bonds without coupons, initially in the denomination of $100,000 and integral multiples of $100,000 in excess thereof. Such Bonds are registered in the name of Cede & Co., as registered owner and nominee of DTC, and, except for the limited circumstances described herein, beneficial owners of interests in such Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interests in such Bonds. Payments of principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds will be made through DTC and its Participants and disbursements of such payments to purchasers will be the responsibility of such Participants.

Certain legal matters related to the delivery of the Letter of Credit will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler LLP, Bond Counsel to the Company. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Company by Paul J. Leighton, Esq., counsel to the Company.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT DOES NOT CONTAIN COMPLETE DESCRIPTIONS OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION WHICH IS SET FORTH IN THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED DECEMBER 17, 1995, AS SUPPLEMENTED ON FEBRUARY 8, 2002, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED HERETO AS APPENDIX C (THE “ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT” AND, TOGETHER WITH THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, THE “OFFICIAL STATEMENT”), EXCEPT WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A CHANGE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR MORE RECENT INFORMATION SINCE THE DATE OF THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT SHOULD THEREFORE BE READ ONLY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

This Supplement to Official Statement (the “Supplement”) is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995, the “Bonds”) of Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the “Issuer”) currently outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $24,400,000.

The Bonds were issued pursuant to a Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1995, as amended and supplemented to the date hereof (the “Indenture”), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. (successor in interest to The First National Bank of Chicago), as successor trustee (the “Trustee”), and under resolutions of the governing body of the Issuer. The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds were loaned to PacifiCorp (the “Company”) pursuant to the terms of a Loan Agreement for the Bonds, dated as of November 1, 1995, as amended and supplemented to the date hereof (the “Agreement”), and used, together with certain other moneys of the Company, for the purposes set forth in the Original Official Statement.

The Bonds, together with premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited and not general, obligations of the Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer nor any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof, shall be payable solely from the Revenues (as defined in the Indenture and which includes moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit) and other moneys pledged therefor under the Indenture, and shall be a valid claim of the respective holders thereof only against the Bond Fund (as defined in the Indenture), the Revenues and other moneys held by the Trustee as part of the Trust Estate (as defined in the Indenture). The Issuers shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of Bonds from any source.

No recourse shall be had for the payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any of the Bonds or for any claim based thereon or upon any obligation, covenant or agreement contained in the Indenture, against any past, present or future officer or employee of the Issuer, or any incorporator, officer, director or member of any successor corporation, as such, either directly, or through the Issuer or any successor corporation, under any rule of law or equity, statute or constitution or by the enforcement of any assessment or penalty or otherwise, and all such liability of any such incorporator, officer, director or member as such was expressly waived and released as a condition of and in consideration for the execution of the Indenture and the issuance of any of the Bonds.

The Company has exercised its right under the Agreement and the Indenture to terminate the Letter of Credit dated May 17, 2012 (the “Existing Letter of Credit”) issued by Barclays Bank PLC, New York Branch (the “Prior Bank”), which has supported payment of the principal, interest and purchase price of the Bonds since the date such Existing Letter of Credit was issued. Pursuant to the Indenture, the Company has elected to replace the Existing Letter of Credit with an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (the “Letter of Credit”) issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, a bank organized under the laws of Canada, acting through its New York Agency (the “Bank”). The Letter of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee on March 26, 2013 (the “Effective Date”) and, after such date, the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letter of Credit. With respect to the Bonds, the Trustee will be entitled to draw under the Letter of Credit up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 50 days’ accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn on while the Bonds bear interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate pursuant to the Indenture.

After the date of delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Company is permitted under the Agreement and the Indenture to provide a substitute letter of credit (the “Substitute Letter of Credit”), which is issued by the same Bank that issued the then-existing Letter of Credit and which is identical to such Letter of Credit except for (i) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate (as defined in the Indenture), (ii) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period (as defined in the Indenture) or (iii) any combination of (i) and (ii). As used hereafter, “Letter of Credit” shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit from and after the issuance date thereof. The Company also is permitted under the Agreement and Indenture to provide for the delivery of an alternate credit facility, including a letter of credit of a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, or any other credit support agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or first mortgage bonds of the Company or an insurance policy), the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee (an “Alternate Credit Facility”), to replace a Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of a Letter of Credit or any Alternate

Credit Facility then in effect. See “THE LETTER OF CREDIT AND THE CREDIT AGREEMENT” and the Official Statement under the caption “THE BONDS — Purchase of Bonds.”

Prior to the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds bore interest at a Daily Rate. Following the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds will continue to bear interest at a Daily Rate, subject to the right of the Company to cause the interest rate on the Bonds to be converted to other interest rate determination methods as described in the Official Statement.

Brief descriptions of the Bank and summaries of certain provisions of the Reimbursement Agreement (as defined below) are included in this Supplement, including the Appendices hereto, which includes as Appendix C the Original Official Statement. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in and incorporated by reference in Appendix A attached hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as Appendix B hereto. The descriptions herein, including in Appendix C, of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Letter of Credit and the Reimbursement Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereto and the information with respect thereof included in the aforesaid documents. THE LETTER OF CREDIT AND THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENT

The following is a brief summary of certain provisions of the Replacement Letter of Credit and that certain Letter of Credit and Reimbursement Agreement, dated March 26, 2013, as amended and supplemented, between the Company and The Bank of Nova Scotia (together with all related documents, the “Reimbursement Agreement”). This summary is not a complete recital of the terms of the Replacement Letter of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreement and reference is made to the Replacement Letter of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreement, as applicable, in its entirety.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT

The Replacement Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of the Bank to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 50 days’ accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a daily rate or a weekly rate pursuant to the Indenture. The Replacement Letter of Credit will be substantially in the form attached hereto as Appendix F. The Replacement

Letter of Credit will be issued pursuant to a Letter of Credit Reimbursement Agreement, dated March 26, 2013 (the “Reimbursement Agreement”), between the Company and the Bank.

The Bank’s obligation under the Replacement Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee to pay the purchase price of the Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest only on the Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the Replacement Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated as of the Bank’s close of business in New York, New York on the ninth (9th) business day following the Bank’s honoring of such drawing by the amount drawn, unless the Trustee has received notice (a “Non-Reinstatement Notice”) from the Bank by the ninth (9th) business day following the date of such honoring that there will be no reinstatement.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of Bonds due to an event of default under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the Replacement Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 50 days’ interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds (less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Replacement Letter of Credit has not been reinstated).

The Replacement Letter of Credit shall expire on the earliest of: (a) March 26, 2015 (such date, as it may be extended as provided in such Replacement Letter of Credit, the “Scheduled Expiration Date”), (b) four (4) Business Days following the Trustee’s receipt of (i) written notice from the Bank that an event of default has occurred under the Reimbursement Agreement or (ii) a Non-Reinstatement Notice, (c) the date that the Trustee informs the Bank that the conditions for termination of the Replacement Letter of Credit as set forth in the Indenture have been satisfied and that the Replacement Letter of Credit has terminated in accordance with its terms, (d) the date that is 15 days after the conversion of the Bonds to an interest rate mode other than a daily rate or a weekly rate under the Indenture and (e) the date of a final drawing under the Replacement Letter of Credit.

Credit Document will become due and payable, without presentment, demand, protest, or further notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by the Company.

REMARKETING AGENT

General. J.P. Morgan Securities LLC (the “Remarketing Agent”), will continue as remarketing agent for the Bonds. Subject to certain conditions, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to determine the rate of interest on the Bonds and use its best efforts to remarket all tendered Bonds.

In the ordinary course of its business, the Remarketing Agent has engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with the Company, its subsidiaries and its other affiliates, for which it has received and will receive customary compensation.

Special Considerations. The Remarketing Agent is Paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent’s responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Supplement. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Account. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own account. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own account and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to the Indenture and Remarketing Agreement, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the Bonds

(including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances, the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

TAX EXEMPTION

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on December 14, 1995 stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the “1954 Code”), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”) under then-existing law, interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or the 1990A Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of either Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code or Section 147(a) of the Code); however, the interest on the Bonds is included as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and under the Code. As indicated in such opinion, the failure to comply with certain of such covenants of the Issuer and the Company could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Chapman and Cutler LLP (“Bond Counsel”) has made no independent investigation to confirm that such covenants have been complied with.

Bond Counsel will deliver an opinion in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit, in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix E, to the effect that the delivery of the Letter of Credit (i) is authorized under and complies with the terms of the Agreement and (ii) will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds or will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Bond Counsel has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to its opinion dated December 14, 1995 subsequent to its issuance other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, Dated as of February 1, 2002 and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of February 1, 2002, described in its opinion dated February 20, 2002; (b) the delivery of an Irrevocable Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated as of February 20, 2002; (c) delivery of an earlier Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated September 15, 2004; (d) delivery of the Amendment to the earlier Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated November 30, 2005; (e) delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated May 17, 2012 and (f) delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. The opinion delivered in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit is not to be interpreted as a reissuance of the original approving opinion as of the date of this Supplement to Official Statement.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S Corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

MISCELLANEOUS

This Supplement to Official Statement has been approved by the Company for distribution by the Remarketing Agent to current Bondholders and potential purchasers of the Bonds. THE ISSUER MAKES NO REPRESENTATION WITH RESPECT TO AND HAS NOT PARTICIPATED IN THE PREPARATION OF ANY PORTION OF THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED DECEMBER 17, 1995, AS SUPPLEMENTED BY A SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED FEBRUARY 8, 2002

SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED DECEMBER 13, 1995

REOFFERING-NOT A NEW ISSUE

RATINGS: See "RATINGS" herein.

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on December 13, 1995 stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants, under then existing law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meanings of either Section 147(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended), but that interest on the Bonds will be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such opinion of Bond Counsel was also to the effect that under then existing law the State of Wyoming imposed no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. Such opinions have not been updated as of the date hereof. In the opinion of Bond Counsel to be delivered in connection with the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the delivery of the Letter of Credit will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPROVEMENT REVENUE BONDS

GENERAL INFORMATION

THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT (THE “SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT”) DOES NOT CONTAIN COMPLETE DESCRIPTIONS OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION WHICH IS SET FORTH IN THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED DECEMBER 13, 1995 WITH RESPECT TO THE BONDS, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED HERETO AS APPENDIX C (THE “ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT” AND, TOGETHER WITH THE SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, THE “OFFICIAL STATEMENT”), EXCEPT WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A CHANGE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR MORE RECENT INFORMATION SINCE THE DATE OF THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT SHOULD THEREFORE BE READ ONLY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED TO THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

This Supplement to Official Statement is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the reoffering of the $24,400,000 outstanding principal amount of the Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995 (the “Bonds”) issued by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the “Issuer”).

The Bonds were issued pursuant to a Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1995 (the “Original Indenture”) between the Issuer and Bank One Trust Company, NA (formerly The First National Bank of Chicago), as Trustee (the “Trustee”). The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds were loaned to PacifiCorp (the “Company”) pursuant to the terms of a Loan Agreement dated as of November 1, 1995 (the “Original Loan Agreement”) between the Issuer and the Company. Under the Original Loan Agreement, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds.

The proceeds of the Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used for the purposes set forth in the Original Official Statement.

Effective February 20, 2002, (i) the Issuer and the Trustee entered into a First Supplemental Trust Indenture dated as of February 1, 2002 (the “First Supplemental Indenture” and, together with the Original Indenture, the “Indenture”) and (ii) the Issuer and the Company entered into a First Supplemental Loan Agreement dated as of February 1, 2002 (the “First Supplemental Loan Agreement” and, together with the Original Loan Agreement, the “Loan Agreement”).

The First Supplemental Indenture amends the Original Indenture, and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement amends the Original Loan Agreement, to permit, among other things, the delivery of a letter of credit to the Trustee and amendments related to the delivery of the Letter of Credit, including without limitation, changes to mandatory purchase of Bonds, events of default and delivery of alternate credit facilities, which amendments are described in this Supplement to Official Statement under the captions "AMENDMENTS TO THE BONDS," "AMENDMENTS TO THE INDENTURE" and "AMENDMENTS TO THE LOAN AGREEMENT."

On February 20, 2002, the Company has caused to be delivered to the Trustee, for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, an irrevocable direct pay letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") issued by Bank One, NA (together with the issuer of any Alternate Letter of Credit, the "Bank"). Unless earlier terminated as provided therein, the Letter of Credit extends for a term expiring on February 20, 2004. The Trustee is entitled under the Letter of Credit to draw up to (i) the principal amount of the Bonds to enable the Trustee to pay the principal of the Bonds when due at maturity, upon redemption or acceleration, or upon tender, if such tendered Bonds are not remarketed, plus (ii) an amount up to 12% per annum on the principal amount of the Bonds for a period not to exceed 50 days, to enable the Trustee to pay interest on such Bonds. The Company has entered into a Reimbursement Agreement dated as of February 20, 2002 (the "Reimbursement Agreement") with the Bank with respect to the Letter of Credit. For information regarding the Letter of Credit and the Reimbursement Agreement, see "THE LETTER OF CREDIT" and "THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENT."

The Bonds are limited and not general obligations of the Issuer payable solely from the revenues and amounts derived under the Loan Agreement and pledged under the Indenture consisting of all amounts payable from time to time by the Company in respect of the indebtedness under the Agreement and all receipts of the Trustee credited under the provisions of the Indenture against said amounts payable, including all moneys drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility. No Owner of any Bond issued pursuant to the Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, of the Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended (the "Act"), has the right to compel any exercise of the taxing power of the Issuer to pay the Bonds, or the interest or premium, if any, thereon. The Bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness or a general obligation of the Issuer or a loan of credit thereof within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory provision, nor shall any of the Bonds constitute or give rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers.

During the Daily and Weekly Rate periods, the Trustee will be entitled to draw under the Letter of Credit up to (a) an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds to be used (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds, (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of the Bonds delivered or deemed delivered to it for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, and (iii) to enable the Company to purchase the Bonds in lieu of redemption under certain circumstances, plus (b) an amount equal to 50 days' accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at an assumed maximum rate of 12% per annum) (i) to pay interest on the Bonds or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds properly delivered for purchase equal to the accrued interest, if any, on the purchased Bonds.

The Letter of Credit constitutes the Initial Letter of Credit (defined below) under the Indenture. At any time, the Company may, at its option, provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility to replace the Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of the Letter of Credit or any other Alternate Credit Facility then in effect.

Brief descriptions of the Issuer, the Bonds, the Letter of Credit, the Loan Agreement and the Indenture are included in this Supplement to Official Statement, including the Original Official Statement attached as APPENDIX C hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in APPENDIX A attached hereto. A brief description of Bank One is included as APPENDIX B hereto. The descriptions herein of the Loan Agreement, the Indenture and the Letter of Credit are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the form thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois and at the principal offices of the Remarketing Agent in Chicago, Illinois.

AMENDMENTS TO THE BONDS

The following is a summary of certain additional provisions of the Bonds. Reference is made to the Bonds and the Indenture, as supplemented by the First Supplemental Indenture, in its entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Certain Definitions

“Alternate Credit Facility” means a credit facility provided in accordance with the Loan Agreement (other than the Initial Letter of Credit or a Substitute Letter of Credit), including, without limitation, a letter of credit of a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, including an insurance policy, or a combination thereof, the terms of which shall in all material respects be the same as the aforesaid Initial Letter of Credit and the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee, or any other credit agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or an insurance policy), the terms of which need not in all material respects be the same as the aforesaid Initial Letter of Credit, but the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee, which provides security for payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds when due and for payment of the purchase price of Bonds delivered to the Trustee. An Alternate Credit Facility may have an expiration date earlier than the maturity of the Bonds, but in no event shall such Alternate Credit Facility have an expiration date earlier than six months from the date of its delivery.

“Available Moneys” shall mean (a) during any period the Letter of Credit is in effect: (1) proceeds from the remarketing of any Bond or beneficial interests therein required to be purchased pursuant to the Indenture, to any person other than the Issuer, the Company or any “insider” (as defined in the Bankruptcy Code) of the Issuer or the Company; (2) moneys derived from any draw on the Letter of Credit; (3) any other moneys or securities, if there is delivered to the Trustee an opinion of an attorney-at-law, duly admitted to practice before the highest court of the jurisdiction in which such attorney maintains an office, who is not a full-time employee of the Company, the Bank, the Issuer or the Remarketing Agent, having expertise in bankruptcy matters (who, for purposes of such opinion, may assume that no Bondholder is an “insider,” as defined in the Bankruptcy Code) to the effect that the use of such moneys or securities to pay the principal or purchase price of, premium, if any, or interest on the Bonds would not be avoidable as a preferential payment under Section 547 of the Bankruptcy Code recoverable under Section 550 of the Bankruptcy Code should the Company become a debtor in a proceeding commenced thereunder, which opinion shall also be addressed to and acceptable to any Rating Agency then rating the Bonds; and (4) earnings derived from the investment of any of the foregoing; and (b) during any period no Letter of Credit is in effect, any moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture.

“Bank” shall mean the entity issuing the Letter of Credit, if any, then in effect, and its successors in such capacity and their assigns; or if a Substitute Letter of Credit is issued, the issuer thereof, and its successors in such capacity and their assigns. The initial Bank shall be Bank One, NA. All references to “Bank” shall be of no effect at any time that no Letter of Credit secures the Bonds, except with respect to rights of any Bank established under the Indenture which do not, by their terms, expire upon the expiration of the Letter of Credit issued by such Bank.

“Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit” means the expiration or termination of the Letter of Credit, including any extensions thereof, in effect with respect to the Bonds without provision being made in accordance with the Loan Agreement for the delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit.

“Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility” means the expiration or termination of any Alternate Credit Facility, including any extensions thereof, in effect with respect to the Bonds without provision being made in accordance with the Loan Agreement for the delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility.

“Initial Letter of Credit” shall mean the Letter of Credit delivered on the Initial Letter of Credit Delivery Date by Bank One, NA with respect to the Bonds, as extended or amended from time to time.

“Initial Letter of Credit Delivery Date” shall mean February 20, 2002, the date on which the Initial Letter of Credit is issued and delivered.

“Interest Component” shall mean the maximum amount stated in the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be (as reduced and reinstated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof), which may be drawn upon with respect to payment of accrued interest or the portion of the purchase price of Bonds delivered pursuant to the Indenture corresponding to interest accrued on the Bonds on or prior to the stated maturity thereof.

“Interest Coverage Period” means the number of days specified in the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is used to determine the Interest Component.

“Interest Coverage Rate” means the rate specified in the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is used to determine the Interest Component.

“Letter of Credit” means the Initial Letter of Credit or, in the event of the delivery of a Substitute Letter of Credit, “Letter of Credit” shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit, in each case as extended or amended from time to time. All references to the “Letter of Credit” shall be of no effect at any time that no Letter of Credit supports the Bonds, except with respect to rights of any Bank created under the Indenture which do not, by their terms, expire upon the termination of the Letter of Credit issued by the applicable Bank.

“Maximum Rate” shall mean the rate per annum equal to the lesser of (a) 18% per annum, or (b) if a Letter of Credit is then in effect, the Interest Coverage Rate.

“Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility” means the entity obligated to make payments under any Alternate Credit Facility. “Principal Office of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility” means the office specified in the Alternate Credit Facility or such other offices designated as such by the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility in writing to the Trustee, the Issuer, the Registrar, the Company and the Remarketing Agent.

“Reimbursement Agreement” shall mean initially, the Reimbursement Agreement dated as of February 20, 2002 between the Company and the Bank, as amended or otherwise modified from time to time, and if a Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is provided, “Reimbursement Agreement” shall mean the agreement pursuant to which such Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is provided. All references to “Reimbursement Agreement” shall be of no effect at any time that no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is issued and secures the Bonds, except with respect to rights of any Bank which do not, by their terms, expire upon the expiration of the Letter of Credit issued by such Bank.

“Remarketing Agent” means the Person serving as Remarketing Agent from time to time under the Indenture.

“Substitute Letter of Credit” means a Letter of Credit provided in accordance with the Loan Agreement in substitution for the irrevocable letter of credit issued by the Bank to the Trustee pursuant to the terms of the Reimbursement Agreement, as extended from time to time, which is issued by the same Bank which issued the Letter of Credit in substitution for which the Substitute Letter of Credit is to be provided and which is identical to the Letter of Credit in substitution for which the Substitute Letter of Credit is to be provided, except for:

- (i) An increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate; or
- (ii) An increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period; or

- (iii) Any combination of (i) and (ii).

Rate Periods

In addition to the notice requirements set forth in the Original Official Statement adjustments to Rate Periods require notice to the Bank, if any.

Mandatory Purchase

The Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the purchase date described below, upon the occurrence of any of the events stated below:

- (a) as to any Bond, on the effective date of any change in a Rate Period, other than the effective date of a Term Interest Rate Period which was preceded by a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration;
- (b) as to each Bond in a Flexible Interest Rate Period, on the day next succeeding the last day of any Flexible Segment with respect to such Bond;
- (c) on the second Business Day prior to the stated expiration date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility if the Trustee has not received at least twenty (20) days prior to such Business Day an extension of the then-existing Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility or on the second Business Day prior to the termination of the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility; and
- (d) on the first Business Day prior to the date of the delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit pursuant to the Loan Agreement.

Not later than 20 days prior to a mandatory purchase date described in clauses, (c) or (d) above, the Trustee shall mail notice to all Bondholders, the Remarketing Agent, the Bank, and the Company stating that (1) due to the occurrence of one of the events described above (which event shall be specified), the Bonds (and the beneficial interests therein) will be subject to mandatory purchase on the mandatory purchase date (which date shall be specified), and (2) that all Bonds and the beneficial interests therein shall be deemed to have been so purchased at the purchase price on the purchase date; provided Available Moneys in sufficient amount for such purpose are then on deposit with the Trustee and/or the Remarketing Agent. If Available Moneys are on deposit as aforesaid, such Bonds shall no longer be considered to be Outstanding for purposes of the Indenture and, in such event, shall no longer be entitled to the benefits of the Indenture, except for the payment of the purchase price thereof (and no interest shall accrue thereon subsequent to the mandatory purchase date). Transfers of beneficial ownership interests will be effected by the Securities Depository in accordance with its rules and procedures. Notice of mandatory purchase described in clause (a) and (b) above shall be given as part of the notice of adjustment referenced in the Indenture, as applicable. No failure on the part of the Trustee to give such notice shall affect the requirement that Bonds be purchased on the mandatory purchase date.

When Bonds are subject to redemption pursuant to paragraph (c) under the caption of “THE BONDS—Optional Redemption of Bonds,” in the Original Official Statement, the Bonds are also subject to mandatory purchase on a day that the Bonds would be subject to redemption, at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus an amount equal to any premium which would have been payable on such redemption date had the Bonds been redeemed if the Company gives notice to the Trustee on the day prior to the redemption date that it elects to have the Bonds purchased in lieu of redemption. If the Bonds are purchased on or prior to the Record Date, the purchase price shall include accrued interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of purchase to the date of purchase (unless the date of purchase shall be an Interest Payment Date, in which case the purchase price shall be equal to the amount specified in the preceding sentence). If the Bonds are purchased after the Record Date, the purchase price shall not include accrued interest.

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, NOTICES OF MANDATORY PURCHASE OF BONDS SHALL BE GIVEN BY THE TRUSTEE TO DTC ONLY, AND NEITHER THE ISSUER, THE TRUSTEE, THE COMPANY NOR THE REMARKETING AGENT SHALL HAVE ANY RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE DELIVERY OF ANY SUCH NOTICES BY DTC TO ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS OF DTC, BY ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS TO ANY INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS OF DTC OR BY ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS TO BENEFICIAL OWNERS OF THE BONDS. FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE SHALL BE DEEMED SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT, “THE BONDS—Book-Entry System.”

Purchase of Bonds

On the date on which Bonds are delivered to the Trustee for purchase as specified above under “—Mandatory Purchase” or in the Original Official Statement under “THE BONDS--Optional Purchase,” the Trustee shall pay the purchase price of such Bonds, but solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, and the Trustee has no obligation to use funds from any other source:

- (a) proceeds from the remarketing, excluding any proceeds of the remarketing that were received from the Issuer or the Company and sale of such Bonds pursuant to the Indenture;
- (b) moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility in accordance with the Indenture;
- (c) moneys furnished by the Trustee upon defeasance of such Bonds, such moneys to be applied only to the purchase of Bonds which are deemed to be defeased; and
- (d) any other moneys furnished by the Company to the Trustee for purchase of the Bonds; provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds shall be paid from Available Moneys.

Redemption of Bonds-General

The Bonds are subject to redemption if and to the extent the Company is entitled or required to make and makes a prepayment pursuant to the Loan Agreement, and only with the written consent of the Bank.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT

The following is a brief summary of certain provisions of the Letter of Credit. This summary is not a complete recital of the terms of the Letter of Credit and reference is made to the Letter of Credit in its entirety.

The Letter of Credit will be issued pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement. The Letter of Credit expires on February 20, 2004 (the “Scheduled Expiration Date”) unless earlier terminated or extended in accordance with its terms.

The Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of Bank One to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Bonds to be used (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds, (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of Bonds delivered or deemed delivered to it for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent or (iii) to enable the Company to purchase Bonds in lieu of redemption under certain circumstances, plus (b) an amount equal to 50 days’ accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at a rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days), to be used (i) to pay interest on the Bonds or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price of Bonds properly delivered for purchase equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. The Scheduled Expiration Date of the Letter of Credit may, in the sole discretion of Bank One, be extended.

Bank One’s obligation under the Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Trustee to pay the purchase price of Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon Bank One’s receipt of notice from the Trustee of the reimbursement of such amount. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest on the Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated to the extent of such drawing as of the tenth Business Day following such drawing unless Bank One shall have notified the Trustee within nine Business Days after such drawing that the Company has failed to reimburse Bank One or to cause Bank One to be reimbursed for such drawing.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of the Bonds due to an event of default under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 50 days’ interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds, less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Initial Letter of Credit has not been reinstated as described above.

The Letter of Credit shall expire (the “Expiration Date”) upon the earliest of (i) Bank One honoring the final payment drawing presented under the Letter of Credit, (ii) the close of business on the date on which the Trustee receives an Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility (as described in the Indenture) in substitution for the Letter of Credit or when the Trustee surrenders the Letter of Credit to the Bank for cancellation, (iii) the close of business on the date on which Bank One receives written notice from the Trustee that there are no longer any Bonds “Outstanding” within the meaning of the Indenture, and (iv) at the close of business on the Scheduled Expiration Date, unless extended by the Bank in its sole discretion.

THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENT

The following is a summary of certain provisions of the Reimbursement Agreement, pursuant to which the Letter of Credit will be issued, and the Pledge Agreement. This summary should not be regarded as a full description of the documents themselves or of the portions summarized. Reference is made to the Reimbursement Agreement and the Pledge Agreement, copies of which are on file at the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois for a complete statement of the provisions thereof. Any subsequent Reimbursement Agreement pursuant to which an Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit is issued may have terms substantially different from those of the Reimbursement Agreement. Capitalized terms used in this summary and not defined herein or in the Indenture shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Reimbursement Agreement.

General

The Company agrees to reimburse the Bank for any drawings under the Initial Letter of Credit. Liquidity Drawings must be immediately reimbursed by the Company.

The Company agrees to pay the Bank, among other fees, a nonrefundable drawing fee and an annual letter of credit fee for providing the Initial Letter of Credit. The Company also agrees to pay the Bank amounts necessary to compensate the Bank for increases in costs or reductions in expected return due to certain future changes in legal or regulatory requirements.

No later than 60 days (and no earlier than 105 days) immediately preceding each February 20, commencing February 20, 2003, the Company may request the Bank in writing to extend for one year the Expiration Date of the Letter of Credit. No later than 45 days from the date on which the Bank shall have received notice from the Company, the Bank shall notify the Company of its consent or nonconsent to the extension request. The Bank may from time to time, determine, in its sole discretion, whether or not to extend the term of the Initial Letter of Credit.

Covenants

The Reimbursement Agreement includes a number of requirements and prohibitions with which the Company must comply. These include, among others, certain financial and other reporting requirements; preservation of its corporate existence, and maintenance of the Company's properties and insurance; prohibitions against or limitations on encumbering the Company's property, transferring or disposing of the Company's property, mergers or consolidations involving the Company, and incurring additional indebtedness; and certain financial covenants.

Events of Defaults and Remedies

Each of the following events will constitute an "Event of Default" under the Reimbursement Agreement:

- (a) the Company shall fail to pay when due any amount paid by the Bank under the Letter of Credit or any principal of any Tender Advance (as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement) or shall fail to pay, within five days of the due date thereof, any interest or any fees payable under the Reimbursement Agreement;
- (b) the Company shall fail to pay any other amount claimed by the Bank under the Reimbursement Agreement within five days of the due date thereof, unless (i) such claim is disputed in good faith by the Company, (ii) such unpaid claim does not exceed $25,000, and (iii) the aggregate of all such unpaid claimed amounts does not exceed $75,000;
- (c) any representation or warranty made by the Company in the Reimbursement Agreement, in the Pledge Agreement (as defined by the Reimbursement Agreement) or in any certificate, financial or other statement furnished by the Company pursuant to the Reimbursement Agreement or the Pledge Agreement shall prove to have been incorrect in any material respect when made or deemed made;
- (d) for any reason (other than release by the Bank), the Pledge Agreement shall cease to be in full force and effect or to constitute a first and prior lien on all Bonds pledged pursuant to the Pledge Agreement or if the Company shall not be liable under the Pledge Agreement or shall so assert;
- (e) the Company shall fail to perform or observe any of the negative covenants contained in the Reimbursement Agreement, or the Company shall fail to perform or observe any other term, covenant or agreement contained in the Reimbursement Agreement or the Pledge Agreement and any such failure shall remain unremedied for 15 days after written notice thereof shall have been given to the Company by the Bank;

- (f) any material provision of the Reimbursement Agreement or the Pledge Agreement shall at any time for any reason cease to be valid and binding on the Company, or shall be declared to be null and void, or the validity or enforceability thereof shall be contested by the Company or any Governmental Authority (as defined by the Reimbursement Agreement) or the Company shall deny that it has any or further liability or obligation under the Reimbursement Agreement or the Pledge Agreement;
- (g) the Company shall fail to make any payment in respect of any Material Debt (as defined by the Reimbursement Agreement) or Material Hedging Obligations (as defined by the Reimbursement Agreement) when due or within any applicable grace period;
- (h) any event or condition shall occur which results in the acceleration of the maturity of any Material Debt of the Company or enables the holder of such Material Debt or any Person acting on such holder's behalf to accelerate the maturity thereof;
- (i) certain events of bankruptcy, insolvency, dissolution or related occurrences with respect to the Company;
- (j) a judgment or order for the payment of money in excess of $25,000,000 shall be rendered against the Company and shall continue unsatisfied and unstayed for a period of 30 days; or
- (k) the occurrence of an event of default as defined in any Operative Document (as defined by the Reimbursement Agreement).

Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default under the Reimbursement Agreement, and after giving notice to the Company, the Bank may, in its sole discretion, but shall not be obligated to exercise any of the following remedies:

- (a) by notice to the Company declare all Tender Advances and all interest accrued thereon and all other amounts due under the Reimbursement Agreement immediately due and payable and, upon such declaration, the same shall become and be immediately due and payable (provided that, upon the occurrence of any Event of Default under (i) above, all such amounts shall automatically become and be immediately due and payable) without diligence, presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are waived by the Company;
- (b) give written notice to the Trustee as contemplated by the Indenture, that an Event of Default has occurred;
- (c) by notice sent to the Company, require the immediate deposit of cash collateral in an amount equal to the Letter of Credit Amount (as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement) and all unpaid Tender Advances, and the same shall thereupon become and be immediately due and payable by the Company; provided, however, that the Bank shall cause such cash collateral to be deposited in a separate account which shall not be debited to make any payment with respect to a draw under the Letter of Credit; or

- (d) pursue all remedies available to it at law, by contract, at equity or otherwise.

An Event of Default under the Reimbursement Agreement, including an Event of Default with respect to the financial covenants of the Company, could result in the principal and accrued interest on the Bonds being declared due and payable immediately.

Amendments

The Reimbursement Agreement is subject to amendment by an instrument in writing at any time signed by the parties thereto without notice to or the consent of the Trustee, the Issuer or the Bondholders.

AMENDMENTS TO THE LOAN AGREEMENT

The following is a summary of certain provisions added to the Loan Agreement, which relate to the addition of a Letter of Credit and the subsequent provision of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit. Reference is hereby made to the Loan Agreement, as supplemented by the First Supplemental Loan Agreement, in its entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

(a) The Company may at any time (with notice to the Bank or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), at its option (i) provide for the delivery to the Trustee on any Business Day (as defined in the Original Official Statement) of an Alternate Credit Facility or (ii) terminate the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, but only (except as otherwise provided in subsections (b) or (c) below) if the Company shall, on the date of delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility (which shall be the effective date thereof) or on the date of termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, simultaneously deliver to the Trustee (which delivery must occur prior to 9:30 a.m., New York, New York time on such date, unless a later time on such date shall be acceptable to the Trustee):

(1) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the delivery of such Alternate Credit Facility or the termination of the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility (i) is authorized under the Loan Agreement and complies with the terms thereof, and (ii) will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds or will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes;

(2) a certificate of an Authorized Company Representative as to whether the Bonds are then rated by either Moody's or S&P, or both; and

(3) written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and from S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the proposed Alternate Credit Facility or has reviewed the proposed termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and that the delivery of the proposed Alternate Credit Facility or the termination of the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of its rating or ratings of the Bonds.

(b) In lieu of satisfying the requirements of subsection (a) above, the Company may, at any time, at its option:

(1) provide for the delivery on any Business Day to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility, but only provided that

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states (x) the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be so provided, and (y) the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate (which termination date shall not be prior to the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be so provided), (B) describes the terms of the Alternate Credit Facility, (C) directs the Trustee to give notice of mandatory purchase no later than 20 days prior to the mandatory purchase date provided in the Indenture (which mandatory purchase date shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (D) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to terminate, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the later of the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be provided and the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate and thereupon to deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied); and

(ii) on the date of delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility (which shall be the effective date thereof), the Company shall furnish to the Trustee simultaneously with such delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility (which delivery must occur prior to 9:30 a.m., New York, New York time, on such date, unless a later time on such date shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel satisfying the requirement of clause (1) of subsection (a) above; or

(2) provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate, (B) directs the Trustee to give notice of mandatory purchase, in whole, no later than 20 days prior to the mandatory purchase date provided in the Indenture (which mandatory purchase date shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (C) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to terminate, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to be terminated and to thereupon deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied); and

(ii) on the Business Day next preceding the date of termination of the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility, the Company shall furnish to the Trustee (prior to 9:30 a.m., New York, New York time, on such Business Day, unless a later time on such Business Day shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel satisfying the requirement of clause (1) of subsection (a) above.

(c) After the Interest Payment Date next preceding (x) the Expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit or (y) the Expiration of the term of an Alternate Credit Facility, the Company may at any time, but is not obligated to, provide an Alternate Credit Facility, without complying with the requirements of subsection (a) or (b) above, except that the Company shall:

(1) direct the Trustee to give a notice (in the form furnished to the Trustee by the Company) to the Owners of the Bonds regarding the Alternate Credit Facility; and

(2) on the date of delivery to the Trustee of such Alternate Credit Facility, furnish to the Trustee (prior to 9:30 a.m., New York, New York time, on such date, unless a later time on such date shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel satisfying the requirement of clause (1) of subsection (a) above.

(d) The Company may, at its election, (i) but only with the written consent of the Bank, provide for one or more extensions of the Letter of Credit, or (ii) but only with the written consent of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, provide for one or more extensions of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for any period commencing after its then current expiration date.

(e) The Company may, at its option, but only upon compliance with the provisions of this subsection (e), at any time provide for the delivery to the Trustee of a Substitute Letter of Credit. Anything in the Loan Agreement or the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, no Substitute Letter of Credit may be delivered which:

- (1) so long as the Bonds bear interest at Flexible Interest Rates, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 285 days (during such time as Flexible Interest Rate Periods can be from one to not more than 270 days) or 380 days (during such time as Flexible Interest Rate Periods can be from one to 365 days);
- (2) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Daily Interest Rate or a Weekly Interest Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 50 days;
- (3) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Term Interest Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 208 days; or
- (4) decreases the Interest Coverage Rate below 12%.

An Interest Coverage Period of a shorter period than required by clauses (1), (2) or (3) of subsection (e) is permissible if the Company receives confirmation in writing from Moody's (if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's) and from S&P (if the Bonds are then rated by S&P) that the shorter Interest Coverage Period will not result in a withdrawal or lowering of any rating on the Bonds from that which would otherwise accrue from a longer Interest Coverage Period.

The Company may, at its option, but only upon compliance with subsection (e), at any time direct in writing the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent to allow the selection of Flexible Interest Rate Periods of from one to 365 days or from one to no more than 270 days, but only if (for such time as Flexible Interest Rate Periods can be from one to 365 days) the Company provides for the delivery to the Trustee of a Substitute Letter of Credit which increases the Interest Coverage Period to 380 days.

AMENDMENTS TO THE INDENTURE

The following is a summary of certain additional provisions of the Indenture. Reference is hereby made to the Indenture, as supplemented by the First Supplemental Indenture in its entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Bond Fund

There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund to be held by the Trustee and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. The Trustee is to deposit into the Principal Account of the Bond Fund (i) payments made by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement in respect of principal of or premium payable on the Bonds, (ii) all monies drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to pay principal, premium, if any, (but only to extent the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility covers premium) or the redemption price payable on the Bonds when due; and (iii) any other moneys required by the Indenture or the Loan Agreement to be deposited into the Principal Account of the Bond Fund.

The Trustee is to keep separate moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in the Letter of Credit Subaccount of the Principal Account and shall not commingle such moneys with other moneys in the Principal Account. In the event that separate Principal Accounts have been created in accordance with the Indenture, the Trustee shall keep all moneys, including remarketing proceeds and moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, deposited with respect to Bonds in a certain Rate Period separate from moneys deposited with respect to Bonds in a different Rate Period.

The Trustee is to deposit into the Interest Account of the Bond Fund (i) payments made by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement in respect of interest on the Bonds, (ii) all monies drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to pay interest on the Bonds when due; and (iii) any other moneys required by the Indenture or the Loan Agreement to be deposited into the Interest Account of the Bond Fund. The Trustee is to keep separate moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in the Letter of Credit Subaccount of the Interest Account and shall not commingle such moneys with other moneys in the Interest Account. In the event that separate Interest Accounts have been created in accordance with the Indenture, the Trustee shall keep all moneys, including remarketing proceeds and moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, deposited with respect to Bonds in a certain Rate Period separate from moneys deposited with respect to Bonds in a different Rate Period.

While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in a Tax Exemption Certificate and Agreement among the Trustee, the Issuer and the Company (the "Tax Certificate"), moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds as the same shall become due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or upon acceleration of maturity, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee, to the extent described in the Original Official Statement under the caption "THE INDENTURE—Pledge and Security."

Payment of Principal, Premium and Interest

Prior to 1:30 p.m., on the Business Day preceding each Interest Payment Date and each date on which principal shall be due and payable on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption or upon acceleration, the Trustee shall draw under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility (if then in effect), an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any (if the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then covers premium) and interest due and payable on the Bonds (other than Pledged Bonds and Bonds held by the Company) on such payment date. Such drawing shall be made in a timely manner under the terms of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility in order that the Trustee may realize funds thereunder in sufficient time to pay Bondholders on the payment date as provided in the Indenture. When the Bonds are in a Book-Entry System, such payment shall be made to the Securities Depository Nominee by the time required by the Securities Depository. All amounts derived by the Trustee with respect to the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility shall be deposited in the appropriate account of the Bond Fund upon receipt thereof by the Trustee. If no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is then in effect, the Trustee shall receive from the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement the full amount of principal of, premium, if any, and interest due on, the Bonds on that date.

The Trustee shall, upon written notice of a failed remarketing from the Remarketing Agent, pursuant to the Indenture, draw moneys under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in accordance with the Indenture and in accordance with its terms to ensure timely payment thereof to the extent necessary to pay to the Remarketing Agent of the Trustee the purchase price of Bonds delivered or deemed to be delivered to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee as described under the captions of "AMENDMENTS TO THE BONDS--Mandatory Purchase," herein and "THE BONDS—Optional Redemption of Bonds," in the Original Official Statement.

The Trustee shall only draw upon a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for Bonds in a Rate Period with respect to which such Bonds are subject to said Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be.

The Trustee is authorized to withdraw sufficient funds from the Bond Fund to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds as the same become due and payable. In the event of a default under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, or at such time as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility secures the Bonds, the Trustee shall use all moneys then on deposit in the Bond Fund to pay principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds.

Letter of Credit; Substitute Letter of Credit

The Initial Letter of Credit is to be delivered to the Trustee on the Initial Letter of Credit Delivery Date.

The Company may at any time substitute a Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility for an existing Letter of Credit, subject to the limitations set forth in the Loan Agreement.

If at any time there shall have been delivered to the Trustee a Substitute Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, together with any other documents and opinions required by the Loan Agreement, then the Trustee is required to accept such Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility and promptly surrender the previously held Letter of Credit to the issuer thereof, in accordance with the terms thereof for cancellation. If at any time there shall cease to be any Bonds Outstanding under the Indenture, or if the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility expires in accordance with its terms, the Trustee is required to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to the Bank, in accordance with the terms thereof, for cancellation. The Trustee is required to comply with the procedures set forth in the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility relating to the termination thereof.

Upon the payment of a portion of the principal amount of the Bonds, the Trustee is required to take such steps as are permitted under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to reduce the stated amount of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility in accordance with the terms thereof.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an “Event of Default” under the Indenture:

(a) a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on any of the Bonds when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise;

(b) a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds for a period of one day after such interest has become due and payable;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due in respect of the purchase price of Bonds as provided under the caption “AMENDMENTS TO THE BONDS—Mandatory Purchase” and in the Original Official Statement under the caption “THE BONDS—Optional Purchase”;

(d) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any covenant, condition, agreement or provision (other than as specified in (a), (b) and (c) described above) contained in the Bonds or the Indenture on the part of the Issuer to be observed or performed, which failure shall continue for a period of 90 days after written notice, specifying such failure and requesting that it be remedied, shall have been given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee by registered or certified mail, which may give such notice in its discretion and shall give such notice at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding, unless the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be, shall agree in writing to an extension of such period prior to its expiration; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer or the Company on behalf of the Issuer within such period and is being diligently pursued;

(e) an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement;

(f) the Trustee receives written notice from the Bank to the effect that an event of default has occurred and is continuing under the Reimbursement Agreement; or

(g) the Trustee receives written notice from the Bank on or before the date or dates specified in the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility following a drawing on the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to pay interest on the Bonds that it will not reinstate its Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility in the amount of the said interest drawing.

Remedies

Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default under (f) or (g) above, the Trustee is required to declare the principal and interest on the Bonds, which has accrued to the date of such declaration of acceleration, due and payable immediately.

Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b) or (c) of the preceding paragraph or an Event of Default described in clause (e) of the preceding paragraph resulting from an "Event of Default" under the Loan Agreement as described in the Original Official Statement under clause (a) or (c) of "THE LOAN AGREEMENT—Defaults," then the Trustee may (and upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding shall) by written notice by first-class mail to the Issuer and the Company, declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, whereupon the Bonds shall, without further action, become immediately due and payable, anything in the Indenture or in the Bonds to the contrary notwithstanding, and the Trustee is required to give notice thereof by first call mail to all Owners of Outstanding Bonds.

Anything to the contrary contained in the Indenture, notwithstanding, if a Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is in effect, and (a) the Event of Default is not under (f) or (g) above, and (b) the Event of Default is not the result of a failure by the Bank to honor a properly presented and conforming drawing under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, the Trustee will not declare the Bonds to be due and payable without first obtaining the Bank's prior written consent. Upon the principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds becoming due and payable as provided in this paragraph, the Trustee is required to immediately draw on the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, if any, to pay the principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraphs are subject to the condition that if, so long as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, after the principal of the Bonds shall have been so declared to be due and payable and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due shall have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer shall cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds, any unpaid purchase price and the principal of any and all Bonds which shall have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as shall be sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which shall have become due by said declaration) shall have been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer and the Company and shall give notice thereof to Owners of Outstanding Bonds by first-class mail; provided, however, that no such waiver, rescission and annulment shall extend to or affect any other Event of Default or subsequent Event of Default or impair any right, power or remedy consequent thereon.

The provisions of the above paragraphs are, further, subject to the condition that, if an Event of Default, as described in clause (f) or (g) above shall have occurred and if the Trustee shall thereafter have received notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) (x) that the notice which caused such Event of Default to occur has been withdrawn and (y) that the amounts available to be drawn on the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to pay (i) the principal of the Bonds or the portion of purchase price equal to accrued interest, have been reinstated to an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds Outstanding plus accrued interest thereon for the applicable Interest Coverage Period at the Interest Coverage Rate, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer, the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Remarketing Agent, if any, and, if notice of the acceleration of the Bonds shall have been given to the Owners of Bonds, shall give notice thereof by Mail to all Owners of Outstanding Bonds; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment shall extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default, then and in every such case the Trustee in its discretion, may, and upon the written direction of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) shall, in its own name and as the Trustee of an express trust:

- (i) by mandamus, or other suit, action or proceeding at law or in equity, enforce all rights of the Owners under, and require the Issuer, the Bank (or Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility) or the Company to carry out any agreements with or for the benefit of the Owners of Bonds and to perform its or their duties under, the Act, the Loan Agreement, the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and the Indenture, provided that any such remedy may be taken only to the extent permitted under the applicable provisions of the Loan Agreement or the Indenture, as the case may be;
- (ii) bring suit upon the Bonds;
- (iii) by action or suit in equity require the Issuer to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the Owners of Bonds; or
- (iv) by action or suit in equity enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the Owners of Bonds.

The Trustee is required to waive any Event of Default under the Indenture and its consequences and rescind any declaration of acceleration of principal upon the written request of the Owners of (A) more than a majority in principal amount of all Outstanding Bonds in respect of which default in the payment of principal of or interest on the Bonds exists or (B) more than a majority in principal amount of all Outstanding Bonds in the case of any other Event of Default; provided, however, that (x) there shall not be waived any Event of Default specified in (a), (b) or

(c) above unless prior to such waiver or rescission, the Issuer has caused to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds and the principal of any and all Bonds which shall have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration of acceleration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and (y) (i) no Event of Default is to be waived unless (in addition to the applicable conditions as aforesaid) there shall have been deposited with the Trustee such amount as shall be sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee; and (ii) when a Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is in effect, the Trustee receives the written consent of the Bank to the waiver of the Event of Default under the Reimbursement Agreement, if applicable, and to the rescission of the acceleration and the Trustee receives written notice from the Bank that the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility has been reinstated in accordance with the terms thereof. In case of any waiver or rescission described above, or in case any proceeding taken by the Trustee on account of any such Event of Default has been discontinued or concluded or determined adversely, then and in every such case the Issuer, the Trustee and the Owners of Bonds shall be restored to their former positions and rights under the Indenture, respectively; provided further that no such waiver or rescission is to extend to any subsequent or other Event of Default, or impair any right consequent thereon.

Anything in the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, the Owners of a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding shall have the right, by an instrument in writing executed and delivered to the Trustee and upon furnishing to the Trustee indemnity satisfactory to it (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct), to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings available to the Trustee under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee by the Indenture, provided that such direction shall not be other than in accordance with the provisions of law and the Indenture and shall not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner shall have any right to institute any suit, action or proceeding in equity or at law for the execution of any trust or power under the Indenture, or any other remedy under the Indenture or in the Bonds, unless such Owner previously shall have given to the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default as provided in the Indenture and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then Outstanding shall have made written request of the Trustee so to do after the right to institute said suit, action or proceeding under the Indenture shall have accrued, and shall have afforded the Trustee a reasonable opportunity to proceed to institute the same in either its or their name, and unless there also shall have been offered to the Trustee security and indemnity satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities to be incurred therein or thereby (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct), and the Trustee shall not have complied with such request within a reasonable time; and such notification, request and offer of indemnity are declared in every such case, at the option of the Trustee, to be conditions precedent to the institution of said suit, action or proceeding; it being understood and intended that no one or more of the Owners shall have any right in any manner whatever by his or their action to affect, disturb or prejudice the security of the Indenture, or to enforce any right thereunder or under the Bonds, except in the manner provided in the Indenture, and that all suits, actions and proceedings at law or in equity shall be instituted, had and maintained in the manner provided in the Indenture and for the equal benefit of all Owners.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of any Owner to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Owner's Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of Bonds.

Modifications of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility

No Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility may be modified without the prior written consent of 100% of the holders of the Bonds, except to (a) correct any formal defects therein, (b) effect transfers thereof, (c) effect extensions thereof, (d) effect reductions and reinstatements thereof in accordance with the terms of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, (e) increase the stated amount thereof, or (f) effect any change which does not have a material adverse effect upon the interests of the Bondholders. Pursuant to the Indenture, however, the Company has the right to obtain a Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, subject to the requirements set forth in the Loan Agreement without the consent of the Bondholders.

REMARKETING AGENT

The Company has appointed Banc One Capital Markets, Inc. (the "Remarketing Agent"), as remarketing agent for the Bonds beginning February 15, 2002. Following that date, the Bonds are to be remarketed by the Remarketing Agent pursuant to the Remarketing Agreement, dated as of February 15, 2002 (the "Remarketing Agreement"), between the Company and the Remarketing Agent. Subject to certain conditions, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to determine the rate of interest on the Bonds in accordance with the terms of the Indenture and use its best efforts to remarket all tendered Bonds.

RATINGS

Based upon the issuance of the Letter of Credit by Bank One, it is expected that Moody's Investors Service ("Moody's") will assign municipal bond ratings of "Aa2/VMIG 1" to the Bonds and that Standard and Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies ("S&P"), will assign municipal bond ratings of "A+/A-1" to the Bonds. (Moody's and S&P are referred to herein as the "Rating Agencies"). These ratings reflect only the views of the Rating Agencies. An explanation of the significance of such ratings may be obtained only from the Rating Agencies. There is no assurance that such ratings will continue for any period of time or that they will not be revised downward or withdrawn entirely by the Rating Agencies, if, in their judgment, circumstances so warrant. None of the Issuer, the Company, or the Remarketing Agent has undertaken any responsibility either to bring to the attention of the owners of the Bonds any proposed revision in, or withdrawal of, the ratings or to oppose any such proposed revision or withdrawal. Any such downward revision or withdrawal may have an adverse effect on the market price of the Bonds.

TAX EXEMPTION

Original Opinion. The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on December 13, 1995 (the "Original Opinion"), stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") under then existing law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or the 1990A Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of either Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code or Section 147(a) of the Code), however, such interest on the Bonds would be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations under the Code. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers; no opinion was expressed regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, Chapman and Cutler relied upon certifications of the Company with respect to certain material facts solely within the Company's knowledge, relating to the Project (as defined in the Original Opinion), the 1990A Project (as defined in the Original Opinion), the Plant (as defined in the Original Opinion) and the application of the proceeds of the Bonds.

The failure to comply with certain of such covenants of the Issuer and the Company could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Chapman and Cutler has made no independent investigation to confirm that such covenants have been complied with.

Supplemental Opinion. Chapman and Cutler will deliver an opinion in connection with the delivery of the Letter of Credit to the effect that the delivery of the Letter of Credit (i) is authorized under the Agreement and complies with the terms thereof and (ii) will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds or will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Chapman and Cutler has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to its opinion dated December 13, 1995 subsequent to its issuance. The opinion delivered in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit is not to be interpreted as a reissuance of the original approving opinion as of the date of this Supplement.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to the applicability of any such collateral consequences.

APPENDIX B

BANK ONE, NA

The information contained and incorporated by reference in this Appendix B to the Official Statement has been obtained from Bank One, NA. The Issuer and the Underwriter make no representations as to the accuracy or completeness of such information.

THE BANK

Bank One, NA, whose main office is located in Chicago, Illinois (the “Bank”), is a wholly owned subsidiary of BANK ONE CORPORATION. The Bank provides a broad range of retail and wholesale banking products and services to its domestic and foreign customers. The principal focus of the Bank is the extension of credit and delivery of financial services and noncredit services to individuals, businesses and governmental units. The Bank had total deposits of $8.8 billion as of September 30, 2001.

All phases of the Bank’s activities are highly competitive. The Bank competes actively with money market mutual funds, national and state banks, mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, finance companies, credit unions and other financial institutions located throughout the United States. For international business, the Bank competes with other United States banks which have foreign installations and with other major banks and financial institutions located throughout the world. In addition, the Bank and its subsidiaries are subject to competition from a variety of financial and other institutions which provide a wide array of products and services.

The earnings of the Bank are affected by the policies of regulatory authorities, including the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the “Federal Reserve”). An important function of the Federal Reserve is to promote orderly economic growth by influencing interest rates and the supply of money and credit. Among the methods that have been used to implement this objective are open market operations in United States government securities, changes in the discount rate on member bank borrowings and changes in reserve requirements against bank deposits. These methods are used in varying combinations to influence overall growth and distribution of bank loans, investments and deposits, interest rates on loans and securities and rates paid for deposits. The monetary policies of the Federal Reserve strongly influence the behavior of interest rates and can have a significant effect on the operating results of the Bank. The effect on the future business and earnings of the Bank of the aforementioned measures and any other economic controls which may be imposed by executive, legislative and regulatory authorities from time to time cannot be predicted.

There are also various requirements and restrictions in the laws of the United States and the State of Illinois affecting the Bank and its operations, including the requirement to maintain reserves against deposits, restrictions on the nature and amount of loans which may be made by the Bank, restrictions relating to the investments and other activities of the Bank. The Bank, as a national bank, is subject to regulation by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (the “Comptroller”), the Federal Reserve and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The operations of the Bank are also subject to various restrictions imposed by the laws and regulators of other countries in which the Bank conducts business.

Recently, significant legislation affecting national banks and bank holding companies has been enacted. The effect of such legislation, and of any future legislative and regulatory changes, on the business and earnings of the Bank cannot be predicted. Effective February 1, 2001, Bank One, Louisiana, National Association and Bank One, Texas, National Association, affiliates of the Bank, merged with and into the Bank.

The Bank files Consolidated Reports of Condition and Income (the “Call Report”) with the Comptroller on a quarterly basis. The Call Report contains various financial and statistical information on the Bank. Copies of the Call Report can be inspected and reproduced at the Comptroller’s office at 490 L’Enfant Plaza, S.W., 6th Floor, Washington, D.C. 20219, and can be obtained by mail upon request and subject to availability from BANK ONE CORPORATION at the address set forth below or from the Manager, Statistical Branch, Data Processing, Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D.C. 20219.

Through its bank subsidiaries, ONE provides domestic retail banking, worldwide corporate and institutional banking, and trust and investment management services. ONE operates banking offices in Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma, Texas, Utah, West Virginia and Wisconsin. Bank One Capital Markets, Inc. and Bank One Trust Company, NA, affiliates of ONE, are serving as the Remarketing Agent and Trustee, respectively, in connection with the Bonds. As of December 31, 2000, ONE had consolidated assets of approximately $269.3 billion and stockholders’ equity of approximately $18.635 billion. For the quarter ended September 30, 2001, ONE had consolidated assets of approximately $270.3 billion and stockholders’ equity of approximately $20.38 billion.

ONE is subject to the informational requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and in accordance therewith files reports and other information with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”). Consolidated financial information for ONE and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 2000, is set forth in ONE’s Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Commission and consolidated financial information for the quarter ended September 30, 2001 is set forth in ONE's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed with the Commission. ONE also will prepare and file with the Commission other periodic reports, including Current Reports on Form 8-K.

The information on ONE contained herein is being provided for informational purposes only. ONE is not a party to the Initial Credit Agreement and has no obligation thereunder or under the Letter of Credit, and has not guaranteed the obligations of the Bank under the Letter of Credit.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED DECEMBER 13, 1995

NEW ISSUE—BOOK-ENTRY ONLY

Subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants, in the opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, under present law interest on the Bonds is not includable in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of either Section 147(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, but such interest is included as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that under present law the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. See "Tax Exemption" herein for a complete discussion.

Sweetwater County, Wyoming
Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1995

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

This Official Statement, including the Appendices hereto and the documents incorporated by reference herein, is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the offer by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer") of $24,400,000 Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995 (the "Bonds").

The Bonds will be issued under a Trust Indenture dated as of November 1, 1995 (the "Indenture") between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as trustee (the "Trustee"), and under resolutions of the governing body of the Issuer. Pursuant to a Loan Agreement between PacifiCorp (the "Company") and the Issuer (the "Loan Agreement"), the Issuer will lend the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company. The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds will be used, together with certain other moneys of the Company, as follows: (i) to finance a portion of the Company's 66 2/3% undivided interest in acquiring, constructing and installing certain solid waste disposal facilities at the Jim Bridger coal-fired, steam electric generating plant (the "Plant") located near Rock Springs, Wyoming; (ii) to refund all of the outstanding principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1990A (the "1990A Prior Bonds"); and (iii) to refund all of the outstanding principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming Taxable Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995-T (the "1995-T Prior Bonds"). The 1990A Prior Bonds and the 1995-T Prior Bonds are hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Prior Bonds."

The Bonds, together with the premium, if any, and interest thereon, will be limited obligations and not general obligations of the Issuer. Neither the Indenture, the Bonds nor the Loan Agreement constitutes a debt or gives rise to a general obligation or liability of the Issuer or constitutes an indebtedness under any constitutional or statutory debt limitation. The Bonds will not constitute or give rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer and will not constitute any charge against the Issuer's general credit or taxing powers; nor will the Bonds constitute an indebtedness of or a loan of credit of the Issuer. The Bonds shall be payable solely from the receipts and revenues to be received from the Company as payments under the Loan Agreement and from any other moneys pledged therefor. Such receipts and revenues and all of the Issuer's rights and interests under the Loan Agreement (except as noted under "The Indenture—Pledge and Security" below) will be pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security, equally and ratably, for the payment of the Bonds. The payments required to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement will be sufficient to pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds issued pursuant thereto. Under no circumstances will the Issuer have any obligation, responsibility or liability with respect to the Facilities (as defined below), the Loan Agreement, the Indenture, the Bonds or this Official Statement, except for the special limited obligation set forth in the Indenture and the Loan Agreement whereby the Bonds are payable solely from amounts derived from the Company. Nothing contained in the Indenture, the Bonds or the Loan Agreement, or in any other related documents, shall be construed to require the Issuer to operate, maintain or have any responsibility with respect to any of the Facilities. The Issuer has no liability in the event of wrongful disbursement by the Trustee or otherwise. No recourse shall be had against any past, present or future commissioner, officer, employee, official, or agent of the Issuer under the Indenture, the Bonds, the Loan Agreement or any related document. The Issuer has no responsibility to maintain the Tax-Exempt (as hereinafter defined) status of the Bonds under federal or state law nor any responsibility for any other tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of the Bonds.

Brief descriptions of the Issuer and the Facilities, and summaries of certain provisions of the Bonds, the Loan Agreement and the Indenture are included in this Official Statement, including the Appendices hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in and incorporated by reference in Appendix A hereto. The proposed form of opinion of Bond Counsel is included in Appendix B hereto. The descriptions herein of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois.

The solid waste disposal and pollution control facilities at the Plant are hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Facilities." The interest of the Company in the Facilities financed with a portion of the proceeds of the Bonds and the 1995-T Prior Bonds is hereinafter referred to as the "Project." Only beneficial interests in book-entry form are being offered. The Bonds will be dated as of their date of delivery and will mature on November 1, 2025. The Bonds are subject to optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity in the manner and at the times described herein.

Bonds may be transferred or exchanged for other Bonds in authorized denominations at the principal office of the Trustee as the registrar and paying agent (in such capacities, the "Registrar" and the "Paying Agent"). The Bonds will be issued in authorized denominations of $100,000 or any integral multiple of $100,000 when the Bonds bear interest at a Daily or Weekly Interest Rate; $100,000 or any integral multiple of $5,000 in excess of $100,000, when the Bonds bear interest at a Flexible Interest Rate; and $5,000 or any integral multiple thereof, when the Bonds bear interest at a Term Interest Rate (collectively, "Authorized Denominations"). Exchanges and transfers shall be made without charge to the Owners, except for any applicable tax or other governmental charge.

Goldman, Sachs & Co. has been appointed by the Company as Remarketing Agent with respect to the Bonds. The Company will enter into a Remarketing Agreement with the Remarketing Agent with respect to the Bonds.

Certain Definitions

"Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel" means an opinion of nationally recognized bond counsel addressed to the Issuer and the Trustee to the effect that the proposed action is not prohibited by the laws of the State of Wyoming and the Indenture and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt (as hereinafter defined) status of the Bonds.

"Interest Payment Date" means, (i) with respect to any Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period, the first Business Day of each calendar month, (ii) with respect to any Term Interest Rate Period, the first day of the sixth month following the commencement of the Term Interest Rate Period and the first day of each sixth month thereafter, and the day following the last day of a Term Interest Rate Period, (iii) with respect to any Flexible Segment, the Business Day next succeeding the last day of such Flexible Segment, and (iv) with respect to any Rate Period, the Business Day next succeeding the last day thereof.

"Owner" means the registered owner of any Bond; provided, however, when used in the context of the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds, the term "Owner" shall include each actual purchaser of any Bond ("Beneficial Owner").

"Rate Period" means any Daily Interest Rate Period, Weekly Interest Rate Period, Flexible Interest Rate Period or Term Interest Rate Period.

"Record Date" means (i) with respect to any Interest Payment Date in respect of any Daily Interest Rate Period, Weekly Interest Rate Period or Flexible Segment, the Business Day next preceding such Interest Payment Date, and (ii) with respect to any Interest Payment Date in respect of any Term Interest Rate Period, the fifteenth day of the month preceding such Interest Payment Date.

"Tax-Exempt" means, with respect to interest on any obligations of a state or local government, including the Bonds, that such interest is not includable in gross income of the owners of such obligations for federal income tax purposes, except for any interest on any such obligations for any period during which such obligations are owned by a person who is a "substantial user" of any facilities financed or refinanced with such obligations or a "related person" within the meaning of either Section 147(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), or Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), whether or not such interest is includable as an item of tax preference or otherwise includable directly or indirectly for purposes of calculating other tax liabilities, including any alternative minimum tax or environmental tax under the Code.

Payment of Principal and Interest

The principal of and premium, if any, on the Bonds shall be payable to the Owners upon surrender thereof at the principal office of the Paying Agent. Except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form (see "—Book Entry System"), interest shall be payable (i) by bank check or draft mailed by first-class mail on the Interest Payment Date to the Owners as of the Record Date or (ii) during any Rate Period other than a Term Interest Rate Period, in immediately available funds on the Interest Payment Date (by wire transfer or by deposit to the account of the Owner of any such Bond if such account is maintained with the Paying Agent), but in respect of any Owner of Bonds of an Issue in a Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period, only to any Owner which owns Bonds of such Issue in an aggregate principal amount of at least $1,000,000 on the Record Date and which shall have provided wire transfer instructions to the Paying Agent prior to the close of business on such Record Date.

Interest on each Bond shall be payable on each Interest Payment Date for each such Bond for the period commencing on the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date (or if no interest has been paid thereon, commencing on the date of issuance thereof) to, but not including, such Interest Payment Date. Interest shall be computed, in the case of any Daily, Weekly, or Flexible Interest Rate Period, on the basis of a 365- or 366-day year, as applicable, for the number of days actually elapsed and, in the case of a Term Interest Rate Period, on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months.

Rate Periods

The term of the Bonds shall be divided into consecutive Rate Periods, during which such Bonds shall bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate, Flexible Interest Rate or Term Interest Rate, as described below.

Daily Interest Rate Period

Determination of Daily Interest Rate. During each Daily Interest Rate Period, the Bonds shall bear interest at the Daily Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent either on each Business Day for such Business Day or on the next preceding Business Day for the Business Day next succeeding such date of determination and as may be determined by the Remarketing Agent for any day that is not a Business Day on any such day during which there shall be active trading in Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds for such day.

The Daily Interest Rate shall be the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then-prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent shall not have determined a Daily Interest Rate for any day by 10:00 a.m., New York time, the Daily Interest Rate for such day shall be the same as the Daily Interest Rate for the immediately preceding day. In no event shall the Daily Interest Rate exceed 18% per annum.

Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds shall be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Remarketing Agent of a written notice from the Company. Such notice (1) shall specify the effective date of the adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate, which shall be (A) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee), (B) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, and (C) in the case of an adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period, either the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period or the day immediately following the last day of the last Flexible Segment for each Bond in the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, all as determined in accordance with clause (1) or (2), respectively, under "—Flexible Interest Rate Period—Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates"; provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds shall have been called for redemption and such redemption shall not theretofore have been effected, the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period shall not precede such redemption date; and (2) if the adjustment is from a Term Interest Rate Period having a duration in excess of one year, shall be accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such adjustment.

Notice of Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The Trustee shall give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period. Such notice shall state (1) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "—Rescission of Election"), (2) the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period, (3) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (4) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (5) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (6) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

Weekly Interest Rate Period

Determination of Weekly Interest Rate. During each Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Bonds shall bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the first day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and thereafter no later than Tuesday of each week during such Weekly Interest Rate Period, unless any such Tuesday shall not be a Business Day, in which event the Weekly Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the Business Day next preceding such Tuesday.

The Weekly Interest Rate shall be the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent shall not have determined a Weekly Interest Rate for any period, the Weekly Interest Rate shall be the same as the Weekly Interest Rate for the immediately preceding week. The first Weekly Interest Rate determined for each Weekly Interest Rate Period shall apply to the period commencing on the first day of the Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday. Thereafter, each Weekly Interest Rate shall apply to the period commencing on each Wednesday and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday, unless such Weekly Interest Rate Period shall end on a day other than Tuesday, in which event the last Weekly Interest Rate for such Weekly Interest Rate Period shall apply to the period commencing on the Wednesday preceding the last day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on such last day. In no event shall the Weekly Interest Rate exceed 18% per annum.

Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds shall be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Remarketing Agent of a written notice from the Company. Such notice (1) shall specify the effective date of such adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate, which shall be (A) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee), (B) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, and (C) in the case of an adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period, either the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period or the day immediately following the last day of the last Flexible Segment for each Bond in the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, all as determined in accordance with clause (1) or (2), respectively, under "—Flexible Interest Rate Period—Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates"; provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds shall have been called for redemption and such redemption shall not theretofore have been effected, the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period shall not precede such redemption date; and (2) if the adjustment is from a Term Interest Rate Period having a duration in excess of one year, shall be accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such adjustment.

Notice of Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The Trustee shall give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period. Such notice shall state (1) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "—Rescission of Election"), (2) the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period, (3) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (4) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (5) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (6) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

Term Interest Rate Period

Determination of Term Interest Rate. During each Term Interest Rate Period, the Bonds shall bear interest at the Term Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent on a Business Day selected by the Remarketing Agent, but not more than 30 days prior to and not later than the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period.

The Term Interest Rate shall be the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent on such date, and communicated on such date to the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Company, as being the lowest rate (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If, for any reason, a Term Interest Rate for any Term Interest Rate Period shall not be determined or effective, then (1) if the then-current Term Interest Rate Period is for one year or less, the Rate Period for such Bonds will automatically convert to a Daily Interest Rate Period and (2) if the then-current Term Interest Rate Period is for more than one year, the Rate Period for the Bonds shall automatically adjust to a Term Interest Rate Period of one year and one day; provided, however, that if the last day of any successive Term Interest Rate Period shall not be a day immediately preceding a Business Day, then such successive Term Interest Rate Period shall end on the first day immediately preceding the Business Day next succeeding such day or, if such Term Interest Rate Period would end after the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds, the next succeeding Rate Period shall be a Term Interest Rate Period ending on the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds; provided, further, that in the case of clause (2) above, if the Company delivers to the Trustee a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the end of the then-effective Term Interest Rate Period, the Rate Period for the Bonds will adjust to a Daily Interest Rate Period. If the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any such Daily Interest Rate Period or a Daily Interest Rate Period described in clause (1) above is not determined as described under "—Daily Interest Rate Period—Determination of Daily Interest Rate," the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period shall be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). If a Term Interest Rate for any such Term Interest Rate Period described in clause (2) above is not determined as described in the second preceding sentence, the Term Interest Rate for such Term Interest Rate Period shall be 100% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). In no event shall any Term Interest Rate exceed 18% per annum.

Adjustment to or Continuation of Term Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds shall be adjusted to or continued as a Term Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Remarketing Agent of a written notice from the Company, which notice shall specify the duration of the Term Interest Rate Period during which the Bonds shall bear, or continue to bear, interest at a Term Interest Rate. Such notice may specify two or more consecutive Term Interest Rate Periods and, if it so specifies, shall specify the duration of each such Term Interest Rate Period as provided in this paragraph. Such notice shall specify the effective date of each Term Interest Rate Period, which shall be (1) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as shall be acceptable to the Trustee), (2) in the case of an adjustment from or continuation of a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, and (3) in the case of an adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period, either the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period or the day immediately following the last day of the last Flexible Segment for each Bond in the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, all as determined in accordance with clause (1) or (2), respectively, under "—Flexible Interest Rate Period—Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates"; provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election, any Bonds shall have been called for redemption and such redemption shall not have been effected, the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period shall not precede such redemption date. Such notice shall also specify (1) the last day of such Term Interest Rate Period (which shall be either the day preceding the maturity date of the Bonds or a day which both immediately precedes a Business Day and is at least one year after such effective date) and (2) unless such Term Interest Rate Period immediately succeeds a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration and is subject to the same optional redemption rights, shall be accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such adjustment.

If, by 20 days prior to the end of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, the Trustee has not received the Company's notice of an adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate Period, a Weekly Interest Rate Period, a Term Interest Rate Period or a Flexible Interest Rate Period, accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel, then (1) in the event the then-current Term Interest Rate Period is for one year or less, the Rate Period for the Bonds shall automatically convert to a Daily Interest Rate Period and (2) in the event the current Term Interest Rate Period is for more than one year, the Rate Period for the Bonds shall automatically adjust to a Term Interest Rate Period of one year and one day; provided, however, that if the last day of any successive Term Interest Rate Period shall not be a day immediately preceding a Business Day, then such successive Term Interest Rate Period shall end on the first day immediately preceding the Business Day next succeeding such day or, if such Term Interest Rate Period would end after the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds, the next succeeding Rate Period shall be a Term Interest Rate Period ending on the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds; provided, further, that in the case of clause (2) above, if the Company delivers to the Trustee a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the end of the then-effective Term Interest Rate Period, the Rate Period for the Bonds will adjust to a Daily Interest Rate Period. If the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any such Daily Interest Rate Period or a Daily Interest Rate Period described in clause (1) above is not determined as described under "—Daily Interest Rate Period—Determination of Daily Interest Rate," the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). If a Term Interest Rate for any such Term Interest Rate Period described in clause (2) above is not determined as described in the second preceding sentence, the Term Interest Rate for such Term Interest Rate Period shall be 100% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as the most comparable to The Bond Buyer).

The notice of an adjustment to or continuation of a Term Interest Rate may specify that such Term Interest Rate Period shall be automatically renewed for successive Term Interest Rate Periods each having the same duration as the Term Interest Rate Period so specified; provided, however, that such election must be accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such continuing automatic renewals of such Term Interest Rate Period. If such election is made, no opinion of Bond Counsel shall be required in connection with the commencement of each successive Term Interest Rate Period determined in accordance with such election.

Notice of Adjustment to or Continuation of Term Interest Rate Period. The Trustee shall give notice by mail of an adjustment to or continuation of a Term Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period. Such notice shall state (1) that the interest rate on the Bonds will be adjusted to, or continue to be, a Term Interest Rate (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "—Rescission of Election"), (2) the effective date and the last date of such Term Interest Rate Period, (3) that the Term Interest Rate for such Term Interest Rate Period will be determined not later than the effective date thereof, (4) how such Term Interest Rate may be obtained from the Remarketing Agent, (5) the Interest Payment Dates after such effective date, (6) that during such Term Interest Rate Period, the holders of such Bonds will not have the right to tender their Bonds for purchase, (7) that, except when the new Term Interest Rate Period is preceded by a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration, such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, and (8) the redemption provisions that will apply to the Bonds during such Term Interest Rate Period.

Flexible Interest Rate Period

Determination of Flexible Segments and Flexible Interest Rates. During each Flexible Interest Rate Period, each Bond shall bear interest during each Flexible Segment for such Bond at the Flexible Interest Rate for such Bond. Each Flexible Segment for any Bond shall be a period ending on a day immediately preceding a Business Day, of not less than one nor more than 365 days determined by the Remarketing Agent to be, in its judgment, the period which, together with all other Flexible Segments for all Bonds then outstanding, is likely to result in the lowest overall net interest expense on such Bonds. Any Bond purchased on behalf of the Company and remaining unsold by the Remarketing Agent as of the close of business on the effective date of the Flexible Segment for such Bond will have a Flexible Segment of one day or, if such Flexible Segment would not end on a day immediately preceding a Business Day, a Flexible Segment of more than one day ending on the day immediately preceding the next Business Day. No Flexible Segment shall extend beyond the final maturity date of the Bonds.

The Flexible Interest Rate for each Flexible Segment for each Bond shall be the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) no later than the first day of such Flexible Segment (and in the case of a Flexible Segment of one day, no later than 12:30 p.m. New York time, on such date) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If a Flexible Segment or a Flexible Interest Rate for a Flexible Segment is not determined or effective, the Flexible Segment for such Bond shall be a Flexible Segment of one day, and the interest rate for such Flexible Segment of one day shall be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). In no event shall any Flexible Interest Rate exceed 18% per annum.

Adjustment to Flexible Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by the Bonds shall be adjusted to Flexible Interest Rates upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Remarketing Agent of a written notice from the Company. Such notice (1) shall specify the effective date of the Flexible Interest Rate Period which shall be (A) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as shall be acceptable to the Trustee) and (B) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period; provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption shall not theretofore have been effected, the effective date of the Flexible Interest Rate Period shall not precede such redemption date and (2) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period having a duration in excess of one year, shall be accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such adjustment. During each Flexible Interest Rate Period commencing on the date so specified (provided that the Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel described in clause (2) above, if required, is reaffirmed as of such date) and ending on the day immediately preceding the effective date of the next succeeding Rate Period, each Bond shall bear interest at a Flexible Interest Rate during each Flexible Segment for such Bond.

Notice of Adjustment to Flexible Interest Rate Period. The Trustee shall give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Flexible Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Flexible Interest Rate Period. Such notice shall state (1) that the interest rate on the Bonds will be adjusted to Flexible Interest Rates (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "—Rescission of Election"), (2) the effective date of such Flexible Interest Rate Period, (3) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on the effective date of such Flexible Interest Rate Period, (4) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, and (5) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates. At any time during a Flexible Interest Rate Period, the interest rate borne by the Bonds shall be adjusted from Flexible Interest Rates and the Bonds shall instead bear interest as otherwise permitted in the Indenture, upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Remarketing Agent of written notice from the Company specifying the Rate Period to follow with respect to such Bonds and instructing the Remarketing Agent to:

(1) determine Flexible Segments of such duration that, as soon as possible, all Flexible Segments shall end on the same date, not earlier than the eleventh day following the third Business Day (or such shorter period acceptable to the Trustee) following the receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of notice from the Company, which date shall be the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, and, upon the establishment of such Flexible Segments, the day next succeeding the last day of all such Flexible Segments shall be the effective date of the Rate Period elected by the Company; or

(2) determine Flexible Segments of such duration that will, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, best promote an orderly transition to the next succeeding Rate Period beginning not earlier than the eleventh day following the third Business Day (or such shorter period acceptable to the Trustee) after the receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice; provided, however, that if such next succeeding Rate Period is a Term Interest Rate Period, that such transition be completed before the end of such Term Interest Rate Period so that the Term Interest Rate Period for all of the Bonds shall end on the same date.

If the Company selects alternative (2) above, the day next succeeding the last day of the Flexible Segment for each Bond of an Issue shall be with respect to such Bond the effective date of the Rate Period elected by the Company. An adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period described in this paragraph may result in some of the Bonds bearing interest at a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate or Term Interest Rate while other Bonds continue to bear interest at Flexible Interest Rates until all Bonds are adjusted from the Flexible Interest Period.

Determination Conclusive

The determination of the various interest rates and Flexible Segments referred to above shall be conclusive and binding upon the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Issuer, the Company and the Owners of the Bonds.

Rescission of Election

The Company may rescind any election by it to adjust to or, in the case of a Term Interest Rate Period, continue a Rate Period prior to the effective date of such adjustment or continuation by giving written notice of rescission to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent and the Remarketing Agent prior to such effective date. At the time the Company gives notice of the rescission, it may also elect in such notice to continue the Rate Period then in effect; provided, however, that if the Rate Period then in effect is a Term Interest Rate Period, the subsequent Term Interest Rate Period shall not be of a different duration than the Term Interest Rate Period then in effect unless the Company provides to the Trustee a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the expiration of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission prior to the time the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of the change in or continuation of Rate Periods, then such notice of change in or continuation of Rate Periods shall be of no force and effect and shall not be given to the Owners. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission after the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of (i) an adjustment from any Rate Period other than a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year or (ii) an attempted adjustment from one Rate Period (other than a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year) to another Rate Period that does not become effective for any other reason, and if the Company does not elect to continue the Rate Period then in effect, then the Rate Period for the Bonds shall automatically adjust to or continue in a Daily Interest Rate Period and the Trustee shall immediately give notice thereof to the Owners of the Bonds. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission after the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year to another Rate Period (including a Term Interest Rate Period of a different duration), or if an attempted adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year to another Rate Period (including a Term Interest Rate Period of a different duration) does not become effective for any reason and if the Company does not elect to continue the Term Interest Rate Period then in effect, then the Rate Period for the Bonds shall continue to be a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration as the immediately preceding Term Interest Rate Period, subject to the second proviso contained in the paragraph above under "—Term Interest Rate Period—Determination of Term Interest Rate"; provided that if the Company delivers to the Trustee a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the end of the then effective Term Interest Rate Period, the Rate Period for the Bonds shall be as directed by the Company in writing. If a Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any Daily Interest Rate Period to which a Rate Period is adjusted in accordance with this paragraph is not determined as described in "—Daily Interest Rate Period—Determination of Daily Interest Rate," the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period shall be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). The Trustee shall immediately give written notice of each such automatic adjustment to a Rate Period as described in this paragraph to the Owners.

Notwithstanding the rescission by the Company of any notice to adjust or continue a Rate Period, if notice has been given to Owners of such adjustment or continuation, the Bonds shall be subject to mandatory purchase as specified in such notice.

Optional Purchase

Daily Interest Rate Period. During any Daily Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) shall be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee, not later than 11:00 a.m., New York time, on such Business Day, of an irrevocable written or telephonic notice, which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be purchased and the date of such purchase; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a member or participant in a "signature guarantee program" as provided in the form of assignment attached to such Bond to the Delivery Office of the Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on such purchase date.

Weekly Interest Rate Period. During any Weekly Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) shall be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Wednesday, or if such Wednesday is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee of an irrevocable written notice or telephonic notice (promptly confirmed in writing) by 5:00 p.m., New York time, on any Business Day, which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be purchased and the date on which such Bond is to be purchased, which date shall not be prior to the seventh day next succeeding the date of the delivery of such notice to the Trustee; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a member or participant in a "signature guarantee program" as provided in the form of assignment attached to such Bond to the Delivery Office of the Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on the purchase date specified in such notice.

Term Interest Rate Period. Any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) shall be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on the first day of any Term Interest Rate Period that follows a Term Interest Rate Period of equal duration, at a purchase price equal to (1) if the Bond is purchased on or prior to the Record Date, 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of purchase to the date of purchase (unless the date of purchase shall be an Interest Payment Date in which case the purchase price shall be equal to the principal amount thereof) or (2) if the Bond is purchased after the Record Date, 100% of the principal amount thereof, upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee on any Business Day not less than 15 days before the purchase date of an irrevocable notice in writing by 5:00 p.m., New York time, which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be so tendered for purchase; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a member or participant in a "signature guarantee program" as provided in the form of assignment attached to such Bond to the Delivery Office of the Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on the date of such purchase.

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE BONDS THROUGH ITS DIRECT PARTICIPANT (AS HEREINAFTER DEFINED) SHALL GIVE NOTICE TO THE TRUSTEE TO ELECT TO HAVE SUCH BONDS PURCHASED, AND SHALL EFFECT DELIVERY OF SUCH BONDS BY CAUSING SUCH DIRECT PARTICIPANT TO TRANSFER ITS INTEREST IN THE BONDS EQUAL TO SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNER'S INTEREST ON THE RECORDS OF DTC TO THE TRUSTEE'S PARTICIPANT ACCOUNT WITH DTC. THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE SHALL BE DEEMED SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DTC PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE "—Book-Entry System."

Mandatory Purchase

The Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the purchase date described below, upon the occurrence of any of the events stated below:

(a) as to any Bond, on the effective date of any change in a Rate Period, other than the effective date of a Term Interest Rate Period which was preceded by a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration; or

(b) as to each Bond in a Flexible Interest Rate Period, on the day next succeeding the last day of any Flexible Segment with respect to such Bond.

When Bonds are subject to redemption pursuant to paragraph (c) below under "—Optional Redemption of Bonds," the Bonds are also subject to mandatory purchase on a day that the Bonds would be subject to redemption, at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus an amount equal to any premium which would have been payable on such redemption date had the Bonds been redeemed if the Company gives notice to the Trustee on the day prior to the redemption date that it elects to have the Bonds purchased in lieu of redemption. If the Bonds are purchased on or prior to the Record Date, the purchase price shall include accrued interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of purchase to the date of purchase (unless the date of purchase shall be an Interest Payment Date, in which case the purchase price shall be equal to the amount specified in the preceding sentence). If the Bonds are purchased after the Record Date, the purchase price shall not include accrued interest.

Purchase of Bonds

On the date on which Bonds are delivered to the Trustee for purchase as specified above under "—Optional Purchase" or "—Mandatory Purchase," the Trustee shall pay the purchase price of such Bonds solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, and the Trustee has no obligation to use funds from any other source:

- (a) proceeds from the remarketing and sale of such Bonds;
- (b) moneys furnished by the Trustee upon defeasance of such Bonds, such moneys to be applied only to the purchase of Bonds which are deemed to be defeased; and
- (c) any other moneys furnished by the Company to the Trustee for purchase of the Bonds;

provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds shall be derived only from the sources described in (a) and (b) above, in such order of priority.

Remarketing of Bonds

The Remarketing Agent shall offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket any Bond subject to purchase pursuant to the optional or mandatory purchase provisions described above, any such remarketing to be made at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the purchase date. The Company may direct the Remarketing Agent from time to time to cease and to resume sales efforts with respect to some or all of the Bonds.

Optional Redemption of Bonds

The Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Company, in whole, or in part by lot, prior to their maturity as follows:

- (a) On any Business Day during a Daily Interest Rate Period or Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Bonds may be redeemed at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption.
- (b) During any Flexible Interest Rate Period, each Bond may be redeemed on the day next succeeding the last day of each Flexible Segment for such Bond at a redemption price equal to 100% of its principal amount.
- (c) During any Term Interest Rate Period and on the day next succeeding the last day of each Term Interest Rate Period, the Bonds may be redeemed during the periods specified below, in whole or in part at any time, at the redemption prices set forth below plus accrued interest, if any, to the redemption date:

Length of Term Interest Rate Period	Redemption Dates and Prices
Greater than 13 years	At any time on or after the 10th anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 102% declining 1% annually to 100%
Greater than 10 and less	At any time on or after the 5th anniversary of the effective date than or equal to 13 years of the Term Interest Rate Period at 102% declining 1% annually to 100%
Greater than 7 and less	At any time on or after the 3rd anniversary of the effective date than or equal to 10 years of the Term Interest Rate Period at 102% declining 1% annually to 100%
Greater than 4 and less	At any time on or after the 2nd anniversary of the effective date than or equal to 7 years of the Term Interest Rate Period at 101% declining 1/2% annually to 100%
Greater than 2 and less	At any time on or after the 2nd anniversary of the effective date than or equal to 4 years of the Term Interest Rate Period at 101% declining 1/2% each six months thereafter to 100%
Greater than 1 and less	At any time on or after the 1st anniversary of the effective date than or equal to 2 years of the Term Interest Rate Period at 100-1/2% declining 1/2% six months thereafter to 100%
Less than or equal to 1 year	Not redeemable

With respect to any Term Interest Rate Period, the Company may specify in the notice described above in the third paragraph under "—Term Interest Rate Period—Adjustment to or Continuation of Term Interest Rate Period" redemption provisions, prices and periods other than those set forth above; provided, however, that such notice shall be accompanied by a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel.

Extraordinary Optional Redemption of Bonds

At any time, the Bonds shall be subject to redemption at the option of the Company in whole or in part (and if in part, by lot), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, upon receipt by the Trustee of a written notice from the Company stating that any of the following events has occurred and that the Company therefore intends to exercise its option to prepay the payments due under the Loan Agreement in whole or in part and thereby effect the redemption of the Bonds in whole or in part to the extent of such prepayments:

(i) the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the Plant is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable for any reason; or

(ii) the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the Project and the Prior Project is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable due to (A) the imposition of taxes, other than ad valorem taxes currently levied upon privately owned property used for the same general purpose as the Project and the Prior Project, or other liabilities or burdens with respect to the Project and the Prior Project or the operation thereof, (B) changes in technology, in environmental standards or legal requirements or in the economic availability of materials, supplies, equipment or labor or (C) destruction of or damage to all or part of the Project and the Prior Project; or

(iii) all or substantially all of the Project and the Prior Project or the Plant shall have been condemned or taken by eminent domain; or

(iv) the operation of the Project and the Prior Project or the Plant shall have been enjoined or shall have otherwise been prohibited by, or shall conflict with, any order, decree, rule or regulation of any court or of any federal, state or local regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental body.

Special Mandatory Redemption of Bonds

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption in whole within 180 days following a "Determination of Taxability" as defined below; provided that, if in the opinion of Bond Counsel delivered to the Trustee, the redemption of a specified portion of the Bonds outstanding would have the result that interest payable on the Bonds remaining outstanding after such redemption would remain Tax-Exempt, then the Bonds shall be redeemed in part by lot (in Authorized Denominations) in such amount as Bond Counsel in such opinion shall have determined is necessary to accomplish that result. A "Determination of Taxability" shall be deemed to have occurred if, as a result of an Event of Taxability (as defined below), a final decree or judgment of any federal court or a final action of the Internal Revenue Service determines that interest paid or payable on any Bond is or was includable in the gross income of an owner of the Bonds for federal income tax purposes under the Code (other than an owner who is a "substantial user" or "related person" within the meaning of either Section 147(a) of the Code or Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code. However, no such decree or action will be considered final for this purpose unless the Company has been given written notice and, if it is so desired and is legally allowed, has been afforded the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of any owner of a Bond, and until conclusion of any appellate review, if sought. If the Trustee receives written notice from any owner stating (i) that the owner has been notified in writing by the Internal Revenue Service that it proposes to include the interest on any Bond in the gross income of such owner for the reasons described therein or any other proceeding has been instituted against such owner which may lead to a final decree or action as described in the Loan Agreement, and (ii) that such owner will afford the Company the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of the owner, until a conclusion of any appellate review, if sought, then the Trustee shall promptly give notice thereof to the Company, the Issuer and the owner of each Bond then outstanding. If a final decree or action as described above thereafter occurs and the Trustee has received written notice thereof at least 45 days prior to the redemption date, the Trustee shall make the required demand for prepayment of the amounts payable under the Loan Agreement for prepayment of the Bonds and give notice of the redemption of the Bonds at the earliest practical date, but not later than the date specified in the Loan Agreement, and in the manner provided by the Indenture. An "Event of Taxability" means the failure of the Company to observe any covenant, agreement or representation in the Loan Agreement, which failure results in a Determination of Taxability.

Procedure for and Notice of Redemption

If less than all of the Bonds are called for redemption, the particular Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed shall be selected by the Trustee, by lot. In selecting Bonds for redemption, the Trustee shall treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds which is obtained by dividing the principal amount of each Bond by the minimum Authorized Denomination. Any Bonds selected for redemption which are deemed to be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture will cease to bear interest on the date fixed for redemption. Subject to the procedures described below under "—Book-Entry System" for Bonds held in book-entry form, upon presentation and surrender of such Bonds at the place or places of payment, such Bonds shall be paid. Notice of redemption shall be given by mail as provided in the Indenture, at least 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, provided that the failure to duly give notice by mailing to any Owner, or any defect therein, shall not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of any Bonds in respect of which no such failure has occurred.

With respect to notice of any optional redemption of the Bonds, as described above, unless upon the giving of such notice, such Bonds shall be deemed to have been paid within the meaning of the Indenture, such notice may state that such redemption is conditional upon the receipt by the Trustee, on or prior to the date fixed for such redemption, of moneys sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds to be redeemed. If such moneys are not so received, the redemption shall not be made and the Trustee shall give notice, in the manner in which the notice of redemption was given, that such redemption will not take place.

Book-Entry System

The following information in this section concerning DTC and DTC's book-entry system has been obtained from sources (including DTC) that the Company believes to be reliable, but none of the Company, the Issuer or the Underwriter takes any responsibility for the accuracy of such information.

The Depository Trust Company ("DTC"), New York, New York, will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds will be issued as fully registered bonds registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for DTC. One fully registered Bond certificate will be issued in the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds and will be deposited with DTC.

DTC is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. DTC holds securities that its participants ("Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the settlement among Participants of securities transactions, such as transfers and pledges, in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry changes in Participants' accounts, thereby eliminating the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants (the "Direct Participants") include securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations, and certain other organizations. DTC is owned by a number of its Direct Participants and by the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., the American Stock Exchange, Inc., and the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as securities brokers and dealers, banks, and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly ("Indirect Participants"). The Rules applicable to DTC and its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC's records. The ownership interest of each Beneficial Owner is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants' records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase, but Beneficial Owners are expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in the Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC's partnership nominee, Cede & Co. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co. effect no change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC's records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time.

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, redemption notices shall be sent to Cede & Co. If less than all of the Bonds are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such Issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to the Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, principal or purchase price of and premium, if any, and interest payments on, the Bonds will be made to DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts on the applicable payment date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records unless DTC has reason to believe that it will not receive payment on such date. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, the Company, the Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Underwriter, the Remarketing Agent or the Issuer, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of principal, purchase price, premium and interest with respect to the Bonds to DTC is the responsibility of the Issuer or the Paying Agent, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants shall be the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners shall be the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

A Beneficial Owner, through a Direct Participant acting on behalf of such Beneficial Owner or an Indirect Participant acting on behalf of such Beneficial Owner, shall give notice to the Trustee of its election to have Bonds tendered for purchase, and shall effect delivery of such Bonds by causing the Direct Participant to transfer on DTC's records the Direct Participant's interest in the Bonds to the Trustee. The requirement for physical delivery of Bonds in connection with an optional or mandatory purchase will be deemed satisfied when the ownership rights in such Bonds are transferred by Direct Participants to the account of the Trustee on DTC's records.

DTC may discontinue providing its services as securities depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Issuer or the Trustee. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor securities depository is not obtained, Bond certificates are required to be printed and delivered. The Company may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bond certificates will be printed and delivered.

None of the Issuer, the Company, the Underwriter, the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee nor the Paying Agent will have any responsibility or obligation to any securities depository, any Participants in the Book-Entry System or the Beneficial Owners with respect to (i) the accuracy of any records maintained by the securities depository or any Participant; (ii) the payment by the securities depository or by any Participant of any amount due to any Beneficial Owner in respect of the principal amount or redemption of, or interest on, any Bonds; (iii) the delivery of any notice by the securities depository or any Participant; (iv) the selection of the Beneficial Owners to receive payment in the event of any partial redemption of the Bonds; or (v) any other action taken by the securities depository or any Participant.

THE LOAN AGREEMENT

The following is a summary of certain provisions of the Loan Agreement. Reference is hereby made to the Loan Agreement in its entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Issuance of the Bonds

The Issuer is issuing the Bonds for the purposes of loaning the proceeds thereof to the Company to finance a portion of the Company's cost of the Project and of refunding the Prior Bonds. It is expected that $18,600,000 of the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds will be deposited with the trustee for the 1990A Prior Bonds and invested in permitted investments to provide for the payment of the 1990A Prior Bonds upon the redemption thereof, that $2,185,851 of the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds, together with funds of the Company, will be applied to the redemption of the 1995-T Prior Bonds and that $3,614,149 of the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds will be paid to the Trustee for deposit into a Construction Fund established pursuant to the Indenture.

Loan Payments

As and for repayment of the loan made to the Company by the Issuer, the Company will pay to the Trustee, for the account of the Issuer, an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due on the dates, in the amounts and in the manner provided in the Indenture for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise (the "Loan Payments"); provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such Loan Payment will be reduced by the amount of any moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture and available for such payment.

In the event that the Company fails to make timely payments to the Trustee under the Loan Agreement, the payment so in default will continue as an obligation of the Company until the amount in default shall have been fully paid, and the Company will pay interest on any overdue amount with respect to the principal of such Bonds and, to the extent permitted by law, on any overdue amount with respect to premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds, at the interest rate borne by such Bonds until paid.

The payments to be made by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement will be pledged under the Indenture by the Issuer to the Trustee, and the Company is to make all payments thereunder and thereon directly to the Trustee.

Payments of Purchase Price

The Company will pay or cause to be paid to the Trustee amounts equal to the amounts to be paid by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of outstanding Bonds thereunder (see "The Bonds—Optional Purchase" and "—Mandatory Purchase"), such amounts to be paid to the Trustee as the purchase price for the Bonds tendered for purchase pursuant to the Indenture, on the dates such payments are to be made; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment under the Loan Agreement shall be reduced by the amount of any moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture and available for such payment.

Obligation Absolute

The Company's obligation to make payments under the Loan Agreement will be absolute, irrevocable and unconditional and will not be subject to cancellation, termination or abatement, or to any defense other than payment, or to any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment arising out of any breach under the Loan Agreement or the Indenture or otherwise by the Company, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent or any other party or out of any obligation or liability at any time owing to the Company by any such party.

Expenses

The Company is obligated to pay reasonable compensation and to reimburse certain expenses and advances of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent, Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's") and Standard & Poor's Ratings Group ("S&P") directly to such entities. The Company shall also pay all expenses of the prior trustees in connection with the refunding of the Prior Bonds.

Tax Covenants; Tax-Exempt Status of Bonds

The Company covenants that the Bond proceeds, the earnings thereon and other moneys on deposit with respect to the Bonds will not be used in such a manner as to cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of the Code.

The Company covenants that it has not taken, and will not take, or permit to be taken on its behalf, any action which would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds and will take, or require to be taken, such action as may, from time to time, be required under applicable law or regulation to continue to cause the Bonds to be Tax-Exempt. See "Tax Exemption."

Other Covenants of the Company

Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted. The Company shall maintain in good standing its corporate existence as a corporation organized under the laws of one of the states of the United States or the District of Columbia and will remain duly qualified to do business in the State of Wyoming, will not dissolve or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets and will not consolidate with or merge into another corporation; provided, however, that the Company may, without violating the foregoing, undertake from time to time any one or more of the following: (a) consolidate with or merge into another domestic corporation (i.e., a corporation incorporated and existing under the laws of one of the states of the United States or of the District of Columbia), or sell or otherwise transfer to another domestic corporation all or substantially all of its assets as an entirety and thereafter dissolve, provided the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation, as the case may be, shall be the Company or a corporation qualified to do business in the State of Wyoming as a foreign corporation or incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of Wyoming, which as a result of the transaction shall have assumed (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement; or (b) convey all or substantially all of its assets to one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company so long as the Company shall remain in existence and primarily liable on all of its obligations under the Loan Agreement and such subsidiary or subsidiaries to which such assets shall be so conveyed shall guarantee in writing the performance of all of the Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement.

Assignment. The Company's interest in the Loan Agreement may be assigned in whole or in part by the Company to another entity, subject, however, to the conditions that no assignment shall (a) adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds or (b) relieve (other than as described in the preceding paragraph) the Company from primary liability for its obligations to make the Loan Payments or to make payments to the Trustee with respect to payment of the purchase price of the Bonds or for any other of its obligations under the Loan Agreement; and subject further to the condition that the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an opinion of counsel to the Company that such assignment complies with the provisions described in this paragraph and an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that the proposed assignment will not impair the validity of the Bonds under the Act or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds. The Company shall, within 30 days after the delivery thereof, furnish to the Issuer and the Trustee a true and complete copy of the agreements or other documents effectuating any such assignment.

Maintenance and Repair; Taxes, Etc. The Company shall maintain the Project and the Prior Project in good repair, keep the same insured in accordance with standard industry practice and pay all costs thereof. The Company shall pay or cause to be paid all taxes, special assessments and governmental, utility and other charges with respect to the Project and the Prior Project.

The Company may at its own expense cause the Facilities to be remodeled or cause such substitutions, modifications and improvements to be made to the Facilities from time to time as the Company, in its discretion, may deem to be desirable for its uses and purposes, which remodeling, substitutions, modifications and improvements shall be included under the terms of the Loan Agreement as part of the Facilities; provided, however, that the Company shall not exercise any such right, power, election or option if the proposed remodeling, substitution, modification or improvement would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

Anything in the Loan Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, the Company shall have the right at any time to cause the operation of the Facilities to be terminated if the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the Project, the Prior Project or the Facilities is uneconomical for any reason.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an "Event of Default" under the Loan Agreement:

(a) a failure by the Company to make when due any Loan Payment or any payment required to be made to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, which failure shall have resulted in an "Event of Default" as described herein in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) under "The Indenture—Defaults";

(b) a failure by the Company to pay when due any amount required to be paid under the Loan Agreement or to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement on the Company's part to be observed or performed under the Loan Agreement (other than a failure described in clause (a) above), which failure continues for a period of 60 days (or such longer period as the Issuer and the Trustee may agree to in writing) after written notice given to the Company by the Trustee or to the Company and the Trustee by the Issuer; provided, however, that if such failure is other than for the payment of money and cannot be corrected within the applicable period, such failure shall not constitute an Event of Default so long as the Company institutes corrective action within the applicable period and such action is being diligently pursued; or

(c) certain events of bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Company.

The Loan Agreement provides that, with respect to any Event of Default described in clause (b) above if, by reason of acts of God, strikes, orders of political bodies, certain natural disasters, civil disturbances and certain other events specified in the Loan Agreement, or any cause or event not reasonably within the control of the Company, the Company is unable in whole or in part to carry out one or more of its agreements or obligations contained in the Loan Agreement (other than certain obligations specified in the Loan Agreement, including its obligations to make when due Loan Payments, payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, to pay certain expenses and taxes, to indemnify the Issuer, the Trustee and others against certain liabilities, to discharge liens and to maintain its existence), the Company shall not be deemed in default by reason of not carrying out such agreements or performing such obligations during the continuance of such inability.

Remedies

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default described in (a) or (c) in the second preceding paragraph, and further upon the condition that, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Bonds shall have been declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Indenture, the Loan Payments shall, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable. Any waiver of any Event of Default under the Indenture and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or

Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof. See "The Indenture—Defaults."

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Loan Agreement, the Issuer may take any action at law or in equity to collect any payments then due and thereafter to become due, or to seek injunctive relief or specific performance of any obligation, agreement or covenant of the Company under the Loan Agreement.

Any amounts collected from the Company upon an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement will be applied in accordance with the Indenture.

Amendments

The Loan Agreement may be amended by the Issuer and the Company subject to the limitations contained in the Indenture. See "The Indenture—Amendment of the Loan Agreement."

THE INDENTURE

The following is a summary of certain provisions of the Indenture. Reference is hereby made to the Indenture in its entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Pledge and Security

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Loan Payments will be pledged by the Issuer to secure the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and all other amounts payable under the Indenture. The Issuer will also pledge and assign to the Trustee all its rights and interests under the Loan Agreement (other than its rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses and certain other rights), and has pledged to the Trustee all moneys and obligations deposited or to be deposited in the Bond Fund established with the Trustee; provided that the Trustee will have a prior claim on the Bond Fund for the payment of its compensation and expenses and for the repayment of any advances (plus interest thereon) made by it to effect performance of certain covenants in the Indenture if the Company has failed to make any payment which results in an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement.

Construction Fund

A portion of the net proceeds from the sale of the Bonds will be deposited in a Construction Fund established with the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture. Payments will be made from the Construction Fund upon requisition by the Company to pay costs incurred in connection with the acquisition, construction and installation of the Project. See "Use of Proceeds" above.

Bond Fund

There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund to be held by the Trustee and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. Payments made by the Company under the Loan Agreement in respect of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and certain other amounts specified in the Indenture are to be deposited in the appropriate account in the Bond Fund. While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in a Tax Exemption Certificate and Agreement among the Trustee, the Issuer and the Company (the "Tax Certificate"), moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds as the same shall become due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or upon acceleration of maturity, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee, to the extent described above in "—Pledge and Security."

Investment of Funds

Subject to the provisions of the Tax Certificate, moneys in the Bond Fund and the Construction Fund will, at the direction of the Company, be invested in securities or obligations specified in the Indenture. Gains from such investments will be credited, and any loss will be charged, to the particular fund or account from which the investments were made.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an "Event of Default" under the Indenture:

(a) a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on any of the Bonds when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise;

(b) a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds for a period of one day after such interest has become due and payable;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due in respect of the purchase price of Bonds as provided under the captions "The Bonds—Optional Purchase" and "—Mandatory Purchase";

(d) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any covenant, condition, agreement or provision contained in the Bonds or the Indenture (other than a failure described in clause (a), (b) or (c) above), which failure shall continue for a period of 90 days after written notice has been given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee, which notice may be given at the discretion of the Trustee and must be given at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, unless such period is extended prior to its expiration by the Trustee, or by the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, will be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer, or the Company on behalf of the Issuer, within such period and is being diligently pursued; or

(e) an "Event of Default" under the Loan Agreement.

Remedies

Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b) or (c) of the preceding paragraph or an Event of Default described in clause (e) of the preceding paragraph resulting from an "Event of Default" under the Loan Agreement as described under clause (a) or (c) of "The Loan Agreement—Defaults" herein, then the Trustee may (and upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding shall), by written notice by first-class mail to the Issuer and the Company, declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, whereupon the Bonds shall, without further action, become immediately due and payable.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraph are subject to the condition that if, after the principal of the Bonds shall have been so declared to be due and payable and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due shall have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer shall cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds, any unpaid purchase price and the principal of any and all Bonds which shall have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as shall be sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default under the Indenture (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which shall have become due by said declaration) shall have been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer and the Company and shall give notice thereof to Owners of the Bonds by first-class mail; provided, however, that no such waiver, rescission and annulment shall extend to or affect any other Event of Default or subsequent Event of Default or impair any right, power or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Indenture, the Trustee may, and upon the written direction of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) shall, pursue any available remedy to enforce the rights of the Owners of the Bonds and require the Company or the Issuer to carry out any agreements, bring suit upon the Bonds, require the Issuer to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the Owners of the Bonds or enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the Owners of the Bonds. The Trustee is not required to take any action in respect of an Event of Default (other than, in certain circumstances, to declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, to make certain payments with respect to the Bonds or to enforce the trusts created by the Indenture) except upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and receipt of indemnity satisfactory to it.

The Owners of a majority in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings available to the Trustee under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee upon furnishing satisfactory indemnity to the Trustee (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) and provided that such direction shall not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner of any Bond will have any right to institute any suit, action or proceeding in equity or at law for the execution of any trust or power of the Trustee unless such Owner has previously given the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding have made written request of the Trustee so to do, and unless satisfactory indemnity (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) has been offered to the Trustee and the Trustee has not complied with such request within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of any Owner to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Owner's Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of Bonds.

Defeasance

All or any portions of Bonds (in Authorized Denominations) shall, prior to the maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid for all purposes of the Indenture when:

(a) in the event such Bonds or portions thereof have been selected for redemption, the Trustee shall have given, or the Company shall have given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, notice of redemption of such Bonds or portions thereof;

(b) there shall have been deposited with the Trustee moneys in an amount sufficient (without relying on any investment income) to pay when due the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due and to become due (which amount of interest to become due shall be calculated at 18% per annum unless the interest rate borne by all of such Bonds is not subject to adjustment prior to the maturity or redemption thereof, in which case the amount of interest shall be calculated at the rate borne by such Bonds) on such Bonds or portions thereof on and prior to the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be;

(c) in the event such Bonds or portions thereof do not mature and are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, the Issuer at the direction of the Company shall have given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, as soon as practicable in the same manner as a notice of redemption is given pursuant to the Indenture, a notice to the Owners of such Bonds or portions thereof that the deposit required by clause (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that such Bonds or portions thereof are deemed to have been paid and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds or portions thereof; and

(d) the Trustee shall have received a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such deposit.

Moneys deposited with the Trustee as described above shall not be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and shall be held in trust for, the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds or portions thereof, or for the payment of the purchase price of Bonds in accordance with the Indenture; provided that such moneys, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be invested and reinvested in direct obligations of, or obligations the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed as to full and timely payment by, the United States of America, which are not subject to redemption or prepayment prior to stated maturity ("Government Obligations") maturing on or prior to the earlier of (a) the date moneys may be required for the purchase of Bonds or (b) the Interest Payment Date next succeeding the date of investment or reinvestment, and interest earned from such investments shall be paid over to the Company, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

In the event the requirements of the next to the last sentence of the next succeeding paragraph can be satisfied, the preceding two paragraphs shall not apply and the following two paragraphs shall be applicable.

Any Bond shall be deemed to be paid within the meaning of the Indenture when (a) payment of the principal of and premium, if any, on such Bond, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof (whether such due date is by reason of maturity or acceleration or upon redemption as provided in the Indenture) either (i) shall have been made or caused to be made in accordance with the terms thereof or (ii) shall have been provided for by irrevocably depositing with the Trustee in trust and irrevocably set aside exclusively for such payment, (1) moneys sufficient to make such payment and/or (2) Government Obligations maturing as to principal and interest in such amount and at such time as will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment; (b) all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Issuer, the Trustee and the Registrar pertaining to the Bonds with respect to which such deposit is made shall have been paid or the payment thereof provided for to the satisfaction of the Trustee; and (c) an accountant's opinion to the effect that such moneys and/or Government Obligations will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment, and a Favorable Opinion of Bond Counsel with respect to such deposit shall have been delivered to the Trustee. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply only if (x) the Bond with respect to which such deposit is made is to mature or be called for redemption prior to the next succeeding date on which such Bond is subject to purchase as described herein under the captions "The Bonds—Optional Purchase" and "—Mandatory Purchase" and (y) the Company waives, to the satisfaction of the Trustee, its right to convert the interest rate borne by such Bond.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, no deposit under clause (a)(ii) of the immediately preceding paragraph shall be deemed a payment of such Bonds as aforesaid until: (a) proper notice of redemption of such Bonds shall have been previously given in accordance with the Indenture, or in the event such Bonds are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, until the Company shall have given the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, irrevocable instructions to notify, as soon as practicable, the Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, that the deposit required by clause (a) (ii) above has been made with the Trustee and that such Bonds are deemed to have been paid in accordance with the Indenture and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and the applicable redemption premium, if any, on such Bonds, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof; or (b) the maturity of such Bonds.

The provisions of the Indenture relating to (i) the registration and exchange of Bonds, (ii) the delivery of Bonds to the Trustee for purchase and the related obligations of the Trustee with respect thereto, (iii) replacement of mutilated, lost, destroyed or stolen Bonds and (iv) payment of the Bonds from such moneys shall remain in full force and effect with respect to all Bonds until the maturity date of the Bonds or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds prior to maturity, notwithstanding that all or any portion of the Bonds are deemed to be paid.

Removal of Trustee

The Trustee may be removed at any time by filing with the Trustee so removed, and with the Issuer, the Company, the Registrar and the Remarketing Agent, an instrument or instruments in writing executed by the Owners of not less than a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding. The Trustee may also be removed by the Issuer under certain circumstances.

Modifications and Amendments

The Indenture may be modified or amended by the Issuer and the Trustee by supplemental indenture without the consent of the Owners of the Bonds for any of the following purposes: (a) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in the Indenture; (b) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Indenture or of the Company contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company which, in the judgment of the Trustee, is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; (c) to confirm, as further assurance, any pledge of or lien on any property subjected or to be subjected to the lien of the Indenture; (d) to comply with the requirements of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; (e) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture or any supplemental indenture in any other respect which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; (f) to implement a conversion of the interest rate on the Bonds; (g) to provide for a letter of credit, standby bond purchase agreement, bond insurance policy or any other instrument or device to provide security or liquidity support for the Bonds; (h) to provide for a depository to accept tendered Bonds in lieu of the Trustee; (i) to modify or eliminate the book-entry registration system for any of the Bonds; (j) to provide for uncertificated Bonds or for the issuance of coupons and bearer Bonds or Bonds registered only as to principal, but only to the extent that such would not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (k) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category (as defined in the Indenture) and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (l) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies; (m) to provide for the appointment of a successor Trustee, Registrar or Paying Agent; (n) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (o) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; and (p) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture in any other respect (which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners), if the effective date of such supplemental indenture or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased.

Before the Issuer and the Trustee shall enter into any supplemental indenture as described above, there shall have been delivered to the Trustee and the Company an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms, and will not impair the validity of the Bonds under the Act or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Trustee shall provide written notice of any supplemental indenture to Moody's, S&P and the Owners of all Bonds then outstanding at least 30 days prior to the effective date of such supplemental indenture. Such notice shall state the effective date of such supplemental indenture, shall briefly describe the nature of such supplemental indenture and shall state that a copy thereof is on file at the principal office of the Trustee for inspection by the parties mentioned in the preceding sentence.

Except for supplemental indentures entered into for the purposes described in the third preceding paragraph, the Indenture will not be modified, altered, amended supplemented or rescinded without the consent of the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding, who shall have the right to consent to and approve any supplemental indenture; provided that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all the Bonds then affected thereby, there will not be permitted (a) a change in the times, amounts or currency of payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any Bond, a change in the terms of the purchase thereof by the Trustee, or a reduction in the principal amount or redemption price thereof or the rate of interest thereon, (b) the creation of a claim or lien on or a pledge of the receipts and revenues of the Issuer under the Loan Agreement ranking prior to or on a parity with the claim, lien or pledge created by the Indenture, or (c) a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds the consent of the Owners of which is required to approve any such supplemental indenture or which is required to approve any amendment to the Loan Agreement. No such amendment of the Indenture shall be effective without the prior written consent of the Company.

Without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds, the Issuer and the Company may modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement, and the Trustee may consent thereto, as may be required (a) by the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture; (b) for the purpose of curing any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity therein; (c) in connection with any other change therein which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; (d) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (e) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Loan Agreement or of the Company contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company, which shall not materially adversely affect the interest of the Owners of the Bonds; (f) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies; (g) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (h) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of interest on the Bonds; (i) to implement a conversion of the interest rate in the Bonds; (j) to provide for a letter of credit, standby bond purchase agreement, bond insurance policy or any other instrument or device to provide security or liquidity support for the Bonds; and (k) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement in any other respect (which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners), including amendments which would otherwise be described herein, if the effective date of such supplement or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased.

The Issuer and the Trustee will not consent to any other amendment, change or modification of the Loan Agreement without the written approval or consent of the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time outstanding; provided, however, that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all Bonds affected thereby, nothing in the Indenture shall permit, or be construed as permitting, a change in the obligations of the Company to make Loan Payments or payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds.

Before the Issuer shall enter into, and the Trustee shall consent to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the two immediately preceding paragraphs, there shall have been delivered to the Issuer and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Act, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

LITIGATION

There is no pending or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, threatened litigation against the Issuer that in any way questions or materially affects the Bonds, the validity or enforceability of the Loan Agreement or the Indenture or any proceedings or transactions relating to the issuance, sale or delivery of the Bonds or that may materially adversely affect the redemption of the Prior Bonds.

UNDERWRITING

Pursuant to and subject to the conditions set forth in the Bond Purchase Agreement, Goldman, Sachs & Co., as Underwriter, has agreed to purchase the Bonds from the Issuer at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Underwriter is committed to purchase all of the Bonds if any are purchased. The Company has agreed to pay the Underwriter a fee of $100,000 in connection with such purchase, and to reimburse the Underwriter for its reasonable expenses. The Company has also agreed to indemnify the Underwriter against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws. The Underwriter may offer and sell the Bonds to certain dealers and others at prices lower than the initial offering price stated on the cover page hereof. After the initial public offering, the public offering prices may be changed from time to time by the Underwriter.

In the ordinary course of its business, the Underwriter has engaged, and will in the future engage, in commercial and investment banking activities with the Company and certain of its affiliates.

TAX EXEMPTION

The Code and the 1954 Code, as applicable, contain a number of requirements and restrictions which apply to the Bonds, including investment restrictions, periodic payments of arbitrage profits to the United States, requirements regarding the proper use of bond proceeds and the facilities financed therewith, and certain other matters. The Company and the Issuer have covenanted to comply with all requirements of the Code and the 1954 Code that must be satisfied in order for the interest on the Bonds to be excludable from gross income for federal income tax purposes. Failure to comply with certain of such covenants could cause interest on all of the Bonds to become includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes retroactively to the date of issuance of the Bonds.

Subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with the above-referenced covenants, under present law, in the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds is not includable in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of any of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of either Section 147(a) of the Code or Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code). The interest on the Bonds is included, however, as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations.

In rendering its opinion, Bond Counsel will rely upon certifications of the Company with respect to certain material facts solely within the Company's knowledge relating to the Facilities and the application of the proceeds of the Bonds and the Prior Bonds.

An additional tax (the "environmental tax") is imposed on a corporation at a rate of 0.12 percent on the excess over $2,000,000 of such corporation's "modified alternative minimum taxable income," which would include a portion of the interest of the Bonds.

Under the provisions of Section 884 of the Code, a branch profits tax is levied on the "effectively converted earnings and profits" of certain foreign corporations, which include tax-exempt interest such as interest on the Bonds.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

If a Bond is purchased at any time for a price that is less than the Bond's stated redemption price at maturity, the purchaser will be treated as having purchased a Bond with market discount subject to the market discount rules of the Code (unless a statutory de minimis rule applies). Accrued market discount is treated as taxable ordinary income and is recognized when a Bond is disposed of (to the extent such accrued discount does not exceed gain realized) or, at the purchaser's election, as it accrues. The applicability of the market discount rules may adversely affect the liquidity or secondary market price of such Bond. Purchasers should consult their own tax advisors regarding the potential implications of market discount with respect to the Bonds.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to the Bonds. Bond Counsel expresses no opinion with respect to any other taxes imposed by the State of Wyoming or any political subdivision thereof. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other Wyoming tax consequences to certain taxpayers, and Bond Counsel expresses no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds.

Except as described above, Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to whether the Bonds will be subject to any state or local taxes under applicable state or local law. Prospective purchasers of Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding the applicability of any such state or local taxes.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the Bonds will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, and the Underwriter's obligation to purchase the Bonds is subject to the issuance of Bond Counsel's opinion with respect thereto. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Company by Stoel Rives, as counsel for the Company, and for the Underwriter by Ballard Spahr Andrews & Ingersoll. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Issuer by Sherry Farrens, Civil Deputy County Attorney.

Chapman and Cutler has represented other parties in matters involving subsidiaries of the Company where the legal fees of Chapman and Cutler have been paid by such subsidiaries and served as bond counsel for the Prior Bonds.

PROPOSED FORM OF OPINION OF BOND COUNSEL

[TO BE DATED CLOSING DATE]

Re: $24,400,000 Sweetwater County, Wyoming,
 Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds
 (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Wyoming, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995, in the aggregate principal amount of $24,400,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of (a) financing a portion of the cost of an undivided interest (the "Project") of PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"), in certain solid waste disposal facilities at the Jim Bridger coal-fired steam electric generating plant (the "Plant") in Sweetwater County, Wyoming, (b) refunding a portion of the Issuer's $3,000,000 outstanding Taxable Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1995-T (the "1995T Bonds") that were issued for the purpose of temporarily financing a portion of the cost of the Project, and (c) refunding the Issuer's $18,600,000 outstanding Environmental Improvement Revenue Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1990A (the "1990A Bonds") that were issued for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of the Company's undivided interest (the "1990A Project") in certain pollution control and solid waste disposal facilities at the Plant. A portion of the proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys to be provided by the Company, are to be deposited with the trustee for the 1990A Bonds to provide for the payment of the 1990A Bonds and with the trustee for the 1995T Bonds to provide for the payment of the 1995T Bonds. The balance of the proceeds of the Bonds are to be deposited with the trustee for the Bonds to pay certain costs of the Project and a portion of the costs of issuing the Bonds.

The Bonds mature on November 1, 2025, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to purchase and redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in authorized denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for such issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Wyoming now in force.

Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of November 1, 1995 (the "Loan Agreement"), between the Company and the Issuer, the Issuer has agreed to loan the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of the Project and of refunding the 1990A Bonds and the 1995T Bonds, and the Company has agreed to pay amounts at least sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, call for redemption or acceleration. The Loan Agreement (an executed counterpart of which has been examined by us) has, in our opinion, been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought.

We have also examined an executed counterpart of the Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1995 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as trustee (the "Trustee"), securing the Bonds and setting forth the covenants and undertakings of the Issuer in connection with the Bonds and making provision under certain conditions for the remarketing of the Bonds by a Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), for the determination of the interest rate to be borne by the Bonds from time to time, which interest rate may be a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate, a Flexible Interest Rate or a Term Interest Rate (each as defined in the Indenture), and for the conversion of the interest rate determination method under certain conditions. The Indenture provides that the Bonds will initially bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate until conversion to a different interest rate determination method. Under the Indenture, the revenues derived by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, together with certain of the rights of the Issuer thereunder, are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security for the Bonds. From such examination, we are of the opinion that the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above show lawful authority for the execution and delivery of the Indenture, that the Indenture is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought, that the Bonds have been validly issued under the Indenture, and that all requirements under the Indenture precedent to delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied.

We further certify that we have examined the form of bond prescribed in the Indenture and find the same in due form of law and in our opinion the Bonds, to the amount named, are valid and legally binding upon the Issuer according to the import thereof and, as provided in the Indenture and the Bonds, are payable by the Issuer solely out of payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and all moneys and investments held by the Trustee under the Indenture or otherwise available to the Trustee for the payment thereof.

It is our opinion that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), under present law, interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or the 1990A Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of either Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code or Section 147(a) of the Code); however, such interest on the Bonds is included as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations under the Code. Failure to comply with certain of such covenants could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income for federal income tax purposes retroactively to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers, and we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon certifications of the Company with respect to certain material facts solely within the Company's knowledge relating to the Project, the 1990A Project, the Plant and the application of the proceeds of the Bonds.

In our opinion, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. No opinion is expressed with respect to any other taxes imposed by the State of Wyoming or any political subdivision thereof. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other Wyoming tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds.

We express no opinion as to the title to, the description of, or the existence of any liens, charges or encumbrances on the Project, the 1990A Project or the Plant.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX D

PROPOSED FORM OF OPINION OF BOND COUNSEL

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit is authorized under the Loan Agreement and complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.

2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds and will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, we rendered our approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Trust Indenture, dated as of February 1, 2002, and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of February 1, 2002, described in our opinion dated February 20, 2002, (b) the delivery of an Irrevocable Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated as of February 20, 2002, (c) the delivery of an Irrevocable Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated September 15, 2004, (d) the delivery of the amendment to an earlier Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated November 30, 2005, (e) the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated May 17, 2012 and (f) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

REOFFERING-NOT NEW ISSUES

SUPPLEMENT, DATED MARCH 21, 2013, TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, DATED JANUARY 14, 1988

The opinions of Chapman and Cutler delivered on January 14, 1988, stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer of each issue of Bonds with certain covenants, under then-existing law (a) interest on each issue of Bonds will not be includible in gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended) and (b) interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax. Such opinions of Bond Counsel were also to the effect that under then-existing law the State of Wyoming imposed no income taxes which would be applicable to the Bonds. Such opinions have not been updated as of the date hereof. In the opinions of Bond Counsel to be delivered in connection with the delivery of the Replacement Letters of Credit, the delivery of the Replacement Letters of Credit will not cause the interest on the related Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED JANUARY 13, 1988, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED HERETO AS APPENDIX C (THE "ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT" AND, TOGETHER WITH THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, THE "OFFICIAL STATEMENT"), WAS PREPARED IN CONNECTION WITH THE OFFERING OF FIVE SEPARATE ISSUES OF BONDS RELATING TO THE COMPANY. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT RELATES ONLY TO THE THREE ISSUES OF BONDS DESCRIBED ON THE COVER PAGE HERETO.

THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT DOES NOT CONTAIN COMPLETE DESCRIPTIONS OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION WHICH IS SET FORTH IN THE ORIGINAL OFFICAL STATEMENT, EXCEPT WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A CHANGE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR MORE RECENT INFORMATION SINCE THE DATE OF THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT SHOULD THEREFORE BE READ ONLY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

This Supplement to Official Statement is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the reoffering of three separate issues of revenue refunding bonds (collectively, the "Bonds") in the aggregate principal amount of $102,700,000, issued by the respective issuers (individually, the "Issuer," and collectively, the "Issuers"), as follows:

- (i) $41,200,000 aggregate principal amount of City of Gillette, Campbell County, Wyoming Customized Purchase Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Projects), Series 1988 (the "Gillette Bonds");
- (ii) $50,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming Customized Purchase Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Projects), Series 1988A (the "Sweetwater 1988A Bonds"); and
- (iii) $11,500,000 aggregate principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming Customized Purchase Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project), Series 1988B (the "Sweetwater 1988B Bonds").

Each issue of the Bonds was issued pursuant to a Trust Indenture, dated as of January 1, 1988 (individually, an "Indenture," and collectively, the "Indentures"), between the respective Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. (successor in interest to The First National Bank of Chicago), as Trustee (the "Trustee"). The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds were loaned to PacifiCorp (the "Company") pursuant to the terms of a separate Loan Agreement for each issue of the Bonds, each dated as of January 1, 1988 (individually, an "Agreement," and collectively, the "Agreements"), each between the respective Issuer and the Company. Under the Agreement, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds

(the “Loan Payments”) and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds. The proceeds of the Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used for the purposes set forth in the Original Official Statement.

The Bonds of each issue contain substantially the same terms and provisions as, but will be entirely separate from, the Bonds of any other issue. The Bonds of one issue will not be payable from or entitled to any revenues delivered to the Trustee in respect of Bonds of any other issue. The mechanism for determining the interest rate may result in a rate for the Bonds of one issue different from that of the Bonds of any other issue. Redemption of the Bonds of one issue may be made in the manner described in the Official Statement without redemption of any other issue, and a default in respect of the Bonds of one issue will not of itself constitute a default in respect of the Bonds of any other issue; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default with respect to the Bonds of all issues.

The Bonds of each issue, together with premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited and not general, obligations of the applicable Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the applicable Issuer nor any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof, shall be payable solely from the applicable Revenues (as defined in the applicable Indenture and which includes moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit) and other moneys pledged therefor under the applicable Indenture, and shall be a valid claim of the respective holders thereof only against the applicable Bond Fund (as defined in the applicable Indenture), Revenues and other moneys held by the Trustee as part of the applicable Trust Estate (as defined in the applicable Indenture). The Issuers shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of any of the Bonds from any source.

No recourse No recourse shall be had for the payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any of the Bonds or for any claim based thereon or upon any obligation, covenant or agreement contained in any Indenture, against any past, present or future officer or employee of any Issuer, or any incorporator, officer, director or member of any successor corporation, as such, either directly, or through any Issuer or any successor corporation, under any rule of law or equity, statute or constitution or by the enforcement of any assessment or penalty or otherwise, and all such liability of any such incorporator, officer, director or member as such was expressly waived and released as a condition of and in consideration for the execution of each Indenture and the issuance of any of the Bonds.

The Company has exercised its right under the Agreement and the Indenture to terminate the three separate Letters of Credit, each dated May 16, 2012 (individually, an “Existing Letter of Credit” and collectively, the “Existing Letters of Credit”) and issued by Barclays Bank PLC, New York Branch (the “Prior Bank”), with respect to each issue of Bonds, each of which has supported payment of the principal, interest and purchase price of the applicable Bonds since the date the Existing Letters of Credit were issued. Pursuant to the Indentures, the Company has elected to replace each Existing Letter of Credit with a separate Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (individually, the “Letter of Credit,” and, collectively, the “Letters of Credit”) to be issued by The Royal Bank of Scotland plc, a bank organized under the laws of Scotland, acting through its Connecticut branch (the “Bank”). The three Letters of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee on March 26, 2013 (the “Effective Date”) and, after such date, the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letters of Credit.

With respect to the Bonds of each issue, the Trustee will be entitled to draw under the related Letter of Credit up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) in the case of the Sweetwater 1988A Bonds, up to 294 days’ accrued interest on such Bonds, and in the case of the Gillette Bonds and the Sweetwater 1988B Bonds, up to 65 days’ accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. Each Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn on with respect to related Bonds bearing interest at a rate other than a Fixed Interest Rate (as defined in the applicable Indenture).

After the date of delivery of the Letters of Credit, the Company is permitted under the Agreements and the Indentures to provide a substitute letter of credit (the “Substitute Letter of Credit”), which is issued by the same Bank that issued the then existing Letter of Credit and which is identical to such Letter of Credit except for (i) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate (as defined in the Indenture), (ii) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period (as defined in the Indenture) or (iii) any combination of (i) and (ii). As used hereafter, “Letter of Credit” shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit from and after the issuance date thereof. The Company also is permitted under the Agreements and Indentures to provide for the delivery of an alternate credit facility, including a letter of credit of a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, or any other credit support agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or first mortgage bonds of the Company or an insurance policy), the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee (an “Alternate Credit Facility”), to replace a Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of a Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. See “THE LETTERS OF CREDIT” and the Official Statement under the caption “THE BONDS —Purchase of Bonds.”

Prior to the delivery of the Letters of Credit, the Sweetwater 1988A Bonds were bearing interest at a CP Rate, the Sweetwater 1988B Bonds were bearing interest at a Daily Interest Rate, the Gillette Bonds were bearing interest at a Weekly Interest Rate. Following the delivery of the Letters of Credit, the Sweetwater 1988A Bonds will continue to bear interest at a CP Rate, Sweetwater 1988B Bonds will continue to bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate and the Gillette Bonds will continue to bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate; each subject to the right of the Company to cause the interest rate on the Bonds of each issue to be converted to other interest rate determination methods as described in the Official Statement.

Reference is hereby made to the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Brief descriptions of the Issuers, the Bonds, the Letters of Credit, the Reimbursement Agreements, the Agreements and the Indentures are included in this Supplement to Official Statement, including the Original Official Statement attached as Appendix C hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in Appendix A attached hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as Appendix B hereto. The descriptions herein of the Agreements, the Indentures, the Letters of Credit and the Reimbursement Agreements are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois and at the principal offices of the Remarketing Agent in New York, New York. The letters of credit described in the Original Official Statement are no longer in effect and the information in the Original Official Statement with respect thereto should be disregarded.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT AND THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENTS

The following is a brief summary of certain provisions of the Replacement Letters of Credit and those certain Letter of Credit and Reimbursement Agreements, each dated March 26, 2013, as amended and supplemented, and each between the Company and The Royal Bank of Scotland plc (together with all related documents, the "Reimbursement Agreements"). This summary is not a complete recital of the terms of the Replacement Letters of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreements and reference is made to each Replacement Letter of Credit or each Reimbursement Agreement, as applicable, in its entirety.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT

Each Replacement Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of the Bank to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to (x) in the case of the Sweetwater 1988A Bonds, up to 294 days' accrued interest on such Bonds, and (y) in the case of the Gillette Bonds and the Sweetwater 1988B Bonds, up to 65 days' accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letters of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a rate other than a fixed interest rate pursuant to the related Indenture. The Replacement Letters of Credit will be substantially in the forms attached hereto as Appendix F. The Replacement Letters of Credit will be issued pursuant to three separate Letter of Credit Reimbursement Agreements, each dated March 26, 2013 (each, a "Reimbursement Agreement"), and each between the Company and the Bank.

The Bank's obligation under each Replacement Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee to pay the purchase price of applicable Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest only on the applicable Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the applicable

Replacement Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated as of the Bank's close of business in New York, New York on the ninth (9th) business day following the Bank's honoring of such drawing by the amount drawn, unless the Trustee has received notice (a "Non-Reinstatement Notice") from the Bank by the ninth (9th) business day following the date of such honoring that there will be no reinstatement.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of Bonds due to an event of default under the applicable Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the applicable Replacement Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to

(i) in the case of the Sweetwater 1988A Bonds, up to 294 days' accrued interest on such Bonds, and in the case of the Gillette Bonds and the Sweetwater 1988B Bonds, up to 65 days' accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Replacement Letter of Credit has not been reinstated).

REMARKETING AGENT

General. Barclays Capital Inc. (the “Remarketing Agent”), will continue as remarketing agent for the Bonds. Subject to certain conditions, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to determine the rates of interest on the Bonds and use its best efforts to remarket all tendered Bonds.

In the ordinary course of its business, the Remarketing Agent has engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with the Company, its subsidiaries and its other affiliates, for which it has received and will receive customary compensation.

Special Considerations. The Remarketing Agent is Paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent’s responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indentures and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Supplement. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Account. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own account. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own account and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to each Indenture and Remarketing Agreement, for each issue of Bonds, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the applicable Bonds (including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances, the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

TAX EXEMPTION

The opinions of Chapman and Cutler delivered on January 14, 1988 stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the applicable Issuer with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, under then-existing law, interest on the Bonds will not be includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related project or facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), and the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (because the Prior Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. As indicated in such opinions, the failure to comply with certain of such covenants of the applicable Issuer and the Company could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Chapman and Cutler LLP (“Bond Counsel”) has made no independent investigation to confirm that such covenants have been complied with.

Bond Counsel will deliver an opinion for each series of the Bonds in connection with delivery of the Letters of Credit, in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix D, to the effect that the delivery of the Letters of Credit (i) is authorized under and complies with the terms of the applicable Agreement and (ii) will not impair the validity under the Act of the applicable Bonds or will not cause the interest on the applicable Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Bond Counsel has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to its opinions dated January 14, 1988 subsequent to its issuance other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) with regard to the Sweetwater 1988A Bonds, the issuance and delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility, described in its opinion dated April 24, 2002, (b) with regard to the Sweetwater 1988B Bonds, (i) the conversion of the interest rate on such Bonds from a CP Rate to a Daily Interest Rate, described in its opinion dated January 26, 1996 and its opinion dated February 28, 1996 and (ii) the issuance and delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility, described in its opinion dated August 23, 2001, (c) with regard to the Gillette Bonds, the conversion of the interest rate on such Bonds from a CP Rate to a Weekly Interest Rate and the delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility, described in its opinion dated May 26, 1999 and its opinions dated June 7, 1999, (d) with regard to each issue of Bonds, (i) the delivery of earlier Letters of Credit described in its three opinions, each dated September 15, 2004, (ii) the delivery of an amendment to such earlier Letters of Credit, described in its three opinions, each dated November 30, 2005, (e) with regard to each issue of Bonds, the delivery of the Existing Letters of Credit, described in its three opinions, each dated May 16, 2012, and (f) with regard to each issue of Bonds, the delivery of the Letters of Credit described herein. The opinions delivered in connection with delivery of the Letters of Credit are not to be interpreted as a reissuance of any of the original approving opinions as of the date of this Supplement to Official Statement.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S Corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

MISCELLANEOUS

This Supplement to Official Statement has been approved by the Company for distribution by the Remarketing Agent to current Bondholders and potential purchasers of the Bonds. THE ISSUERS MAKE NO REPRESENTATION WITH RESPECT TO AND HAVE NOT PARTICIPATED IN THE PREPARATION OF ANY PORTION OF THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

purchases and sales of wholesale electricity, coal, natural gas, other fuel sources and fuel transportation that could have a significant impact on generation capacity and energy costs; the financial condition and creditworthiness of the Company's significant customers and suppliers; changes in business strategy or development plans; availability, terms and deployment of capital, including reductions in demand for investment-grade commercial paper, debt securities and other sources of debt financing and volatility in the London Interbank Offered Rate, the base interest rate for the Company's credit facilities; changes in the Company's credit ratings; the impact of derivative contracts used to mitigate or manage volume, price and interest rate risk, including increased collateral requirements, and changes in the commodity prices, interest rates and other conditions that affect the fair value of derivative contracts; the impact of inflation on costs and our ability to recover such costs in rates; increases in employee healthcare costs; the impact of investment performance and changes in interest rates, legislation, healthcare cost trends, mortality and morbidity on the Company's pension and other postretirement benefits expense and funding requirements and the multiemployer plans to which the Company contributes; unanticipated construction delays, changes in costs, receipt of required permits and authorizations, ability to fund capital projects and other factors that could affect future generating facilities and infrastructure additions; the impact of new accounting guidance or changes in current accounting estimates and assumptions on consolidated financial results; other risks or unforeseen events, including the effects of storms, floods, fires, litigation, wars, terrorism, embargoes and other catastrophic events; and other business or investment considerations that may be disclosed from time to time in the Company's filings with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") or in other publicly disseminated written documents. See the Incorporated Documents under "Incorporation of Certain Documents by Reference."

The Bonds of each issue will be independent of the others, and a default in respect of one issue will not of itself constitute a default in respect of the other issues; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default with respect to more than one issue. The five issues of Bonds contain substantially the same terms and provisions, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Bonds of the five issues. Reference is hereby made to the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof. General

The Bonds will be dated January 1, 1988 and will mature as set forth on the cover page hereof. Bonds authenticated prior to the first Interest Payment Date (as hereafter described) shall bear interest from the date of the first authentication and delivery of Bonds. Bonds authenticated on or after the first Interest Payment Date thereon shall bear interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of authentication thereof (except that if the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, as hereafter described, the Bonds shall bear interest from the day next succeeding the Interest Accrual Date, as hereafter described, next preceding such date of authentication), unless such date of authentication shall be an Interest Payment Date to which interest on the Bonds has been paid in full or duly provided for, in which case they shall bear interest from such date of authentication (or, if the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, from the day next succeeding the Interest Accrual Date next preceding such date of authentication); provided that if, as shown by the records of the Registrar (as hereinafter defined) interest on the Bonds shall be in default, Bonds issued in exchange for or upon the registration of transfer of Bonds shall bear interest from the date to which interest has been paid in full on the Bonds or, if no interest has been paid on the Bonds, the date of the first authentication and delivery of fully executed and authenticated Bonds under the Indenture. Each Bond shall bear interest on overdue principal and, to the extent permitted by law, on overdue premium, if any, and interest at the rates of interest borne by the Bonds during such time.

The First National Bank of Chicago is Trustee and Registrar under the Indenture and has its corporate trust office in Chicago, Illinois. First Chicago Trust Company of New York has been appointed agent of the Registrar under the Indenture. The Registrar may be removed or replaced by the Issuer at the direction of the Company.

Principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds are payable at the place or places and in the manner specified on the cover page of this Official Statement. Bonds may be transferred or exchanged for Bonds of authorized denominations at the corporate trust office in New York, New York of First Chicago Trust Company of New York, as agent of the Registrar, without cost, except for any tax or other governmental charge.

E. F. Hutton & Company Inc. has, at the direction of the Company, been appointed Remarketing Agent under the Indenture. The principal office of E. F. Hutton & Company Inc. is located in New York, New York. The Remarketing Agent may be removed or replaced by the Issuer at the direction of the Company and with the written consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Issuer. For a description of the proposed acquisition of E. F. Hutton & Company Inc. by Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc. and of Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc. as successor Remarketing Agent, see the caption "UNDERWRITING" herein.

Interest on the Bonds

CP Rate. The Bonds shall initially bear interest at a CP Rate not exceeding 12% per annum, which is, with respect to each Bond for a CP Period, an interest rate on such Bond established as hereafter described. Such interest will be payable on the CP Date for such Bond. "CP Date" means, with respect to each Bond, the day next succeeding the last day of a CP Period. "CP Period" means, with respect to each Bond, each consecutive period (one to no more than 270 days, or one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year, as determined by the Company, as described under the caption "THE LETTERS OF CREDIT-Substitute Letter of Credit") established pursuant to the Indenture during which such Bond shall bear interest at a particular CP Rate. "CP Date Parameters" means the parameters stated in Exhibit E to the Indenture regarding allowable CP Periods. On the date interest starts to accrue on the Bonds at a CP Rate and on each CP Date thereafter, except any CP Date that is a Conversion Date, the Remarketing Agent shall determine for each CP Period allowable under the CP Date Parameters the interest rate which, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, when borne by a Bond having such a CP Period would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell such Bond on such date at a price equal to the principal amount thereof.

Each Bond shall bear interest during the CP Period selected for such Bond at a rate per annum equal to the interest rate determined as described above for such CP Period, or, in the event such Bond is not remarketed, the CP Rate shall be the CP Rate equal to the interest rate for the shortest allowable CP Period under the CP Date Parameters. If for any reason a CP Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any CP Period, the CP Rate for such CP Period shall equal the Floating Interest Index (as defined in the Indenture) determined by the Indexing Agent (as defined in the Indenture) as of the date such CP Rate was to have been determined.

Conversion to Alternative Rates. The method of determining interest payable on the Bonds may be converted from a CP Rate to another Floating Interest Rate (a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate), a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate (as each of those terms is described in Appendix F hereto) or from any such method of determination to any other method of determination under the conditions described below under the caption “CONVERSION OF RATE.” The date on which the method of determining the interest on the Bonds is converted to another method is a “Conversion Date.” Certain terms applicable to the Bonds at such time as the Bonds are not bearing interest at a CP Rate are described in Appendix F hereto.

Payment and Accrual of Interest. The Bonds shall bear interest from and including the date of first authentication and delivery thereof until payment of the principal or redemption price thereof shall have been made or provided for in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise, at the lesser of (i) the Maximum Rate (as hereafter defined) or (ii) the rate determined as described under the caption “THE BONDS-Interest on the Bonds” and in Appendix F hereto. “Maximum Rate” means (i) while a Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, if applicable) is outstanding, the lesser of 20% per annum or the Interest Coverage Rate and (ii) at all other times, 20% per annum. “Interest Coverage Rate” means the rate specified in the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, if applicable), initially 12%, which is used to determine the maximum amount that can be drawn to pay interest on the Bonds (or the portion of the purchase price corresponding to accrued interest) (the “Interest Component”) for the number of days specified in the Letter of Credit (the “Interest Coverage Period”), initially 294 days.

Interest accrued on the Bonds during each Interest Period (as hereafter described) shall be paid to the Owner as of the Record Date (as hereafter described) on the next succeeding Interest Payment Date and, while the Bonds bear a Floating Interest Rate, computed on the basis of a year of 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year, for the actual number of days elapsed and, while the Bonds bear a Fixed Interest Rate or a Tender Interest Rate, computed on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of twelve 30-day months.

“Authorized Denomination” means (i) $100,000 while the Bonds bear interest at a Floating Interest Rate and (ii) $5,000 while the Bonds bear interest at a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate and, in all cases, integral multiples thereof.

“Business Day” means a day on which banks located in the city in which the principal office of the Bank (or of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) is located and banks located in the city in which the principal office of the Trustee is located are not required or authorized by law to remain closed and are not closed, and on which The New York Stock Exchange and the principal office of the Remarketing Agent are not closed.

“Interest Accrual Date” means, with respect to any Interest Period (i) during which interest on the Bonds accrues at a CP Rate, the last day of the applicable CP Period, (ii) during which interest on the Bonds accrues at a Daily Interest Rate, the last day of the calendar month, (iii) during which interest on the Bonds accrues at the Weekly Interest Rate or the Monthly Interest Rate (as hereafter described), the day next preceding the first Business Day of the next succeeding calendar month and (iv) during which interest on the Bonds accrues at a Tender Interest Rate or at a Fixed Interest Rate, the day next preceding January 1 and July 1 of each year.

“Interest Payment Date” means (a) during such time as the Bonds bear a Daily Interest Rate, the fifth day after the Interest Accrual Date, (b) during such time as the Bonds bear interest determined by any other method, the day next succeeding the Interest Accrual Date and (c) any Conversion Date.

“Interest Period” means the period from and including the date interest starts to accrue on the Bonds pursuant to a particular method of calculating interest to and including the next succeeding Interest Accrual Date and each succeeding period from the day next succeeding such Interest Accrual

Date to and including (i) the next succeeding Interest Accrual Date or (ii) if earlier, the day next preceding a Conversion Date.

“Owner” means the person or persons in whose name any Bond is registered on the books of the Issuer maintained by the Registrar.

“Record Date” means (a) when a Bond bears interest at a CP Rate, the third day next preceding the Interest Accrual Date, except for a Bond with a CP Period of less than four days, in which case the Record Date means the first day of such CP Period; (b) when the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, the Interest Accrual Date; (c) when the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, the day on which the Weekly Interest Rate applicable to the Interest Accrual Date is determined; (d) when the Bonds bear interest at a Monthly Interest Rate, the third day next preceding the Interest Accrual Date; and (e) when the Bonds bear a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate, the fifteenth day of the calendar month next preceding any Interest Payment Date.

Purchase of Bonds

Purchase While Bonds Bear CP Rate. On the CP Date with respect to a Bond, such Bond shall be purchased at a purchase price equal to the principal amount thereof upon delivery of the Bond (with all necessary endorsements) to the Remarketing Agent. If the Owner elects not to have his Bond purchased on such CP Date, the Owner shall give telephonic or written notice to the Remarketing Agent not later than 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on the Business Day next preceding the CP Date stating that the Owner elects not to have his Bond purchased on such CP Date and stating the next CP Period (which shall be within the CP Date Parameters) for such Bond, in which event and upon receipt of appropriate information confirmed in writing from the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee shall issue a new Bond to such Owner reflecting the next CP Period in exchange for the Bond then held by such Owner. Bonds to be purchased which are not delivered by the Owner thereof shall be deemed to have been delivered by the Owner thereof for purchase and to have been purchased, provided that there have been irrevocably deposited with the Trustee moneys in accordance with the Indenture in an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price of such Bonds. Moneys deposited with the Trustee for such purchase of Bonds shall be held in trust in a separate escrow account without liability for interest thereon and shall be paid to the Owners of such Bonds upon presentation thereof. The Trustee shall on the last day of each month give written notice to the Company whether Bonds have not been delivered, and upon direction to do so by the Company, the Trustee shall give notice by mail to each Owner whose Bonds are deemed to have been purchased that such moneys are on deposit at the principal office of the Trustee and that interest on such Bonds ceased to accrue on the applicable CP Date.

While Bonds Bear Alternative Rates. While a Bond bears a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate or a Tender Interest Rate, such Bond will be purchased on the demand of the Owner thereof, as described in Appendix F hereto.

Funds for Purchase of Bonds. On the date on which Bonds delivered to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for purchase as specified above under “THE BONDS-Purchase of Bonds-Purchase While Bonds Bear CP Rate” or as described in Appendix F hereto are to be purchased, such Bonds shall be purchased with immediately available funds at a purchase price equal to the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest, if any. Funds for the payment of such purchase price shall be derived solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, neither the Trustee nor the Remarketing Agent being obligated to use funds from any other source:

- (a) Available Moneys (as hereinafter defined) directed by the Company to be used to purchase Bonds as described in the Indenture;
- (b) proceeds of the sale of such Bonds by the Remarketing Agent;
- (c) Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the purchase of defeased Bonds;
- (d) proceeds of a drawing under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for such purchase; and
- (e) any other moneys furnished by the Company for purchase of the Bonds;

provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds shall be derived only from the sources described in (b) and (c) above, in such order of priority.

“Available Moneys” means (a) during such time as a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility which does not consist of first mortgage bonds of the Company is outstanding, (i) moneys on deposit in trust with the Trustee for a period of 123 days prior to and during which no petition in bankruptcy or similar insolvency proceeding has been filed by or against the Company or the Issuer or is pending, (ii) proceeds of the issuance of refunding bonds if, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters and acceptable to the Issuer and the Trustee (which opinion shall be delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of the deposit of such proceeds with the Trustee), the deposit and use of such proceeds will not constitute a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event the Issuer or the Company were to become debtors under the United States Bankruptcy Code and (iii) any other money (x) approved in writing by Moody’s Investors Service (“Moody’s”), if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and Standard and Poor’s Corporation (“S&P”), if the Bonds are then rated by S&P and (y) the application of which will not, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters and acceptable to the Issuer and the Trustee (which opinion shall be delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of such application), constitute a voidable preference under Section 544 or 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event the Issuer or the Company were to become debtors under the United States Bankruptcy Code, and (b) at any time that a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is not outstanding, or if an Alternate Credit Facility consisting of first mortgage bonds of the Company is outstanding, any moneys on deposit with the Trustee and proceeds from the investment thereof.

Remarketing of Bonds

While the Bonds bear interest at a CP Rate, the Remarketing Agent shall offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket any Bond to be purchased on a CP Date on such CP Date, any such remarketing to be made at a price equal to the principal amount thereof and for such CP Periods as are available within the CP Date Parameters. In the event more than one prospective purchaser has offered to purchase a Bond on a CP Date, the Remarketing Agent shall remarket the Bond to the purchaser from among such prospective purchasers who has selected the next CP Period for such Bond which will, in the Remarketing Agent’s judgment, taking into consideration the overall yield curve determined as of such CP Date and projected market conditions during the 270 days or 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year (depending on the maximum length of the then current Interest Coverage Period), next succeeding such CP Date, be the most beneficial for the financing program while the Bonds bear interest at a CP Rate. If a Bond cannot be remarketed, the CP Date for such Bond shall be the next Business Day. While Bonds bear a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate or a Tender Interest Rate, the Remarketing Agent will offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket Bonds to be purchased on the dates and at the purchase prices as described in this Official Statement.

No Purchases or Sales After Certain Defaults. Anything in the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, (i) at any time when neither the Letter of Credit nor an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is outstanding, there shall be no purchases or sales of Bonds as described above, and (ii) at any time during which the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is outstanding, there shall be no sales of Bonds, if, in either case, there shall have occurred and not have been cured or waived an Event of Default described in paragraph (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) under the caption “THE INDENTURES—Defaults” of which the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee have actual knowledge.

Limited Obligations

The Bonds, together with the premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited, and not general, obligations of the Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer or any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof and shall be payable solely from the revenues to be received by the Issuer under the Agreement and from any other moneys made available to the Issuer for such purpose, including moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be. The Issuer shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of the Bonds from any source.

Mandatory Redemption of Bonds

While the Bonds bear interest at a Tender Interest Rate or at a Fixed Interest Rate, the Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption in whole or in part at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the date of redemption within 180 days following a "Determination of Taxability" as described below. The Bonds shall be redeemed either in whole or in part in such principal amount that the interest payable on the Bonds remaining outstanding after such redemption would not be included in the gross income of any Owner thereof, other than an Owner of a Bond who is a "substantial user" of the Facilities (as hereafter defined) or a "related person" within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code").

A "Determination of Taxability" shall be deemed to have occurred if, as a result of an Event of Taxability (as defined below), a final decree or judgment of any federal court or a final action of the Internal Revenue Service determines that interest paid or payable on any Bond is or was includible in the gross income of an Owner of the Bonds for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code") (other than an Owner who is a "substantial user" or "related person" within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code). However, no such decree or action will be considered final for this purpose unless the Company has been given written notice and, if it is so desired and is legally allowed, has been afforded the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of any Owner of a Bond, and until conclusion of any appellate review, if sought. If the Trustee receives written notice from any Owner stating (i) that the Owner has been notified in writing by the Internal Revenue Service that it proposes to include the interest on any Bond in the gross income of such Owner for the reasons described therein or any other proceeding has been instituted against such Owner which may lead to a final decree or action as described in the Agreement, and (ii) that such Owner will afford the Company the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of the Owner, until a conclusion of any appellate review, if sought, then the Trustee shall promptly give notice thereof to the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Issuer and the Owner of each Bond then outstanding. If a final decree or action as described above thereafter occurs and the Trustee has received written notice thereof at least 45 days prior to the redemption date, the Trustee shall make the required demand for prepayment of the amounts payable under the Agreement and prepayment of the Bonds and give notice of the redemption of the Bonds at the earliest practical date, but not later than the date specified in the Agreement, and in the manner provided by the Indenture.

An "Event of Taxability" means the failure of the Company to observe any covenant, agreement or representation in the Agreement, which failure results in a Determination of Taxability.

A DETERMINATION OF TAXABILITY MAY NOT OCCUR FOR A SUBSTANTIAL PERIOD OF TIME AFTER INTEREST FIRST BECOMES INCLUDIBLE IN THE GROSS INCOME OF OWNERS OF THE BONDS. IN SUCH EVENT, THE TAX LIABILITY OF OWNERS OF THE BONDS MAY EXTEND TO YEARS FOR WHICH INTEREST WAS RECEIVED ON THE BONDS AND FOR WHICH THE RELEVANT STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS HAS NOT YET RUN. MOREOVER, OWNERS OF BONDS WILL NOT RECEIVE ANY ADDITIONAL INTEREST, PREMIUM OR OTHER PAYMENT TO COMPENSATE THEM FOR FEDERAL INCOME TAXES, INTEREST AND PENALTIES WHICH MAY BE ASSESSED WITH RESPECT TO SUCH INTEREST.

Optional Redemption of Bonds

(a) During any CP Period, the Bonds shall be subject to optional redemption on any Business Day by the Issuer, in whole or in part (and if in part, in an Authorized Denomination), at the direction of the Company (but only with the timely written consent of the Bank or of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, on 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee.

(b) While the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate, the Bonds shall be subject to optional redemption on any Interest Payment Date by the Issuer, in whole or in part (and if in part, in an Authorized Denomination), at the direction of the Company (but only with the timely written consent of the Bank or of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, with 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee.

(e) While the Bonds bear interest at a Fixed Interest Rate or at a Tender Interest Rate, the Bonds shall be subject to optional redemption on any Interest Payment Date by the Issuer, in whole or in part (and if in part, in an Authorized Denomination), at the direction of the Company (but only with the timely written consent of the Bank or of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), with 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee; provided, however, that the Bonds shall not be redeemable during the No-Call Period shown below, which shall begin on the first day of the Fixed Rate Period or Tender Period. On and during the six months after the Interest Payment Date that ends the No-Call Period (or the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, if the No-Call Period does not end on an Interest Payment Date), the Bonds shall be redeemable at the percentage of their principal amount shown in the Initial Redemption Price column plus interest accrued to the redemption date. The redemption price shall decline semiannually by the amount shown in the SemiAnnual Reduction in Redemption Price column until the Bonds shall be redeemable without premium in the year or portion of a year indicated in the No Premium column and in any later years or periods in the Fixed Rate Period or Tender Period.

Equal to or Greater Than	Fixed Rate Period or Tender Period		Initial Redemption Price	SemiAnnual Reduction in Reduction	No Premium
	But Less Than	No-Call Period
18 Years	N/A	5 Years	103 %	1/2%	9th Year
12 Years	18 Years	5 Years	103	1/2	9th Year
9 Years	12 Years	5 Years	102	1/2	8th Year
7 Years	9 Years	5 Years	101	1/2	7th Year
5 Years	7 Years	3 Years	101	1/2	5th Year
3 Years	5 Years	2 Years	100 1/2	1/4	4th Year
2 Years	3 Years	1 Year	100 1/4	1/4	18th Month
1 Year	2 Years	6 Months	100 1/8	1/8	12th Month
6 Months	1 Year	6 Months	100	N/A	N/A

If the Fixed Rate Period or Tender Period is less than six months, the Bonds will not be redeemable pursuant to this subparagraph. While a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, the Company may only cause a redemption of Bonds pursuant to this subparagraph which would require a payment of a premium if on the date of the giving of notice of redemption the Trustee has Available Moneys in the Bond Fund or can draw under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in an amount sufficient to pay such premium due on the date of redemption. The initial Letter of Credit does not provide for drawings in respect of the amount of any such redemption premium.

If the interest rate borne by the Bonds is converted pursuant to the Indenture, and if in connection with such conversion the Company directs in writing to the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent pursuant to the Indenture that the foregoing schedule of premiums and No-Call Periods be revised and specifies the new premiums and No-Call Periods, the foregoing schedule of premiums and No-Call Periods shall be revised in accordance with such direction of the Company.

(d) At any time, the Bonds shall be subject to redemption by the Issuer in whole or in part (and if in part, in an Authorized Denomination), at the direction of the Company (but only with the timely written consent of the Bank if required by the Letter of Credit or, if applicable, of the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility if required by such Alternate Credit Facility), with 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee, at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, but without premium, if the Company shall deliver a certificate stating that one of the following events has occurred:

(i) the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the Project (as defined in the Indenture) is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable for any reason; or

(ii) the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the pollution control facilities or the solid waste disposal facilities, as the case may be (the "Facilities"), at the steam electric generating plant of which the Project is a part is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable due to (A) the imposition of taxes, other than ad valorem taxes currently levied upon privately owned property used for the same general purpose as the Facilities, or other liabilities or burdens with respect to the Facilities or the operation thereof, (B) changes in technology, in environmental standards or legal requirements or in the economic availability of materials, supplies, equipment or labor or (C) destruction of or damage to all or part of the Facilities; or

(iii) all or substantially all of the Facilities or the Project shall have been condemned or taken by eminent domain; or

(iv) the operation of the Facilities or the Project shall have been enjoined or shall have otherwise been prohibited by, or shall conflict with, any order, decree, rule or regulation of any court or of any federal, state or local regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental body.

Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility

Except for Bonds redeemed as described under "THE BONDS-Redemption Upon Conversion," the Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption by the Issuer, in whole, at a price equal to the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest, if any, on the earlier of (i) the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit or the term of the Alternate Credit Facility except as provided in the following clause (ii), or (ii) a Business Day not less than five days next preceding the Business Day next preceding the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility specified by the Company in a notice given by the Company as described herein in the second paragraph under the caption "THE LETTERS OF CREDIT-Alternate Credit Facility," or in the second paragraph under the caption "THE LETTERS OF CREDIT-Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility," provided that there shall not be so redeemed (a) Bonds delivered to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for purchase on such Interest Payment Date or on such Business Day or on any Business Day from the date of notice of such redemption through the date of such redemption, (b) Bonds with respect to which the Trustee shall have received written directions not to so redeem the same from the Owners thereof, (c) Bonds purchased or deemed to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture as described below under "THE BONDS-Purchase by Company in Lieu of Redemption," and (d) Bonds issued in exchange for or upon the registration of transfer of Bonds referred to in the preceding clauses (a) and (b).

An Owner of Bonds may direct the Issuer not to redeem any Bond or Bonds owned by it by delivering to the Trustee at its principal office on or before the third Business Day preceding the date fixed for such redemption an instrument or instruments in writing executed by such Owner which, among other things, (i) specifies the numbers and denominations of the Bonds held by such Owner, (ii) specifically acknowledges each of the matters set forth in a notice given by the Trustee, and (iii) directs the Issuer not to redeem such Bonds. Any such instrument delivered to the Trustee shall be irrevocable with respect to the redemption for which such instrument was delivered and shall be binding upon subsequent Owners of such Bonds, including Bonds issued in exchange therefor or upon the registration of the transfer thereof.

Redemption Upon Conversion

The Bonds shall be subject to mandatory redemption by the Issuer, in whole, on a Conversion Date, at the principal amount thereof or, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed upon conversion from a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate, at the percentage of their principal amount at which they would be redeemed as described above under paragraph (c) of "THE BONDS-Optional Redemption of Bonds" on the Conversion Date plus accrued interest, if any; provided that there shall not be so redeemed (a) Bonds delivered to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for purchase on such Conversion Date or on any Business Day from the date notice of such redemption is given through the date of such redemption, (b) Bonds with respect to which the Trustee shall have received written directions not to so redeem the same from the Owners thereof, (c) Bonds purchased or deemed to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture as described below under "THE BONDS-Purchase by Company in Lieu of Redemption," and (d) Bonds issued in exchange for or upon the registration of transfer of Bonds referred to in clauses (a) and (b) above. While a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, the Company may only cause a redemption of Bonds pursuant to this paragraph which would require a payment of a premium if on the date of the giving of notice of redemption the Trustee can draw under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in an amount sufficient to pay such premium due on the date of redemption. The initial Letter of Credit does not provide for drawings in respect of the amount of any such redemption premium.

An Owner may direct the Issuer not to redeem any Bond or Bonds owned by it by delivering to the Trustee at its principal office on or before the third Business Day (sixth Business Day if the Bonds are to be converted to a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate) preceding the date fixed for such redemption an instrument or instruments in writing executed by such Owner which, among other things, (i) specifies the numbers and denominations of the Bonds held by such Owner, (ii) specifically acknowledges each of the matters set forth in a notice given by the Trustee, and (iii) directs the Issuer not to redeem such Bonds. Any such instrument delivered to the Trustee shall be irrevocable with respect to the redemption for which such instrument is delivered and shall be binding upon subsequent Owners of such Bonds, including Bonds issued in exchange therefor or upon the registration of the transfer thereof.

Denomination Redemption

The Bonds or portions thereof are subject to mandatory redemption by the Issuer on the Interest Payment Date upon which the Bonds begin to accrue interest at a Floating Interest Rate following conversion from a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate in such amounts so that all outstanding Bonds are in Authorized Denominations.

Purchase by Company in Lieu of Redemption

The Company shall have the right to purchase or cause to be purchased Bonds to be redeemed as described above under “THE BONDS-Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility,” “THE BONDS-Redemption Upon Conversion” and “THE BONDS-Denomination Redemption” at a purchase price equal to the principal amount of the Bonds to be so purchased plus accrued interest, if any, or in the case of a purchase on conversion from a Fixed Interest Rate or a Tender Interest Rate, ‘the redemption price for redemption of such Bonds on the Conversion Date as described above under (c) of “THE BONDS-Optional Redemption of Bonds.” Moneys for the payment of the purchase price shall be derived, in the following order of priority, from: (i) Available Moneys furnished by the Company for such purpose, (ii) proceeds of the sale of such Bonds, (iii) Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the purchase of defeased Bonds, (iv) moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for such purpose and (v) any other moneys furnished by the Company for such purpose; provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds shall be derived only from the sources described in (ii) and (iii) above, in such order of priority; and provided further that if in connection with such redemption, the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility which does not consist of first mortgage bonds of the Company is replaced with an Alternate Credit Facility consisting of first mortgage bonds of the Company or is not being replaced by any other Alternate Credit Facility, moneys for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds may not be derived from (ii) above. Bonds to be so purchased pursuant to the Indenture on the date fixed for redemption of such Bonds which are not delivered on such date will nonetheless be deemed to have been delivered for purchase by the Owners thereof and to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture. The Trustee shall hold moneys for such purchase of Bonds, without liability for interest thereon, for the benefit of the former Owner of the Bond on such date of purchase, who shall thereafter be restricted exclusively to such moneys for any claim of whatever nature on such Owner’s part under the Indenture or on, or with respect to, such Bond. Any moneys so deposited with and held by the Trustee not so applied to the payment of Bonds within six months after such date of purchase shall be paid by the Trustee to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the extent of any amount payable under the Reimbursement Agreement (as defined below) and the balance to the Company upon the written direction of the Company, and thereafter the former Owners shall be entitled to look only to the Company for payment, and then only to the extent of the amount so repaid, and the Company shall not be liable for any interest thereon and shall not be regarded as a trustee of such money.

Procedure for and Notice of Redemption

If less than all of the Bonds shall be called for redemption, the particular Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed shall be selected by the Trustee, in such manner as the Trustee in its sole discretion may deem proper, in the principal amount designated by the Company or otherwise as required by the Indenture. In selecting Bonds for redemption, the Trustee shall treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds which is obtained by dividing the principal amount of each Bond by the minimum denomination in which Bonds are then authorized to be issued at the time of such redemption. Any Bonds selected for redemption which are deemed to be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture will cease to bear interest on the date fixed for redemption. Upon presentation and surrender of such Bonds at the place or places of payment such Bonds shall be paid and redeemed. Notice of redemption shall be given by mail as provided in the Indenture, at least 10 days prior to the redemption date, provided that the failure to duly give notice by mailing to any Owner, or any defect therein, shall not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of any other of the Bonds.

With respect to notice of any optional redemption of the Bonds, as described above, unless upon the giving of such notice, such Bonds shall be deemed to have been paid within the meaning of the Indenture, such notice shall state that such redemption shall be conditional upon the receipt by the Trustee, on or prior to the date fixed for such redemption, of moneys sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds to be redeemed. If such moneys are not so received, the Issuer will not redeem such Bonds and the Trustee shall give notice, in the manner in which the notice of redemption was given, that such redemption will not take place.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT

The following is a brief description of each Letter of Credit and certain of the terms common to the Letters of Credit and the agreements dated as of January 1, 1988 between the Company and the Banks pursuant to which such Letters of Credit are issued (individually, a "Reimbursement Agreement" and, collectively, the "Reimbursement Agreements," which term shall also include the document pursuant to which an Alternate Credit Facility is issued). All references in this description are to the documents or the Letters of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facilities) corresponding to the respective issues of Bonds.

The Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable obligation of the Bank which will expire at the close of the Bank's business on January 14, 1993, unless earlier terminated or otherwise extended, to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Bonds to be used (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds, (ii) to enable the Remarketing Agent to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to it for purchase and not remarketed, (iii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to it for purchase, (iv) to enable the Trustee to pay the purchase price of Bonds not retained by an Owner on a CP Date or (v) to enable the Company to purchase Bonds in lieu of redemption under certain circumstances, plus (b) an amount equal to 294 days' accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at a rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days), to be used (i) to pay interest on the Bonds or (ii) to enable the Trustee or the Remarketing Agent to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds properly delivered for purchase equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. The Company is permitted under the Agreement and the Indenture to secure an extension of the Letter of Credit beyond the expiration date of the then current Letter of Credit, but the Bank is under no obligation to agree to such an extension.

The Bank's obligation under the Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee to pay the purchase price of Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest on the Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated to the extent of such drawing as of the close of business on the ninth Business Day following such drawing unless the Bank shall have notified the Trustee within nine Business Days after such drawing that the Company has failed to reimburse the Bank or to cause it to be reimbursed for such drawing.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of the Bonds due to an event of default under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 294 days' interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds, less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Letter of Credit has not been reinstated as described above.

Upon the earliest of (i) the close of business on January 14, 1993, unless otherwise extended pursuant to an agreement between the Bank and the Company, (ii) the making of a final drawing under the Letter of Credit, or (iii) the date the Trustee surrenders the Letter of Credit to the Bank for cancellation, the Letter of Credit shall expire (the "Expiration Date"). The Trustee agrees to surrender the Letter of Credit to the Bank, and not to make any drawing, after (i) 4:00 pm. local time in the city of the office of the Bank that will issue the Letter of Credit on the Expiration Date, (ii) there are no Bonds outstanding under the Indenture, (iii) the first Business Day after the conversion of the interest rate on the Bonds to a Fixed Interest Rate, or (iv) a Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, has been delivered to the Trustee.

Alternate Credit Facility

At any time (with notice to the Bank or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) the Company may, at its option, provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility to replace the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, as the case may be. An Alternate Credit Facility may have an expiration date earlier than the maturity of the Bonds, but in no event shall such Alternate Credit Facility have an expiration date earlier than one year from the date of its delivery. The Company must furnish to the Trustee (i) an opinion of nationally recognized Bond Counsel ("Bond Counsel") stating that the delivery of such Alternate Credit Facility is authorized under the Agreement and complies with the terms thereof and will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes and (ii) written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, or S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the proposed Alternate Credit Facility and that the delivery of the proposed Alternate Credit Facility will not, by itself, result in a reduction or withdrawal of its rating or ratings of the Bonds.

The Company may, however, at any time, provide for the delivery on any Business Day to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility where the above-described evidence from Moody's or S&P's is not received, provided that the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Indexing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) a notice which (A) states (x) the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be so provided and (y) the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate (which termination date shall not be prior to the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be so provided), (B) describes the terms of the Alternate Credit Facility, (C) directs the Trustee to give notice of the call of the Bonds for redemption, in whole, on the Business Day next preceding the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture and (D) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to terminate, to the Obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the later of the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be provided and the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate and to thereupon deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such Obligor. The Company shall furnish to the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel satisfying the requirement of the next preceding paragraph in connection with such delivery.

After the Interest Payment Date on which Bonds are to be redeemed as described in clause (i) in the first paragraph under "THE BONDS—Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility,” the Company may, but is not obligated to, provide for delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility for payment of the principal of and interest on the Bonds. The Company shall furnish to the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel satisfying the requirement of the second preceding paragraph in connection with such delivery.

Substitute Letter of Credit

The Company may, at its option, at any time provide for the delivery to the Trustee of a Substitute Letter of Credit. No Substitute Letter of Credit may be delivered which:

(i) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a CP Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 294 days (during such time as CP Periods can be from one to not more than 270 days) or 389 or 390 days, as applicable to a particular year (during such time as CP Periods can be from one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year);

(ii) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 65 days;

(iii) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Tender Interest Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 208 days;

(iv) decreases the Interest Coverage Rate below 12%; or

(v) increases the Interest Coverage Rate above the Maximum Rate.

The Company may, at its option, at any time direct in writing the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent to allow the selection of CP Periods of from one to no more than 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year, or from one to no more than 270 days, but only if (for such time as CP Periods can be from one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year) the Company provides for the delivery to the Trustee of a Substitute Letter of Credit which increases the Interest Coverage Period to 389 or 390 days, as applicable to a particular year.

Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility

At any time, the Company may, at its option, provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. The Company must furnish to the Trustee (i) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is authorized under the Agreement and complies with the terms thereof and will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation and (ii) written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, or S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the proposed termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility and that such termination will not, by itself, result in a reduction or withdrawal of its rating or ratings of the Bonds.

The Company may, however, at any time, at its option, provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect when the above-described evidence from Moody's or S&P is not received, provided that the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Indexing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) a notice which (A) states the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate, (B) directs the Trustee to give notice of the call of the Bonds for redemption, in whole, no later than the fifth day next preceding the Business Day next preceding the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility which is to terminate (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture and (C) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to terminate to the Obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to be terminated and to thereupon deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such Obligor.

CONVERSION OF RATE

The Bonds of each issue will be independent of the others and a conversion to an Alternative Rate with respect to one issue will not necessarily result in a conversion with respect to the other issues; however, a conversion may occur with respect to more than one issue at the same time. The Bonds of each issue contain substantially the same terms and provisions, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the five issues. All references in this description are to the documents, the Bonds or the Letter of Credit relating to each issue of Bonds.

Conversion to Fixed Interest Rate, Tender Interest Rate or Floating Interest Rates. The interest rate borne by the Bonds (the type of interest rate in effect immediately prior to a conversion being herein called the “Existing Rate”) shall be converted to a Fixed Interest Rate, a Tender Interest Rate, a Tender Interest Rate with a Tender Period of different length than the then current Tender Period or any of the Floating Interest Rates upon receipt by the Trustee of a written direction from the Company specifying the specific method of interest accrual on the Bonds and the effective date (which, if a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, shall be a date at least 11 days prior to the Interest Payment Date next preceding the scheduled expiration date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of the conversion to such method of accrual, specifying changes, if any, to the Bond redemption prices and No-Call Periods and, if applicable, specifying the length of the Tender Period (which must be a period of six months or an integral multiple thereof, provided that the first Tender Period may be less than such period but must end on the day next preceding a January 1 or July 1). The Conversion Date must be (a) if the Existing Rate is a Floating Interest Rate other than a CP Rate, a Business Day not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the written direction from the Company specified above or (b) if the Existing Rate is a CP Rate, a Business Day not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the written direction from the Company specified above or (c) if the Existing Rate is a Tender Interest Rate, a January 1 or July 1 not less than 20 days after the receipt by the Trustee of the written notice specified above and not prior to the end of the No-Call Period for such Tender Period or (d) if the Bonds then bear a Fixed Interest Rate, a January 1 or July 1 not less than 20 days after the receipt by the Trustee of the written notice specified above and not prior to the end of the No-Call Period for such Fixed Rate Period. The written direction shall be accompanied by a written opinion, addressed to the Trustee, the Issuer, the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Remarketing Agent, of Bond Counsel selected by the Company and acceptable to the Trustee and acceptable to the Remarketing Agent stating that such conversion (i) is authorized or permitted by the Indenture, (ii) will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation and (iii) will not violate the provisions of the Act or other applicable state law. The conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds shall not become effective unless on the Conversion Date the Trustee shall have received an opinion of such Bond Counsel dated the Conversion Date reaffirming the conclusions of the opinion accompanying the written direction of the Company initiating the conversion.

Inability To Convert. If for any reason a change in method of calculation of interest on the Bonds cannot proceed, the Bonds shall continue to bear interest calculated in the method applicable prior to the proposed change.

Notice to Owners of Conversion. The Trustee shall give notice by first-class mail to the Owners of Bonds not less than 10 days and not more than 15 days prior to the Conversion Date. Such notice shall state (i) that the method of determining the interest rate on the Bonds will be converted to an alternate method of determining the rate, (ii) the effective date of the alternate method of determining the rate, (iii) the procedures and dates involved in determining the rate and the procedure for notifying Owners of the interest rate, (iv) when interest on the Bonds will be payable after the effective date, (v) if the Trustee has been so notified by the Company, whether a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, will be in effect after such effective date and, if so, the issuer, the expiration terms and the interest coverage of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, (vi) whether subsequent to such effective date the Owners of Bonds will no longer have the right to deliver Bonds to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for purchase, (vii) that the rating on the Bonds by Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, or S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, may be reduced or withdrawn, and (viii) that all outstanding Bonds not repurchased on or prior to the effective date will be redeemed on such effective date except Bonds with respect to which the Owner has directed the Issuer not to redeem the same in accordance with the Indenture.

THE AGREEMENTS

Each Agreement will operate independently of the others, and a default under one Agreement will not necessarily constitute a default under the other Agreements. The Agreements contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the five Agreements. All references in this summary are to the documents, the Bonds or the Letters of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facilities) relating to each Agreement.

Loan Payments

As Loan Payments, the Company will pay to the Trustee, for the account of the Issuer, an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due on the dates, in the amounts and in the manner provided in the Indenture for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such Loan Payment will be deemed to be satisfied and discharged to the extent of the corresponding payment made (i) by the Bank to the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or (ii) by the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility to the Trustee under the Alternate Credit Facility.

From the date of the original issuance of the Bonds to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of expiration or earlier termination of the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the principal of the Bonds, upon redemption or acceleration, and interest on the Bonds when due, by the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee will be directed to draw moneys under the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to the extent necessary to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds if and when due. The initial Letter of Credit does not provide for drawings in respect of amounts of such redemption premium.

Payments to Remarketing Agent and Trustee

The Company will pay to the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee amounts equal to the amounts to be paid by the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of outstanding Bonds, such amounts to be paid by the Company to the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee, as the case may be, on the dates such payments are to be made; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment under the Agreement shall be reduced by the amount of any moneys available for such payments, including proceeds from the remarketing of the Bonds or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

From the date of the original issuance of the Bonds to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of the expiration or earlier termination of the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the amounts to be paid by the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds by the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee will be directed to draw moneys under the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to the extent necessary for the purchase of Bonds.

Obligation Absolute

The Company's obligation to make Loan Payments and payments to the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds is absolute, irrevocable and unconditional and will not be subject to any defense other than payment or to any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment arising out of any breach by the Issuer, the Bank (or Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility), the Trustee or the Remarketing Agent of any obligation to the Company.

Expenses

The Company is obligated to pay reasonable compensation and to reimburse certain expenses and advances of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, Moody's, S&P and the Indexing Agent directly to such entity.

Tax Covenants; Tax-Exempt Status of Bonds

The Company covenants that the Bond proceeds, the earnings thereon and other moneys on deposit with respect to the Bonds will not be used in such a manner as to cause the Bonds to be arbitrage bonds within the meaning of the Code.

The Company covenants that it will not take, or permit to be taken on its behalf, any action which would cause the interest on ~~the~~ Bonds to become includible in the gross income of Owners of the Bonds for purposes of federal income taxation and will take, or require to be taken, such action as may, from time to time, be required under applicable law or regulation to continue to cause the interest on the Bonds not to be includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation. See "TAX EXEMPTION."

Assignment; Merger

With the consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company's interest in the Agreement may be assigned in whole or in part by the Company to another entity, subject, however, to the conditions that no assignment shall (a) cause the interest payable on the Bonds (other than Bonds held by a "substantial user" or "related person" within the meaning of Section ~~103(b)(13)~~ of the 1954 Code) to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation or (b) relieve (other than as described in the next succeeding paragraph) the Company from primary liability for its obligations to make the Loan Payments or to make payments to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee with respect to the purchase of the Bonds or for any other of its obligations under the Agreement; and subject further to the condition that the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) an opinion of counsel to the Company that such assignment complies with the provisions of this paragraph. The Company shall, within 30 days after the delivery thereof, furnish to the Issuer, the Bank (or Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee a true and complete copy of the agreements or other documents effectuating any such assignment.

The Company may enter into the transactions described in the Joint Proxy Statement/Prospectus of PacifiCorp and Utah Power & Light Company dated October 29, 1987 (the "Prospectus") filed as a part of a Registration Statement on Form S-4 with the Securities and Exchange Commission, Registration No. 33-18164, effective October 29, 1987, resulting in a Merger (as defined in the Prospectus) or Reincorporation (as defined in the Prospectus) and the Merger of the Company into PC/UP&L Merging Corp., an Oregon corporation (to be renamed "PacifiCorp"). After the effectiveness of the Merger or Reincorporation, PC/UP&L Merging Corp. will assume (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Agreement and all references to the Company in the Agreement shall mean PC/UP&L Merging Corp. (renamed "PacifiCorp").

The Company also may (a) consolidate with or merge into another domestic corporation (i.e., a corporation (i) incorporated and existing under the laws of one of the states of the United States or of the District of Columbia and qualified to do business in the State of Montana or the State of Wyoming, as the case may be, as a foreign corporation or (ii) incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of Montana or the State of Wyoming, as the case may be), or sell or otherwise transfer to another domestic corporation all or substantially all of its assets as an entirety and thereafter dissolve, provided the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation, as the case may be, shall be the Company or as a result of the transaction shall assume (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Agreement; or (b) convey all or substantially all of its assets to one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company so long as the Company shall remain in existence and primarily liable on all of its obligations under the Agreement and the subsidiary or subsidiaries to which such assets shall be so conveyed shall guarantee in writing the performance of all of the Company's obligations under the Agreement.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an "Event of Default" under the Agreement:

(a) a failure by the Company to make when due any Loan Payment or any payment required to be made to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, which failure shall have resulted in an "Event of Default" as described herein in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) under "~~THE INDENTURES—Defaults~~";

(b) a failure by the Company to pay when due any other amount required to be paid under the Agreement or to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement under the Agreement (other than a failure described in clause (a) above), which failure continues for a period of 60 days (or such longer period as the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) may agree to in writing) after written notice given to the Company and the Bank (or the Ohligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Trustee or to the Company, the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Issuer; provided, however, that if such failure is other than for the payment of money and cannot be corrected within the applicable period, such failure shall not constitute an Event of Default so long as the Company institutes corrective action within the applicable period and such action is being diligently pursued; or

(c) certain events of bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Company.

The Agreement provides that, with respect to any Event of Default described in clause (b) above, if, by reason of acts of God, strikes, orders of political bodies, certain natural disasters, civil disturbances and certain other events, or any cause or event not reasonably within the control of the Company, the Company is unable in whole or in part to carry out one or more of its agreements or obligations contained in the Agreement (other than its obligations to make when due Loan Payments and payments to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds and its obligation to maintain its existence), the Company shall not be deemed in default by reason of not carrying out such agreement or performing such obligation during the continuance of such inability.

Remedies

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default described in (a) or(c) in the second preceding paragraph, and further upon the condition that, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Bonds shall have been declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Indenture, the Loan Payments shall, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable. Any waiver of any "Event of Default" under the Indenture and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof. See the caption "~~THE INDENTURES-Defaults~~."

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Agreement, the Issuer may take any action at law or in equity to collect any payments then due and thereafter to become due, or to enforce performance and observance of any obligation, agreement or covenant of the Company under the Agreement.

Any amounts collected upon an Event of Default under the Agreement will be applied in accordance with the Indenture.

Amendments

The Agreement may be amended subject to the limitations contained in the Agreement and in the Indenture. See the caption "~~THE INDENTURES—Amendment~~ of the Agreement."

THE INDENTURES

Each Indenture will operate independently of the others, and a default under one Indenture will not necessarily constitute a default under the others. The Indentures contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the five Indentures. All references in this summary are to the documents, the Bonds or the Bond Fund relating to each Indenture.

Pledge and Security

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Loan Payments will be pledged by the Issuer to secure the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and all other amounts payable under the Indenture. The Issuer will also pledge and assign to the Trustee all its rights and interests under the Agreement (other than its rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses and certain other rights), and has pledged to the Trustee all moneys and obligations deposited or to be deposited in the Bond Fund established with the Trustee; provided that the Trustee will have a prior claim on the Bond Fund for the payment of its compensation and expenses and for the repayment of any advances (plus interest thereon) made by it to effect performance of certain covenants in the Indenture and the Agreement (except that the Trustee will not have such priority with respect to amounts deposited in the Bond Fund from amounts drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility).

Application of Proceeds

Proceeds from the sale of the Bonds will be deposited with the trustee for the Prior Bonds and used for the Refunding.

Application of the Bond Fund

There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. Loan Payments, amounts drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) for payment of the principal of, and interest on, the Bonds when due, and certain other amounts specified in the Indenture are to be deposited in the appropriate account in the Bond Fund. While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in an arbitrage regulation agreement for each issue of Bonds among the Trustee, the related Issuer and the Company, moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds when due, or, in some circumstances, for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee to the extent described in "THE INDENTURES-Pledge and Security."

Funds for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds shall be derived from the following sources in the order of priority indicated:

- (a) Available Moneys;
- (b) moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be; and
- (c) any other moneys paid by the Company pursuant to the Agreement or any other moneys in the Bond Fund.

Investment of Funds

Moneys in the Bond Fund will, at the direction of the Company, be invested in securities or obligations specified in the Indenture, provided, however, that during the term of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) shall be invested by the Trustee only in Government Obligations (as defined in the Indenture) with a term not exceeding 30 days. All income or other gain from such investments will be credited, and any loss will be charged, to the particular fund or account from which the investments were made.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an “Event of Default” under the Indenture:

(a) a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on, any of the Bonds (other than Bonds pledged to the Bank (the “Pledged Bonds”)) when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise;

(b) a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds (other than Pledged Bonds) for a period of five days after such interest has become due and payable;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due to Owners of the Bonds who have delivered Bonds to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for purchase for a period of five days after such payment has become due and payable;

(d) the Trustee’s receipt of notice from the Bank not later than the ninth Business Day following a drawing under the Letter of Credit that the Bank has not been reimbursed for such drawing;

(e) the Trustee’s receipt of notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of an “Event of Default” under and as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement (which may be caused by the failure of the Company to comply with any of its covenants and obligations thereunder);

(f) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement contained in the Bonds or the Indenture (other than a failure described in clause (a), (b) or (c) above), which failure shall continue for a period of 90 days after written notice given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee, which notice may be given at the discretion of the Trustee and must be given at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, unless such period is extended by the Trustee, or by the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, will be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer, or the Company on behalf of the Issuer, within such period and is being diligently pursued; and

(g) an “Event of Default” under the Agreement.

Remedies

(i) Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b) or (c) of the preceding paragraph or an Event of Default described in clause (g) of the preceding paragraph resulting from an “Event of Default” under the Agreement as described under clause (a) or (c) of “THE AGREEMENT-Defaults” herein, the Trustee may (and upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding the Trustee must), or (ii) upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (d) or (e) of the preceding paragraph, the Trustee must, by written notice to the Issuer, the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, whereupon they shall, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable and, during the period the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) is in effect, with interest on the Bonds accruing to the Bond Payment Date (as defined in the Indenture) established by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture, anything in the Indenture or in the Bonds to the contrary notwithstanding, and the Trustee shall give notice thereof to the Issuer, the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and shall give notice by first-class mail thereof to Owners of the Bonds, and the Trustee shall as promptly as practicable draw moneys under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the extent available thereunder, in an amount sufficient to pay principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds to the Bond Payment Date.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraph are subject to the condition that if, so long as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, after the principal of the Bonds shall have been so declared to be due and payable, and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due shall have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer shall cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds and the principal of any and all Bonds which shall have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as shall be sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default under the Indenture (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which shall have become due by said declaration) shall have been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission or annulment to the Issuer and the Company and shall give notice thereof to Owners of the Bonds by first-class mail; but no such waiver, rescission or annulment shall extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

The provisions of the second preceding paragraph are, further, subject to the condition that, if an Event of Default described in clause(d) or(e) of "~~THE INDENTURE—Defaults~~" shall have occurred and if the Trustee shall thereafter have received notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) (x) that the notice which caused such Event of Default to occur has been withdrawn and (y) that the amounts available to be drawn on the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to pay (i) the principal of the Bonds or the portion of purchase price equal to principal and (ii) interest on the Bonds and the portion of purchase price equal to accrued interest have been reinstated to an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds outstanding plus accrued interest thereon for the applicable Interest Coverage Period at the Interest Coverage Rate, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company and, prior to conversion to a Fixed Interest Rate, the Remarketing Agent, and shall give notice thereof to all Owners of the outstanding Bonds (if such Owners were notified of the acceleration) by first-class mail; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment shall extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Indenture, the Trustee may, and upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction shall, pursue any available remedy to enforce the rights of the Owners of the Bonds and require the Company, the Issuer or the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to carry out its agreements, bring suit upon the Bonds, require the Issuer to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the Owners of the Bonds or enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful, or in violation of the rights of the Owners of the Bonds. The Trustee is not required to take any action in respect of an Event of Default (other than, in certain circumstances, to declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable) or to enforce the trusts created by the Indenture except upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and receipt of indemnity satisfactory to it.

The Owners of a majority in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee upon furnishing satisfactory indemnity to the Trustee and provided that such direction shall not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner of any Bond will have any right to institute suit to execute any trust or power of the Trustee unless such Owner has previously given the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding have made written request of the Trustee so to do, and unless satisfactory indemnity has been offered to the Trustee and the Trustee has not complied with such request within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of the Owner of any Bond to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on his Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective date, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of the Bonds.

Defeasance

All or any portions of Bonds (in Authorized Denominations) shall, prior to the maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid for all purposes of the Indenture when:

(a) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof have been selected for redemption, the Trustee shall have given, or the Company shall have given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, notice of redemption of such Bonds or portions thereof;

(b) there shall have been deposited with the Trustee moneys (which constitute Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility) in an amount as shall be sufficient to pay when due the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due and to become due (which amount of interest to become due shall be calculated at the Maximum Rate) on said Bonds or portions thereof on and prior to the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be;

(c) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof do not mature and are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 30 days, the Issuer at the direction of the Company shall have given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, as soon as practicable in the same manner as a notice of redemption is given pursuant to the Indenture, a notice to the Owners of said Bonds or portions thereof that the deposit required by clause (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds or portions thereof are deemed to have been paid and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof; and

(d) the Trustee shall have received written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, that such action, if it applies to less than all of the Bonds then Outstanding, will not result in a reduction or withdrawal of the rating on the Bonds by Moody's or S&P, as the case may be.

Moneys deposited with the Trustee as described above shall not be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and shall be held in trust for, the payment of the principal of and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof, or for the payment of the purchase price of Bonds in accordance with the Indenture; provided that such moneys, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be invested and reinvested in Government Obligations maturing on or prior to the earlier of (a) the date moneys may be required for the purchase of Bonds or (b) the Interest Payment Date next succeeding the date of investment or reinvestment, and interest earned from such investments shall be paid over to the Company, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

The provisions of the Indenture relating to (i) the registration and exchange of Bonds, (ii) the delivery of Bonds to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for purchase and the related obligations of the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee with respect thereto, (iii) the mandatory redemption of the Bonds in connection with the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and (iv) payment of the Bonds from such moneys, shall remain in full force and effect with respect to all Bonds until the maturity date of the Bonds or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds prior to maturity, notwithstanding that all or any portion of the Bonds are deemed to be paid; provided, further, that the provisions with respect to registration and exchange of Bonds shall continue to be effective until the maturity or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds.

In the event the requirements of the next to the last sentence of the next succeeding paragraph can be satisfied, the preceding three paragraphs shall not apply and the following two paragraphs shall be applicable.

Any Bond shall be deemed to be paid within the meaning of the Indenture when (a) payment of the principal of and premium, if any, on such Bond, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof (whether such due date is by reason of maturity, acceleration or upon redemption as provided in the Indenture), either (i) shall have been made or caused to be made in accordance with the terms thereof, or (ii) shall have been provided for by irrevocably depositing with the Trustee in trust and irrevocably set aside exclusively for such payment, (1) Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, sufficient to make such payment and/or (2) Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, maturing as to principal and interest in such amount and at such time as will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment, and (b) all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Trustee and the Registrar pertaining to the Bonds with respect to which such deposit is made shall have been paid or the payment thereof provided for to the satisfaction of the Trustee. The provisions of clause (2) of this paragraph shall apply only if (x) the Bond with respect to which such deposit is made is to mature or be called for redemption prior to the next succeeding date on which such Bond is subject to purchase as described herein under the caption "THE BONDS-Purchase of Bonds" and (y) the Company waives, to the satisfaction of the Trustee, its right to convert the interest rate borne by such Bond. At such times as a Bond shall be deemed to be paid thereunder, as aforesaid, such Bond shall no longer be secured by or entitled to the benefits of the Indenture, except for the purposes of any such payment from such moneys or Government Obligations.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, no deposit under clause (a)(ii) of the immediately preceding paragraph shall be deemed a payment of such Bonds as aforesaid until: (a) proper notice of redemption of such Bonds shall have been previously given in accordance with the Indenture, or in the event said Bonds are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, until the Company shall have given the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, irrevocable instructions to notify, as soon as practicable, the Owners of the Bonds, in accordance with the Indenture, that the deposit required by clause (a)(ii) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid in accordance with the Indenture and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and the applicable redemption premium, if any, on said Bonds, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof; or (b) the maturity of such Bonds.

Removal of Trustee

The Trustee may be removed, and a successor Trustee appointed, (i) by the Issuer, under certain circumstances, and (ii) with the prior written consent of the Bank (which consent, if unreasonably withheld, shall not be required), by the Owners of not less than a majority in principal amount of Bonds at the time outstanding.

Modifications and Amendments

The Indenture may be modified or amended by supplemental indentures without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds for any of the following purposes: (a) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in the Indenture; (b) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer under the Indenture or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer which shall not adversely affect the interests of Owners of the Bonds; (c) to confirm, as further assurance, any pledge of or lien on any property subjected or to be subjected to the lien of the Indenture; (d) to comply with the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; (e) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture in any other respect which, in the judgment of the Trustee, is not adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; (f) to change the method for determining the Floating Interest Index or the Fixed Interest Index, to implement a conversion of an interest rate or to evidence or give effect to or facilitate the delivery and administration under the Indenture of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit; (g) to provide for a depository to accept tendered Bonds in lieu of the Remarketing Agent; (h) to provide for ~~uncertificated~~ Bonds or for the issuance of coupons and bearer Bonds or Bonds registered only as to principal, but only to the extent that such would not cause interest on the Bonds to become ~~includible~~ in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation; (i) to secure or maintain a rating for the Bonds in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category (as defined in the Indenture) and in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; and (j) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for Investment Companies. Notwithstanding the foregoing, notice shall be given to the Owners of the Bonds of any supplemental indenture changing the method of determining the Floating Interest Index or the Fixed Interest Index.

Except for supplemental indentures entered into for the purposes described in the preceding paragraph, the Indenture will not be modified or amended without the consent of the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding, who shall have the right to consent to and approve any supplemental indenture; provided that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all the Bonds then affected thereby, there will not be permitted (a) a change in the times, amounts or currency of payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on any Bond, a change in the terms of the purchase thereof by the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee, or a reduction in the principal amount or redemption price thereof or the rate of interest thereon, (b) the creation of a claim or lien on or a pledge of the receipts and revenues of the Issuer under the Agreement ranking prior to or on a parity with the lien or pledge created by the Indenture, ~~or~~ (c) a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds the consent of the Owners of which is required to approve any such supplemental indenture ~~or~~ which is required to approve any amendment to the Agreement. No amendment of the Indenture shall be effective without the prior written consent of the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

Amendment of the Agreement

Without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds, the Issuer may amend the Agreement, and the Trustee may consent thereto, as may be required (a) by the provisions of the Agreement and the Indenture, (b) for the purpose of curing any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity, (c) in connection with any other change therein which is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds or (d) to secure or maintain a rating for the Bonds in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category and in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories. The Issuer and the Trustee will not consent to any other amendment of the Agreement without the written approval or consent of the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time outstanding; provided, however, that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all Bonds affected thereby, nothing shall permit, or be construed as permitting, a change in the obligations of the Company to make Loan Payments or payments to the Trustee or Remarketing Agent for the purchase of Bonds. No amendment of the Agreement will become effective without the prior written consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Company.

UNDERWRITING

E.F. Hutton & Company Inc., as Underwriter, has agreed to purchase the Bonds of each issue from the Issuer thereof at a purchase price of 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Underwriter is committed to purchase all of the Bonds of an issue if any are purchased.

The Company has agreed to pay the Underwriter an aggregate fee of $576,450 and indemnify the Underwriter against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the federal securities laws. The Underwriter may offer and sell the Bonds to certain dealers (including dealers depositing Bonds into investment trusts) and others at prices lower than the offering price stated on the cover page hereof. After the initial public offering, the public offering price may be changed from time to time by the Underwriter.

On December 2, 1987, Shearson Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. ("Holdings"), the parent company of Shearson Lehman Brothers Inc. ("Shearson Lehman") and The E.F. Hutton Group Inc. ("E.F. Hutton Group"), the parent company of E.F. Hutton & Company Inc. ("E.F. Hutton"), entered into an agreement, amended as of December 28, 1987 (the "Agreement"), pursuant to which Holdings agreed to acquire all the outstanding shares of E.F. Hutton Group common stock. Pursuant to a tender offer for certain of the outstanding shares of E.F. Hutton Group common stock which expired January 12, 1988, 32,144,465 shares were tendered and Holdings has agreed to purchase 29,610,000 shares or 90% of E.F. Hutton Group's common stock outstanding and available for tender. As permitted by the terms of the Agreement, Holdings intends to assign its right to purchase the shares to Shearson Lehman. Following the initial merger of a newly-formed, wholly-owned subsidiary of Shearson Lehman into E.F. Hutton Group, E.F. Hutton Group will merge into Shearson Lehman as soon as practicable. The proposed acquisition and merger of E. F. Hutton Group with and into Shearson Lehman is expected to occur within the first three-quarters of 1988. Upon the effectiveness of the merger of E.F. Hutton Group with and into Shearson Lehman, the surviving corporation will assume all of the obligations of E.F. Hutton as Underwriter, as Remarketing Agent and as Indexing Agent with respect to the Bonds of each issue.

TAX EXEMPTION

The Code contains a number of requirements and restrictions which apply to each issue of Bonds, including investment restrictions, periodic payments of arbitrage profits to the United States, requirements regarding the proper use of bond proceeds and the facilities financed therewith, and certain other matters. The Company and each of the Issuers have covenanted to comply with all requirements of the Code that must be satisfied in order for the interest on each issue of Bonds to be excludible from gross income. Failure to comply with certain of such requirements may cause interest on the related issue or issues of Bonds to become subject to federal income taxation retroactive to the date of issuance of such Bonds.

Subject to the condition that the Company and the related Issuer comply with the above-referenced covenants, under present law, in the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on each issue of Bonds will not be includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related Project or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) and the interest on each issue of Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (since the Prior Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations.

The Code includes provisions for an alternative minimum tax ("AMT") for corporations. The AMT is levied for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1986 in addition to the regular corporate tax in certain cases. The AMT, if any, depends upon the corporation's alternative minimum taxable income ("AMTI"), which is the corporation's taxable income with certain adjustments. One of the adjustment items used in computing AMTI of a corporation (excluding S corporations, Regulated Investment Companies, Real Estate Investment Trusts and REMICs) is an amount equal to 50% of the excess of such corporation's "adjusted net book income" over an amount equal to its AMTI (before such adjustment item and the alternative tax net operating loss deduction). For taxable years beginning after 1989, such adjustment item will be 75% of the excess of such corporation's "adjusted current earnings" over an amount equal to its AMTI (before such adjustment item and the alternative tax net operating loss deduction). Both "adjusted net book income" and "adjusted current earnings" would include all tax-exempt interest, including interest on each issue of Bonds.

In rendering its opinion with respect to each issue of Bonds, Bond Counsel will rely upon certifications of the Company with respect to certain material facts solely within the Company's knowledge about the Project relating to such issue of Bonds and to the application of the proceeds of such issue of Bonds and the proceeds of the related issue of Prior Bonds.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

In the opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, under present Montana law, interest on the Forsyth Bonds is exempt from individual income taxes imposed by the State of Montana.

In the opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to the Converse Bonds, the Gillette Bonds or the two issues of the Sweetwater Bonds.

Except as described above, Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to whether the Bonds will be subject to any state or local taxes under applicable state or local law. Prospective purchasers of Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding the applicability of any such state or local taxes.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the Bonds will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, and the Underwriter's obligation to purchase any issue of the Bonds is subject to the issuance of Bond Counsel's opinion with respect thereto. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Company by Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, as Counsel for the Company, and for the Underwriter by Kutak Rock & Campbell, as Counsel to the Underwriter. The validity of the Letter of Credit relating to the Converse Bonds will be passed upon for The Sumitomo Bank, Limited, by its United States counsel, Preston, Thorgrimson, Ellis & Holman, and by its Japanese counsel, Nishi, Tanaka & Takahashi. The validity of the Letter of Credit for the Forsyth Bonds will be passed upon for The Industrial Bank of Japan, Limited, by its United States counsel, Lillick McHose & Charles, and by its Japanese counsel, Tokyo Kokusai Law Offices. The validity of the Letter of Credit for the Gillette Bonds will be passed upon for Deutsche Bank AG by its United States counsel, White & Case, and by its Central Legal Department. The validity of the Letters of Credit for the Sweetwater Bonds will be passed upon for National Westminster Bank PLC by its United States counsel, Lillick McHose & Charles, and by its English counsel, Wilde Sapte.

Chapman and Cutler has represented other parties in matters involving subsidiaries of the Company where legal fees of Chapman and Cutler have been paid by such subsidiaries.

APPENDIX B

THE SUMITOMO BANK, LIMITED

The Sumitomo Bank, Limited (“Sumitomo”) is a Japanese banking corporation organized under the banking law of Japan. Sumitomo was formally established in 1895, although its earliest beginnings date back about 400 years to the early 17th century when Masatomo Sumitomo started certain businesses in the old capital of Kyoto.

The main business of Sumitomo is providing financial services to individuals, corporations and governments. Such services include accepting deposits, processing short- and medium-term loans, effecting money transfers and underwriting Japanese government bonds, national and local, as well as a wide variety of other services in both domestic and international financial markets. With the growth of the multinational corporation, Sumitomo has expanded its international services well beyond the traditional areas of foreign trade and exchange.

Sumitomo is the second largest bank in the world as well as in Japan in terms of assets. As of March 31, 1987, Sumitomo had total assets of approximately U.S. $265 billion, deposits of approximately U.S. $179 billion, loans and bills discounted outstanding of approximately U.S. $136 billion and total stockholders’ equity of approximately U.S. $5 billion on a consolidated basis.

Sumitomo took its first step into international banking by concluding a correspondent agreement with an overseas bank to handle remittance from Japanese citizens living in Hawaii. Shortly thereafter, Sumitomo was among the first Japanese commercial banks to establish an international network. In 1916, Sumitomo established its first overseas branch in San Francisco. Since that time, Sumitomo has expanded its international network to 16 branches located in New York, London, Hong Kong, Dusseldorf, Madrid, Singapore, Brussels, Chicago, Seattle, Panama, Seoul, Milan, Barcelona, Houston, Cayman and San Francisco; 23 representative offices located in Toronto, Vienna, Jakarta, Mexico City, Tehran, Cairo, Bahrain, Sydney, Buenos Aires, Bangkok, Paris, Beijing, Kuala Lumpur, Melbourne, Caracas, Zurich, Guangzhou, Atlanta, Stockholm, Frankfurt, Birmingham, Shanghai and Dailian; eight subsidiaries, The Sumitomo Bank of California, Banco Sumitomo Brasileiro S.A., Sumitomo International Finance A.G., Sumitomo Finance Overseas, S.A., Sumitomo Finance (Asia) Limited, Sumitomo Perpetual Australia Limited, Gotthard Bank and Sumitomo Finance (Middle East) E.C.; and seven principal affiliates. This network is supplemented by correspondent banking relationships with over 1,500 institutions.

APPENDIX C

THE INDUSTRIAL BANK OF JAPAN, LIMITED

The Industrial Bank of Japan, Limited (IBJ) was incorporated as a quasi-governmental financial institution on March 27, 1902, under Japanese law. After World War II, IBJ's legal status was changed to that of a private corporation operating under the Long-Term Credit Bank Law, enacted in 1952.

The Long-Term Credit Bank Law provides for the establishment of banks whose specific purpose is to provide long-term funds for Japanese industry, defined to include loans having maturities of more than six months. This law further provides that long-term credit banks finance their operations primarily by the sale of their own debentures. IBJ is also engaged in various securities activities and provides international banking services, including foreign exchange trading.

IBJ is the oldest and largest of Japan's long-term credit banks and, in terms of deposits and debentures, is also one of the largest banks in Japan. According to the July 1987 issue of "Institutional Investor," IBJ was the eighth largest bank in the world in terms of assets. On March 31, 1987, on a nonconsolidated basis, IBJ had total assets of approximately US$194 billion, total loans and bills discounted outstanding of approximately US$106 billion, total debentures and deposits of approximately US$154 billion, and total shareholders' equity of approximately US$3 billion.

In addition to its 24 domestic branches, IBJ has overseas branches in New York, Chicago, London, Singapore, Paris and Hong Kong; an agency in Los Angeles; representative offices in Atlanta, Houston, San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Bahrain, Bangkok, Beijing, Dalian, Dusseldorf, Frankfurt/Main, Guangzhou, Jakarta, Kuala Lumpur, Madrid, Melbourne, Mexico City, Panama, Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Shanghai, Sydney and Toronto; and overseas subsidiaries in New York, London, Frankfurt/Main, Luxembourg, Zurich, Hong Kong, Toronto, Jakarta, Perth and Curacao. IBJ is publicly owned, and its shares are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange and the Osaka Securities Exchange.

IBJ will provide without charge to each person to whom this Official Statement is delivered, upon the request of any such person, a copy of its latest Annual Report, prepared in accordance with Japanese law and accounting principles. Written requests should be directed to: The Industrial Bank of Japan, Limited, Los Angeles Agency, 800 West Sixth Street, Los Angeles, California 90017, Attention: PacifiCorp Account Manager.

Written requests should be directed to: Deutsche Bank AG, New York Branch, Post Office Box 890, New York, New York 10101, Attention: Management.

NATIONAL WESTMINSTER BANK PLC

National Westminster Bank PLC (the "Bank"), together with its subsidiaries (the "Group"), is engaged in a wide range of banking, financial and related activities in the United Kingdom and throughout the world.

Based on consolidated total assets and deposits, the Group was the largest banking group in the United Kingdom at December 31, 1986 and is among the larger international banking groups in the world. At December 31, 1986 the Group reported consolidated total assets of 583.3 billion, consolidated total deposits of 69.3 billion and consolidated ordinary shareholders' equity of 4.6 billion. The Group's audited financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1986 have been filed on Form 20-F with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

On July 28, 1987 the Group reported interim pre-tax profits of 251 million after a charge for debt provisions of 564 million. The charge for bad and doubtful debts mainly reflects sovereign debt provisions of 496 million. This brings the Group's total sovereign debt cover to 886 million, which is 29.5% of its 3 billion outstandings to 35 problem countries.

The Group currently employs approximately 96,666 people worldwide. Its United Kingdom operations are conducted directly through the Bank, which is one of the four major London Clearing Banks, and through three additional banking subsidiaries and other subsidiary companies. International operations are conducted by the Bank and affiliated companies in the United Kingdom and in 36 other countries. The Group's international business has concentrated on OECD countries and its exposure to countries with liquidity difficulties is small relative to its total assets.

The Bank announced on August 5, 1987 that it had agreed to a cash purchase of First Jersey National Corporation, an American banking group in New Jersey, for a purchase price of US$820 million. First Jersey National Corporation is the fourth largest banking group in New Jersey with 114 branches and is a leading institution with state-wide operations. The transaction is expected to be completed shortly after January 1, 1988 subject to, inter alia, approval by the relevant regulatory authorities and of the terms of the offer by First Jersey National Corporation shareholders.

On November 27, 1987 the Bank announced that it had postponed for the time being its proposals to undertake a public offering in Japan and to list its ordinary shares on the Tokyo Stock Exchange. This decision has been taken in view of the significant changes which have taken place in the world equity markets since the middle of October. The position will be kept under review.

In the United Kingdom the Group is supervised by the Bank of England with which periodic reports are filed, together with other information as required. The Bank's San Francisco Overseas Branch is licensed by the State of California Banking Department and is subject to periodic examination by the Department. By virtue of its ownership of National Westminster Bank USA, the Bank is also subject to federal reporting requirements as a bank holding company.

APPENDIX F

ALTERNATIVE INTEREST RATES

The following is a description of the interest rate and purchase provisions of the Bonds while the Bonds bear a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate, a Tender Rate or a Fixed Interest Rate. The method by which the interest rate on the Bonds is determined can be changed as described in the Official Statement under "CONVERSION OF RATE."

Interest Provisions

Daily Interest Rate. With respect to each day the Bonds are to bear a Daily Interest Rate, the Daily Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent to be the interest rate which, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, when borne by the Bonds, would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on such date at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any; provided, however, that (A) with respect to any day that is not a Business Day, the Daily Interest Rate shall be the same rate as the Daily Interest Rate established for the immediately preceding Business Day unless the Remarketing Agent is open for business on such non-Business Day and determines a rate for such non-Business Day, in which case the Bonds shall bear interest at the rate so determined, and (B) if for any reason a Daily Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any day, the Daily Interest Rate for such day shall equal the Floating Interest Index determined by the Indexing Agent as of such day. On the basis of such Daily Interest Rates, the Trustee shall calculate the amount of interest payable during each Interest Period on the Bonds bearing interest at a Daily Interest Rate.

Weekly Interest Rate. With respect to each week the Bonds are to bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, the Weekly Interest Rate on the Bonds shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent by 12:00 noon, New York, New York time, on Wednesday of each week to be the interest rate which, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, when borne by the Bonds would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on such date at the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any. While the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate, the Remarketing Agent shall on the next to the last Business Day of each Interest Period provide in writing to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee the Weekly Interest Rates in effect during such Interest Period. In the determination of the Weekly Interest Rate, the following special provisions shall apply:

(1) In the event the Remarketing Agent shall fail or refuse for any week to determine the Weekly Interest Rate, the Weekly Interest Rate shall be the same as for the next preceding week.

(2) If for any reason (i) a Weekly Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent for any two successive weeks or (ii) the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, the Weekly Interest Rate for such week (or the second of such successive weeks, in the case of (i) above) shall equal the Floating Interest Index (as described in the Indenture) determined by the Indexing Agent (initially E.F. Hutton & Company Inc.) for such week.

Monthly Interest Rate. With respect to each Interest Period the Bonds are to bear interest at a Monthly Interest Rate, the Monthly Interest Rate shall be determined on the first Business Day of such Interest Period by the Remarketing Agent to be that rate which would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the first day of such Interest Period at the principal amount thereof. If for any reason a Monthly Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any Interest Period, the Monthly Interest Rate for such Interest Period shall equal the Floating Interest Index determined by the Indexing Agent for such Interest Period.

Tender Interest Rate. With respect to each Tender Period the Bonds are to bear interest at a Tender Interest Rate, the Tender Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent as follows. On the Business Day next preceding the first day of a Tender Period, the Remarketing Agent shall determine the Tender Interest Rate, which shall be the rate which would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell all of the Bonds on the first day of such Tender Period at the principal amount thereof.

If for any reason a Tender Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any Tender Period, the Tender Interest Rate for such Tender Period shall equal the Floating Interest Index determined by the Indexing Agent as of the first day of such Tender Period.

Promptly after the determination of each Tender Interest Rate, the Trustee shall mail a notice by first-class mail to each Owner of a Bond, at the address shown on the registration books of the Issuer maintained by the Registrar, advising such Owner of such Tender Interest Rate and of the Tender Period for which such Tender Interest Rate will be in effect. Failure by the Trustee to give any such notice by mailing, or any defect therein, shall not affect the Tender Interest Rate to be borne by the Bonds in any Tender Period.

Fixed Interest Rate. The Fixed Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent as follows. On the Business Day next preceding the effective date of the Fixed Interest Rate, the Remarketing Agent shall determine the Fixed Interest Rate, which shall be the rate which would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell all of the Bonds on the effective date of the Fixed Interest Rate at the principal amount thereof.

If for any reason the Fixed Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, the Fixed Interest Rate shall equal the Fixed Interest Index (as defined in the Indenture) determined by the Indexing Agent as of the effective date of the Fixed Interest Rate.

Promptly after the determination of the Fixed Interest Rate, the Trustee shall mail a notice by first-class mail to each Owner of a Bond, at the address shown on the registration books of the Issuer maintained by the Registrar, advising such Owner of such Fixed Interest Rate. Failure by the Trustee to give any such notice by mailing, or any defect therein, shall not affect the Fixed Interest Rate to be borne by the Bonds.

Conclusiveness of Determination. The computation of the Floating Interest Index and the Fixed Interest Index by the Indexing Agent, and the determination of any interest rate by the Remarketing Agent or the Indexing Agent, shall be conclusive and binding upon the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent and the Owners of the Bonds.

Purchase Provisions

Purchase on Demand of Owner While Bonds Bear Daily Interest Rate. An Owner who gives the notice set forth in clause (i) above may repurchase the Bonds so tendered with such notice on such Wednesday if the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the Bonds so tendered to such Owner. (b) While the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased, on the demand of the Owner thereof, on any Business Day at a purchase price equal to the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase, upon: (1) delivery to the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent of a written notice (and at the option of an Owner which is an Investment Company, with a copy to the Trustee) which (i) states the aggregate principal amount of such Bond and (ii) states the date on which such Bond shall be purchased pursuant to this subparagraph (b), which date shall be a Business Day not prior to the seventh day next succeeding the date of the delivery of such notice to the Remarketing Agent; and (2) delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) and, in the case of a Bond to be purchased prior to the Interest Payment Date for any Interest Period and after the Record Date in respect thereto, a due-bill, in form satisfactory to the Remarketing Agent, at the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent at or prior to 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on the date specified in the aforesaid notice; provided, however, that such Bond shall be so purchased pursuant to this subparagraph (b) only if the Bond so delivered to the Remarketing Agent shall conform in all respects to the description thereof in the aforesaid notice.

Purchase on Demand of Owner While Bonds Bear Monthly Interest Rate.

(a) While the Bonds bear interest at a Monthly Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased, on the demand of the Owner thereof, on any Interest Payment Date at a purchase price equal to the principal amount thereof, upon (1) delivery to the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent at or prior to 4:00 p.m., New York, New York time, on the third Business Day prior to such Interest Payment Date of a telephonic notice (unless the Trustee shall be serving as Remarketing Agent, in which case written notice delivered to the Principal Office of the Trustee shall be required) which (i) states the aggregate principal amount of such Bond and (ii) states that such Bond shall be purchased on such Interest Payment Date pursuant to this subparagraph (a); and (2) the delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) at the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent at or prior to 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on such Interest Payment Date; provided, however, that such Bond shall be so purchased pursuant to this subparagraph (a) only if the Bond so delivered to the Remarketing Agent shall conform in all respects to the description thereof in the aforesaid notice. If such Owner decides to repurchase such Bonds and the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the specified Bonds to such Owner prior to delivery of such Bonds as set forth in clause (2) hereinabove, the delivery requirement set forth in such clause (2) shall be waived.

(b) While the Bonds bear interest at a Monthly Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased, on the demand of the Owner thereof, on any Business Day at a purchase price equal to the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase, upon: (1) delivery to the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent (and at the option of an Owner which is an Investment Company, with a copy to the Trustee) of a written notice which (i) states the aggregate principal amount of such Bond and (ii) states the date on which such Bond shall be purchased pursuant to this subparagraph (b), which date shall be a Business Day not prior to the seventh day next succeeding the date of the delivery of such notice to the Remarketing Agent; and (2) delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) and, in the case of a Bond to be purchased prior to the Interest Payment Date for any Interest Period and after the Record Date in respect thereto, a due-bill, in form satisfactory to the Remarketing Agent, at the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent at or prior to 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on the date specified in the aforesaid notice; provided, however, that such Bond shall be so purchased pursuant to this subparagraph (b) only if the Bond so delivered to the Remarketing Agent shall conform in all respects to the description thereof in the aforesaid notice.

Purchase While Bonds Bear Tender Interest Rate.

(a) While the Bonds bear interest at a Tender Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased on the day (which is not a Conversion Date) next succeeding the last day of any Tender Period (a "Purchase Date") at a purchase price equal to the principal amount thereof unless the Owner of the Bond delivers a completed Bondholder Election Notice (as defined in the Indenture) to the Principal Office of the Trustee (as defined in the Indenture) or any office designated by the Trustee between the opening of business on the twenty-first day next preceding the Purchase Date and the close of business on the seventh day next preceding the Purchase Date (or if such twenty-first or seventh day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day). The delivery of a Bondholder Election Notice by an Owner to retain his Bond is irrevocable and binding on such Owner and cannot be withdrawn. The Trustee shall give the Remarketing Agent telephonic notice, promptly confirmed in writing, specifying the principal amount of Bonds for which Bondholder Election Notices have been received. Not later than the fifteenth day next preceding the Purchase Date, the Trustee shall give notice by first-class mail to the Owners of the Bonds stating (i) the last day of the Tender Period, (ii) that the Bonds will be purchased on the Purchase Date unless the Owner of the Bond delivers a completed Bondholder Election Notice (a copy of which shall accompany the notice from the Trustee) to the Trustee as provided in the Indenture between the opening of business on the twenty-first day and the close of business on the seventh day next preceding the Purchase Date (or if such seventh day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day) and (iii) that after the Purchase Date the Bonds will bear interest at a Tender Interest Rate for a Tender Period of the same length as the then current Tender Period.

If during any Tender Period the Company fails to deliver to the Trustee a notice of conversion as described under the caption "CONVERSION OF RATE-Conversion to Fixed Interest Rate, Tender Interest Rate or Floating Interest Rates," from and after the Purchase Date the Bonds shall bear interest at a Tender Interest Rate for a Tender Period of the same length as that ending on the day immediately preceding such Purchase Date.

Any Owner of a Bond who does not deliver a completed Bondholder Election Notice as described above must deliver such Bond (with any necessary endorsements) to the Principal Office of the Trustee, not later than 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on the Purchase Date.

Any Owner who delivers a completed Bondholder Election Notice as described above in order to retain a portion of a Bond must deliver such Bond (with any necessary endorsements) to the Principal Office of the Trustee at the same time as the delivery of such Bondholder Election Notice. If an Owner so elects to retain a portion of a Bond, the Trustee shall, in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, deliver to such Owner a principal amount of Bonds in Authorized Denominations equal to the portion of the Bond so retained.

(b) Bonds or portions thereof to be purchased as provided in paragraph (a) above which are not delivered by the Owners thereof to the Trustee as above provided shall nonetheless be deemed to have been delivered by the Owner thereof for purchase and to have been purchased; provided that there have been irrevocably deposited with the Trustee moneys in accordance with the Indenture in an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price of such Bonds. Thereafter, the Trustee shall authenticate a new Bond as provided in the Indenture. Moneys deposited with the Trustee for purchase of Bonds pursuant to the Indenture shall be held in trust in a separate escrow account (without liability for interest thereon) and shall be paid to the Owners of such Bonds upon presentation thereof. The Trustee shall within five days after the Purchase Date give written notice to the Company whether Bonds have not been delivered, and upon direction to do so by the Company, the Trustee shall give notice by mail to each Owner whose Bonds are deemed to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture, which notice shall state that interest on such Bonds ceased to accrue on the Purchase Date and that moneys representing the purchase price of such Bonds are available against delivery thereof at the Principal Office of the Trustee. The Trustee shall hold moneys deposited by the Company or drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the purchase of Bonds as provided in the Indenture, without liability for interest thereon, for the benefit of the former Owner of the Bond on such Purchase Date, who shall thereafter be restricted exclusively to such moneys for any claim of whatever nature on his part under the Indenture or on, or with respect to, such Bond. Any moneys so deposited with and held by the Trustee not so applied to the payment of Bonds, if any, within six months after such Purchase Date shall be paid by the Trustee to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the extent of any amount payable under the Reimbursement Agreement, and the balance shall be paid by the Trustee to the Company upon the written direction of the Authorized Company Representative consented to in writing by the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), and thereafter the former owners shall be entitled to look only to the Company for payment, and then only to the extent of the amount so repaid to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and/or the Company, and the Company shall not be liable for any interest thereon and shall not be regarded as a trustee of such money.

PROPOSED FORMS OF OPINIONS OF BOND COUNSEL

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit is authorized under the Loan Agreement and complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.
2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds and will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, we rendered our approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the conversion of the interest rate on the Bonds from a CP Rate to a Weekly Interest Rate and the delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility, described in our opinion dated May 26, 1999 and our opinions dated June 7, 1999, (b) the delivery of an Alternate Credit Facility, described in our opinion dated September 15, 2004, (c) the delivery of the amendment to an earlier Alternate Credit Facility, described in our opinion dated November 30, 2005, (d) the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated May 16, 2012 and (e) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

REOFFERING-NOT A NEW ISSUE

SUPPLEMENT, DATED MARCH 21, 2013, TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, DATED JULY 24, 1990

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on July 25, 1990, stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants, under then-existing law (a) interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended) and (b) interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Such opinion of Bond Counsel was also to the effect that under then-existing law such interest will be exempt from certain Wyoming taxes. Such opinion has not been updated as of the date hereof. In the opinion of Bond Counsel to be delivered in connection with the delivery of the Replacement Letter of Credit, the delivery of the Replacement Letter of Credit will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

PACIFICORP

Effective on March 26, 2013, and until March 26, 2015, unless earlier terminated or extended, the Bonds will be supported by an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (the "Replacement Letter of Credit") issued, with respect to the Bonds by the New York Agency of

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

Under the Replacement Letter of Credit, the Trustee will be entitled to draw up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 65 days' accrued interest on the Bonds calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a rate other than a Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture). Failure to pay the purchase price when due and payable is an event of default under the Indenture.

The Bonds are currently supported by a Letter of Credit issued by Barclays Bank PLC, New York Branch (the "Existing Letter of Credit"). On March 26, 2013, the Replacement Letter of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee in substitution for the Existing Letter of Credit, and the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letters of Credit after such substitution.

As of the date hereof, the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate. The Bonds bearing interest at a Weekly Interest Rate are issuable as fully registered Bonds without coupons, initially in the denomination of $100,000 and integral multiples of $100,000 in excess thereof. Interest on the Bonds will be payable on the Interest Payment Date applicable to the Bonds. The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York ("DTC"), will continue to act as a securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds are registered in the name of Cede & Co., as registered owner and nominee of DTC, and, except for the limited circumstances described herein, beneficial owners of interests in the Bonds will not receive certificates representing their interests in the Bonds. Payments of principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds will be made through DTC and its Participants and disbursements of such payments to purchasers will be the responsibility of such Participants.

Certain legal matters related to the delivery of the Replacement Letter of Credit will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler LLP, Bond Counsel to the Company. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Company by Paul J. Leighton, Esq., counsel to the Company.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT DOES NOT CONTAIN COMPLETE DESCRIPTIONS OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER INFORMATION WHICH IS SET FORTH IN THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT DATED JULY 24, 1990, A COPY OF WHICH IS ATTACHED HERETO AS APPENDIX C (THE "ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT" AND, TOGETHER WITH THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT, THE "OFFICIAL STATEMENT"), EXCEPT WHERE THERE HAS BEEN A CHANGE IN THE DOCUMENTS OR MORE RECENT INFORMATION SINCE THE DATE OF THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT. THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT SHOULD THEREFORE BE READ ONLY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORIGINAL OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

This Supplement to Official Statement is provided to furnish certain information with respect to the reoffering of the Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1990A (the "Bonds") currently outstanding in the aggregate principal amount of $70,000,000, issued by Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer").

The Bonds were issued pursuant to a Trust Indenture, dated as of July 1, 1990 (the "Indenture"), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A. (successor in interest to The First National Bank of Chicago), as Trustee (the "Trustee"). The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds were loaned to PacifiCorp (the "Company") pursuant to the terms of a Loan Agreement dated as of July 1, 1990 (the "Agreement"), between the Issuer and the Company. Under the Agreement, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds (the "Loan Payments") and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds. The proceeds of the Bonds, together with certain other moneys of the Company, were used for the purposes set forth in the Original Official Statement.

The Bonds, together with premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited and not general, obligations of the Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer nor any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof, shall be payable solely from the Revenues (as defined in the Indenture and which includes moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit) and other moneys pledged therefor under the Indenture, and shall be a valid claim of the holders thereof only against the Bond Fund (as defined in the Indenture), Revenues and other moneys held by the Trustee as part of the Trust Estate (as defined in the Indenture). The Issuer shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of any of the Bonds from any source.

No recourse shall be had for the payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any of the Bonds or for any claim based thereon or upon any obligation, covenant or agreement contained in the Indenture, against any past, present or future officer or employee of the Issuer, or any incorporator, officer, director or member of any successor corporation, as such, either directly, or through the Issuer or any successor corporation, under any rule of law or equity, statute or constitution or by the enforcement of any assessment or penalty or otherwise, and all such liability of any such incorporator, officer, director or member as such was expressly waived and released as a condition of and in consideration for the execution of the Indenture and the issuance of the Bonds.

The Company has exercised its right under the Agreement and the Indenture to terminate the Letter of Credit, dated May 16, 2012 (the “Existing Letter of Credit”) and issued by Barclays Bank PLC, New York Branch (the “Prior Bank”), with respect to the Bonds, which has supported payment of the principal, interest and purchase price of the Bonds since the date the Existing Letter of Credit was issued. Pursuant to the Indenture, the Company has elected to replace the Existing Letter of Credit with an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit (the “Letter of Credit”) to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, a bank organized under the laws of Canada, acting through its New York Agency (the “Bank”). The Letter of Credit will be delivered to the Trustee on March 26, 2013 (the “Effective Date”) and, after such date, the Bonds will not have the benefit of the Existing Letter of Credit.

With respect to the Bonds, the Trustee will be entitled to draw under the Letter of Credit up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 65 days’ accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn on with respect to related Bonds bearing interest at a rate other than a Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture).

After the date of delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Company is permitted under the Agreements and the Indenture to provide a substitute letter of credit (the “Substitute Letter of Credit”), which is issued by the same Bank that issued the then existing Letter of Credit and which is identical to such Letter of Credit except for (i) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate (as defined in the Indenture), (ii) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period (as defined in the Indenture) or (iii) any combination of (i) and (ii). As used hereafter, “Letter of Credit” shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit from and after the issuance date thereof. The Company also is permitted under the Agreement and Indenture to provide for the delivery of an alternate credit facility, including a letter of credit of a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, or any other credit support agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or first mortgage bonds of the Company or an insurance policy), the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee (an “Alternate Credit Facility”), to replace a Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of a Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. See “THE LETTER OF CREDIT” and the Official Statement under the caption “THE BONDS —Purchase of Bonds.”

Prior to the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds were bearing interest at a Weekly Interest Rate. Following the delivery of the Letter of Credit, the Bonds will continue to bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate; subject to the right of the Company to cause the interest rate on the Bonds to be converted to other interest rate determination methods as described in the Official Statement.

Reference is hereby made to the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof.

Brief descriptions of the Issuer, the Bonds, the Letter of Credit, the Reimbursement Agreement, the Agreement and the Indenture are included in this Supplement to Official Statement, including the Original Official Statement attached as Appendix C hereto. Information regarding the business, properties and financial condition of the Company is included in Appendix A attached hereto. A brief description of the Bank is included as Appendix B hereto. The descriptions herein of the Agreement, the Indenture, the Letter of Credit and the Reimbursement Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to such documents, and the descriptions herein of the Bonds are qualified in their entirety by reference to the forms thereof and the information with respect thereto included in the aforesaid documents. All such descriptions are further qualified in their entirety by reference to laws and principles of equity relating to or affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally. Copies of such documents may be obtained from the principal corporate trust office of the Trustee in Chicago, Illinois and at the principal offices of the Remarketing Agent in New York, New York. The letter of credit described in the Original Official Statement is no longer in effect and the information in the Original Official Statement with respect thereto should be disregarded.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT AND THE REIMBURSEMENT AGREEMENT

The following is a brief summary of certain provisions of the Replacement Letter of Credit and that certain Letter of Credit and Reimbursement Agreement, dated March 26, 2013, as amended and supplemented, between the Company and The Bank of Nova Scotia (together with all related documents, the "Reimbursement Agreement"). This summary is not a complete recital of the terms of the Replacement Letter of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreement and reference is made to the Replacement Letter of Credit or the Reimbursement Agreement, as applicable, in its entirety.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT

The Replacement Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct pay obligation of the Bank to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount sufficient to pay (i) the outstanding unpaid principal amount of the applicable Bonds or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of such Bonds corresponding to such unpaid principal amount plus (b) an amount sufficient to pay (i) up to 65 days' accrued interest on such Bonds (in each case calculated at the maximum rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days) or (ii) the portion of the purchase price of the applicable Bonds corresponding to such accrued interest. The Replacement Letter of Credit will only be available to be drawn while the Bonds bear interest at a rate other than a term interest rate pursuant to the Indenture. The Replacement Letter of Credit will be substantially in the form attached hereto as Appendix E. The Replacement Letter of Credit will be issued pursuant to a Letter of Credit Reimbursement

Agreement, dated March 26, 2013 (the “Reimbursement Agreement”), between the Company and the Bank.

The Bank’s obligation under the Replacement Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee to pay the purchase price of the Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest only on the Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the Replacement Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated as of the Bank’s close of business in New York, New York on the ninth (9th) business day following the Bank’s honoring of such drawing by the amount drawn, unless the Trustee has received notice (a “Non-Reinstatement Notice”) from the Bank by the ninth (9th) business day following the date of such honoring that there will be no reinstatement.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of Bonds due to an event of default under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the Replacement Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 65 days’ interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds (less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Replacement Letter of Credit has not been reinstated).

The Replacement Letter of Credit shall expire on the earliest of: (a) March 26, 2015 (such date, as it may be extended as provided in such Replacement Letter of Credit, the “Scheduled Expiration Date”), (b) four (4) Business Days following the Trustee’s receipt of (i) written notice from the Bank that an event of default has occurred under the Reimbursement Agreement or (ii) a Non-Reinstatement Notice, (c) the date that the Trustee informs the Bank that the conditions for termination of the Replacement Letter of Credit as set forth in the Indenture have been satisfied and that the Replacement Letter of Credit has terminated in accordance with its terms, (d) the date that is 15 days after the conversion of the Bonds to a term interest rate and (e) the date of a final drawing under the Replacement Letter of Credit.

Credit Document will become due and payable, without presentment, demand, protest, or further notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived by the Company.

REMARKETING AGENT

General. Citigroup Global Markets Inc. (the “Remarketing Agent”), will continue as remarketing agent for the Bonds. Subject to certain conditions, the Remarketing Agent has agreed to determine the rates of interest on the Bonds and use its best efforts to remarket all tendered Bonds.

In the ordinary course of its business, the Remarketing Agent has engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with the Company, its subsidiaries and its other affiliates, for which it has received and will receive customary compensation.

Special Considerations. The Remarketing Agent is Paid by the Company. The Remarketing Agent’s responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the Indentures and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Supplement. The Remarketing Agent is appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for its services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agent may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agent May Purchase Bonds for Its Own Account. The Remarketing Agent acts as remarketing agent for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in its sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for its own account. The Remarketing Agent is permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for its own account and, in its sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agent is not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agent may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agent is not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agent may also sell any Bonds it has purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce its exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agent may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May Be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to each Indenture and Remarketing Agreement, the Remarketing Agent is required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in its judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the Bonds

(including whether the Remarketing Agent is willing to purchase Bonds for its own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agent may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agent may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agent is not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if it does not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event the Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agent may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, it is not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Trustee with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agent May Resign, be Removed or Cease Remarketing the Bonds, Without a Successor Being Named. Under certain circumstances, the Remarketing Agent may be removed or have the ability to resign or cease its remarketing efforts without a successor having been named, subject to the terms of the Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement.

TAX EXEMPTION

The opinion of Chapman and Cutler delivered on July 25, 1990 stated that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, under then-existing law, interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related project or facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954), and the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (because the Prior Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. As indicated in such opinions, the failure to comply with certain of such covenants of the applicable Issuer and the Company could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Chapman and Cutler LLP (“Bond Counsel”) has made no independent investigation to confirm that such covenants have been complied with.

Bond Counsel will deliver an opinion for the Bonds in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit, in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix D, to the effect that the delivery of the Letter of Credit (i) is authorized under and complies with the terms of the Agreement and (ii) will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds or will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Bond Counsel has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to its opinion dated July 25, 1990 subsequent to its issuance other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the delivery of an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated as of July 19, 2000, (b) delivery of an earlier Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated September 15, 2004, (c) delivery of an amendment to such earlier Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated November 30, 2005, (d) delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in its opinion dated May 16, 2012 and (e) delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. The opinion delivered in connection with delivery of the Letter of Credit is not to be interpreted as a reissuance of the original approving opinion as of the date of this Supplement to Official Statement.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S Corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

MISCELLANEOUS

This Supplement to Official Statement has been approved by the Company for distribution by the Remarketing Agent to current Bondholders and potential purchasers of the Bonds. THE ISSUER MAKES NO REPRESENTATION WITH RESPECT TO AND HAS NOT PARTICIPATED IN THE PREPARATION OF ANY PORTION OF THIS SUPPLEMENT TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

APPENDIX C

REFUNDING ISSUE

Subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants, in the opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, under present law (i) interest on the Bonds will not be includible in gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended), and (ii) interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing the corporate alternative minimum tax, as more fully discussed under the heading "TAX EXEMPTION." Bond Counsel is also of the opinion that such interest is exempt from certain Wyoming taxes as more fully discussed under the heading "TAX EXEMPTION" herein.

The Bonds are issuable solely as fully registered Bonds without coupons, initially in denominations of $100,000 each or integral multiples thereof. Initially, the Bonds will bear interest from the date of actual authentication and delivery thereof at a Weekly Interest Rate established pursuant to the terms of the Trust Indenture (the "Indenture") dated as of July 1, 1990 between Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), and The First National Bank of Chicago, as trustee (the "Trustee"). Thereafter, to but not including a Conversion Date (as defined herein), the Bonds shall bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate. The Bonds are subject to conversion to interest rates other than a Weekly Interest Rate as more fully described herein. For so long as the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, the interest on the Bonds shall be payable on the first Business Day of each month (together with certain other dates hereinafter described, an "Interest Payment Date") commencing September 4, 1990, calculated on the basis of a year of 365 or 366 days, as applicable, for the actual number of days elapsed by check mailed to the persons in whose names such Bonds are registered at the close of business on the Record Date (hereinafter defined). Interest may, at the option of any Owner of Bonds of an aggregate principal amount of at least $1,000,000, be transmitted by wire transfer to such Owner. Principal of and premium, if any, on all Bonds will be payable at the principal corporate trust office of The First National Bank of Chicago, as Trustee, in Chicago, Illinois.

The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds will be loaned to

PacifiCorp

(the "Company") pursuant to the terms of a Loan Agreement dated as of July 1, 1990 (the "Agreement") and used to refund, in advance of stated maturity, the Issuer's $70,000,000 Floating Rate Monthly Demand Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacifi Power & Light Company Project) Series 1983B (the "Series 1983B Bonds"). The proceeds of the Series 1983B Bonds were loaned to the Company to pay a portion of the costs of certain air and water pollution control facilities (the "Facilities") at the Jim Bridger Plant, a coal-fired generating plant (the "Plant") jointly owned by the Company and Idaho Power Company. The Plant is located in Sweetwater County, Wyoming.

The Bonds are limited and not general obligations of the Issuer payable solely from the revenues and amounts derived under the Agreement and pledged under the Indenture consisting of all amounts payable from time to time by the Company in respect of the indebtedness under the Agreement and from any other moneys available to the Issuer for such purpose, including funds drawn under an irrevocable direct-pay Letter of Credit issued by the Los Angeles Branch of

Credit Suisse

Under the Letter of Credit, the Trustee will be entitled through July 25, 1995 (unless earlier terminated or extended) to draw up to an amount sufficient to pay the principal of and, initially, up to 65 days' accrued interest on the Bonds to be used (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds and (b) to pay the purchase price of Bonds tendered by the Owners thereof as provided in the Indenture.

The Bonds are subject to optional and mandatory redemption as provided in the Indenture and as described herein. While the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, the Bonds are subject to purchase on demand of an Owner on any Business Day on seven days' notice as described herein. While a Bond bears interest at rates other than a Weekly Interest Rate, the Bonds are subject to purchase as described herein.

The Bonds are offered when, as and if issued by the Issuer and accepted by the Underwriter, subject to delivery of an approving opinion by Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, and certain other conditions. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Underwriter by its counsel, Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts. It is expected that delivery of the Bonds will be made on or about July 25, 1990 in New York, New York against payment for the Bonds.

SECURITY FOR THE BONDS

The Bonds will be limited and not general obligations of the Issuer as described below under the caption "Limited Obligations." Under the Agreement, the Company is unconditionally obligated to pay amounts sufficient to provide for payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds (the "Loan Payments") and for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds.

The Bonds will be supported by an irrevocable direct-pay Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") to be issued by Credit Suisse, acting through its Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank"). The Trustee will be entitled under the Letter of Credit through July 25, 1995 (unless earlier terminated or extended) to draw up to an amount sufficient to pay the principal of and, initially, up to 65 days' accrued interest on the Bonds to be used (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds and (b) to pay the purchase price of Bonds tendered by Owners thereof as provided in the Indenture.

The Company is permitted under the Agreement and the Indenture to provide a letter of credit (the "Substitute Letter of Credit") issued by the Bank which is identical to the Letter of Credit except for (i) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Rate (as hereafter defined), (ii) an increase or decrease in the Interest Coverage Period (as hereafter defined) or (iii) any combination of (i) and (ii). As used hereafter, "Letter of Credit" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean such Substitute Letter of Credit from and after the issuance date thereof. The Company also is permitted under the Agreement and Indenture to provide for the delivery of an alternate credit facility, including a letter of credit issued by a commercial bank or a credit facility from a financial institution, or any other credit support agreement or mechanism arranged by the Company (which may involve a letter of credit or other credit facility or first mortgage bonds of the Company or an insurance policy), the administration provisions of which are acceptable to the Trustee (an "Alternate Credit Facility"), to replace a Letter of Credit or provide for the termination of a Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. The entity obligated to make payments under an Alternate Credit Facility shall be referred to hereafter as the "Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility." See "THE LETTER OF CREDIT" and "REDEMPTION OF BONDS."

Limited Obligations

The Bonds, together with the premium, if any, and interest thereon, are limited and not general obligations of the Issuer not constituting or giving rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer nor any charge against its general credit or taxing powers nor an indebtedness of or a loan of credit thereof and shall be payable solely from the revenues to be received by the Issuer under the Agreement and from any other moneys pledged under the Indenture for such purpose, including moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be. The Issuer shall not be obligated to pay the purchase price of the Bonds from any source.

THE ISSUER

The Issuer is a political subdivision, duly organized and existing under the Constitution and laws of the State of Wyoming. Pursuant to Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, of the Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended (the "Act"), the Issuer is authorized to issue the Bonds, to enter into the Indenture and the Agreement and to secure Bonds by an assignment to the Trustee of the payments to be made by the Company under the Agreement and a pledge of other moneys deposited with the Trustee under the Indenture.

The Bonds will be limited obligations of the Issuer as described under the caption "SECURITY FOR THE BONDS — Limited Obligations."

THE FACILITIES

The Facilities financed in part with proceeds of the Series 1983B Bonds are air and water pollution control facilities at the Plant, principally including equipment and other property used for flue gas desulphurization, particulate control, and waste water treatment.

USE OF PROCEEDS

It is anticipated that the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds, together with funds of the Company, will be applied to the redemption of $70,000,000 principal amount of the Series 1983B Bonds at 100% of the principal amount of such bonds. An underwriting fee and the cost of issuance of the Bonds will be paid by the Company and not from the proceeds of the Bonds.

THE BONDS

Reference is hereby made to the Bonds in their entirety for the detailed provisions thereof. Certain terms used herein are defined below under the caption "THE BONDS — Certain Definitions."

General

The Bonds will be dated as of July 1, 1990 and will mature as set forth on the cover page hereof. The Bonds will initially bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate as described below. Bonds authenticated prior to the first Interest Payment Date shall bear interest from the date of the first authentication and delivery of Bonds (the "Date of Delivery"). Bonds authenticated on or after the first Interest Payment Date thereon shall bear interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of authentication thereof, unless such date of authentication shall be an Interest Payment Date to which interest on the Bonds has been paid in full or duly provided for, in which case they shall bear interest from such date of authentication; provided that if, as shown by the records of the Registrar interest on the Bonds shall be in default, Bonds issued in exchange for or upon the registration of transfer of Bonds shall bear interest from the date to which interest has been paid in full on the Bonds or, if no interest has been paid on the Bonds, the Date of Delivery. Each Bond shall bear interest on overdue principal and, to the extent permitted by law, on overdue premium, if any, and interest at the rates borne by the Bonds during such time.

The First National Bank of Chicago is Trustee and Registrar under the Indenture and has its corporate trust office in Chicago, Illinois. First Chicago Trust Company of New York has been designated as the delivery office of the Trustee and Registrar in New York, New York, for certain purposes. The Trustee and Registrar may be removed or replaced by the Issuer at the direction of the Company.

Principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds are payable at the place and in the manner specified on the cover page of this Official Statement. Bonds may be transferred or exchanged for Bonds of Authorized Denominations at the principal corporate trust office in Chicago, Illinois of The First National Bank of Chicago or at the delivery office in New York, New York of the Trustee, without cost to the Owner, except for any tax or other governmental charge.

Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. has, at the direction of the Company, been appointed Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent") under a remarketing agreement and is acting in that capacity under the Indenture. The principal office of Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. is located in New York, New York. The Remarketing Agent may be removed or replaced by the Issuer at the direction of the Company and with the written consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Issuer upon the giving of at least 30 days' notice. The Remarketing Agent may at any time resign and be discharged of its duties and obligations as such by giving at least 30 days' notice to the Company, the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Registrar and the Trustee.

Interest on the Bonds

Weekly Interest Rate. The Bonds shall bear interest commencing on the Date of Delivery to and including July 31, 1990, at a Weekly Interest Rate not exceeding 12% per annum determined at or prior to the Date of Delivery. Commencing August 1, 1990, the Bonds shall bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate unless and until the method of determining interest on the Bonds is converted to another method as described below under the caption "CONVERSION OF RATE." The Weekly Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent by 9:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on Wednesday of each week (or if such Wednesday is not a Business Day, on the first Business Day after such Wednesday) to be the interest rate which, on that day, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, would be the minimum interest rate necessary to remarket the Bonds at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any. While the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate, the Remarketing Agent shall on the last Business Day of each Interest Period provide in writing to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee the Weekly Interest Rates in effect during such Interest Period. In the determination of the Weekly Interest Rate, the following special provisions shall apply: (1) in the event the Remarketing Agent shall fail or refuse for any week to determine the Weekly Interest Rate, the Weekly Interest Rate shall be the same as for the next preceding week, and (2) if for any reason (i) a Weekly Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent for any two successive weeks or (ii) the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, the Weekly Interest Rate for such week (or the second of such successive weeks, in the case of (i) above) shall equal the rate determined by the Trustee as being equal to 70% of the interest rate for 30-day taxable commercial paper (prime paper placed through dealers) announced by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on the day on which the Remarketing Agent was to have set the Weekly Interest Rate.

Payment and Accrual of Interest. The Bonds shall bear interest from and including the Date of Delivery until payment of the principal or redemption price thereof shall have been made or provided for in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise, at the lesser of (i) the Maximum Interest Rate (as hereafter defined) or (ii) the rate determined as described under the caption “THE BONDS — Interest on the Bonds” and in Appendix C hereto. “Maximum Interest Rate” means (i) while a Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, if applicable) is outstanding, the lesser of 20% per annum or the Interest Coverage Rate and (ii) at all other times, 20% per annum. “Interest Coverage Rate” means the rate specified in the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, if applicable), initially 12%, which is used to determine the maximum amount that can be drawn to pay interest on the Bonds (or the portion of the purchase price corresponding to accrued interest) (the “Interest Component”) for the number of days specified in the Letter of Credit (the “Interest Coverage Period”), initially 65 days.

Interest accrued on the Bonds during each Interest Period shall be paid to the Owner as of the Record Date on the next succeeding Interest Payment Date and, while the Bonds bear a Flexible Rate, a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate, computed on the basis of a year of 365 or 366 days, as applicable, for the actual number of days elapsed and, while the Bonds bear a Term Interest Rate, computed on the basis of a year of 360 days consisting of twelve 30-day months.

Determination Binding. The determination of any interest rate by the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee shall be conclusive and binding upon the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company, the Registrar and the Owners of the Bonds.

Conversion to Alternative Rates. At the written direction of the Company, the method of determining interest payable on the Bonds may be converted from a Weekly Interest Rate to another Floating Interest Rate (a Flexible Rate, a Daily Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate) or a Term Interest Rate (as each of those terms is described in Appendix C hereto) or from any such method of determination to any other method of determination under the conditions described below under the caption “CONVERSION OF RATE.” Certain terms applicable to the Bonds at such time as the Bonds are not bearing interest at a Weekly Interest Rate are described in Appendix C hereto.

Such notice shall state (i) that the method of determining the interest rate on the Bonds will be converted to an alternate method of determining the rate, (ii) the effective date of the alternate method of determining the rate, (iii) the procedures and dates involved in determining the rate and the procedure for notifying Owners of the interest rate, (iv) when interest on the Bonds will be payable after the effective date, (v) if the Trustee has been so notified by the Company, whether the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, will be in effect after such effective date and, if so, the issuer, the expiration terms, the interest coverage period and the interest coverage rate applicable to the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, (vi) whether subsequent to such effective date the Owners of Bonds will no longer have the right to deliver Bonds to the Trustee for purchase, (vii) that the rating on the Bonds by Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. (“Moody’s”), if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and Standard & Poor’s Corporation (“S&P”), if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, may be reduced, suspended or withdrawn, and (viii) that all outstanding Bonds not repurchased on or prior to the effective date will be redeemed on such effective date except Bonds with respect to which the Owner has directed the Issuer not to redeem the same in accordance with the Indenture.

Any such remarketing will be made at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest. While Bonds bear a Flexible Rate, a Daily Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate or a Term Interest Rate, the Remarketing Agent will offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket Bonds to be purchased on the dates and at the purchase prices as described in Appendix C to this Official Statement.

No Purchases or Sales After Certain Defaults. Anything in the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, (i) at any time when neither the Letter of Credit nor an Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, there shall be no purchases or sales of Bonds as described below, and (ii) at any time during which the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, there shall be no sales of Bonds, if there shall have occurred and not have been cured or waived an Event of Default described in paragraph (a), (b), (c), (d) or (e) under the caption "THE INDENTURE — Defaults" of which the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee have actual knowledge.

REDEMPTION OF BONDS

Optional Redemption of Bonds

(a) While a Bond bears interest at a Flexible Rate, such Bond shall be subject to optional redemption on any Interest Payment Date for such Bond by the Issuer, in whole or in part (and if in part in an Authorized Denomination), at the written direction of the Company, at 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption, if any, upon 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee.

(b) While the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate, the Bonds shall be subject to optional redemption on any Interest Payment Date by the Issuer, in whole or in part (and if in part in an Authorized Denomination), at the written direction of the Company, at 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption, if any, upon at least 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee.

(c) While the Bonds bear interest at a Term Interest Rate, the Bonds shall be subject to optional redemption at any time by the Issuer, in whole or in part (and if in part in an Authorized Denomination), at the written direction of the Company, upon 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee; provided, however, that the Bonds shall not be redeemable during the No-Call Period shown below, which shall begin on the first day of the Term Period. On and during the six months after the Interest Payment Date that ends the No-Call Period (or the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, if the No-Call Period does not end on an Interest Payment Date), the Bonds shall be redeemable at the percentage of their principal amount shown in the Initial Redemption Price column plus interest accrued to the redemption date. The redemption price shall decline semiannually by the amount shown in the SemiAnnual Reduction in Redemption Price column until the Bonds shall be redeemable without premium in the year or portion of a year indicated in the No-Premium column and in any later years or periods in the Term Period.

Term Period		No-Call Period	Initial Redemption Price	SemiAnnual Reduction in Redemption Price	No Premium
Equal to or Greater Than	But Less Than
18 Years	N/A	10 Years	103%	1/2%	14th Year
12 Years	18 Years	8 Years	103	1/2	12th Year
9 Years	12 Years	6 Years	102	1/2	9th Year
7 Years	9 Years	5 Years	101	1/2	7th Year
5 Years	7 Years	3 Years	101	1/2	5th Year
3 Years	5 Years	2 Years	100 ^{1/2}	1/4	3rd Year
2 Years	3 Years	1 Year	100 ^{1/4}	1/4	18th Month
1 Year	2 Years	6 Months	100 ^{1/8}	1/8	12th Month
6 Months	1 Year	3 Months	100 ^{1/8}	1/8	6th Month

If the Term Period is less than six months, the Bonds will not be redeemable pursuant to this subparagraph. While a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is outstanding, the Company may only cause a redemption of Bonds pursuant to this subparagraph which would require a payment of a premium if on the date of the giving of notice of redemption the Trustee has Available Moneys in the Bond Fund or can draw under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in an amount sufficient to pay such premium due on the date of redemption. The initial Letter of Credit does not provide for drawings in respect of the amount of any such redemption premium.

If the interest rate borne by the Bonds is converted pursuant to the Indenture, and if in connection with such conversion the Company directs in writing to the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent pursuant to the Indenture that the foregoing schedule of premiums and No-Call Periods be revised and specifies the new premiums and No-Call Periods, the foregoing schedule of premiums and No-Call Periods shall be revised in accordance with such direction of the Company.

Extraordinary Optional Redemption of Bonds

At any time, the Bonds shall be subject to redemption by the Issuer in whole or in part (and if in part, in an Authorized Denomination), at the direction of the Company, upon 30 days' prior notice from the Company to the Issuer and the Trustee, at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, but without premium, if the Company shall deliver a certificate stating that one of the following events has occurred:

(i) the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the Plant is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable for any reason; or

(ii) the Company shall have determined that the continued operation of the Facilities is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable due to (A) the imposition of taxes, other than ad valorem taxes currently levied upon privately owned property used for the same general purpose as the Facilities, or other liabilities or burdens with respect to the Facilities or the operation thereof, (B) changes in technology, in environmental standards or legal requirements or in the economic availability of materials, supplies, equipment or labor or (C) destruction of or damage to all or part of the Facilities; or

(iii) all or substantially all of the Facilities or the Plant shall have been condemned or taken by eminent domain; or

(iv) the operation of the Facilities or the Plant shall have been enjoined or shall have otherwise been prohibited by, or shall conflict with, any order, decree, rule or regulation of any court or of any federal, state or local regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental body.

Special Mandatory Redemption of Bonds

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption in whole or in part at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the date of redemption within 180 days following a “Determination of Taxability” as described below. The Bonds shall be redeemed either in whole or in part in such principal amount that the interest payable on the Bonds remaining outstanding after such redemption would not be includible in the gross income of any Owner thereof for purposes of federal income taxation, other than an Owner of a Bond who is a “substantial user” of the Facilities or a “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the “1954 Code”).

A “Determination of Taxability” shall be deemed to have occurred if, as a result of an Event of Taxability (as defined below), a final decree or judgment of any federal court or a final action of the Internal Revenue Service determines that interest paid or payable on any Bond is or was includible in the gross income of an Owner of the Bonds for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”) (other than an Owner who is a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code). However, no such decree or action will be considered final for this purpose unless the Company has been given written notice and, if it is so desired and is legally allowed, has been afforded the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of any Owner of a Bond, and until conclusion of any appellate review, if sought. If the Trustee receives written notice from any Owner stating (i) that the Owner has been notified in writing by the Internal Revenue Service that it proposes to include the interest on any Bond in the gross income of such Owner for the reasons described therein or any other proceeding has been instituted against such Owner which may lead to a final decree or action as described in the Agreement, and (ii) that such Owner will afford the Company the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of the Owner, until a conclusion of any appellate review, if sought, then the Trustee shall promptly give notice thereof to the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Issuer and the Owner of each Bond then outstanding. If a final decree or action as described above thereafter occurs and the Trustee has received written notice thereof at least 45 days prior to the redemption date, the Trustee shall make the required demand for prepayment of the amounts payable under the Agreement for prepayment of the Bonds and give notice of the redemption of the Bonds at the earliest practical date, but not later than the date specified in the Agreement, and in the manner provided by the Indenture.

An “Event of Taxability” means the failure of the Company to observe any covenant, agreement or representation in the Agreement, which failure results in a Determination of Taxability.

A DETERMINATION OF TAXABILITY MAY NOT OCCUR FOR A SUBSTANTIAL PERIOD OF TIME AFTER INTEREST FIRST BECOMES INCLUDIBLE IN THE GROSS INCOME OF OWNERS OF THE BONDS. IN SUCH EVENT, THE TAX LIABILITY OF OWNERS OF THE BONDS MAY EXTEND TO YEARS FOR WHICH INTEREST WAS RECEIVED ON THE BONDS AND FOR WHICH THE RELEVANT STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS HAS NOT YET RUN. MOREOVER, OWNERS OF BONDS WILL NOT RECEIVE ANY ADDITIONAL INTEREST, PREMIUM OR OTHER PAYMENT TO COMPENSATE THEM FOR FEDERAL INCOME TAXES, INTEREST AND PENALTIES WHICH MAY BE ASSESSED WITH RESPECT TO SUCH INTEREST.

Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption by the Issuer, in whole, at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest, if any, on the earlier of (i) the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit or the term of the Alternate Credit Facility except as provided in the following clause (ii), or (ii) a Business Day not fewer than five days next preceding the Business Day next preceding the termination date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility as specified by the Company in a notice regarding delivery of a proposed Alternate Credit Facility or with respect to termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, except in connection with such delivery or termination where the Company provides written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the proposed Alternate Credit Facility or the proposed termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility and that the delivery of the proposed Alternate Credit Facility or such termination, respectively, will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of its rating on the Bonds and further that the Company provides an opinion of Bond Counsel described herein under the caption "THE LETTER OF CREDIT — Alternate Credit Facility" and "THE LETTER OF CREDIT — Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility." Notwithstanding the foregoing, there shall not be so redeemed (a) Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase on such Interest Payment Date or on such Business Day or on any Business Day from the date of notice of such redemption through the date of such redemption, (b) Bonds with respect to which the Trustee shall have received written directions not to so redeem the same from the Owners thereof, (c) Bonds purchased or deemed to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture as described below under "PURCHASE OF BONDS — Purchase by Company in Lieu of Redemption," and (d) Bonds issued in exchange for or upon the registration of transfer of Bonds referred to in the preceding clauses (a) and (b).

An Owner of Bonds may direct the Issuer not to redeem any Bond or Bonds owned by it by delivering to the Trustee at its New York delivery office on or before the third Business Day preceding the date fixed for such redemption an instrument or instruments in writing executed by such Owner which, among other things, (i) specifies the numbers and denominations of the Bonds held by such Owner, (ii) specifically acknowledges each of the matters set forth in a notice given by the Trustee, and (iii) directs the Issuer not to redeem such Bonds. Any such instrument delivered to the Trustee shall be irrevocable with respect to the redemption for which such instrument was delivered and shall be binding upon subsequent Owners of such Bonds, including Bonds issued in exchange therefor or upon the registration of transfer thereof.

Redemption Upon Conversion

The Bonds shall be subject to mandatory redemption by the Issuer, in whole, on a Conversion Date, at 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest, if any, or, in the case of Bonds to be redeemed upon conversion from a Term Interest Rate, at the percentage of their principal amount at which they would be redeemed as described above under paragraph (c) of "REDEMPTION OF BONDS — Optional Redemption of Bonds" on the Conversion Date; provided that there shall not be so redeemed (a) Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase on such Conversion Date or on any Business Day from the date notice of such redemption is given through the date of such redemption, (b) Bonds with respect to which the Trustee shall have received written directions not to so redeem the same from the Owners thereof, (c) Bonds purchased or deemed to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture as described below under "PURCHASE OF BONDS — Purchase by Company in Lieu of Redemption," and (d) Bonds issued in exchange for or upon the registration of transfer of Bonds referred to in clauses (a) and (b) above. While a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is outstanding, the Company may only cause a redemption of Bonds pursuant to this paragraph which would require a payment of a premium if on the date of the giving of notice of redemption the Trustee can draw under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, in an amount sufficient to pay such premium due on the date of redemption. The initial Letter of Credit does not provide for drawings in respect of the amount of any such redemption premium.

An Owner may direct the Issuer not to redeem any Bond or Bonds owned by it by delivering to the New York delivery office of the Trustee on or before the third Business Day (sixth Business Day if the Bonds are to be converted to a Term Interest Rate) preceding the date fixed for such redemption an instrument or instruments in writing executed by such Owner which, among other things, (i) specifies the numbers and denominations of the Bonds held by such Owner, (ii) specifically acknowledges each of the matters set forth in a notice given by the Trustee, and (iii) directs the Issuer not to redeem such Bonds. Any such instrument delivered to the Trustee shall be irrevocable with respect to the redemption for which such instrument is delivered and shall be binding upon subsequent Owners of such Bonds, including Bonds issued in exchange therefor or upon the registration of the transfer thereof.

Denomination Redemption

The Bonds or portions thereof are subject to mandatory redemption by the Issuer on the Interest Payment Date upon which the Bonds begin to accrue interest at (i) a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate or Flexible Rates following conversion from a Term Interest Rate, and (ii) a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate following conversion from Flexible Rates, in each case, in such amounts so that all outstanding Bonds are in Authorized Denominations.

Procedure for and Notice of Redemption

If less than all of the Bonds shall be called for redemption, the particular Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed shall be selected by the Trustee, in such manner as the Trustee in its sole discretion may deem proper, in the principal amount designated by the Company or otherwise as required by the Indenture. In selecting Bonds for redemption, the Trustee shall treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds which is obtained by dividing the principal amount of each Bond by the minimum denomination in which Bonds are then authorized to be issued at the time of such redemption. Any Bonds selected for redemption which are deemed to be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture will cease to bear interest on the date fixed for redemption. Upon presentation and surrender of such Bonds at the place or places of payment such Bonds shall be paid and redeemed. Notice of redemption shall be given by mail as provided in the Indenture, at least 10 days prior to the redemption date, provided that the failure to duly give notice by mailing to any Owner, or any defect therein, shall not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of any other of the Bonds. Such notice will also be sent to major bond rating agencies, certificate depositories and bond information services.

With respect to notice of any optional redemption of the Bonds, as described above, unless upon the giving of such notice, such Bonds shall be deemed to have been paid within the meaning of the Indenture, such notice shall state that such redemption shall be conditional upon the receipt by the Trustee, on or prior to the date fixed for such redemption, of moneys sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds to be redeemed. If such moneys are not so received, the Issuer will not redeem such Bonds and the Trustee shall give notice, in the manner in which the notice of redemption was given, that such redemption will not take place.

PURCHASE OF BONDS

Purchase on Demand of Owner While Bonds Bear Weekly Interest Rate

While the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased, on the demand of the Owner thereof, on any Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase, upon: (i) delivery to the principal office of the Remarketing Agent of a written notice (unless the Trustee shall be serving as Remarketing Agent, in which case written notice delivered to the New York delivery office of the Trustee shall be required) which states the aggregate principal amount of the Bond to be delivered and the Business Day (which shall be a day not less than seven days after the notice is delivered) on which the Bond is to be purchased; and (ii) delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) and, in the case of a Bond to be purchased prior to the Interest Payment Date for any Interest Period and after the Record Date in respect thereto, a due-bill, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, at the New York delivery office of the Trustee at or prior to 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on such Business Day; provided, however, that such Bond shall be so purchased only if the Bond so delivered to the Trustee shall conform in all respects to the description thereof in the aforesaid notice. An Owner who gives the notice set forth in clause (i) above may repurchase the Bonds so tendered with such notice on such Business Day if the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the Bonds so tendered to such Owner. If such Owner decides to repurchase such Bonds and the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the specified Bonds to such Owner prior to delivery of such Bonds as set forth in clause (ii) hereinabove, the delivery requirement set forth in such clause (ii) shall be waived.

Purchase While Bonds Bear Alternative Rates

While a Bond bears a Daily Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate, such Bond will be purchased on the demand of the Owner thereof, as described in Appendix C hereto. While a Bond bears a Flexible Rate or a Term Interest Rate, such Bond will be purchased as described in Appendix C hereto.

Funds for Purchase of Bonds

On the date on which Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase as specified above under “PURCHASE OF BONDS — Purchase While Bonds Bear Weekly Interest Rate” or as described in Appendix C hereto are to be purchased, such Bonds shall be purchased at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest, if any. Funds for the payment of such purchase price shall be derived solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, and the Trustee has no obligation to use funds from any other source:

- (a) Available Moneys (as hereinafter defined) directed by the Company to be used to purchase Bonds as described in the Indenture;
- (b) proceeds of the sale of such Bonds by the Remarketing Agent;
- (c) Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the purchase of defeased Bonds;
- (d) proceeds of a drawing under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for such purchase; and
- (e) any other moneys furnished by the Company for purchase of the Bonds;

provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds shall be derived only from the sources described in (b) and (c) above, in such order of priority.

“Available Moneys” means (a) during such time as a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, which does not consist of first mortgage bonds of the Company, is outstanding, (i) moneys on deposit in trust with the Trustee for a period of 123 days prior to and during which no petition in bankruptcy or similar insolvency proceeding has been filed by or against the Company or the Issuer or is pending, (ii) proceeds of the issuance of refunding bonds if, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters and acceptable to the Issuer and the Trustee (which opinion shall be delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of the deposit of such proceeds with the Trustee), the deposit and use of such proceeds will not constitute a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event the Issuer or the Company were to become debtors under the United States Bankruptcy Code, and (iii) any other money the application of which will not, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters and acceptable to the Issuer and the Trustee (which opinion shall be delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of such application), constitute a voidable preference under Section 544 or 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event the Issuer or the Company were to become debtors under the United States Bankruptcy Code, and (b) at any time that a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is not outstanding, or if an Alternate Credit Facility consisting of first mortgage bonds of the Company is outstanding, any moneys on deposit with the Trustee and proceeds from the investment thereof.

Purchase by Company in Lieu of Redemption

The Company shall have the right to purchase or cause to be purchased Bonds to be redeemed as described above under “REDEMPTION OF BONDS — Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility,” “REDEMPTION OF BONDS — Redemption Upon Conversion” and “REDEMPTION OF BONDS — Denomination Redemption” at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Bonds to be so purchased plus accrued interest, if any, or in the case of a purchase on conversion from a Term Interest Rate, the redemption price for redemption of such Bonds on the Conversion Date as described above under (c) of "REDEMPTION OF BONDS — Optional Redemption of Bonds." Moneys for the payment of the purchase price shall be derived in the order of priority and subject to the proviso indicated above under the caption "PURCHASE OF BONDS — Funds for Purchase of Bonds"; provided that if in connection with such redemption, the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility which does not consist of first mortgage bonds of the Company is replaced with an Alternate Credit Facility consisting of first mortgage bonds of the Company or is not being replaced by any other Alternate Credit Facility, moneys for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds may not be derived from (ii) above. Bonds to be so purchased pursuant to the Indenture on the date fixed for redemption of such Bonds which are not delivered on such date will nonetheless be deemed to have been delivered for purchase by the Owners thereof and to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture. The Trustee shall hold moneys for such purchase of Bonds, without liability for interest thereon, for the benefit of the former Owner of the Bond on such date of purchase, who shall thereafter be restricted exclusively to such moneys for any claim of whatever nature on such Owner's part under the Indenture or on, or with respect to, such Bond. Any moneys so deposited with and held by the Trustee not so applied to the payment of Bonds within six months after such date of purchase shall be paid by the Trustee to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the extent of any amount payable under the Reimbursement Agreement (as defined below) and the balance to the Company upon the written direction of the Company, and thereafter the former Owners shall be entitled to look only to the Company for payment, and then only to the extent of the amount so repaid, and the Company shall not be liable for any interest thereon and shall not be regarded as a trustee of such money.

CONVERSION OF RATE

Conversion to Term Interest Rate or Floating Interest Rates

The interest rate borne by the Bonds (the type of interest rate in effect immediately prior to a conversion being herein called the "Existing Rate") shall be converted to a Term Interest Rate, to a Term Interest Rate with a Term Period of different duration than the then current Term Period or to any of the Floating Interest Rates, upon receipt by the Trustee of a written direction from the Company specifying the specific method of interest accrual on the Bonds and the effective date thereof (which, if a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, shall be a date at least 11 days prior to the Interest Payment Date next preceding the scheduled expiration date of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of the conversion to such method of accrual, specifying changes, if any, to the Bond redemption prices and No-Call Periods and, if applicable, specifying the duration of the Term Period (which must be a period of six months or an integral multiple thereof, provided that the first Term Period may be less than such period but must end on the day next preceding a January 1 or July 1). The Conversion Date must be (a) if the Existing Rate is a Floating Interest Rate, a Business Day not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the written direction from the Company specified above or (b) if the Existing Rate is a Term Interest Rate, a January 1 or July 1 not less than 20 days after the receipt by the Trustee of the written notice specified above and not prior to the end of the No-Call Period for such Term Period. The written direction shall be accompanied by a written opinion, addressed to the Trustee, the Issuer, the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Remarketing Agent, of Bond Counsel selected by the Company and acceptable to the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent stating that such conversion (i) is authorized or permitted by the Indenture, (ii) will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation and (iii) will not violate the provisions of the Act or state law. The conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds shall not become effective unless on the Conversion Date the Trustee shall have received an opinion of Bond Counsel dated the Conversion Date reaffirming the conclusions of the opinion accompanying the written direction of the Company initiating the conversion.

Inability To Convert

If for any reason a change in method of calculation of interest on the Bonds cannot proceed, the Bonds shall continue to bear interest calculated in the method applicable prior to the proposed change.

THE LETTER OF CREDIT

The following is a brief description of the Letter of Credit and certain of the terms of the Letter of Credit and the agreement dated as of July 1, 1990 between the Company and the Bank pursuant to which the Letter of Credit is issued (the "Reimbursement Agreement," which term shall also include the document pursuant to which an Alternate Credit Facility is issued), as well as a description of certain terms of the Agreement.

Letter of Credit

The Letter of Credit will be an irrevocable direct-pay obligation of the Bank to pay to the Trustee, upon request and in accordance with the terms thereof, up to (a) an amount equal to the outstanding principal amount of the Bonds to be used (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds, (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of Bonds delivered or deemed delivered to it for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent or (iii) to enable the Company to purchase Bonds in lieu of redemption under certain circumstances, plus (b) an amount equal to 65 days' accrued interest on the Bonds (calculated at a rate of 12% per annum and on the basis of a year of 365 days), to be used (i) to pay interest on the Bonds or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price of Bonds properly delivered for purchase equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. The Company is permitted under the Reimbursement Agreement and the Agreement to secure an extension of the Letter of Credit beyond the expiration date of the then current Letter of Credit, but the Bank is under no obligation to agree to such an extension.

The Bank's obligation under the Letter of Credit will be reduced to the extent of any drawings thereunder. However, with respect to a drawing by the Trustee to enable the Trustee to pay the purchase price of Bonds delivered for purchase and not remarketed by the Remarketing Agent, such amounts shall be immediately reinstated upon reimbursement. With respect to a drawing by the Trustee for the payment of interest on the Bonds, the amount that may be drawn under the Letter of Credit will be automatically reinstated to the extent of such drawing as of the close of business on the ninth Business Day following such drawing unless the Bank shall have notified the Trustee prior to such time that the Company has failed to reimburse the Bank or to cause it to be reimbursed for such drawing.

Upon an acceleration of the maturity of the Bonds due to an event of default under the Indenture, the Trustee will be entitled to draw on the Letter of Credit, if it is then in effect, to the extent of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding, plus up to 65 days' interest accrued and unpaid on the Bonds, less amounts paid in respect of principal or interest for which the Letter of Credit has not been reinstated as described above.

The Letter of Credit shall expire (the "Expiration Date") at 4:00 p.m. local time in Los Angeles, California, upon the earliest of (i) July 25, 1995, unless otherwise extended pursuant to an agreement between the Bank and the Company, (ii) the making of a final drawing under the Letter of Credit, or (iii) the date the Trustee surrenders the Letter of Credit to the Bank for cancellation. The Trustee agrees to surrender the Letter of Credit to the Bank, and not to make any drawing, after (i) the Expiration Date, (ii) there are no Bonds outstanding under the Indenture, or (iii) a Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, has been delivered to the Trustee.

Alternate Credit Facility

At any time (with notice to the Bank or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) the Company may, at its option, provide for the delivery to the Trustee on any Business Day of an Alternate Credit Facility to replace the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, as the case may be. An Alternate Credit Facility may have an expiration date earlier than the maturity of the Bonds, but in no event shall such Alternate Credit Facility have an expiration date earlier than one year from the date of its delivery. The Company must furnish to the Trustee (i) an opinion of nationally recognized Bond Counsel (“Bond Counsel”) stating that the delivery of such Alternate Credit Facility is authorized under the Agreement and complies with the terms thereof and will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds or will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes and (ii) written evidence from Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the proposed Alternate Credit Facility and that the delivery of the proposed Alternate Credit Facility will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of its rating or ratings of the Bonds.

The Company may, however, at any time, provide for the delivery on any Business Day to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility where the above-described evidence from Moody’s or S&P’s is not received. In that event, the Bonds are subject to redemption as more fully described herein under the caption “THE BONDS — Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility”.

Substitute Letter of Credit

The Company may, at its option, at any time provide for the delivery to the Trustee of a Substitute Letter of Credit. No Substitute Letter of Credit may be delivered which:

- (i) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Monthly Interest Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 65 days;
- (ii) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Flexible Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 294 days (during such time as Flexible Periods can be from one to 270 days) or 389 or 390 days, as applicable (during such time as Flexible Periods can be from one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable);
- (iii) so long as the interest rate borne by the Bonds is a Term Interest Rate, reduces the Interest Coverage Period to a period shorter than 208 days; or
- (iv) decreases the Interest Coverage Rate below 12%.

The Company may, at its option, at any time direct in writing the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent to allow the selection of Flexible Periods of from one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable, or from one to 270 days, but only if (for such time as Flexible Periods can be from one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable) the Company provides for the delivery to the Trustee of a Substitute Letter of Credit which increases the Interest Coverage Period to 389 or 390 days, as applicable.

Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility

At any time, the Company may, at its option, provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect. The Company must furnish to the Trustee (i) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is authorized under the Agreement and complies with the terms thereof and will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds or will not cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation and (ii) written evidence from Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the proposed termination of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility and that such termination will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of its rating or ratings of the Bonds.

The Company may, however, at any time, at its option, provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect when the above-described evidence from Moody's or S&P is not received. In that event, the Bonds are subject to redemption as more fully described herein under the caption "THE BONDS — Redemption Upon Expiration or Termination of Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility".

THE LOAN AGREEMENT

The following is a brief description of the Agreement. Reference is made to the Agreement for the detailed provisions thereof.

Loan Payments

As Loan Payments, the Company will pay to the Trustee, for the account of the Issuer, an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due on the dates, in the amounts and in the manner provided in the Indenture for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such Loan Payment will be deemed to be satisfied and discharged to the extent of the corresponding payment made (i) by the Bank to the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or (ii) by the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility to the Trustee under the Alternate Credit Facility.

From the date of the original issuance of the Bonds to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of expiration or earlier termination of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the principal of the Bonds, upon redemption or acceleration, and interest on the Bonds when due, by the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee will be directed to draw moneys under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to the extent necessary to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds if and when due. The initial Letter of Credit does not provide for drawings in respect of amounts of redemption premium.

Payments to Trustee

The Company will pay to the Trustee amounts equal to the amounts to be paid by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of outstanding Bonds, such amounts to be paid by the Company to the Trustee on the dates such payments are to be made; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment under the Agreement shall be reduced by the amount of any moneys available for such payments, including proceeds from the remarketing of the Bonds or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

From the date of the original issuance of the Bonds to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of the expiration or earlier termination of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the amounts to be paid by the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds by the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee will be directed to draw moneys under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to the extent necessary for the purchase of Bonds.

Obligation Absolute

The Company's obligation to make Loan Payments and payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds is absolute, irrevocable and unconditional and will not be subject to any defense other than payment or to any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment arising out of any breach by the Issuer, the Bank (or Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility), the Trustee or the Remarketing Agent of any obligation to the Company.

Expenses

The Company is obligated to pay reasonable compensation and to reimburse certain expenses and advances of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent and Moody's directly to such entity.

Tax Covenants; Tax-Exempt Status of Bonds

The Company covenants that the Bond proceeds, the earnings thereon and other moneys on deposit with respect to the Bonds will not be used in such a manner as to cause the Bonds to be arbitrage bonds within the meaning of the Code.

The Company covenants that it, has not taken, will not take or permit to be taken on its behalf, any action which would cause the interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of Owners of the Bonds for purposes of federal income taxation and will take, or require to be taken, such action as may, from time to time, be required under applicable law or regulation to continue to cause the interest on the Bonds not to be includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation. See "TAX EXEMPTION."

Assignment; Merger

With the consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company's interest in the Agreement may be assigned in whole or in part by the Company to another entity, subject, however, to the conditions that no assignment shall (a) cause the interest payable on the Bonds (other than Bonds held by a "substantial user" or "related person" within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation or (b) relieve (other than as described in the next succeeding paragraph) the Company from primary liability for its obligations to make the Loan Payments or to make payments to the Trustee with respect to the purchase of the Bonds or for any other of its obligations under the Agreement; and subject further to the condition that the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) an opinion of counsel to the Company that such assignment complies with the provisions of this paragraph. The Company shall, within 30 days after the delivery thereof, furnish to the Issuer, the Bank (or Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee a true and complete copy of the agreements or other documents effectuating any such assignment.

The Company also may (a) consolidate with or merge into another domestic corporation (i.e., a corporation incorporated and existing under the laws of one of the states of the United States or of the District of Columbia), or sell or otherwise transfer to another domestic corporation all or substantially all of its assets as an entirety and thereafter dissolve, provided the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation, as the case may be, shall be the Company or a corporation, qualified to do business in the State of Wyoming as a foreign corporation or incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of Wyoming, which as a result of the transaction shall assume (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Agreement; or (b) convey all or substantially all of its assets to one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company so long as the Company shall remain in existence and primarily liable on all of its obligations under the Agreement and the subsidiary or subsidiaries to which such assets shall be so conveyed shall guarantee in writing the performance of all of the Company's obligations under the Agreement.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an “Event of Default” under the Agreement:

(a) a failure by the Company to make when due any Loan Payment or any payment required to be made to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, which failure shall have resulted in an “Event of Default” as described herein in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) under “THE INDENTURE — Defaults”;

(b) a failure by the Company to pay when due any other amount required to be paid under the Agreement or to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement to be observed or performed (other than a failure described in clause (a) above), which failure continues for a period of 60 days (or such longer period as the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) may agree to in writing) after written notice given to the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Trustee or to the Company, the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Issuer; provided, however, that if such failure is other than for the payment of money and cannot be corrected within the applicable period, such failure shall not constitute an Event of Default so long as the Company institutes corrective action within the applicable period and such action is being diligently pursued; or

(c) certain events of bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Company.

The Agreement provides that, with respect to any Event of Default described in clause (b) above if, by reason of acts of God, strikes, orders of political bodies, certain natural disasters, civil disturbances and certain other events, or any cause or event not reasonably within the control of the Company, the Company is unable in whole or in part to carry out one or more of its agreements or obligations contained in the Agreement (other than its obligations to make when due Loan Payments and payments to the Remarketing Agent or the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds and its obligation to maintain its existence), the Company shall not be deemed in default by reason of not carrying out such agreement or performing such obligation during the continuance of such inability.

Remedies

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default described in (a) or (c) in the second preceding paragraph, and further upon the condition that, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Bonds shall have been declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Indenture, the Loan Payments shall, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable. Any waiver of any “Event of Default” under the Indenture and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof. See the caption “THE INDENTURE — Defaults.”

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Agreement, the Issuer may take any action at law or in equity to collect any payments then due and thereafter to become due, or to enforce performance and observance of any obligation, agreement or covenant of the Company under the Agreement.

Any amounts collected upon an Event of Default under the Agreement will be applied in accordance with the Indenture.

Amendments

The Agreement may be amended subject to the limitations contained in the Agreement and in the Indenture. See the caption “THE INDENTURE — Amendment of the Agreement.”

THE INDENTURE

The following is a brief description of the Indenture. Certain other provisions are summarized elsewhere in this Official Statement. Reference is made to the Indenture for the detailed provisions thereof.

Pledge and Security

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Loan Payments will be pledged by the Issuer to secure the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and all other amounts payable under the Indenture. The Issuer will also pledge and assign to the Trustee all its rights and interests under the Agreement (other than its rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses and certain other rights), and has pledged to the Trustee all moneys and obligations deposited or to be deposited in the Bond Fund established with the Trustee; provided that the Trustee will have a prior claim on the Bond Fund for the payment of its compensation and expenses and for the repayment of any advances (plus interest thereon) made by it to effect performance of certain covenants in the Indenture and the Agreement (except that the Trustee will not have such priority with respect to amounts deposited in the Bond Fund from amounts drawn under the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility).

Application of the Bond Fund

There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. Loan Payments, amounts drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) for payment of the principal of, and interest on, the Bonds when due, and certain other amounts specified in the Indenture are to be deposited in the appropriate account in the Bond Fund. While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in the tax exemption agreement among the Trustee, the Issuer and the Company, moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds when due, or, in some circumstances, for payment of the purchase price of the Bonds, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee to the extent described in "THE INDENTURE — Pledge and Security."

Funds for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds shall be derived from the following sources in the order of priority indicated:

- (a) Available Moneys;
- (b) moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be; and
- (c) any other moneys paid by the Company pursuant to the Agreement or any other moneys in the Bond Fund.

Investment of Bond Fund

Moneys in the Bond Fund will, at the direction of the Company, be invested in securities or obligations specified in the Indenture, provided, however, that during the term of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) shall be invested by the Trustee only in Government Obligations (as defined in the Indenture) with a term not exceeding 30 days. All income or other gain from such investments will be credited, and any loss will be charged, to the particular fund or account from which the investments were made.

Defaults

Each of the following events will constitute an "Event of Default" under the Indenture:

- (a) a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on, any of the Bonds (other than Bonds pledged to the Bank (the "Pledged Bonds")) when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise;

(b) a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds (other than Pledged Bonds) for a period of five days after such interest has become due and payable;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due to Owners of the Bonds who have delivered Bonds to the Trustee for purchase for a period of five days after such payment has become due and payable;

(d) the Trustee's receipt of notice from the Bank not later than the ninth Business Day following a drawing under the Letter of Credit to pay interest on the Bonds that the Bank has not been reimbursed for such drawing;

(e) the Trustee's receipt of notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of an "Event of Default" under and as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement (which may be caused by the failure of the Company to comply with any of its covenants and obligations thereunder);

(f) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any covenant, condition, agreement or provision contained in the Bonds or the Indenture (other than a failure described in clause (a), (b) or (c) above), which failure shall continue for a period of 90 days after written notice given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee, which notice may be given at the discretion of the Trustee and must be given at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, unless such period is extended by the Trustee, or by the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, will be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer, or the Company on behalf of the Issuer, within such period and is being diligently pursued; or

(g) an "Event of Default" under the Agreement.

Remedies

(i) Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b) or (c) of the preceding paragraph or an Event of Default described in clause (g) of the preceding paragraph resulting from an "Event of Default" under the Agreement as described under clause (a) or (c) of "THE AGREEMENT — Defaults" herein, the Trustee may (and upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding the Trustee must), or (ii) upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (d) or (e) of the preceding paragraph, the Trustee must, by written notice to the Issuer, the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, whereupon they shall, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable and, during the period the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) is in effect, with interest on the Bonds accruing to the Bond Payment Date (as defined in the Indenture) established by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture, anything in the Indenture or in the Bonds to the contrary notwithstanding, and the Trustee shall give notice thereof to the Issuer, the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and shall give notice by first-class mail thereof to Owners of the Bonds, and the Trustee shall as promptly as practicable draw moneys under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the extent available thereunder, in an amount sufficient to pay principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds to the Bond Payment Date.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraph are subject to the condition that if, so long as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, after the principal of the Bonds shall have been so declared to be due and payable, and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due shall have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer shall cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds and the principal of any and all Bonds which shall have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as shall be sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default under the Indenture (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which shall have become due by said declaration) shall have been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission or annulment to the Issuer and the Company and shall give notice thereof to Owners of the Bonds by first-class mail; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment shall extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

The provisions of the second preceding paragraph are, further, subject to the condition that, if an Event of Default described in clause (d) or (e) of "THE INDENTURE — Defaults" shall have occurred and if the Trustee shall thereafter have received written notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) (x) that the notice which caused such Event of Default to occur has been withdrawn and (y) that the amounts available to be drawn on the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to pay (i) the principal of the Bonds or the portion of purchase price equal to principal and (ii) interest on the Bonds and the portion of purchase price equal to accrued interest have been reinstated to an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds outstanding plus accrued interest thereon for the applicable Interest Coverage Period at the Interest Coverage Rate, then, in every such case, such Event of Default shall be deemed waived and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee shall promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company and the Remarketing Agent, and shall give notice thereof to all Owners of the outstanding Bonds (if such Owners were notified of the acceleration) by first-class mail; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment shall extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Indenture, the Trustee may, and upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction shall, pursue any available remedy to enforce the rights of the Owners of the Bonds and require the Company, the Issuer or the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to carry out its agreements, bring suit upon the Bonds, require the Issuer to account as if it were the trustee of an express trust for the Owners of the Bonds or enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful, or in violation of the rights of the Owners of the Bonds. The Trustee is not required to take any action in respect of an Event of Default (other than, in certain circumstances, to declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, to make certain payments with respect to the Bonds and to draw on the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be)) or to enforce the trusts created by the Indenture except upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and receipt of indemnity satisfactory to it.

The Owners of a majority in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee upon furnishing satisfactory indemnity to the Trustee and provided that such direction shall not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner of any Bond will have any right to institute suit to execute any trust or power of the Trustee unless such Owner has previously given the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding have made written request of the Trustee so to do, and unless satisfactory indemnity has been offered to the Trustee and the Trustee has not complied with such request within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of the Owner of any Bond to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on his Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of the Bonds.

Defeasance

All or any portions of Bonds (in Authorized Denominations) shall, prior to the maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid for all purposes of the Indenture when:

(a) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof have been selected for redemption, the Trustee shall have given, or the Company shall have given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, notice of redemption of such Bonds or portions thereof;

(b) there shall have been deposited with the Trustee moneys which constitute Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility;

(c) the moneys so deposited with the Trustee shall be in an amount sufficient to pay when due the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due and to become due (which amount of interest to become due shall be calculated at the Maximum Interest Rate) on said Bonds or portions thereof on and prior to the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be;

(d) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof do not mature and are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 30 days, the Issuer at the direction of the Company shall have given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, as soon as practicable in the same manner as a notice of redemption is given pursuant to the Indenture, a notice to the Owners of said Bonds or portions thereof that the deposit required by clause (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds or portions thereof are deemed to have been paid and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof; and

(e) the Trustee shall have received written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, that such action, if it applies to less than all of the Bonds then Outstanding, will not result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of the rating on the Bonds by Moody's or S&P, as the case may be.

(f) the Trustee shall have received an opinion of an independent public accountant of nationally recognized standing, selected by the Company, to the effect that the requirements set forth in clause (c) above have been satisfied (an "Accountant's Opinion");

(g) the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, shall have received an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such deposit will not adversely affect the exclusion of interest on the Bonds from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation ("Bond Counsel's Opinion"); and

(h) the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, shall have received an unqualified opinion of counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters, selected by the Company, to the effect that the payment of the Bonds from the amounts so deposited would not result in a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event the Issuer or the Company were to become debtors under the United States Bankruptcy Code ("Bankruptcy Counsel's Opinion").

Moneys deposited with the Trustee as described above shall not be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and shall be held in trust for, the payment of the principal of and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof, or for the payment of the purchase price of Bonds in accordance with the Indenture; provided that such moneys, if not then needed for such purpose, shall, to the extent practicable, be invested and reinvested in Government Obligations maturing on or prior to the earlier of (a) the date moneys may be required for the purchase of Bonds or (b) the Interest Payment Date next succeeding the date of investment or reinvestment, and interest earned from such investments shall be paid over to the Company, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

The provisions of the Indenture relating to (i) the registration and exchange of Bonds, (ii) the delivery of Bonds to the Trustee for purchase and the related obligations of the Trustee with respect thereto, (iii) the mandatory redemption of the Bonds in connection with the expiration of the term of the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and (iv) payment of the Bonds from such moneys, shall remain in full force and effect with respect to all Bonds until the maturity date of the Bonds or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds prior to maturity, notwithstanding that all or any portion of the Bonds are deemed to be paid; provided, further, that the provisions with respect to registration and exchange of Bonds shall continue to be effective until the maturity or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds.

In the event the requirements of the next to the last sentence of the next succeeding paragraph can be satisfied, the preceding three paragraphs shall not apply and the following two paragraphs shall be applicable.

Any Bond shall be deemed to be paid within the meaning of the Indenture when (a) payment of the principal of and premium, if any, on such Bond, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof (whether such due date is by reason of maturity, acceleration or upon redemption as provided in the Indenture), either (i) shall have been made or caused to be made in accordance with the terms thereof, or (ii) shall have been provided for by irrevocably depositing with the Trustee in trust and irrevocably set aside exclusively for such payment, (1) Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, sufficient to make such payment and/or (2) Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, maturing as to principal and interest in such amount and at such time as will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment, (b) all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Trustee and the Registrar pertaining to the Bonds with respect to which such deposit is made shall have been paid or the payment thereof provided for to the satisfaction of the Trustee, and (c) an Accountant's Opinion, a Bond Counsel's Opinion and a Bankruptcy Counsel's Opinion shall have been delivered to the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P. The provisions of this paragraph shall apply only if (x) the Bond with respect to which such deposit is made is to mature or be called for redemption prior to the next succeeding date on which such Bond is subject to purchase as described herein under the caption "PURCHASE OF BONDS" and (y) the Company waives, to the satisfaction of the Trustee, its right to convert the interest rate borne by such Bond. At such times as a Bond shall be deemed to be paid thereunder, as aforesaid, such Bond shall no longer be secured by or entitled to the benefits of the Indenture, except for the purposes of registration and exchange of Bonds and of any such payment from such moneys or Government Obligations.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, no deposit under clause (a)(ii) of the immediately preceding paragraph shall be deemed a payment of such Bonds as aforesaid until: (a) proper notice of redemption of such Bonds shall have been previously given in accordance with the Indenture, or in the event said Bonds are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, until the Company shall have given the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, irrevocable instructions to notify, as soon as practicable, the Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, that the deposit required by clause (a)(ii) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid in accordance with the Indenture and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and the applicable redemption premium, if any, on said Bonds, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof; or (b) the maturity of such Bonds.

Removal of Trustee

The Trustee may be removed, and a successor Trustee appointed, (i) by the Issuer, under certain circumstances, and (ii) with the prior written consent of the Bank (which consent, if unreasonably withheld, shall not be required), by the Owners of not less than a majority in principal amount of Bonds at the time outstanding.

Modifications and Amendments

The Indenture may be modified or amended by supplemental indentures without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds for any of the following purposes: (a) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in the Indenture; (b) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer under the Indenture or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer which shall not adversely affect the interests of Owners of the Bonds; (c) to confirm, as further assurance, any pledge of or lien on any property subjected or to be subjected to the lien of the Indenture; (d) to comply with the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; (e) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture in any other respect which in the judgment of the Trustee is not adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; (f) to implement a conversion of an interest rate or to evidence or give effect to or facilitate the delivery and administration under the Indenture of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit; (g) to provide for a depository to accept tendered Bonds in lieu of the Trustee; (h) to provide for uncertificated Bonds or for the issuance of coupons and bearer Bonds or Bonds registered only as to principal, but only to the extent that such would not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for purposes of federal income taxation; (i) to secure or maintain a rating for the Bonds in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category (as defined in the Indenture) and in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; and (j) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for Investment Companies.

Except for supplemental indentures entered into for the purposes described in the preceding paragraph, the Indenture will not be modified or amended without the consent of the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding, who shall have the right to consent to and approve any supplemental indenture; provided that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all the Bonds then affected thereby, there will not be permitted (a) a change in the times, amounts or currency of payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on any Bond, a change in the terms of the purchase thereof by the Trustee, or a reduction in the principal amount or redemption price thereof or the rate of interest thereon, (b) the creation of a claim or lien on or a pledge of the receipts and revenues of the Issuer under the Agreement ranking prior to or on a parity with the lien or pledge created by the Indenture, or (c) a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds the consent of the Owners of which is required to approve any such supplemental indenture or which is required to approve any amendment to the Agreement. No amendment of the Indenture shall be effective without the prior written consent of the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

Amendment of the Agreement

Without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds, the Issuer may amend the Agreement, and the Trustee may consent thereto, as may be required (a) by the provisions of the Agreement and the Indenture, (b) for the purpose of curing any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity therein, (c) in connection with any other change therein which is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds or (d) to secure or maintain a rating for the Bonds in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category and in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories. The Issuer and the Trustee will not consent to any other amendment of the Agreement without the written approval or consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time outstanding; provided, however, that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all Bonds affected thereby, nothing in the Indenture shall permit, or be construed as permitting, a change in the obligations of the Company to make Loan Payments or payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds. No amendment of the Agreement will become effective without the prior written consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Company.

UNDERWRITING

Under a bond purchase agreement to be entered into between the Issuer and Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. (the "Underwriter") the Bonds shall be purchased at 100% of the principal amount thereof for reoffering by the Underwriter. The bond purchase agreement provides that the Underwriter shall purchase all of the Bonds if any are purchased. The obligation of the Underwriter to accept delivery of the Bonds is subject to various conditions contained in the bond purchase agreement. The Underwriter will be paid a fee of $262,500 for services rendered in connection with the initial offering of the Bonds.

The Underwriter intends to offer the Bonds to the public initially at the offering price set forth on the cover page of this Official Statement, which may subsequently change without any requirement of prior notice.

LITIGATION

There is not now pending or, to the knowledge of the Issuer, threatened, any litigation restraining or enjoining the issuance or delivery of the Bonds or questioning or affecting the validity of the Bonds or the proceedings or authority under which they are to be issued. There is no litigation pending or, to the Issuer's knowledge, threatened, which in any manner questions the right of the Issuer to enter into the Indenture or the Agreement or to secure the Bonds in the manner provided in the Indenture and the Act.

RATING

Moody's has assigned the Bonds a rating of "Aaa/VMIG-1". Such rating reflects only the views of such organization at the time such rating was issued and an explanation of the significance of such rating may be obtained from the rating agency. There is no assurance that such rating will continue for any given period of time or that it will not be revised downward or withdrawn entirely by such rating agency if, in its judgment, circumstances so warrant. Any such downward revision or withdrawal of such rating can be expected to have an adverse effect on the market price of the Bonds.

TAX EXEMPTION

The Code and the 1954 Code contain a number of requirements and restrictions which apply to the Bonds, including investment restrictions, periodic payments of arbitrage profits to the United States, requirements regarding the proper use of bond proceeds and the facilities financed therewith, and certain other matters. The Company and the Issuer have covenanted to comply with all requirements of the Code and the 1954 Code that must be satisfied in order for the interest on the Bonds to be excludible from gross income. Failure by the Company or the Issuer to comply with certain of such requirements could cause interest on the Bonds to become subject to federal income taxation retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds.

Subject to the condition that the Company and the Issuer comply with the above-referenced covenants, under present law, in the opinion of Bond Counsel, interest on the Bonds will not be includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) and the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (because the Series 1983B Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Such interest will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations.

The Code includes provisions for an alternative minimum tax ("AMT") for corporations. The AMT is levied for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1986 in addition to the corporate regular tax in certain cases. The AMT, if any, depends upon the corporation's alternative minimum taxable income ("AMTI"), which is the corporation's taxable income with certain adjustments. One of the adjustment items used in computing AMTI of a corporation (excluding S Corporations, Regulated Investment Companies, Real Estate Investment Trusts, and REMICs) is an amount equal to 50% of the excess of such corporation's "adjusted net book income" over an amount equal to its AMTI (before such adjustment item and the alternative tax net operating loss deduction). For taxable years beginning after 1989, such adjustment item will be 75% of the excess of such corporation's "adjusted current earnings" over an amount equal to its AMTI (before such adjustment item and the alternative tax net operating loss deduction). Both "adjusted net book income" and "adjusted current earnings" would include all tax exempt interest, including interest on the Bonds.

In rendering its opinion, Bond Counsel will rely upon a certificate of the Company relating to the Facilities and the application of the proceeds of the Bonds and the proceeds of the Series 1983B Bonds with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

Ownership of the Bonds may result in collateral federal income tax consequences to certain taxpayers, including, without limitation, corporations subject to either the environmental tax or the branch profits tax, financial institutions, certain insurance companies, certain S corporations, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits and taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred (or continued) indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations. In addition, because the first interest payment date for the Bonds (September 4, 1990) is slightly longer than one month, the periodic interval between subsequent interest payment dates while the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate, it is uncertain whether the Bonds would be treated as issued with original issue discount under proposed Treasury Regulation § 1.1273-1 (published in the Federal Register on April 6, 1986). Original issue discount, if any, with respect to the Bonds is excludable from gross income and not treated as an item of tax preference for alternative minimum tax purposes in the same manner as the interest on the Bonds. The time of receipt of such interest by an Owner of any Bond and the corresponding adjustment of such Owner's basis in the Bonds, however, could be affected if the Bonds were treated as issued with original issue discount. Prospective purchasers of the Bonds should consult their tax advisors as to applicability of any such collateral consequences.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

Except as described above, Bond Counsel expresses no opinion as to whether the Bonds will be subject to any state or local taxes under applicable state or local law. Prospective purchasers of Bonds should consult their tax advisors regarding the applicability of any such state or local taxes.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the Bonds will be passed upon by Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, and the Underwriter's obligation to purchase any issue of the Bonds is subject to the issuance of Bond Counsel's opinion with respect thereto. Certain legal matters will be passed upon for the Company by Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, as Counsel for the Company, and for the Underwriter by Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts, as Counsel to the Underwriter. The validity of the Letter of Credit will be passed upon for the Bank by its counsel, Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy and Dr. René Schwarzmann.

Chapman and Cutler has represented other parties in matters involving subsidiaries of the Company where legal fees of Chapman and Cutler have been paid by such subsidiaries.

APPENDIX B
CREDIT SUISSE

Founded in 1856, Credit Suisse is a universal bank which maintains its corporate headquarters in Zurich, Switzerland. In 1989, Credit Suisse became a subsidiary of CS Holding as a result of a share exchange transaction. With $4.8 billion in capital and reserves, Credit Suisse is among the most highly capitalized banks in the world. Credit Suisse is engaged in all banking activities and its international network operations are conducted through over 73 branches, representative offices and affiliates throughout the world. Banking operations in the United States began in 1940 and currently include branches in New York and Los Angeles, an agency in Miami and offices in San Francisco, Atlanta, Chicago and Houston. Credit Suisse is a globally active full-service bank.

Credit Suisse's principal office is at Paradeplatz 8, 8001, Zurich, Switzerland, its New York Branch is at 100 Wall Street, New York, NY 10005, and its Los Angeles Branch is at 800 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, California 90017.

Swiss accounting principles applicable to Swiss banks are to a large extent embodied in the Swiss law. Among Swiss banks it is common practice that fixed assets (including real estate), which are carried at cost net of accumulated depreciation, are depreciated faster than the life of the asset would normally require. Also, Swiss law requires that the maximum balance sheet value of marketable securities be their cost, but in fact these securities are often carried at values below such maximum amounts as there are no minimum valuations required by law. The published financial statements of Credit Suisse are now consolidated for the first time. CS Holding, which was originally a sister company of Credit Suisse, became the central holding company and parent company of the entire Credit Suisse Group during the course of 1989.

APPENDIX C
ALTERNATIVE INTEREST RATES

The following is a description of the interest rate and purchase provisions of the Bonds while the Bonds bear a Flexible Rate, a Daily Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate, or a Term Rate. The method by which the interest rate on the Bonds is determined can be changed as described in the Official Statement under “CONVERSION OF RATE.”

Interest Provisions

Flexible Rates. On the date interest starts to accrue on the Bonds at a Flexible Rate and on each Flexible Date thereafter, except any Flexible Date that is a Conversion Date, the Remarketing Agent shall determine for each Flexible Period allowable under the Flexible Date Parameters the interest rate which, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, when borne by a Bond having such a Flexible Period would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell such Bond on such date at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. Each Bond shall bear interest during the Flexible Period selected for such Bond at the rate per annum equal to the interest rate determined as provided above for such Flexible Period or, in the event such Bond is not remarketed, at the rate per annum equal to the interest rate for the shortest allowable Flexible Period under the Flexible Date Parameters. If for any reason a Flexible Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any Flexible Period, the Flexible Rate for such Flexible Period shall equal the Flexible Rate determined by the Trustee as being equal to the earliest 30-day, 60-day or 90-day tax-exempt commercial paper rate published each day by Munifacts Wire System, Inc. (or its replacement), and representing, as of the date of determination, the average of 30-day (if such Flexible Period is from 1 to 30 days in length), 60-day (if such Flexible Period is from 31 to 60 days in length), or 90-day (if such Flexible Period is from 61 to 180 days in length), as the case may be, yield evaluations at par of securities, the interest on which is excludable from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation, of issuers of commercial paper rated by Moody’s or S&P in its highest commercial paper Rating Category. If Munifacts Wire System, Inc. (or its replacement) does not publish a 30-day, 60-day or 90-day tax-exempt commercial paper rate, as the case may be, on the day on which a Flexible Rate is to be set, the Flexible Rate of such Bond for such period shall be the applicable percentage of the interest rate (the “Flexible Base Rate”) for 30-day, 60-day, or 90-day, as the case may be, taxable commercial paper (prime paper placed through dealers) announced by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on the first Business Day of such Flexible Rate Period as determined on the basis of the table set forth below:

Term of Next Succeeding Flexible Rate Period	Applicable Percentage of Flexible Base Rate
1-30 days	70%
61-180 days	76%

“Flexible Date” means, with respect to each Bond, the day next succeeding the last day of a Flexible Period. “Flexible Period” means, with respect to each Bond, each consecutive period (one to no more than 270 days, or one to 365 or 366 days, as applicable to a particular year, as determined by the Company, as described under the caption “THE LETTER OF CREDIT — Substitute Letter of Credit”) established pursuant to the Indenture during which such Bond shall bear interest at a particular Flexible Rate. “Flexible Date Parameters” means the parameters stated in Exhibit E to the Indenture regarding allowable Flexible Periods.

The Trustee shall cause to be noted on each Bond bearing interest at a Flexible Rate the Flexible Rate and the Flexible Date for such Bond at the time it is registered.

Daily Interest Rate. With respect to each day the Bonds are to bear a Daily Interest Rate, the Daily Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent to be the interest rate which, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, when borne by the Bonds would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on such date at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any; provided, however, that (A) with respect to any day that is not a Business Day, the Daily Interest Rate shall be the same rate as the Daily Interest Rate established for the immediately preceding Business Day unless the Remarketing Agent is open for business on such non-Business Day and determines a rate for such non-Business Day, in which case the Bonds shall bear interest at the rate so determined and (B) if for any reason a Daily Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any day, the Daily Interest Rate for such day shall equal the Daily Interest Rate determined by the Trustee as being equal to the average of 30-day yield evaluations at par of securities, the interest on which is excludable from gross income for purposes of federal income taxation, of issuers of commercial paper rated by Moody's or S&P in its highest commercial paper Rating Category. Initially, that rate will be the earliest rate published each day by Munifacts Wire System, Inc. The Issuer will, at the request of the Company, designate to the Trustee and the Remarketing Agent a replacement publisher. If Munifacts Wire System, Inc. or such replacement publisher does not publish such a commercial paper rate on a day on which a Daily Interest Rate is to be set, the Remarketing Agent will set the Daily Interest Rate at 70% of the interest rate for 30-day taxable commercial paper (prime paper placed through dealers) announced on such day by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Monthly Interest Rate. With respect to each Interest Period the Bonds are to bear interest at a Monthly Interest Rate, the Monthly Interest Rate shall be determined on the first Business Day of such Interest Period by the Remarketing Agent to be that rate which would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the first day of such Interest Period at 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Remarketing Agent shall immediately give telephonic notice to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), promptly confirmed in writing, of the Monthly Interest Rate. If for any reason a Monthly Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any Interest Period, the Monthly Interest Rate for such Interest Period shall equal the Monthly Interest Rate determined by the Trustee as being equal to 75% of the interest rate for 30-day taxable commercial paper (prime paper placed through dealers) announced for the first day of each calendar month by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Term Interest Rate. With respect to each Term Period the Bonds are to bear interest at a Term Interest Rate, the Term Interest Rate shall be determined by the Remarketing Agent as follows. On the Business Day next preceding the first day of a Term Period, the Remarketing Agent shall determine the Term Interest Rate, which shall be the rate which would be the minimum interest rate necessary to enable the Remarketing Agent to sell all of the Bonds on the first day of such Term Period at 100% of the principal amount thereof. The Remarketing Agent shall immediately give telephonic notice to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), promptly confirmed in writing, of the Term Interest Rate. If for any reason a Term Interest Rate is not established by the Remarketing Agent or the rate established by the Remarketing Agent is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of law with respect to any Term Period, the Term Interest Rate for such Term Period shall equal the Term Interest Rate determined by the Trustee as being equal to 81% (if such Term Period is 7 years or less), 87% (if such Term Period is more than 7 years and less than 15 years) or 90% (if such Term Period is 15 years or more), as the case may be, of the then current yield on United States Treasury obligations which have remaining terms equal approximately to the Term Period of the Bonds as of the date such Term Interest Rate is determined and which obligations are publicly traded at a price closest to the principal amount thereof.

Promptly after the determination of each Term Interest Rate, the Trustee shall mail a notice by first-class mail to each Owner of a Bond, at the address shown on the registration books of the Issuer maintained by the Registrar, advising such Owner of such Term Interest Rate and of the Term Period for which such Term Interest Rate will be in effect. Failure by the Trustee to give any such notice by mailing, or any defect therein, shall not affect the Term Interest Rate to be borne by the Bonds in any Term Period.

Purchase Provisions

Purchase While Bonds Bear Flexible Rate. On the Flexible Date with respect to a Bond, such Bond shall be purchased at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof upon delivery of the Bond (with all necessary endorsements) to the New York delivery office of the Trustee. If the Owner elects not to have his Bond purchased on such Flexible Date, the Owner shall give telephonic or written notice to the Remarketing Agent not later than 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on the Business Day next preceding the Flexible Date stating that the Owner elects not to have his Bond purchased on such Flexible Date and stating the next Flexible Period (which shall be within the Flexible Date Parameters) for such Bond, in which event and upon receipt of appropriate information confirmed in writing from the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee shall issue a new Bond to such Owner reflecting the next Flexible Period in exchange for the Bond then held by such Owner. Bonds to be purchased which are not delivered by the Owner thereof shall be deemed to have been delivered by the Owner thereof for purchase and to have been purchased, provided that there have been irrevocably deposited with the Trustee moneys in accordance with the Indenture in an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price of such Bonds. Moneys deposited with the Trustee for such purchase of Bonds shall be held in trust in a separate escrow account, without liability for interest thereon, and shall be paid to the Owners of such Bonds upon presentation thereof. The Trustee shall on the last day of each month give written notice to the Company whether Bonds have not been delivered, and upon direction to do so by the Company, the Trustee shall give notice by mail to each Owner whose Bonds are deemed to have been purchased that such moneys are on deposit at the principal office of the Trustee and that interest on such Bonds ceased to accrue on the applicable Flexible Date.

Purchase on Demand of Owner While Bonds Bear Daily Interest Rate. While the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased on the demand of the Owner thereof, on any Business Day, at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase, upon (A) delivery to the principal office of the Remarketing Agent (and at the option of an Owner which is an Investment Company, with a copy to the Trustee at its New York delivery office), by no later than 9:30 a.m., New York, New York time, on such Business Day, of a written notice or a telephonic notice, promptly confirmed by tested telex, which states the principal amount of such Bond to be purchased and the date on which the same shall be purchased pursuant to this Section, and (B) delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) to the New York delivery office of the Trustee, at or prior to 9:30 a.m., New York, New York time, on the date specified in such notice.

Purchase on Demand of Owner While Bonds Bear Monthly Interest Rate. While the Bonds bear interest at a Monthly Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased, on the demand of the Owner thereof:

- (a) On any Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase, upon (i) delivery to the principal office of the Remarketing Agent of a written notice (unless the Trustee shall be serving as Remarketing Agent, in which case written notice delivered to the New York delivery office of the Trustee shall be required) which states the aggregate principal amount of the Bond and the Business Day (which shall be a day not less than seven days after the notice is delivered) on which the Bond is to be purchased; and (ii) delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) and, in the case of a Bond to be purchased prior to the Interest Payment Date for any Interest Period and after the Record Date in respect thereto, a due-bill, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, at the New York delivery office of the Trustee at or prior to 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on such Business Day; provided, however, that such Bond shall be so purchased only if the Bond so delivered to the Trustee shall conform in all respects to the description thereof in the aforesaid notice. An Owner who gives the notice set forth in clause (i) above may repurchase the Bonds so tendered with such notice on such Business Day if the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the Bonds so tendered to such Owner. If such Owner decides to repurchase such Bonds and the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the specified Bonds to such Owner prior to delivery of such Bonds as set forth in clause (ii) hereinabove, the delivery requirement set forth in such clause (ii) shall be waived.

(b) On any Interest Payment Date at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, upon (1) delivery to the principal office of the Remarketing Agent at or prior to 4:00 p.m., New York, New York time, on the third Business Day prior to such Interest Payment Date of a telephonic notice (unless the Trustee shall be serving as Remarketing Agent, in which case written notice delivered to the New York delivery office of the Trustee shall be required) which (i) states the aggregate principal amount of such Bond and (ii) states that such Bond shall be purchased on such Interest Payment Date pursuant to this paragraph; and (2) the delivery of such Bond (with all necessary endorsements) at the New York delivery office of the Trustee at or prior to 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on such Interest Payment Date; provided, however, that such Bond shall be so purchased pursuant to this paragraph only if the Bond so delivered to the Trustee shall conform in all respects to the description thereof in the aforesaid notice. An Owner who gives the notice set forth in clause (1) hereinabove may repurchase the Bonds so tendered on such Interest Payment Date if the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the Bonds so tendered to such Owner. If such Owner decides to repurchase such Bonds and the Remarketing Agent agrees to sell the specified Bonds to such Owner prior to delivery of such Bonds as set forth in clause (2) hereinabove, the delivery requirement set forth in such clause (2) shall be waived.

Purchase While Bonds Bear Term Interest Rate.

(a) While the Bonds bear interest at a Term Interest Rate, any Bond shall be purchased on the day (which is not a Conversion Date) next succeeding the last day of any Term Period (a "Purchase Date") at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof unless the Owner of the Bond delivers a completed Owner Election Notice (as defined in the Indenture) to the New York delivery office of the Trustee between the opening of business on the twenty-first day next preceding the Purchase Date and the close of business on the seventh day next preceding the Purchase Date (or if such twenty-first or seventh day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day). The delivery of an Owner Election Notice by an Owner to retain his Bond is irrevocable and binding on such Owner and cannot be withdrawn. The Trustee shall give the Remarketing Agent telephonic notice, promptly confirmed in writing, specifying the principal amount of Bonds for which Owner Election Notices have been received. Not later than the fifteenth day next preceding the Purchase Date, the Trustee shall give notice by first-class mail to the Owners of the Bonds stating (i) the last day of the Term Period, (ii) that the Bonds will be purchased on the Purchase Date unless the Owner of the Bond delivers a completed Owner Election Notice (a copy of which shall accompany the notice from the Trustee) to the Trustee as provided in the Indenture between the opening of business on the twenty-first day and the close of business on the seventh day next preceding the Purchase Date (or if such seventh day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day) and (iii) that after the Purchase Date the Bonds will bear interest at a Term Interest Rate for a Term Period of the same duration as the then current Term Period.

If during any Term Period the Company fails to deliver to the Trustee a notice of conversion as described under the caption "CONVERSION OF RATE — Conversion to Term Interest Rate or Floating Interest Rates," from and after the Purchase Date the Bonds shall bear interest at a Term Interest Rate for a Term Period of the same duration as that ending on the day immediately preceding such Purchase Date.

Any Owner of a Bond who does not deliver a completed Owner Election Notice as described above must deliver such Bond (with any necessary endorsements) to the New York delivery office of the Trustee, not later than 10:00 a.m., New York, New York time, on the Purchase Date.

Any Owner who delivers a completed Owner Election Notice as described above in order to retain a portion of a Bond must deliver such Bond (with any necessary endorsements) to the New York delivery office of the Trustee at the same time as the delivery of such Owner Election Notice. If an Owner so elects to retain a portion of a Bond, the Trustee shall, in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture, deliver to such Owner a principal amount of Bonds in Authorized Denominations equal to the portion of the Bond so retained.

(b) Bonds or portions thereof to be purchased as provided in paragraph (a) above which are not delivered by the Owners thereof to the Trustee as above provided shall nonetheless be deemed to have been delivered by the Owner thereof for purchase and to have been purchased; provided that there have been irrevocably deposited with the Trustee moneys in accordance with the Indenture in an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price of such Bonds. Thereafter, the Trustee shall authenticate a new Bond as provided in the Indenture. Moneys deposited with the Trustee for purchase of Bonds pursuant to the Indenture shall be held in trust in a separate escrow account (without liability for interest thereon) and shall be paid to the Owners of such Bonds upon presentation thereof. The Trustee shall within five days after the Purchase Date give written notice to the Company whether Bonds have not been delivered, and upon direction to do so by the Company, the Trustee shall give notice by mail to each Owner whose Bonds are deemed to have been purchased pursuant to the Indenture, which notice shall state that interest on such Bonds ceased to accrue on the Purchase Date and that moneys representing the purchase price of such Bonds are available against delivery thereof at the New York delivery office of the Trustee. The Trustee shall hold moneys deposited by the Company or drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the purchase of Bonds as provided in the Indenture, without liability for interest thereon, for the benefit of the former Owner of the Bond on such Purchase Date, who shall thereafter be restricted exclusively to such moneys for any claim of whatever nature on his part under the Indenture or on, or with respect to, such Bond. Any moneys so deposited with and held by the Trustee not so applied to the payment of Bonds within six months after such Purchase Date shall be paid by the Trustee to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the extent of any amount payable under the Reimbursement Agreement, and the balance shall be paid by the Trustee to the Company upon the written direction of the Authorized Company Representative consented to in writing by the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), and thereafter the former owners shall be entitled to look only to the Company for payment, and then only to the extent of the amount so repaid to the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and/or the Company, and the Company shall not be liable for any interest thereon and shall not be regarded as a trustee of such money.

Re: $70,000,000 Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project)
Series 1990A of Sweetwater County, Wyoming

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Wyoming, created by and existing under the laws of the State of Wyoming, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1990A, in the aggregate principal amount of $70,000,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's $70,000,000 Floating Rate Monthly Demand Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1983B (the "Refunded Bonds") which were issued for the purpose of financing a portion of an undivided interest (the "Project") of PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation and formerly Pacific Power & Light Company (the "Company"), in certain air and water pollution control facilities (the "Pollution Control Facilities") at the Jim Bridger coal-fired steam electric generating plant (the "Plant") in Sweetwater County, Wyoming. The proceeds of the Bonds have been deposited with the trustee for the Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on July 1, 2015, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter defined Indenture, only as fully registered Bonds without coupons.

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for said issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Wyoming now in force.

Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of July 1, 1990 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer, the Issuer has agreed to loan the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company to effect the refunding of the Refunded Bonds, and the Company has agreed to pay amounts at least sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, call for redemption or acceleration. The Loan Agreement (an executed counterpart of which has been examined by us) has, in our opinion, been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought.

We have also examined an executed counterpart of the Trust Indenture, dated as of July 1, 1990 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), securing the Bonds and setting forth the covenants and undertakings of the Issuer in connection with the Bonds and making provision under certain conditions for the remarketing of the Bonds by a Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), for the fixing of Floating Interest Rates (as defined in the Indenture) to be borne by the Bonds, which Floating Interest Rate may be a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate, a Monthly Interest Rate or a Flexible Rate (each as defined in the Indenture), and for the conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds to a different Floating Interest Rate or a Term Interest Rate under certain conditions. The Indenture provides that the Bonds bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate until the interest rate borne by the Bonds is converted to a different Floating Interest Rate or a Term Interest Rate. Under the Indenture, the revenues derived by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, together with certain of the rights of the Issuer thereunder, are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security for the Bonds. From such examination, we are of the opinion that the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above show lawful authority for the execution and delivery of the Indenture, that the Indenture is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought, that the Bonds have been validly issued under the Indenture, and that all requirements under the Indenture precedent to delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied.

In connection with the Company's obligation to make payments to the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, the Company has caused to be delivered to the Trustee an irrevocable Letter of Credit (the "Letter of Credit") of Credit Suisse, Los Angeles Branch (the "Bank"), under which the Trustee is permitted under certain conditions to draw up to (a) an amount equal to the principal of the outstanding Bonds (i) to pay the principal of the Bonds when due upon redemption or acceleration or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the purchase price or portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase and not remarketed, plus (b) an amount equal to 65 days' accrued interest on the outstanding Bonds (i) to pay interest on the Bonds or (ii) to enable the Trustee to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. Delivery of the Letter of Credit, however, does not release the Company from its payment obligation under the Loan Agreement. The stated expiration date of the Letter of Credit is July 25, 1995, subject to the provisions of the Letter of Credit.

We further certify that we have examined the form of bond prescribed in the Indenture and find the same in due form of law and in our opinion the Bonds, to the amount named, are valid and legally binding upon the Issuer according to the import thereof and, as provided in the Indenture and the Bonds, are payable by the Issuer solely out of payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement, except to the extent paid from moneys drawn by the Trustee under the Letter of Credit.

Subject to the condition that the Company and the Issuer comply with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, we are of the opinion that under present law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Pollution Control Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code), and the interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations (since the Refunded Bonds were issued prior to August 8, 1986). Interest on the Bonds will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Failure to comply with certain of such Issuer and Company covenants could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Original issue discount, if any, on the Bonds is treated as interest for purposes of the foregoing opinions. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon a certificate of even date herewith of the Company relating to the Plant, the Pollution Control Facilities and the application of the proceeds of the Refunded Bonds and the proceeds of the Bonds with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

In our opinion, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes which would be applicable to interest on the Bonds.

We are not passing upon the Letter of Credit or action taken by the Bank in connection therewith. The validity of the Letter of Credit has been passed upon by Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy and Dr. René Schwarzmann.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, counsel to the Company, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith concerning the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon said opinion with respect to, among other things: (i) the due organization of the Company, (ii) the good standing or existence of the Company in the States of Wyoming and Oregon, (iii) the approval of the execution and delivery by the Company of the Loan Agreement by all necessary regulatory authorities exercising jurisdiction over the Company, (iv) the corporate power of the Company to enter into, and the due execution by the Company of, the Loan Agreement, and (v) the binding effect of the Loan Agreement on the Company.

Thomas T. Zollinger, County and Prosecuting Attorney of the Issuer, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith with respect to the obligations of the Issuer under the Bonds, the Loan Agreement and the Indenture.

The opinions described above are in form satisfactory to us, both in scope and content.

We express no opinion as to the title to, the description of, or the existence of any liens, charges or encumbrances on the Project, the Pollution Control Facilities or the Plant.

Re: $70,000,000
Sweetwater County, Wyoming
Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1990A (the “Bonds”)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This opinion is being furnished in accordance with Section 4.03(b) of that certain Loan Agreement, dated as of July 1, 1990 (the “Loan Agreement”), between Sweetwater County Wyoming (the “Issuer”) and PacifiCorp (the “Company”). Prior to the date hereof, payment of principal and purchase price of and interest on the Bonds was secured by a credit facility issued by Barclays Bank PLC, New York Branch (the “Existing Letter of Credit”). On the date hereof, the Company desires to deliver a Letter of Credit (the “Letter of Credit”) to be issued by The Bank of Nova Scotia, New York Agency (the “Bank”), for the benefit of the Trustee (defined below).

We have examined the law and such documents and matters as we have deemed necessary to provide this opinion letter. As to questions of fact material to the opinions expressed herein, we have relied upon the provisions of the Trust Indenture, dated as of July 1, 1990 (the “Indenture”), between the Issuer and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as successor trustee (the “Trustee”) and related documents, and upon representations, including regarding the consent of the Owners, made to us without undertaking to verify the same by independent investigation.

The terms used herein denoted by initial capitals and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings specified in the Indenture.

Based upon the foregoing and as of the date hereof, we are of the opinion that:

1. The delivery of the Letter of Credit is authorized under the Loan Agreement and complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement.
2. The delivery of the Letter of Credit will not impair the validity under the Act of the Bonds and will not cause interest on the Bonds to become includible in the gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes.

At the time of the issuance of the Bonds, we rendered our approving opinion relating to, among other things, the validity of the Bonds and the exclusion from federal income taxation of interest on the Bonds. We have not been requested, nor have we undertaken, to make an independent investigation to confirm that the Company and the Issuer have complied with the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Tax Certificate (as defined in the Indenture) and other documents relating to the Bonds, or to review any other events that may have occurred since such approving opinion was rendered other than with respect to the Company in connection with (a) the delivery of an Irrevocable Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated as of July 19, 2000, (b) the delivery of an Irrevocable Transferrable Direct Pay Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated September 15, 2004, (c) the delivery of the amendment to an earlier Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated November 30, 2005, (d) the delivery of the Existing Letter of Credit, described in our opinion dated May 16, 2012 and (e) the delivery of the Letter of Credit described herein. Accordingly, we do not express any opinion with respect to the Bonds, except as described above.

Our opinion represents our legal judgment based upon our review of the law and the facts that we deem relevant to render such opinion and is not a guarantee of a result. This opinion is given as of the date hereof and we assume no obligation to review or supplement this opinion to reflect any facts or circumstances that may hereafter come to our attention or any changes in law that may hereafter occur.

In rendering this opinion as Bond Counsel, we are passing only upon those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the adequacy, accuracy or completeness of any information furnished to any person in connection with any offer or sale of the Bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT NEW ISSUES

The opinions of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, delivered on November 17, 1994, state that, subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuers with certain covenants, in the opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Bond Counsel, under then existing law (a) interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended), and (b) interest on the Bonds is not treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. However, such interest is taken into account in computing the corporate alternative minimum tax. Such opinions of Bond Counsel were also to the effect that under then existing law (a) interest on the Emery Bonds and Carbon Bonds is exempt from taxes imposed by the Utah Individual Income Tax Act, (b) the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds or the Sweetwater Bonds and (c) interest on the Moffat Bonds is not included in Colorado taxable income for purposes of the income tax imposed by the State of Colorado pursuant to Article 22 of Title 39 of the Colorado Revised Statutes, as amended. Such opinions have not been updated as of the date hereof. See "TAX EXEMPTION" herein for a more complete discussion.

(PACIFICORP PROJECTS)
SERIES 1994

Dated: Original Date of Delivery

Due: See Inside Cover

The Bonds of each issue described in this Reoffering Circular are limited obligations of the respective Issuers and, except to the extent payable from Bond proceeds and certain other moneys pledged therefor, are payable solely from and secured by a pledge of payments to be made under separate Loan Agreements entered into by the respective Issuers with, and secured by First Mortgage Bonds issued by,

PacifiCorp

On November 19, 2008, the Bonds of each issue will be remarketed and will bear interest at a Weekly Interest Rate payable the first Business Day of each month commencing December 1, 2008. The initial Weekly Interest Rate and each subsequent Weekly Interest Rate to be borne by the each issue of the Bonds will be determined by the applicable Remarketing Agent. Thereafter, the interest rate on the Bonds may be changed from time to time to Daily, Weekly, Flexible or Term Interest Rates, designated and determined as described herein. The Bonds are subject to purchase at the option of the owners thereof and, under certain circumstances, are subject to mandatory purchase in the manner and at the times described herein. The Bonds are subject to optional and mandatory redemption prior to maturity as described herein.

Following the remarketing of the Bonds on November 19, 2008, the payment of the principal of and interest on each issue of the Bonds and the payment of the purchase price of each issue of the Bonds tendered for purchase and not remarketed will be supported by a separate irrevocable Letter of Credit issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, to The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as Trustee, for the benefit of the registered holders of the related Bonds.

Wells Fargo Bank, National Association

Each Letter of Credit will expire by its terms on November 19, 2009, unless it expires earlier in accordance with its terms. Each Letter of Credit will be automatically extended to November 19, 2010, unless the Trustee receives notice of the Bank's election not to extend on or before October 20, 2009. Each Letter of Credit may be replaced by an Alternate Credit Facility as permitted under the separate Indentures and Loan Agreements. Unless a Letter of Credit is extended before its scheduled expiration date, the related Bonds will be subject to mandatory tender for purchase prior to such expiration date. THIS REOFFERING CIRCULAR ONLY PERTAINS TO THE BONDS WHILE THEY ARE SECURED BY THE LETTERS OF CREDIT PROVIDED BY THE BANK.

The Bonds are issuable as fully registered Bonds without coupons and will be registered in the name of Cede & Co., as registered owner and nominee for The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York. So long as Cede & Co. is the registered owner of the Bonds, as nominee for DTC, the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds will be paid by the Trustee directly to DTC, which will, in turn, remit such amounts to DTC participants for subsequent disbursement to the beneficial owners of the Bonds. See "THE BONDS—Book-Entry System."

The Trust Indentures, as amended and restated by the First Supplemental Indentures, are sometimes referred to herein as the “Indentures.” Pursuant to separate Loan Agreements between PacifiCorp (the “Company”) and each of the respective Issuers (each an “Original Loan Agreement” and collectively the “Original Loan Agreements”), each as amended and restated by a First Supplemental Loan Agreement, dated as of October 1, 2008, between the Company and each of the respective Issuers (each a “First Supplemental Loan Agreement” and collectively the “First Supplemental Loan Agreements”), the respective Issuers have lent the proceeds from the original sale of the Bonds to the Company. The Original Loan Agreements, as amended and restated by the First Supplemental Loan Agreements, are sometimes referred to herein as the “Loan Agreements.”

The proceeds of the Bonds were used, together with certain other moneys of the Company, to refund all of the outstanding (a) $9,365,000 principal amount of Carbon County, Utah, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project) Series A of 1974 due February 1, 2004 (the “Prior Carbon Bonds”); (b) $8,190,000 principal amount of Converse County, Wyoming Collateralized Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1977 (the “Prior Converse Bonds”); (c) $13,190,000 principal amount of Emery County, Utah, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project) Series A of 1974 due February 1, 2004 (the “Prior Emery 1974 Bonds”); (d) $50,000,000 principal amount of Emery County, Utah, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, 6-3/8% Series due November 1, 2006 (Utah Power & Light Company Project) (the “Prior Emery 6-3/8% Bonds”); (e) $42,000,000 principal amount of Emery County, Utah, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, 5.90% Series due April 1, 2008 (Utah Power & Light Company Project) (the “Prior Emery 5.90% Bonds”); (f) $16,750,000 principal amount of Emery County, Utah, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project), 10.70% Series due September 1, 2014 (the “Prior Emery 10.70% Bonds”); (g) $15,060,000 principal amount of Lincoln County, Wyoming, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project) Series A of 1974 (the “Prior Lincoln Bonds”); (h) $40,655,000 principal amount of Moffat County, Colorado, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, Series 1978 (Colorado-Ute Electric Association, Inc. Project) (the “Prior Moffat Bonds”); and (i) $21,260,000 principal amount of Sweetwater County, Wyoming, Taxable Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds

(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994T (the “Prior Sweetwater 1994T Bonds”). These obligations have been assumed by the Company as the surviving corporation in its 1989 merger with Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation, and PacifiCorp, a Maine corporation or, in the case of the Prior Moffat Bonds, under that certain Assignment and Assumption Agreement, dated April 15, 1992, between Colorado-Ute Electric Association, Inc. (“Colorado-Ute”) and the Company.

The Prior Emery 1974 Bonds, the Prior Emery 6-3/8% Bonds, the Prior Emery 5.90% Bonds and the Prior Emery 10.70% Bonds are hereinafter collectively referred to as the “Prior Emery Bonds.” The Prior Carbon Bonds, the Prior Converse Bonds, the Prior Emery Bonds, the Prior Lincoln Bonds, the Prior Moffat Bonds and the Prior Sweetwater 1994T Bonds are hereinafter collectively referred to as the “Prior Bonds.” The Prior Bonds were issued to finance various qualifying solid waste disposal facilities and air and water pollution control facilities as described herein. See “THE FACILITIES.”

In order to secure the Company’s obligation to repay the loans made to it by the Issuers under the Loan Agreements, the Company has issued and delivered to the Trustee for each issue its Series 1994-1 First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds (the “First Mortgage Bonds”) in a principal amount equal to the principal amount of such issue of the Bonds. The First Mortgage Bonds may be released upon delivery of collateral in substitution for the First Mortgage Bonds provided that certain conditions are met as described below under “THE LOAN AGREEMENTS—Loan Payments; The First Mortgage Bonds.” The First Mortgage Bonds were issued under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 9, 1989 between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as successor trustee (the “Company Mortgage Trustee”), as supplemented and amended by various supplemental indentures, including a Tenth Supplemental Indenture dated as of August 1, 1994 (the “Tenth Supplemental Indenture”), all collectively hereinafter referred to as the “Company Mortgage.” As holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, the Trustee will, ratably with the holders of all other first mortgage bonds outstanding under the Company Mortgage, enjoy the benefit of a lien on properties of the Company. See “THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS—Security” for a description of the properties of the Company subject to the lien of the Company Mortgage. The Bonds will not otherwise be secured by a mortgage of, or security interest in, the Facilities (as hereinafter defined). The First Mortgage Bonds will be registered in the name of and held by the Trustee for the benefit of the “Owners” of the applicable series of the Bonds and will not be transferable except to a successor trustee under the Indentures. “Owner” means the registered owner of any Bond; provided, however, when used in the context of the Tax-Exempt (as hereinafter defined) status of the Bonds, the term “Owner” includes each actual purchaser of any Bond (“Beneficial Owner”).

The Bonds, together with the premium, if any, and interest thereon, will be limited obligations and not general obligations of the Issuer thereof. None of the Indentures, the Bonds or the Loan Agreements constitutes a debt or gives rise to a general obligation or liability of any of the Issuers or constitutes an indebtedness under any constitutional or statutory debt limitation. The Bonds of each issue will not constitute or give rise to a pecuniary liability of the Issuer thereof and will not constitute any charge against such Issuer’s general credit or taxing powers; nor will the Bonds of an Issuer constitute an indebtedness of or a loan of credit of such Issuer. The Bonds are payable solely from the receipts and revenues to be received from the Company as payments under the related Loan Agreements, or otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, and from any other moneys pledged therefor. Such receipts and revenues and all of the Issuers' rights and interests under the Loan Agreements (except as noted under "THE INDENTURES—Pledge and Security" below) are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security, equally and ratably, for the payment of the related series of the Bonds. The payments required to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreements, or otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, will be sufficient, together with other funds available for such purpose, to pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the related series of the Bonds. Under no circumstances will any Issuer have any obligation, responsibility or liability with respect to the Facilities, the Loan Agreements, the Indentures, the Bonds or this Reoffering Circular, except for the special limited obligation set forth in the Indentures and the Loan Agreements whereby each series of the Bonds are payable solely from amounts derived from the Company and the applicable Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility (as hereinafter defined), as the case may be). Nothing contained in the Indentures, the Bonds or the Loan Agreements, or in any other related documents may be construed to require any Issuer to operate, maintain or have any responsibility with respect to any of the Facilities (as hereinafter defined). The Issuers have no liability in the event of wrongful disbursement by the Trustee or otherwise. No recourse may be had against any past, present or future commissioner, officer, employee, official or agent of any Issuer under the Indentures, the Bonds, the Loan Agreements or any related document. The Issuers have no responsibility to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds under federal or state law nor any responsibility for any other tax consequences related to the ownership or disposition of the Bonds.

The Bonds of each issue contain substantially the same terms and provisions as, but will be entirely separate from, the Bonds of each other issue. The Bonds of one issue will not be payable from or entitled to any revenues delivered to the Trustee in respect of the Bonds of any other issue. Redemption of the Bonds of one issue may be made in the manner described below without redemption of the Bonds of any other issue, and a default in respect of the Bonds of one issue will not, in and of itself, constitute a default in respect of the Bonds of the other issues; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default with respect to the Bonds of more than one issue.

Each issue of the Bonds will be supported by a separate irrevocable Letter of Credit (each a "Letter of Credit" and, collectively, the "Letters of Credit") to be issued by Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (the "Bank") in favor of the Trustee, as beneficiary. The Letters of Credit have substantially identical terms.

Under each of the Letters of Credit, the Trustee will be entitled to draw, upon a properly presented and conforming drawing, up to an amount sufficient to pay one hundred percent (100%) of the principal amount of the applicable Bonds on the date of the draw (whether at maturity, upon acceleration, mandatory or optional purchase or redemption, plus 48 days' accrued interest on the applicable Bonds, at a rate of up to the maximum interest rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum calculated on the basis of a year of 365 days for the actual days elapsed, so long as the Bonds bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate or the Daily Interest Rate. The Company has agreed to reimburse the Bank for drawings made under the Letter of Credit and to make certain other payments to the Bank. The Letters of Credit will expire on

November 19, 2009, unless extended or earlier terminated in accordance with their terms. See “THE LETTERS OF CREDIT.”

Banc of America Securities LLC has been appointed by the Company as Remarketing Agent with respect to the Converse Bonds and the Lincoln Bonds. Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated has been appointed by the Company as Remarketing Agent with respect to the Carbon Bonds, the Moffat Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds. Wells Fargo Brokerage Services, LLC has been appointed by the Company as Remarketing Agent with respect to the Emery Bonds. Banc of America Securities LLC, Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated and Wells Fargo Brokerage Services, LLC, are referred to herein as the “Remarketing Agents.” The Company will enter into a separate Remarketing Agreement with the Remarketing Agent with respect to the Bonds to be remarketed by such Remarketing Agent.

Under certain circumstances described in the applicable Loan Agreement, a Letter of Credit may be replaced by an alternate credit facility supporting payment of the principal of and interest on the applicable Bonds when due and for the payment of the purchase price of tendered or deemed tendered Bonds (each an “Alternate Credit Facility”). The entity or entities, as the case may be, obligated to make payment on an Alternate Credit Facility are referred to herein as the “Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility.” In addition, a Letter of Credit may be replaced by a substitute letter of credit (a “Substitute Letter of Credit”). The replacement of a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, including with a Substitute Letter of Credit, will result in the mandatory purchase of Bonds. See “THE LOAN AGREEMENTS—The Letter of Credit; Alternate Credit Facility” and “—Substitute Letter of Credit.”

Concurrently with the issuance of the Bonds, AMBAC Indemnity Corporation (“Ambac”) issued a municipal bond insurance policy with respect to the Bonds of each issue (each, an “Ambac Insurance Policy” and, collectively, the “Ambac Insurance Policies”). In connection with the delivery of the Letters of Credit, Ambac, the Company, the Trustee, each of the Issuers and the Company, acting as owner of Bonds, will enter into separate Release Agreements, pursuant to which Ambac will be released from all liabilities under each Ambac Insurance Policy, will surrender any and all rights under the Trust Indentures and payment of principal of and interest on the Bonds when due will no longer be guaranteed by Ambac under the Ambac Insurance Policies. Purchasers of the Bonds will be deemed to have consented to the provisions of the Release Agreements. See “TERMINATION OF BOND INSURANCE.”

The following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Bonds of the six issues. A default in respect of one issue will not, in and of itself, constitute a default in respect of any other issue; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default with respect to more than one issue. No issue of the Bonds is entitled to the benefits of any payments or other security pledged for the benefit of the other issues. Optional or mandatory redemption of one issue of the Bonds may be made in the manner described below without redemption of the other issues. multiple of $5,000 in excess of $100,000, when the Bonds bear interest at a Flexible Interest Rate; and $5,000 or any integral multiple thereof, when the Bonds bear interest at a Term Interest Rate (collectively, “Authorized Denominations”). Exchanges and transfers will be made without charge to the Owners, except for any applicable tax or other governmental charge.

A “Business Day” is a day except a Saturday, Sunday or other day (a) on which commercial banks located in the cities in which the principal office of the Bank or the principal office of the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, the principal office of the Trustee, the principal office of the Remarketing Agent or the principal office of the Paying Agent are located are required or authorized by law to remain closed or are closed, or (b) on which The New York Stock Exchange, Inc. is closed.

“Tax-Exempt” means, with respect to interest on any obligations of a state or local government, including the Bonds, that such interest is not includible in gross income of the owners of such obligations for federal income tax purposes, except for any interest on any such obligations for any period during which such obligations are owned by a person who is a “substantial user” of any facilities financed or refinanced with such obligations or a “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the “1954 Code”), whether or not such interest is includible as an item of tax preference or otherwise includible directly or indirectly for purposes of calculating other tax liabilities, including any alternative minimum tax or environmental tax under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”).

PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

The principal of and premium, if any, on the Bonds is payable to the Owners upon surrender thereof at the principal office of the Paying Agent. Except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form (see “Book-Entry System”), interest is payable (i) by bank check or draft mailed by first class mail on the Interest Payment Date to the Owners as of the Record Date or (ii) during any Rate Period other than a Term Interest Rate Period, in immediately available funds (by wire transfer or by deposit to the account of the Owner of any such Bond if such account is maintained with the Paying Agent), but in respect of any Owner of Bonds in a Daily or Weekly Interest Rate Period only to any Owner which owns Bonds in an aggregate principal amount of at least $1,000,000 on the Record Date and who has provided wire transfer instructions to the Paying Agent prior to the close of business on such Record Date.

Interest on each Bond is payable on each Interest Payment Date for each such Bond for the period commencing on the immediately preceding Interest Payment Date (or if no interest has been paid thereon, commencing on the date of issuance thereof) to, but not including, such Interest Payment Date. Interest is computed, in the case of any Daily, Weekly, or Flexible Interest Rate Period, on the basis of a 365- or 366-day year, as applicable, for the number of days actually elapsed and, in the case of a Term Interest Rate Period, on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months.

RATE PERIODS

The term of the Bonds is divided into consecutive Rate Periods, during which such Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate, Flexible Interest Rate or Term Interest Rate, as described below. At any time the Rate Period applicable to any issue of Bonds may be different from that applicable to any other issue of Bonds.

WEEKLY INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Weekly Interest Rate. During each Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Bonds of an issue bear interest at the Weekly Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the first day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and thereafter no later than Tuesday of each week during such Weekly Interest Rate Period, unless any such Tuesday is not a Business Day, in which event the Weekly Interest Rate will be determined by the Remarketing Agent no later than the Business Day next preceding such Tuesday.

The Weekly Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent has not determined a Weekly Interest Rate for any period, the Weekly Interest Rate will be the same as the Weekly Interest Rate for the immediately preceding week. The first Weekly Interest Rate determined for each Weekly Interest Rate Period applies to the period commencing on the first day of the Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday. Thereafter, each Weekly Interest Rate applies to the period commencing on each Wednesday and ending on the next succeeding Tuesday, unless such Weekly Interest Rate Period ends on a day other than Tuesday, in which event the last Weekly Interest Rate for such Weekly Interest Rate Period applies to the period commencing on the Wednesday preceding the last day of such Weekly Interest Rate Period and ending on such last day. In no event may the Weekly Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect (initially 12% per annum).

Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by Bonds of an issue may be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice (a) must specify the effective date of such adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate, which must be (i) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee), (ii) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, and (iii) in the case of an adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period, either the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period or the day immediately following the last day of the last Flexible Segment for each Bond in the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, all as determined in accordance with clause (a) or (b), respectively, under “—Flexible Interest Rate Period-Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates;” provided, however, that if prior to the Company’s making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date; and (b) if the adjustment is from a Term Interest Rate Period having a duration in excess of one year, must be accompanied by an opinion of nationally recognized bond counsel (“Bond Counsel”) to the effect that such adjustment (i) is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and (ii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the interest on the Bonds.

Notice of Adjustment to Weekly Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Weekly Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Weekly Interest Rate (subject to the Company’s ability to rescind its election as described below under “Rescission of Election”), (b) the effective date of such Weekly Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (e) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (f) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

DAILY INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Daily Interest Rate. During each Daily Interest Rate Period, the Bonds of an issue bear interest at the Daily Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent either on each Business Day for such Business Day or on the next preceding Business Day for any day that is not a Business Day.

The Daily Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then-prevailing market conditions) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If the Remarketing Agent has not determined a Daily Interest Rate for any day by 10:00 a.m., New York time, the Daily Interest Rate for such day will be the same as the Daily Interest Rate for the immediately preceding Business Day. In no event may the Daily Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect (initially 12% per annum).

Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by Bonds of an issue may be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice (a) must specify the effective date of the adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate, which must be (i) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee), (ii) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, and (iii) in the case of an adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period, either the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period or the day immediately following the last day of the last Flexible Segment for each Bond in the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, all as determined in accordance with clause (a) or (b), respectively, under “—Flexible Interest Rate Period-Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates;” provided, however, that if prior to the Company’s making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date; and (b) if the adjustment is from a Term Interest Rate Period having a duration in excess of one year, is accompanied by an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such adjustment (i) is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and (ii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the interest on the Bonds.

Notice of Adjustment to Daily Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on such Bonds will be adjusted to a Daily Interest Rate (subject to the Company’s ability to rescind its election as described below under “Rescission of Election”), (b) the effective date of such Daily Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, (e) the purchase price of such Bonds on the effective date (expressed as a percentage of the principal amount thereof), and (f) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

TERM INTEREST RATE PERIOD

Determination of Term Interest Rate. During each Term Interest Rate Period, the Bonds of an issue bear interest at the Term Interest Rate determined by the Remarketing Agent on a Business Day selected by the Remarketing Agent, but not more than 30 days prior to and not later than the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period.

The Term Interest Rate is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent on such date, and communicated on such date to the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), as being the lowest rate (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If, for any reason, a Term Interest Rate for any Term Interest Rate Period has not been determined or effective, then (a) if the then-current Term Interest Rate Period is for one year or less, the Rate Period for such Bonds will automatically convert to a Daily Interest Rate Period and (b) if the then-current Term Interest Rate Period is for more than one year, the Rate Period for the Bonds will automatically adjust to a Term Interest Rate Period of one year and one day; provided, however, that if the last day of any successive Term Interest Rate Period is not a day immediately preceding a Business Day, then such successive Term Interest Rate Period will end on the first day immediately preceding the Business Day next succeeding such day or, if such Term Interest Rate Period would end after the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds, the next succeeding Rate Period will be a Term Interest Rate Period ending on the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds; provided, further, that in the case of clause (b) above, if the Company delivers to the Trustee an approving opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the end of the then-effective Term Interest Rate Period, the Rate Period for the Bonds will adjust to a Daily Interest Rate Period. If the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any such Daily Interest Rate Period is not determined as described under “—Daily Interest Rate Period-Determination of Daily Interest Rate,” the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). If a Term Interest Rate for any such Term Interest Rate Period described in clause (b) above is not determined as described in the second preceding sentence, the Term Interest Rate for such Term Interest Rate Period will be 100% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). In no event may any Term Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect.

Adjustment to or Continuation of Term Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by Bonds of an issue may be adjusted to or continued as a Term Interest Rate upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company, which notice specifies the duration of the Term Interest Rate Period during which the Bonds bear, or continue to bear, interest at a Term Interest Rate. Such notice may specify two or more consecutive Term Interest Rate Periods and, if it so specifies, must specify the duration of each such Term Interest Rate Period as provided in this paragraph. Such notice must specify the effective date of each Term Interest Rate Period, which must be (a) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee), (b) in the case of an adjustment from or continuation of a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, and (c) in the case of an adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period, either the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period or the day immediately following the last day of the last Flexible Segment for each Bond in the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, all as determined in accordance with clause (a) or (b), respectively, under “—Flexible Interest Rate Period-Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates;” provided, however, that if prior to the Company’s making such election, any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not been effected, the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date. Such notice must also specify (i) the last day of such Term Interest Rate Period (which is either the day preceding the maturity date of the Bonds or a day which both immediately precedes a Business Day and is at least one year after such effective date) and (ii) unless such Term Interest Rate Period immediately succeeds a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration and is subject to the same optional redemption rights, is accompanied by an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such adjustment (A) is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the interest on the Bonds.

If, by 20 days prior to the end of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period, the Trustee has not received the Company’s notice of an adjustment to a Daily Interest Rate Period, a Weekly Interest Rate Period, a Term Interest Rate Period or a Flexible Interest Rate Period, accompanied by appropriate opinions of Bond Counsel, then (a) in the event the then-current Term Interest Rate Period is for one year or less, the Rate Period for the Bonds will automatically convert to a Daily Interest Rate Period and (b) in the event the current Term Interest Rate Period is for more than one year, the Rate Period for the Bonds will automatically adjust to a Term Interest Rate Period of one year and one day; provided, however, that if the last day of any successive Term Interest Rate Period will not be a day immediately preceding a Business Day, then such successive Term Interest Rate Period will end on the first day immediately preceding the Business Day next succeeding such day or, if such Term Interest Rate Period would end after the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds, the next succeeding Rate Period will be a Term Interest Rate Period ending on the day prior to the final maturity date of the Bonds; provided, further, that in the case of clause (b) above, if the Company delivers to the Trustee an approving opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the end of the then-effective Term Interest Rate Period, the Rate Period for the Bonds will adjust to a Daily Interest Rate Period. If the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any such Daily Interest Rate Period is not determined as described under “—Daily Interest Rate Period-Determination of Daily Interest Rate,” the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). If a Term Interest Rate for any such Term Interest Rate Period described in clause (b) above is not determined as described in the second preceding sentence, the Term Interest Rate for such Term Interest Rate Period will be 100% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as the most comparable to The Bond Buyer).

The notice of an adjustment to or continuation of a Term Interest Rate may specify that such Term Interest Rate Period will be automatically renewed for successive Term Interest Rate Periods each having the same duration as the Term Interest Rate Period so specified; provided, however, that such election must be accompanied by an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such continuing automatic renewals of such Term Interest Rate Period (a) are authorized or permitted by the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and (b) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of interest on the Bonds. If such election is made, no opinion of Bond Counsel is required in connection with the commencement of each successive Term Interest Rate Period determined in accordance with such election. At the same time the Company elects to have the Bonds bear interest at a Term Interest Rate, or to continue to bear interest at a Term Interest Rate, the Company may also specify in the notice to the Trustee optional redemption prices and periods different from those set forth in the Indenture during the Term Interest Rate Period(s) with respect to which such election is made; provided, however, that such notice is accompanied by an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such changes are authorized or permitted by the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and the Indenture and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

Notice of Adjustment to or Continuation of Term Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to or continuation of a Term Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Term Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on the Bonds will be adjusted to, or continue to be, a Term Interest Rate (subject to the Company’s ability to rescind its election as described below under “Rescission of Election”), (b) the effective date and the last date of such Term Interest Rate Period, (c) that the Term Interest Rate for such Term Interest Rate Period will be determined not later than the effective date thereof, (d) how such Term Interest Rate may be obtained from the Remarketing Agent, (e) the Interest Payment Dates after such effective date, (f) that during such Term Interest Rate Period the holders of such Bonds will not have the right to tender their Bonds for purchase, (g) that, except when the new Term Interest Rate Period is preceded by a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration, such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on such effective date, and (h) the redemption provisions that will apply to the Bonds during such Term Interest Rate Period.

Determination of Flexible Segments and Flexible Interest Rates. During each Flexible Interest Rate Period, each Bond bears interest during each Flexible Segment for such Bond at the Flexible Interest Rate for such Bond. Each Flexible Segment for any Bond will be a period ending on a day immediately preceding a Business Day, of not less than one nor more than 365 days determined by the Remarketing Agent to be, in its judgment, the period which, together with all other Flexible Segments for all Bonds of such issue then outstanding, is likely to result in the lowest overall net interest expense on such Bonds. Any Bond purchased on behalf of the Company and remaining unsold by the Remarketing Agent as of the close of business on the effective date of the Flexible Segment for such Bond will have a Flexible Segment of one day or, if such Flexible Segment would not end on a day immediately preceding a Business Day, a Flexible Segment of more than one day ending on the day immediately preceding the next Business Day. No Flexible Segment may extend beyond the final maturity date of the Bonds.

The Flexible Interest Rate for each Flexible Segment for each Bond is the rate determined by the Remarketing Agent (based on an examination of Tax-Exempt obligations comparable to the Bonds known by the Remarketing Agent to have been priced or traded under then prevailing market conditions) no later than the first day of such Flexible Segment (and in the case of a Flexible Segment of one day, no later than 12:30 p.m. New York time, on such date) to be the lowest rate which would enable the Remarketing Agent to sell the Bonds on the effective date of such rate at a price (without regard to accrued interest) equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof. If a Flexible Segment or a Flexible Interest Rate for a Flexible Segment is not determined or effective, the Flexible Segment for such Bond will be a Flexible Segment of one day, and the interest rate for such Flexible Segment of one day will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). In no event may any Flexible Interest Rate exceed the lesser of 12% per annum or the rate specified in any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect.

Adjustment to Flexible Interest Rate Period. The interest rate borne by Bonds of an issue may be adjusted to Flexible Interest Rates upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, of a written notice from the Company. Such notice (a) must specify the effective date of the Flexible Interest Rate Period which must be (i) a Business Day not earlier than the twentieth day following the third Business Day after the date of receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice (or such shorter period after the date of such receipt as is acceptable to the Trustee) and (ii) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period, a day on which the Bonds could be redeemed at the option of the Company or the day immediately following the last day of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period; provided, however, that if prior to the Company's making such election any Bonds have been called for redemption and such redemption has not theretofore been effected, the effective date of the Flexible Interest Rate Period may not precede such redemption date and (b) in the case of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period having a duration in excess of one year, is accompanied by an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such adjustment (i) is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and (ii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the interest on the Bonds. During each Flexible Interest Rate Period commencing on the date so specified (provided that the opinion of Bond Counsel described in clause (b) above, if required, is reaffirmed as of such date) and ending on the day immediately preceding the effective date of the next succeeding Rate Period, each Bond will bear interest at a Flexible Interest Rate during each Flexible Segment for such Bond.

Notice of Adjustment to Flexible Interest Rate Period. The Trustee will give notice by mail of an adjustment to a Flexible Interest Rate Period to the Owners not less than 20 days prior to the effective date of such Flexible Interest Rate Period. Such notice must state (a) that the interest rate on the Bonds will be adjusted to Flexible Interest Rates (subject to the Company's ability to rescind its election as described below under "Rescission of Election"), (b) the effective date of such Flexible Interest Rate Period, (c) that such Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase on the effective date of such Flexible Interest Rate Period, (d) the procedures for such mandatory purchase, and (e) that the Owners of such Bonds do not have the right to retain their Bonds on such effective date.

Adjustment from Flexible Interest Rates. At any time during a Flexible Interest Rate Period, the interest rate borne by Bonds of an issue may be adjusted from Flexible Interest Rates and the Bonds will instead bear interest as otherwise permitted in the Indenture, upon receipt by the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of written notice from the Company specifying the Rate Period to follow with respect to such Bonds and instructing the Remarketing Agent to:

(a) determine Flexible Segments of such duration that, as soon as possible, all Flexible Segments will end on the same date, not earlier than the eleventh day following the third Business Day (or such shorter period acceptable to the Trustee) following the receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of notice from the Company, which date will be the last day of the then-current Flexible Interest Rate Period, and, upon the establishment of such Flexible Segments, the day next succeeding the last day of all such Flexible Segments is the effective date of the Rate Period elected by the Company; or

(b) determine Flexible Segments of such duration that will, in the judgment of the Remarketing Agent, best promote an orderly transition to the next succeeding Rate Period beginning not earlier than the eleventh day following the third Business Day (or such shorter period acceptable to the Trustee) after the receipt by the Trustee and Paying Agent of such notice.

If the Company selects alternative (b) above, the day next succeeding the last day of the Flexible Segment for each Bond of an issue will be with respect to such Bond the effective date of the Rate Period elected by the Company. An adjustment from a Flexible Interest Rate Period described in this paragraph may result in some of the Bonds of an issue bearing interest at a Daily Interest Rate, Weekly Interest Rate or Term Interest Rate while other Bonds of such issue continue to bear interest at Flexible Interest Rates.

DETERMINATION CONCLUSIVE

The determination of the various interest rates referred to above is conclusive and binding upon the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Issuer, the Company, the Owners of the Bonds and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

RESCISSION OF ELECTION

The Company may rescind any election by it to adjust to or, in the case of a Term Interest Rate Period, continue a Rate Period prior to the effective date of such adjustment or continuation by giving written notice of rescission to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Paying Agent the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) prior to such effective date. At the time the Company gives notice of the rescission, it may also elect in such notice to continue the Rate Period then in effect; provided, however, that if the Rate Period then in effect is a Term Interest Rate Period, the subsequent Term Interest Rate Period may not be of a different duration than the Term Interest Rate Period then in effect unless the Company provides to the Trustee an approving opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the expiration of the then-current Term Interest Rate Period. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission prior to the time the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of the change in or continuation of Rate Periods, then such notice of change in or continuation of Rate Periods is of no force and effect and will not be given to the Owners. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission after the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of an adjustment from other than a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year or an attempted adjustment from one Rate Period (other than a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year) to another Rate Period does not become effective for any other reason and if the Company does not elect to continue the Term Interest Rate Period then in effect, then the Rate Period for the Bonds will automatically adjust to or continue in a Daily Interest Rate Period and the Trustee will immediately give notice thereof to the Owners of the Bonds. If the Trustee receives notice of such rescission after the Trustee has given notice to the Owners of an adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year to another Rate Period (including a Term Interest Rate Period of a different duration), or if an attempted adjustment from a Term Interest Rate Period in excess of one year to another Rate Period (including a Term Interest Rate Period of a different duration) does not become effective for any reason and if the Company does not elect to continue the Term Interest Rate Period then in effect, then the Rate Period for the Bonds will continue to be a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration as the immediately preceding Term Interest Rate Period, subject to the second proviso contained in the paragraph above under “—Term Interest Rate Period-Determination of Term Interest Rate;” provided that if the Company delivers to the Trustee an approving opinion of Bond Counsel prior to the end of the then effective Term Interest Rate Period, the Rate Period for the Bonds will be as directed by the Company in writing. If a Daily Interest Rate for the first day of any Daily Interest Rate Period to which a Rate Period is adjusted in accordance with this paragraph is not determined as described in “-Daily Interest Rate Period-Determination of Daily Interest Rate,” the Daily Interest Rate for the first day of such Daily Interest Rate Period will be 80% of the most recent One-Year Note Index theretofore published in The Bond Buyer (or, if The Bond Buyer is no longer published or no longer publishes the One-Year Note Index, the one-year note index contained in the publication determined by the Remarketing Agent as most comparable to The Bond Buyer). The Trustee will immediately give written notice of each such automatic adjustment to a Rate Period as described in this paragraph to the Owners.

Notwithstanding the rescission by the Company of any notice to adjust or continue a Rate Period, if notice has been given to Owners of such adjustment or continuation, the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase as specified in such notice.

OPTIONAL PURCHASE

Daily Interest Rate Period. During any Daily Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) will be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee and to the Remarketing Agent at the Principal Office of the Remarketing Agent, not later than 11:00 a.m., New York time, on such Business Day, of an irrevocable written or telephonic notice (promptly confirmed in writing), which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be purchased and the date of such purchase; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a bank, trust company or member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. to the Delivery Office of the Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on such purchase date.

Weekly Interest Rate Period. During any Weekly Interest Rate Period, any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) will be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on any Wednesday, or if such Wednesday is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of purchase upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee of an irrevocable written notice or telephonic notice (promptly confirmed in writing) by 5:00 p.m., New York time, on any Business Day, which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be purchased and the date on which such Bond is to be purchased, which date may not be prior to the seventh day next succeeding the date of the delivery of such notice to the Trustee; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a bank, trust company or member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. to the Delivery Office of the

Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on the purchase date specified in such notice.

Term Interest Rate Period. Any Bond (or portions thereof in Authorized Denominations) will be purchased at the option of the owner thereof on the first day of any Term Interest Rate Period that follows a Term Interest Rate Period of equal duration, at a purchase price equal to (x) if the Bond is purchased on or prior to the Record Date, 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of purchase to the date of purchase (unless the date of purchase is an Interest Payment Date in which case the purchase price is equal to the principal amount thereof) or (y) if the Bond is purchased after the Record Date, 100% of the principal amount thereof, upon:

(a) delivery to the Trustee at the Delivery Office of the Trustee on any Business Day not less than 15 days before the purchase date of an irrevocable notice in writing by 5:00 p.m., New York time, which states the principal amount and certificate number (if the Bonds are not then held in book-entry form) of such Bond to be so tendered for purchase; and

(b) except when the Bond is held in book-entry form, delivery of such Bond, accompanied by an instrument of transfer (which may be the form printed on the Bond) executed in blank by its Owner, with such signature guaranteed by a bank, trust company or member firm of the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. to the Delivery Office of the Trustee at or prior to 1:00 p.m., New York time, on the date of such purchase.

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE BONDS THROUGH ITS DIRECT PARTICIPANT (AS HEREINAFTER DEFINED) MUST GIVE NOTICE TO THE TRUSTEE TO ELECT TO HAVE SUCH BONDS PURCHASED, AND MUST EFFECT DELIVERY OF SUCH BONDS BY CAUSING SUCH DIRECT PARTICIPANT TO TRANSFER ITS INTEREST IN THE BONDS EQUAL TO SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNER'S INTEREST ON THE RECORDS OF DTC TO THE TRUSTEE'S PARTICIPANT ACCOUNT WITH DTC. THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE ARE DEEMED SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DTC PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE "—BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM."

MANDATORY PURCHASE

The Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the purchase date described below, upon the occurrence of any of the events stated below:

(a) as to any Bond, on the effective date of any change in a Rate Period, other than the effective date of a Term Interest Rate Period which was preceded by a Term Interest Rate Period of the same duration;

(b) as to each Bond in a Flexible Interest Rate Period, on the day next succeeding the last day of any Flexible Segment with respect to such Bond; or

(c) as to all Bonds of an issue, on the Business Day preceding an Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or an Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility; or

(d) as to all of the Bonds of an issue, on the next succeeding Business Day following the day that the Trustee receives notice from the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, that, following a drawing on the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility on an Interest Payment Date for the payment of unpaid interest on the Bonds, the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not be reinstated in accordance with its terms.

When Bonds are subject to redemption pursuant to paragraph (c) below under “—Optional Redemption of Bonds,” the Bonds are also subject to mandatory purchase on a day that the Bonds would be subject to redemption, at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus an amount equal to any premium which would have been payable on such redemption date had the Bonds been redeemed if the Company gives notice to the Trustee on the day prior to the redemption date that it elects to have the Bonds purchased in lieu of redemption. If the Bonds are purchased on or prior to the Record Date, the purchase price will include accrued interest from the Interest Payment Date next preceding the date of purchase to the date of purchase (unless the date of purchase is an Interest Payment Date, in which case the purchase price is equal to the amount specified in the preceding sentence). If the Bonds are purchased after the Record Date, the purchase price does not include accrued interest.

If the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with the provisions described in subparagraph (c) of the second preceding paragraph, the Trustee will give notice by mail to the Remarketing Agent and the Owners of the Bonds of the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, not less than 15 days prior to such Expiration, which notice must (a) describe generally any Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility in effect prior to such Expiration, and any Substitute Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility to be in effect upon such Expiration and state the name of the provider thereof; (b) state the date of the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be; (c) state the rating or ratings, if any, which the Bonds are expected to receive from any rating agency following such Expiration; (d) state that the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase; (e) state the purchase date; and (f) except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form, state that the Bonds must be delivered to the New York office designated by the Trustee as the “Delivery Office of the Trustee.”

If the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase in accordance with the provisions described in subparagraph (d) of the third preceding paragraph, the Trustee shall, immediately upon receipt of notice from the Bank or the Obligor on a Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, that the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility will not be reinstated in accordance with its terms, give Electronic Notice and notice by overnight mail service to the Remarketing Agent and to the Owners of the Bonds at their addresses shown on the registration books kept by the Registrar, which notice shall (a) describe generally any Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility in effect prior to such mandatory purchase; (b) state that the Letter of Credit or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is not being reinstated in accordance with its terms; (c) state that the Bonds are subject to mandatory purchase; (d) state the purchase date; and (e) except when the Bonds are held in book-entry form, state that the Bonds must be delivered to the New York office designated by the Trustee as the "Delivery Office of the Trustee."

FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, NOTICES OF MANDATORY PURCHASE OF BONDS WILL BE GIVEN BY THE TRUSTEE TO DTC ONLY, AND NEITHER THE ISSUER, THE TRUSTEE, THE COMPANY NOR ANY REMARKETING AGENT HAS ANY RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE DELIVERY OF ANY SUCH NOTICES BY DTC TO ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS OF DTC, BY ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS TO ANY INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS OF DTC OR BY ANY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS OR INDIRECT PARTICIPANTS TO BENEFICIAL OWNERS OF THE BONDS. FOR SO LONG AS THE BONDS ARE HELD IN BOOK-ENTRY FORM, THE REQUIREMENT FOR PHYSICAL DELIVERY OF THE BONDS IN CONNECTION WITH ANY PURCHASE PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE ARE DEEMED SATISFIED WHEN THE OWNERSHIP RIGHTS IN THE BONDS ARE TRANSFERRED BY DIRECT PARTICIPANTS ON THE RECORDS OF DTC. SEE "BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM."

PURCHASE OF BONDS

On the date on which Bonds are delivered to the Trustee for purchase as specified above under "—Optional Purchase" or "—Mandatory Purchase," the Trustee will pay the purchase price of such Bonds solely from the following sources in the order of priority indicated, and the Trustee has no obligation to use funds from any other source:

- (a) Available Moneys (as hereinafter defined) furnished by the Company to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds;
- (b) proceeds of the sale of such Bonds (other than Bonds sold to the Company, any subsidiary of the Company, any guarantor of the Company, the Issuer or any "insider" (as defined in the United States Bankruptcy Code) of any of the aforementioned) by the Remarketing Agent;
- (c) Available Moneys or moneys provided pursuant to the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds furnished by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of Bonds deemed paid in accordance with the defeasance provisions of the Indenture;
- (d) moneys furnished pursuant to the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the Trustee for the payment of the purchase price of the Bonds; and provided, however, that funds for the payment of the purchase price of defeased Bonds may be derived only from the sources described in (c) above, in such order of priority.
- (e) any other moneys furnished by the Company to the Trustee for purchase of the Bonds;

“Available Moneys” means (a) during such time as a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is in effect, (i) moneys on deposit in trust with the Trustee as agent and bailee for the Owners of the Bonds for a period of at least 123 days prior to and during which no petition in bankruptcy or similar insolvency proceeding has been filed by or against the Company or the Issuer (or any subsidiary of the Company, any guarantor of the Company or any insider (as defined in the United States Bankruptcy Code), to the extent that such moneys were deposited by any of such subsidiary, guarantor or insider) or is pending (unless such petition has been dismissed and such dismissal is final and not subject to appeal) and (ii) (A) proceeds of the issuance of refunding bonds (including proceeds from the investment thereof), and (B) any other moneys, if, in the written opinion of nationally recognized counsel experienced in bankruptcy matters selected by the Company (which opinion is in a form acceptable to the Trustee, to Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s and to S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and is delivered to the Trustee at or prior to the time of the deposit of such proceeds with the Trustee), the deposit and use of such proceeds or other moneys will not constitute a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event either the Issuer or the Company were to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code (the “Preference Opinion Condition”), and (b) at any time that a Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility is not in effect, any moneys on deposit with the Trustee as agent and bailee for the Owners of the Bonds and proceeds from the investment thereof.

REMARKETING OF BONDS

The Remarketing Agent will offer for sale and use its best efforts to remarket any Bond subject to purchase pursuant to the optional or mandatory purchase provisions described above, any such remarketing to be made at a price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the purchase date. The Company may direct the Remarketing Agent from time to time to cease and to resume sales efforts with respect to some or all of the Bonds.

Anything in the Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, at any time during which the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is in effect, there will be no sales of Bonds as described in the preceding paragraph, if (a) there has occurred and has not been cured or waived an Event of Default described in paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) under the caption “THE INDENTURES—Defaults” of which the Remarketing Agent and the Trustee have actual knowledge or (b) the Bonds have been declared to be immediately due and payable as described under the caption “THE INDENTURES—Remedies” and such declaration has not been rescinded pursuant to the Indenture.

OPTIONAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS

Bonds of any issue may be redeemed at the option of the Company (but only with the consent of the Bank (or, if applicable, by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, if required by the Alternate Credit Facility)), in whole, or in part by lot, prior to their maturity date as follows:

- (a) On any Business Day during a Daily Interest Rate Period or Weekly Interest Rate Period, the Bonds of an issue may be redeemed at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption.

(b) During any Flexible Interest Rate Period, each Bond may be redeemed on the day next succeeding the last day of each Flexible Segment for such Bond at a redemption price equal to 100% of its principal amount.

(c) During any Term Interest Rate Period and on the day next succeeding the last day of each Term Interest Rate Period, the Bonds of an issue may be redeemed during the periods specified below, in whole or in part at any time, at the redemption prices set forth below plus accrued interest, if any, to the redemption date:

LENGTH OF TERM INTEREST RATE PERIOD	REDEMPTION DATES AND PRICES
Greater than 13 years	At any time on or after the 10th anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 102% declining 1% annually to 100%
Greater than 10 and less than or equal to 13 years	At any time on or after the 5th anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 102% declining 1% annually to 100%
Greater than 7 and less than or equal to 10 years	At any time on or after the 3rd anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 102% declining 1% annually to 100%
Greater than 4 and less than or equal to 7 years	At any time on or after the 2nd anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 101% declining 1/2% annually to 100%
Greater than 2 and less than or equal to 4 years	At any time on or after the 2nd anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 101% declining 1/2% each six months thereafter to 100%
Greater than 1 and less than or equal to 2 years	At any time on or after the 1st anniversary of the effective date of the Term Interest Rate Period at 100-1/2% declining 1/2% six months thereafter to 100%
Less than or equal to 1 year	Not redeemable

With respect to any Term Interest Rate Period, the Company may specify in the notice described above in the third paragraph under “—Term Interest Rate Period-Adjustment to or Continuation of Term Interest Rate Period” redemption provisions, prices and periods other than those set forth above; provided, however, that such notice is accompanied by an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such changes are authorized or permitted by the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, and the Indenture and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

EXTRAORDINARY OPTIONAL REDEMPTION OF BONDS

At any time, the Bonds of an issue are subject to redemption at the option of the Company in whole or in part (and if in part, by lot), at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest to the redemption date, upon receipt by the Trustee of a written notice from the Company (but only with the consent of the Bank (or, if applicable, by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, if required by the Alternate Credit Facility)) stating that any of the following events has occurred and that the Company therefore intends to exercise its option to prepay the payments due under the Loan Agreement in whole or in part and thereby effect the redemption of the Bonds of an issue in whole or in part to the extent of such prepayments:

(a) the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Plant is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable for any reason; or

(b) the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Project is impracticable, uneconomical or undesirable due to (i) the imposition of taxes, other than ad valorem taxes currently levied upon privately owned property used for the same general purpose as the Project, or other liabilities or burdens with respect to the Project or the operation thereof, (ii) changes in technology, in environmental standards or legal requirements or in the economic availability of materials, supplies, equipment or labor or (iii) destruction of or damage to all or part of the Project; or

(c) all or substantially all of the Project or the Plant has been condemned or taken by eminent domain; or

(d) the operation of the Project or the Plant has been enjoined or has otherwise been prohibited by, or conflicts with, any order, decree, rule or regulation of any court or of any federal, state or local regulatory body, administrative agency or other governmental body.

SPECIAL MANDATORY REDEMPTION OF BONDS

The Bonds are subject to mandatory redemption at 100% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest, if any, to the date of redemption upon the occurrence of the following events.

The Bonds will be redeemed in whole within 180 days following a “Determination of Taxability” as defined below; provided that, if in the opinion of Bond Counsel delivered to the Trustee, the redemption of a specified portion of the Bonds outstanding would have the result that interest payable on the Bonds remaining outstanding after such redemption would remain Tax-Exempt, then the Bonds will be redeemed in part by lot (in Authorized Denominations) in such amount as Bond Counsel in such opinion has determined is necessary to accomplish that result. A “Determination of Taxability” is deemed to have occurred if, as a result of an Event of Taxability (as defined below), a final decree or judgment of any federal court or a final action of the Internal Revenue Service determines that interest paid or payable on any Bond is or was includible in the gross income of an owner of the Bonds for federal income tax purposes under the Code (other than an owner who is a “substantial user” or “related person” within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code). However, no such decree or action will be considered final for this purpose unless the Company has been given written notice and, if it is so desired and is legally allowed, has been afforded the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of any owner of a Bond, and until conclusion of any appellate review, if sought. If the Trustee receives written notice from any owner stating (a) that the owner has been notified in writing by the Internal Revenue Service that it proposes to include the interest on any Bond in the gross income of such owner for the reasons described therein or any other proceeding has been instituted against such owner which may lead to a final decree or action as described in the Loan Agreement, and (b) that such owner will afford the Company the opportunity to contest the same, either directly or in the name of the owner, until a conclusion of any appellate review, if sought, then the Trustee will promptly give notice thereof to the Company, the Insurer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Issuer and the owner of each Bond then outstanding. If a final decree or action as described above thereafter occurs and the Trustee has received written notice thereof at least 45 days prior to the redemption date, the Trustee will make the required demand for prepayment of the amounts payable under the Loan Agreement for prepayment of the Bonds and give notice of the redemption of the Bonds at the earliest practical date, but not later than the date specified in the Loan Agreement, and in the manner provided by the Indenture. An “Event of Taxability” means the failure of the Company to observe any covenant, agreement or representation in the Loan Agreements, which failure results in a Determination of Taxability.

PROCEDURE FOR AND NOTICE OF REDEMPTION

If less than all of the Bonds of an issue are called for redemption, the particular Bonds or portions thereof to be redeemed will be selected by the Trustee, by lot. In selecting Bonds for redemption, the Trustee will treat each Bond as representing that number of Bonds which is obtained by dividing the principal amount of each Bond by the minimum Authorized Denomination. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, Pledged Bonds shall be redeemed prior to any other Bonds. Any Bonds selected for redemption which are deemed to be paid in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture will cease to bear interest on the date fixed for redemption. Subject to the procedures described below under “—Book-Entry System” for Bonds held in book-entry form, upon presentation and surrender of such Bonds at the place or places of payment, such Bonds will be paid and redeemed. Notice of redemption will be given by mail as provided in the Indenture, at least 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, provided that the failure to duly give notice by mailing to any Owner, or any defect therein, does not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of any other of the Bonds. Such notice will also be sent to the Remarketing Agent, the Insurer, the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternative Credit Facility, as the case may be, the Company Mortgage Trustee, Moody’s, S&P, securities depositories and bond information services.

With respect to notice of any optional redemption of the Bonds, as described above, unless upon the giving of such notice, such Bonds are deemed to have been paid within the meaning of the Indenture, such notice may state that such redemption is conditional upon the receipt by the Trustee, on or prior to the date fixed for such redemption, of Available Moneys sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on such Bonds to be redeemed. If such Available Moneys are not so received, the redemption will not be made and the Trustee will give notice, in the manner in which the notice of redemption was given, that such redemption will not take place.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS RELATING TO THE BONDS

The Remarketing Agents are Paid By the Company. The Remarketing Agents' responsibilities include determining the interest rate from time to time and remarketing Bonds that are optionally or mandatorily tendered by the owners thereof (subject, in each case, to the terms of the applicable Indenture and the Remarketing Agreement), all as further described in this Reoffering Circular. The Remarketing Agents are appointed by the Company and paid by the Company for their services. As a result, the interests of the Remarketing Agents may differ from those of existing Holders and potential purchasers of Bonds.

The Remarketing Agents May Purchase Bonds for their Own Accounts. The Remarketing Agents act as remarketing agents for a variety of variable rate demand obligations and, in their sole discretion, may purchase such obligations for their own accounts. The Remarketing Agents are permitted, but not obligated, to purchase tendered Bonds for their own accounts and, in their sole discretion, may acquire such tendered Bonds in order to achieve a successful remarketing of the Bonds (i.e., because there otherwise are not enough buyers to purchase the Bonds) or for other reasons. However, the Remarketing Agents are not obligated to purchase Bonds, and may cease doing so at any time without notice. The Remarketing Agents may also make a market in the Bonds by purchasing and selling Bonds other than in connection with an optional or mandatory tender and remarketing. Such purchases and sales may be at or below par. However, the Remarketing Agents are not required to make a market in the Bonds. The Remarketing Agents may also sell any Bonds they have purchased to one or more affiliated investment vehicles for collective ownership or enter into derivative arrangements with affiliates or others in order to reduce their exposure to the Bonds. The purchase of Bonds by the Remarketing Agents may create the appearance that there is greater third party demand for the Bonds in the market than is actually the case. The practices described above also may result in fewer Bonds being tendered in a remarketing.

Bonds May be Offered at Different Prices on Any Date Including an Interest Rate Determination Date. Pursuant to the Indentures and the Remarketing Agreements, the Remarketing Agents are required to determine the applicable rate of interest that, in their judgment, is the lowest rate that would permit the sale of the Bonds bearing interest at the applicable interest rate at par plus accrued interest, if any, on and as of the applicable interest rate determination date. The interest rate will reflect, among other factors, the level of market demand for the Bonds (including whether the Remarketing Agents are willing to purchase Bonds for their own accounts). There may or may not be Bonds tendered and remarketed on an interest rate determination date, the Remarketing Agents may or may not be able to remarket any Bonds tendered for purchase on such date at par and the Remarketing Agents may sell Bonds at varying prices to different investors on such date or any other date. The Remarketing Agents are not obligated to advise purchasers in a remarketing if they do not have third party buyers for all of the Bonds at the remarketing price. In the event a Remarketing Agent owns any Bonds for its own account, it may, in its sole discretion in a secondary market transaction outside the tender process, offer such Bonds on any date, including the interest rate determination date, at a discount to par to some investors.

The Ability to Sell the Bonds Other Than Through the Tender Process May Be Limited. The Remarketing Agents may buy and sell Bonds other than through the tender process. However, they are not obligated to do so and may cease doing so at any time without notice and may require Holders that wish to tender their Bonds to do so through the Tender Agent with appropriate notice. Thus, investors who purchase the Bonds, whether in a remarketing or otherwise, should not assume that they will be able to sell their Bonds other than by tendering the Bonds in accordance with the tender process.

The Remarketing Agents May Resign, Without a Successor Being Named. The Remarketing Agents may resign, upon 30 days' prior written notice, without a successor having been named.

BOOK-ENTRY SYSTEM

The following information in this section concerning The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York ("DTC"), and its book-entry system has been furnished for use in the Reoffering Circular by DTC. None of the Company, the Issuers or the Remarketing Agents take any responsibility for the accuracy of such information.

DTC will act as securities depository for the Bonds. The Bonds were issued as fully-registered bonds registered in the name of Cede & Co. (DTC's partnership nominee). One fully-registered Bond certificate will be issued for the Bonds of each issue, in the aggregate principal amount thereof, and will be deposited with DTC. One fully-registered Bond was issued for each issue of the Bonds, in the aggregate principal amount of such issue, and was deposited with DTC.

DTC, the world's largest securities depository, is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a "banking organization" within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a "clearing corporation" within the meaning of the New York Uniform Commercial Code and a "clearing agency" registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. DTC holds and provides asset servicing for over 3.5 million issues of U.S. and non-U.S. equity issues, corporate and municipal debt issues, and money market instruments (from over 100 countries) that DTC's participants ("Direct Participants") deposit with DTC. DTC also facilitates the post-trade settlement among Direct Participants of sales and other securities transactions in deposited securities through electronic computerized book-entry transfers and pledges between Direct Participants' accounts. This eliminates the need for physical movement of securities certificates. Direct Participants include both U.S. and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organizations. DTC is a whole-owned subsidiary of The Depository Trust & Clearing Corporation ("DTCC"). DTCC is the holding company for DTC, National Securities Clearing Corporation and Fixed Income Clearing Corporation, all of which are registered clearing agencies. DTCC is owned by the users of its regulated subsidiaries. Access to the DTC system is also available to others such as both U.S and non-U.S. securities brokers and dealers, banks and trust companies and clearing corporations that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a Direct Participant, either directly or indirectly (“Indirect Participants”). DTC has Standard & Poor’s highest rating: AAA. The DTC Rules applicable to its Participants are on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission. More information about DTC can be found at www.dtcc.com and www.dtc.org.

Purchases of Bonds under the DTC system must be made by or through Direct Participants, which will receive a credit for the Bonds on DTC’s records. The ownership interest of each Beneficial Owner is in turn to be recorded on the Direct and Indirect Participants’ records. Beneficial Owners will not receive written confirmation from DTC of their purchase. Beneficial Owners are, however, expected to receive written confirmations providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of their holdings, from the Direct or Indirect Participant through which the Beneficial Owner entered into the transaction. Transfers of ownership interests in the Bonds are to be accomplished by entries made on the books of Direct and Indirect Participants acting on behalf of Beneficial Owners. Beneficial Owners will not receive certificates representing their ownership interests in Bonds, except in the event that use of the book-entry system for the Bonds is discontinued.

To facilitate subsequent transfers, all Bonds deposited by Direct Participants with DTC are registered in the name of DTC’s partnership nominee, Cede & Co, or such other name as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. The deposit of Bonds with DTC and their registration in the name of Cede & Co., or such other DTC nominee, does not effect any change in beneficial ownership. DTC has no knowledge of the actual Beneficial Owners of the Bonds; DTC’s records reflect only the identity of the Direct Participants to whose accounts such Bonds are credited, which may or may not be the Beneficial Owners. The Direct and Indirect Participants will remain responsible for keeping account of their holdings on behalf of their customers.

Conveyance of notices and other communications by DTC to Direct Participants, by Direct Participants to Indirect Participants, and by Direct Participants and Indirect Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by arrangements among them, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to take certain steps to augment transmission to them of notices of significant events with respect to the Bonds, such as redemptions, tenders, defaults and proposed amendments to documents. For example, Beneficial Owners of Bonds may wish to ascertain that the nominee holding the Bonds for their benefit has agreed to obtain and transmit notices to Beneficial Owners. In the alternative, Beneficial Owners may wish to provide their names and addresses to the registrar and request that copies of notices be provided directly to them.

While Bonds are in the book-entry system, redemption notices will be sent to DTC. If less than all of the Bonds within an issue are being redeemed, DTC’s practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, redemption notices will be sent to Cede & Co. If less than all of the Bonds of any issue are being redeemed, DTC's practice is to determine by lot the amount of the interest of each Direct Participant in such issue to be redeemed.

Neither DTC nor Cede & Co. (nor such other DTC nominee) will consent or vote with respect to the Bonds unless authorized by a Direct Participant in accordance with DTC's MMI Procedures. Under its usual procedures, DTC mails an Omnibus Proxy to the Issuer as soon as possible after the record date. The Omnibus Proxy assigns Cede & Co.'s consenting or voting rights to those Direct Participants to whose accounts the Bonds are credited on the record date (identified in a listing attached to the Omnibus Proxy).

As long as the book-entry system is used for the Bonds, principal or purchase price of and premium, if any, and interest payments on, the Bonds will be made to Cede & Co., or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC. DTC's practice is to credit Direct Participants' accounts upon DTC's receipt of fund and corresponding detailed information from the Issuer or the Trustee, on the payable date in accordance with their respective holdings shown on DTC's records. Payments by Participants to Beneficial Owners will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name," and will be the responsibility of such Participant and not of DTC, the Company, the Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent or the Issuer, subject to any statutory or regulatory requirements as may be in effect from time to time. Payment of principal, purchase price, premium and interest with respect to the Bonds to Cede & Co. (or such other nominee as may be requested by an authorized representative of DTC) is the responsibility of the Issuer or the Paying Agent, disbursement of such payments to Direct Participants are the responsibility of DTC, and disbursement of such payments to the Beneficial Owners are the responsibility of Direct and Indirect Participants.

A Beneficial Owner must give notice to elect to have its Bonds purchased or tendered, through its Participant, to the Remarketing Agent, and must effect delivery of such Bonds by causing the Direct Participant to transfer the Participant's interest in the Bonds, on DTC's records, to the Remarketing Agent. The requirement for physical delivery of Bonds in connection with an optional tender or a mandatory purchase will be deemed satisfied when the ownership rights in the Bonds are transferred by Direct Participants on DTC's records and followed by a book-entry credit of tendered Bonds to the Remarketing Agent's DTC account.

DTC may discontinue providing its services as securities depository with respect to the Bonds at any time by giving reasonable notice to the Issuer or the Trustee. Under such circumstances, in the event that a successor securities depository is not obtained, Bond certificates are required to be printed and delivered.

The Company may decide to discontinue use of the system of book-entry transfers through DTC (or a successor securities depository). In that event, Bond certificates will be printed and delivered.

None of the Issuer, the Company, the Remarketing Agent, the Trustee nor the Paying Agent will have any responsibility or obligation to any securities depository, any Participants in the Book-Entry System or the Beneficial Owners with respect to (a) the accuracy of any records maintained by the securities depository or any Participant; (b) the payment by the securities depository or by any Participant of any amount due to any Beneficial Owner in respect of the principal amount or redemption of, or interest on, any Bonds; (c) the delivery of any notice by the securities depository or any Participant; (d) the selection of the Beneficial Owners to receive payment in the event of any partial redemption of the Bonds; or (e) any other action taken by the securities depository or any Participant.

TERMINATION OF BOND INSURANCE

Concurrently with the issuance of the Bonds, Ambac issued an Ambac Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds of each issue to guarantee the payment of principal of and interest on the applicable Bonds when due. In connection with the delivery of the Letters of Credit, Ambac, the Company, the Trustee, each of the Issuers and the Company, acting as owner of Bonds, will enter into separate Release Agreements, pursuant to which Ambac will be released from all liabilities under each Ambac Insurance Policy and will surrender any and all rights under the Trust Indentures and payment of principal of and interest on the Bonds when due will no longer be guaranteed by Ambac under the Ambac Insurance Policies. Purchasers of the Bonds will be deemed to have consented to the provisions of the Release Agreements, including but not limited to the release of Ambac from all liabilities under the applicable Ambac Insurance Policy.

Purchasers of the Bonds have no claims against Ambac for the payment of principal of and interest on the Bonds under the Ambac Insurance Policies and may only look to the Bank (so long as the Bank is obligated to make such payment under the Letter of Credit), an Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility (to the extent the such Obligor is obligated to make such payment under an Alternate Credit Facility) or the Company.

Under the Indenture and the Loan Agreement, PacifiCorp has reserved the right following the expiration or termination of the Letter of Credit to obtain an Insurance Policy as all or part of an Alternate Credit Facility. References in the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and in this Reoffering Circular to the Insurer or an Insurance Policy, refer to the provider of such Insurance Policy or such Insurance Policy and not to Ambac or the Ambac Insurance Policies; provided, however, that Ambac is not prevented from providing an Insurance Policy in the future as all or part of an Alternate Credit Facility. No Insurance Policy will be in place while the Letter of Credit is in effect.

THE LETTERS OF CREDIT AND THE CREDIT AGREEMENTS

Each Letter of Credit will operate independently. A default under a Letter of Credit with respect to the Bonds of one issue may not, in and of itself, constitute a default under a Letter of Credit with respect to the Bonds of any other issue; however, the same occurrence may constitute a default under the Letter of Credit with respect to Bonds of more than one issue. The Letters of Credit contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Letters of Credit. All references in this summary to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank, the Remarketing Agent, the Letter of Credit, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Bonds and other documents and parties are deemed to refer to the Issuer, the Trustee, the Bank, the Remarketing Agent, the Letter of Credit, the Indenture, the Bonds and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of the Bonds.

LETTERS OF CREDIT

On the date of reoffering of the Bonds, the Bank will issue in favor of the Trustee for each issue of Bonds a separate Letter of Credit in the form of a direct pay letter of credit. Each Letter of Credit will be issued in the aggregate principal amount of the applicable issue of Bonds plus 48 days' interest at 12% per annum, on the basis of a 365 day year (as from time to time reduced and reinstated as provided in each Letter of Credit). Each Letter of Credit will permit the Trustee to draw up to an amount equal to the then outstanding principal amount of the applicable issue of Bonds to pay the unpaid principal thereof and accrued interest on such Bonds, subject to the terms, conditions and limitations stated therein. The Letter of Credit for each issue of the Bonds will be substantially in the form attached hereto as Appendix E.

Each Letter of Credit will expire on November 19, 2009, but will be automatically extended, without written amendment, to, and shall expire on, November 19, 2010, unless on or before October 20, 2009, notice is received by the Trustee stating that the Bank elects not to extend such Letter of Credit beyond November 19, 2009. The date on which the Letter of Credit expires as described in the preceding sentence, or if such date is not a Business Day then the first succeeding Business Day thereafter is defined in the Letter of Credit as the Expiration Date. As used in each Letter of Credit, the term "Business Day" means a day on which the San Francisco Letter of Credit Operations Office of the Bank is open for business.

Each drawing honored by the Bank under each Letter of Credit will immediately reduce the available amount thereunder by the amount of such drawing. Any drawing to pay interest will be automatically reinstated on the eighth (8th) Business Day following the date such drawing is honored by the Bank, unless the Company shall have received notice from the Bank no later than seven (7) Business Days after such drawing is honored that there shall be no such reinstatement. Any drawing to pay the purchase price of a Bond shall be reinstated if the Bonds related to such drawing are remarketed and the remarketing proceeds are paid to the Bank prior to the Expiration Date in an amount equal to the sum of (i) the amount paid to the Bank from such remarketing proceeds and (ii) interest on such amount. See Appendix E.

CREDIT AGREEMENTS

General. The Company is party to that certain $800,000,000 Amended and Restated Credit Agreement dated July 6, 2006 among the Company, the financial institutions party thereto, the Administrative Agent (as defined below) and The Royal Bank of Scotland plc, as syndication agent (together with all related documents, the "2006 Credit Agreement") and that certain $700,000,000 Credit Agreement dated October 23, 2007 among the Company, the financial institutions party thereto, the Administrative Agent and The Royal Bank of Scotland plc, as syndication agent (together with all related documents, the "2007 Credit Agreement"). The Credit Agreements define the relationship between the Company and the financial institutions party thereto, including the Bank; neither the Issuers nor the Trustee have any interest in the Credit Agreements or in any of the funds or accounts created under them. Upon the occurrence of any Event of Default under the respective Credit Agreement, the Administrative Agent shall (i) if request by the Required Banks, by notice to the Company terminate the Commitments and the obligation of each Syndicate Bank to make Loans thereunder and the obligation of each Issuing Bank to issue any letter of credit thereunder and such obligations to make Loans and issue new Letters of Credit shall thereupon terminate, and

(ii) if requested by the Required Banks, by notice to the Company declare the Loans (together with accrued interest thereon) and any outstanding Reimbursement Obligations in respect of any drawing under a letter of credit issued under the respective Credit Agreement to be, and the same shall thereupon become, immediately due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby waived by the Company; provided that in the case of any of the Events of Default specified in clause (h) or (i) above with respect to the Company, without any notice to the Company or any other act by the Administrative Agent or the Syndicate Banks, the Commitments shall thereupon terminate and the Loans (together with accrued interest thereon) and any outstanding Reimbursement Obligations in respect of any drawing under a letter of credit issued under the respective Credit Agreement shall become immediately due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby waived by the Company.

THE LOAN AGREEMENTS

Each Loan Agreement will operate independently. A default under one Loan Agreement will not necessarily constitute a default under the other Loan Agreements. The Loan Agreements contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Loan Agreements. All references in this summary to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and payments thereunder, the Indenture, the Letter of Credit, the Bonds, the Prior Bonds, the Facilities, the Project and other documents and parties are deemed to refer to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and such payments, the Indenture, the Letter of Credit, the Bonds, the Prior Bonds, the Facilities, the Project and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of the Bonds.

ISSUANCE OF THE BONDS; LOAN OF PROCEEDS

The Issuer issued the Bonds for the purpose of refunding the Prior Bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance or refinance, as the case may be, a portion of the Company's share of the costs of acquiring and improving the Facilities. The proceeds of the sale of the Bonds have been used to refund the Prior Bonds.

LOAN PAYMENTS; THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

As and for repayment of the loan made to the Company by the Issuer, the Company will pay to the Trustee, for the account of the Issuer, an amount equal to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due on the dates, in the amounts and in the manner provided in the Indenture for the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds, whether at maturity, upon redemption, acceleration or otherwise (“Loan Payments”); provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such Loan Payment will be reduced by the amount of any reduction under the Indenture of the amount of the corresponding payment required to be made by the Issuer thereunder; and provided further that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment is deemed to be satisfied and discharged to the extent of the corresponding payment made (a) by the Bank to the Trustee under the Letter of Credit, (b) by the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility to the Trustee under such Alternate Credit Facility or (c) by the Company of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the First Mortgage Bonds.

The Company’s obligation to repay the loan made to it by the Issuer is secured by First Mortgage Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal in principal amount to, and bearing interest at the same rate and maturing on the same date as, the Bonds. The payments to be made by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement and the First Mortgage Bonds are pledged under the Indenture by the Issuer to the Trustee, and the Company is to make all payments thereunder and thereon directly to the Trustee. See “THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS—General” below.

Pursuant to the Loan Agreement, the Company may provide for the release of its First Mortgage Bonds by delivering to the Trustee collateral in substitution for the First Mortgage Bonds (“Substitute Collateral”), but only if the Company, on the date of delivery of such Substitute Collateral, simultaneously delivers to the Trustee (a) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that delivery of such Substitute Collateral and release of the First Mortgage Bonds complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (b) written evidence from the Insurer and from the Bank or Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the effect that they have reviewed the proposed Substitute Collateral and find it to be acceptable; and (c) written evidence from Moody’s, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody’s, and from S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, in each case to the effect that such rating agency has reviewed the Substitute Collateral and that the release of the First Mortgage Bonds and the substitution of the Substitute Collateral for the First Mortgage Bonds will not, by itself, result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of such rating agency’s rating or ratings of the Bonds.

PAYMENTS OF PURCHASE PRICE

The Company will pay or cause to be paid to the Trustee amounts equal to the amounts to be paid by the Trustee pursuant to the Indenture for the purchase of outstanding Bonds thereunder (see “THE BONDS-Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase”), such amounts to be paid to the Trustee as the purchase price for the Bonds tendered for purchase pursuant to the Indenture, on the dates such payments are to be made; provided, however, that the obligation of the Company to make any such payment under the Loan Agreement will be reduced by the amount of any moneys held by the Trustee under the Indenture and available for such payment.

From the date of delivery of the Letter of Credit to and including the Interest Payment Date next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit (or the Expiration of the Term of an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company will provide for the payment of the amounts to be paid by the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds by providing for the delivery of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to the Trustee. The Trustee has been directed to draw moneys under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture and the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), to obtain the moneys necessary to pay the purchase price of Bonds when due.

OBLIGATION ABSOLUTE

The Company's obligation to make payments under the Loan Agreement and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds is absolute, irrevocable and unconditional and is not subject to cancellation, termination or abatement, or to any defense other than payment, or to any right of setoff, counterclaim or recoupment arising out of any breach under the Loan Agreement or the Indenture or otherwise by the Company, the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Insurer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), or any other party or out of any obligation or liability at any time owing to the Company by any such party.

EXPENSES

The Company is obligated to pay reasonable compensation and to reimburse certain expenses and advances of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent, Moody's and S&P directly to such entity.

TAX COVENANTS; TAX-EXEMPT STATUS OF BONDS

The Company covenants that the Bond proceeds, the earnings thereon and other moneys on deposit with respect to the Bonds will not be used in such a manner as to cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of the Code.

The Company covenants that it has not taken, and will not take, or permit to be taken on its behalf, any action which would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds and will take, or require to be taken, such action as may, from time to time, be required under applicable law or regulation to continue to cause the Bonds to be Tax-Exempt. See "TAX EXEMPTION."

OTHER COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY

Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted. The Company covenants that it will maintain in good standing its corporate existence as a corporation organized under the laws of one of the states of the United States or the District of Columbia and will remain duly qualified to do business in the State of the Issuer, will not dissolve or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its assets and will not consolidate with or merge into another corporation; provided, however, that the Company may, without violating the foregoing, undertake from time to time any one or more of the following: (a) consolidate with or merge into another domestic corporation (i.e., a corporation incorporated and existing under the laws of one of the states of the United States or of the District of Columbia), or sell or otherwise transfer to another domestic corporation all or substantially all of its assets as an entirety and thereafter dissolve, provided the resulting, surviving or transferee corporation, as the case may be, must be the Company or a corporation qualified to do business in the State of the Issuer as a foreign corporation or incorporated and existing under the laws of the State of the Issuer, which as a result of the transaction has assumed (either by operation of law or in writing) all of the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds and the Reimbursement Agreement; or (b) convey all or substantially all of its assets to one or more wholly owned subsidiaries of the Company so long as the Company remains in existence and primarily liable on all of its obligations under the Loan Agreement and such subsidiary or subsidiaries to which such assets are so conveyed guarantees in writing the performance of all of the Company's obligations under the Loan Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds and the Reimbursement Agreement.

Assignment. With the consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Company's interest in the Loan Agreement may be assigned in whole or in part by the Company to another entity, subject, however, to the conditions that no assignment will (a) adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds or (b) relieve (other than as described in "Maintenance of Existence; Conditions Under Which Exceptions Permitted" above) the Company from primary liability for its obligations to pay the First Mortgage Bonds or to make the Loan Payments or to make payments to the Trustee with respect to payment of the purchase price of the Bonds or for any other of its obligations under the Loan Agreement; and subject further to the condition that the Company has delivered to the Trustee and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) an opinion of counsel to the Company that such assignment complies with the provisions described in this paragraph and an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that the proposed assignment will not impair the validity of the Bonds under the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds. The Company must, within 30 days after the delivery thereof, furnish to the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee a true and complete copy of the agreements or other documents effectuating any such assignment.

Maintenance and Repair; Taxes, Etc. The Company will maintain the Project in good repair, keep the same insured in accordance with standard industry practice and pay all costs thereof. The Company will pay or cause to be paid all taxes, special assessments and governmental, utility and other charges with respect to the Project.

The Company may at its own expense cause the Facilities to be remodeled or cause such substitutions, modifications and improvements to be made to the Facilities from time to time as the Company, in its discretion, may deem to be desirable for its uses and purposes, which remodeling, substitutions, modifications and improvements are included under the terms of the Loan Agreement as part of the Facilities; provided, however, that the Company may not exercise any such right, power, election or option if the proposed remodeling, substitution, modification or improvement would adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Company will cause insurance to be taken out and continuously maintained in effect with respect to the Facilities in accordance with standard industry practice.

Anything in the Loan Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, the Company has the right at any time to cause the operation of the Facilities to be terminated if the Company has determined that the continued operation of the Project or the Facilities is uneconomical for any reason.

LETTER OF CREDIT; ALTERNATE CREDIT FACILITY; SUBSTITUTE LETTER OF CREDIT

The Company may, at any time, at its option:

(a) provide for the delivery on any Business Day to the Trustee of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states (I) the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit to be so provided, and (II) the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be replaced (which Expiration shall not be prior to the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility to be so provided), (B) describes the terms of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit, (C) directs the Trustee to give notice of the mandatory purchase of the Bonds on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be replaced (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (D) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to be replaced, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the later of the effective date of the Alternate Credit Facility or the Substitute Letter of Credit to be provided and the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be replaced and thereupon to deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied);

(ii) on the date of delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility or the Substitute Letter of Credit (which shall be the effective date thereof), the Company shall furnish to the Trustee simultaneously with such delivery of the Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit (which delivery must occur prior to 9:30 a.m., New York time, on such date, unless a later time on such date shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the delivery of such Alternate Credit Facility or Substitute Letter of Credit (A) complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax Exempt status of the Bonds; and

(iii) in the case of the delivery of a Substitute Letter of Credit, the Company has received the written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility; or

(b) provide for the termination on any Business Day of the Letter of Credit or any Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, but only provided that:

(i) the Company shall deliver to the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), a notice which (A) states the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated, (B) directs the Trustee to give notice of the mandatory purchase of the Bonds on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated (which Business Day shall be not less than 30 days from the date of receipt by the Trustee of the notice from the Company specified above), in accordance with the Indenture, and (C) directs the Trustee, after taking such actions as are required to be taken to provide moneys due under the Indenture in respect of the Bonds or the purchase thereof, to surrender the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, which is to be terminated, to the obligor thereon on the next Business Day after the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility which is to be terminated and to thereupon deliver any and all instruments which may be reasonably requested by such obligor and furnished to the Trustee (but such surrender shall occur only if the requirement of (ii) below has been satisfied); and

(ii) on the Business Day next preceding the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term of the Alternate Credit Facility, which is to be terminated, the Company shall furnish to the Trustee (prior to 9:30 a.m., New York time, on such Business Day, unless a later time on such Business Day shall be acceptable to the Trustee) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that the termination of such Alternate Credit Facility or Letter of Credit (A) complies with the terms of the Loan Agreement and (B) will not adversely affect the Tax Exempt status of the Bonds.

An Alternate Credit Facility may have an expiration date earlier than the maturity of the Bonds. Any Substitute Letter of Credit must be issued by the same Bank that is a party to the Letter of Credit in effect at the time of such substitution and must be identical in all material respects as to terms and conditions to the Letter of Credit being replaced, except that it may contain a later expiration date, provide for an increase or decrease in the interest rate or the number of days of interest coverage or any combination of the foregoing.

EXTENSION OF A LETTER OF CREDIT

The Company may, at its election, but only with the written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, at any time provide for the delivery to the Trustee with respect to any issue of Bonds of an extension of the Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility then in effect, as the case may be, for any period commencing after its then-current expiration date.

DEFAULTS

Each of the following events constitute an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement:

(a) a failure by the Company to make when due any Loan Payment, any payment required to be made to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds or any payment on the First Mortgage Bonds, which failure has resulted in an “Event of Default” as described herein in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) under “THE INDENTURES—Defaults;”

(b) a failure by the Company to pay when due any amount required to be paid under the Loan Agreement or to observe and perform any other covenant, condition or agreement on the Company’s part to be observed or performed under the Loan Agreement (other than a failure described in clause (a) above), which failure continues for a period of 60 days (or such longer period as the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee may agree to in writing) after written notice given to the Company and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) by the Trustee or to the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Trustee by the Issuer; provided, however, that if such failure is other than for the payment of money and cannot be corrected within the applicable period, such failure does not constitute an Event of Default so long as the Company institutes corrective action within the applicable period and such action is being diligently pursued; or

(c) certain events of bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Company.

The Loan Agreement provides that, with respect to any Event of Default described in clause (b) above if, by reason of acts of God, strikes, orders of political bodies, certain natural disasters, civil disturbances and certain other events specified in the Loan Agreement, or any cause or event not reasonably within the control of the Company, the Company is unable in whole or in part to carry out one or more of its agreements or obligations contained in the Loan Agreement (other than certain obligations specified in the Loan Agreement, including its obligations to make when due Loan Payments and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds, payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds, to pay certain expenses and taxes, to indemnify the Issuer, the Trustee and others against certain liabilities, to discharge liens and to maintain its existence), the Company will not be deemed in default by reason of not carrying out such agreements or performing such obligations during the continuance of such inability.

REMEDIES

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default described in (a) or (c) under “Defaults” above, and further upon the condition that, in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the Bonds have been declared to be immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Indenture, the Loan Payments will, without further action, become and be immediately due and payable. Any waiver of any Event of Default under the Indenture and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof. See “THE INDENTURES—Defaults.” Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default arising from a “Default” as such term is defined in the Company Mortgage, the Trustee, as holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, will, subject to the provisions of the Indenture, have the rights provided in the Company Mortgage. Any waiver made in accordance with the Indenture of a “Default” under the Company Mortgage and a rescission and annulment of its consequences constitutes a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Loan Agreement and a rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Loan Agreement, the Issuer may take any action at law or in equity to collect any payments then due and thereafter to become due, or to seek injunctive relief or specific performance of any obligation, agreement or covenant of the Company under the Loan Agreement and under the First Mortgage Bonds.

Any amounts collected from the Company upon an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement will be applied in accordance with the Indenture.

AMENDMENTS

The Loan Agreement may be amended subject to the limitations contained in the Loan Agreement and in the Indenture. See “THE INDENTURES—Amendment of the Loan Agreements.”

THE INDENTURES

Each Indenture will operate independently. A default under one Indenture will not necessarily constitute a default under the other Indentures. The Indentures contain substantially identical terms, and the following is a summary of certain provisions common to the Indentures. All references in this summary to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and payments thereunder, the Indenture, the Bonds, the Bond Fund, the Letter of Credit, the Insurance Policy and other documents and parties are to the Issuer, the Bank, the Loan Agreement and such payments, the Indenture, the Bonds, the Bond Fund, the Letter of Credit, the Insurance Policy and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of Bonds.

PLEDGE AND SECURITY

Pursuant to the Indenture, the Loan Payments have been pledged by the Issuer to secure the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds. The Issuer has also pledged and assigned to the Trustee all its rights and interests under the Loan Agreement (other than its rights to indemnification and reimbursement of expenses and certain other rights), including the Issuer’s right to delivery of the First Mortgage Bonds, and has pledged to the Trustee all moneys and obligations deposited or to be deposited in the Bond Fund established with the Trustee; provided that the Trustee, the applicable Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent and the Registrar will have a prior claim on the Bond Fund for the payment of their compensation and expenses and for the repayment of any advances (plus interest thereon) made by them to effect performance of certain covenants in the Indenture if the Company has failed to make any payment which results in an Event of Default under the Loan Agreement.

APPLICATION OF PROCEEDS OF THE BOND FUND

The proceeds from the sale of the Bonds, excluding accrued interest, if any, were deposited with the trustee for the Prior Bonds and used to refund the Prior Bonds. See “USE OF PROCEEDS.” There is created under the Indenture a Bond Fund to be held by the Trustee and therein established a Principal Account and an Interest Account. Payments made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and otherwise on the First Mortgage Bonds in respect of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds and certain other amounts specified in the Indenture are to be deposited in the appropriate account in the Bond Fund. While any Bonds are outstanding and except as provided in a Tax Exemption Certificate and Agreement among the Trustee, the Issuer and the Company (the “Tax Certificate”), moneys in the Bond Fund will be used solely for the payment of the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on, the Bonds as the same become due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or upon acceleration of maturity, subject to the prior claim of the Trustee, the Remarketing Agent, the Paying Agent and the Registrar to the extent described above in “Pledge and Security.”

INVESTMENT OF FUNDS

Subject to the provisions of the Tax Certificate, moneys in the Bond Fund will, at the direction of the Company, be invested in securities or obligations specified in the Indenture. Gains from such investments will be credited, and any loss will be charged, to the particular fund or account from which the investments were made. During the term of the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) moneys received under the Letter of Credit (or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) are to be held uninvested.

DEFAULTS

Each of the following events will constitute an “Event of Default” under the Indenture:

(a) a failure to pay the principal of, or premium, if any, on any of the Bonds when the same becomes due and payable at maturity, upon redemption or otherwise, subject to certain exceptions for Pledged Bonds and Bonds held for the benefit of an Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility;

(b) a failure to pay an installment of interest on any of the Bonds for a period of one day after such interest has become due and payable subject to certain exceptions for Pledged Bonds and Bonds held for the benefit of an Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility;

(c) a failure to pay amounts due in respect of the purchase price of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase after such payment has become due and payable as provided under the captions “THE BONDS—Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase;”

(d) a failure by the Issuer to observe and perform any covenant, condition, agreement or provision contained in the Bonds or the Indenture (other than a failure described in clause (a), (b) or (c) above), which failure continues for a period of 90 days after written notice has been given to the Issuer and the Company by the Trustee, which notice may be given at the discretion of the Trustee and must be given at the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding, unless such period is extended prior to its expiration by the Trustee, or by the Trustee and the Owners of a principal amount of Bonds not less than the principal amount of Bonds the Owners of which requested such notice, as the case may be; provided, however, that the Trustee, or the Trustee and the Owners of such principal amount of Bonds, as the case may be, will be deemed to have agreed to an extension of such period if corrective action is initiated by the Issuer, or the Company on behalf of the Issuer, within such period and is being diligently pursued;

(e) an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement;

(f) a “Default” under the Company Mortgage; or

(g) the Trustee’s receipt of written notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) of an event of default under and as defined in the Reimbursement Agreement.

REMEDIES

Upon the occurrence (without waiver or cure) of an Event of Default described in clause (a), (b), (c), (f) or (g) under “Defaults” above or an Event of Default described in clause (e) under “Defaults” above resulting from an “Event of Default” under the Loan Agreement as described under clause (a) or (c) of “THE LOAN AGREEMENTS—Defaults” herein, and further upon the conditions that, if (i) in accordance with the terms of the Company Mortgage, the First Mortgage Bonds have become immediately due and payable pursuant to any provision of the Company Mortgage and (ii) there has been filed with the Trustee a written direction of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and if no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its Insurance Policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), then the Bonds will, without further action, become immediately due and payable and, during the period the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, is in effect, with accrued interest on the Bonds payable on the Bond Payment Date fixed as described in the Indenture and the Trustee will as promptly as practicable draw moneys under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, to the extent available thereunder, in an amount sufficient to pay principal of and accrued interest on the Bonds payable on the Bond Payment date established as described in the Indenture; provided that any waiver of any “Default” under the Company Mortgage and a rescission and annulment of its consequences will constitute a waiver of the corresponding Event or Events of Default under the Indenture and rescission and annulment of the consequences thereof.

The provisions described in the preceding paragraph are subject to the condition that if, so long as no Letter of Credit or Alternate Credit Facility is outstanding, after the principal of the Bonds have been so declared to be due and payable and before any judgment or decree for the payment of the moneys due have been obtained or entered as hereinafter provided, the Issuer will cause to be deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay all matured installments of interest upon all Bonds and the principal of any and all Bonds which have become due otherwise than by reason of such declaration (with interest upon such principal and, to the extent permissible by law, on overdue installments of interest, at the rate per annum specified in the Bonds) and such amount as are sufficient to cover reasonable compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the Trustee, and all Events of Default under the Indenture (other than nonpayment of the principal of Bonds which has become due by said declaration) has been remedied, then, in every such case, such Event of Default is deemed waived and such declaration and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee will promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer and the Company and will give notice thereof to Owners of the Bonds by first-class mail; provided, however, that no such waiver, rescission and annulment will extend to or affect any other Event of Default or subsequent Event of Default or impair any right, power or remedy consequent thereon.

The provisions described in the second preceding paragraph are, further, subject to the condition that, if an Event of Default described in clause (g) under “Defaults” above has occurred and if the Trustee thereafter has received written notice from the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) (a) that the notice which caused such Event of Default to occur has been withdrawn and (b) that the amounts available to be drawn on the Letter of Credit (or the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to pay (i) the principal of the Bonds or the portion of purchase price equal to principal and (ii) interest on the Bonds and the portion of purchase price equal to accrued interest have been reinstated to an amount equal to the principal amount of the Bonds Outstanding plus accrued interest thereon for the applicable Interest Coverage Period at the Interest Coverage Rate, then, in every such case, such Event of Default is deemed waived and its consequences rescinded and annulled, and the Trustee will promptly give written notice of such waiver, rescission and annulment to the Issuer, the Company, the Bank (or the Obligor on the Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) and the Remarketing Agent, and, if notice of the acceleration of the Bonds has been given to the Owners of Bonds, will give notice thereof by Mail to all Owners of Outstanding Bonds; but no such waiver, rescission and annulment will extend to or affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right or remedy consequent thereon.

Upon the occurrence and continuance of any Event of Default under the Indenture, the Trustee may, with the consent of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and if no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and upon the written direction of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds outstanding and receipt of indemnity to its satisfaction (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) must, pursue any available remedy to enforce the rights of the Owners of the Bonds and require the Company, the Issuer, the Insurer or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) to carry out any agreements, bring suit upon the Bonds or enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful or in violation of the rights of the Owners of the Bonds. So long as an Insurer Default has not occurred and is continuing, upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Insurer is entitled to control and direct the enforcement of all rights and remedies granted to the Owners or the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners under the Indenture. So long as a Bank Default has not occurred and is continuing, upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default, the Bank is entitled to control and direct the enforcement of all rights and remedies granted to the owners or the Trustee for the benefit of Owners under the Indenture. The Trustee is not required to take any action in respect of an Event of Default (other than, in certain circumstances, to declare the Bonds to be immediately due and payable, to notify the Insurer of payments to be made pursuant to the Insurance Policy, to make certain payments with respect to the Bonds and to draw on the Letter of Credit (or Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be)) or to enforce the trusts created by the Indenture except upon the written request of the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and receipt of indemnity satisfactory to it.

The Owners of a majority in principal amount of Bonds then outstanding will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting all remedial proceedings available to the Trustee under the Indenture or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee upon furnishing satisfactory indemnity to the Trustee (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) and provided that such direction does not result in any personal liability of the Trustee.

No Owner of any Bond will have any right to institute any suit, action or proceeding in equity or at law for the execution of any trust or power of the Trustee unless such Owner has previously given the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default and unless the Owners of not less than 25% in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding have made written request of the Trustee so to do, and unless satisfactory indemnity (except against gross negligence or willful misconduct) has been offered to the Trustee and the Trustee has not complied with such request within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision in the Indenture, the right of any Owner to receive payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Owner's Bond on or after the respective due dates expressed therein, or to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, will not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Owner of Bonds.

DEFEASANCE

All or any portions of Bonds (in Authorized Denominations) will, prior to the maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid for all purposes of the Indenture when:

- (a) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof have been selected for redemption, the Trustee has given, or the Company has given to the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, notice of redemption of such Bonds or portions thereof;

(b) there has been deposited with the Trustee moneys which constitute Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility;

(c) the moneys so deposited with the Trustee are in an amount sufficient (without relying on any investment income) to pay when due the principal of, premium, if any, and interest due and to become due (which amount of interest to become due is calculated at the Maximum Interest Rate unless the interest rate borne by all of such Bonds is not subject to adjustment prior to the maturity or redemption thereof, in which case the amount of interest is calculated at the rate borne by such Bonds) on said Bonds or portions thereof on and prior to the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be; provided, however, that if such payment is to be made upon optional redemption, such payment is made from Available Moneys;

(d) in the event said Bonds or portions thereof do not mature and are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, the Issuer at the direction of the Company has given the Trustee in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give, as soon as practicable in the same manner as a notice of redemption is given pursuant to the Indenture, a notice to the Owners of said Bonds or portions thereof and to the Insurer that the deposit required by clause (b) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds or portions thereof are deemed to have been paid and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof;

(e) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and the Insurer have received an opinion of an independent public accountant of nationally recognized standing, selected by the Company (an "Accountant's Opinion"), to the effect that the requirements set forth in clause (c) above have been satisfied;

(f) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee and the Insurer shall have received written evidence from Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, that such action will not result in a reduction, suspension or withdrawal of the rating; and

(g) the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P, and the Insurer have received an opinion of Bond Counsel to the effect that such deposit will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds ("Bond Counsel's Opinion").

Moneys deposited with the Trustee as described above may not be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and are held in trust for, the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on said Bonds or portions thereof, or for the payment of the purchase price of Bonds in accordance with the Indenture; provided that such moneys, if not then needed for such purpose, will, to the extent practicable, be invested and reinvested in Government Obligations maturing on or prior to the earlier of (a) the date moneys may be required for the purchase of Bonds or (b) the Interest Payment Date next succeeding the date of investment or reinvestment, and interest earned from such investments are paid over to the Company, as received by the Trustee, free and clear of any trust, lien or pledge.

The provisions of the Indenture relating to (a) the registration and exchange of Bonds, (b) the delivery of Bonds to the Trustee for purchase and the related obligations of the Trustee with respect thereto, (c) the mandatory purchase of the Bonds in connection with the Expiration of the Term of the Letter of Credit or the Expiration of the Term for Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and (d) payment of the Bonds from such moneys, will remain in full force and effect with respect to all Bonds until the maturity date of the Bonds or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds prior to maturity, notwithstanding that all or any portion of the Bonds are deemed to be paid; provided, however, that the provisions with respect to registration and exchange of Bonds will continue to be effective until the maturity or the last date fixed for redemption of all Bonds.

In the event the requirements of the next to the last sentence of the next succeeding paragraph can be satisfied, the preceding three paragraphs will not apply and the following two paragraphs will be applicable.

Any Bond will be deemed to be paid within the meaning of the Indenture when (a) payment of the principal of and premium, if any, on such Bond, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof (whether such due date is by reason of maturity or acceleration or upon redemption as provided in the Indenture) either (i) has been made or caused to be made in accordance with the terms thereof or (ii) has been provided for by irrevocably depositing with the Trustee in trust and irrevocably set aside exclusively for such payment, (A) moneys, which are Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, sufficient to make such payment and/or (B) Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys or moneys drawn under the Letter of Credit or an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, and maturing as to principal and interest in such amount and at such time as will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment; provided, however, that if such payment is to be made upon optional redemption, such payment is made from Available Moneys or from Government Obligations purchased with Available Moneys; (b) all necessary and proper fees, compensation and expenses of the Issuer, the Trustee and the Registrar pertaining to the Bonds with respect to which such deposit is made have been paid or the payment thereof provided for to the satisfaction of the Trustee; and (c) an Accountant's Opinion, to the effect that such moneys and/or Government Obligations will insure, without reinvestment, the availability of sufficient moneys to make such payment, a Bankruptcy Counsel's Opinion to the effect that the payment of the Bonds from the moneys and/or Government Obligations so deposited will not result in a voidable preference under Section 547 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the event that either the Issuer of the Company were to become a debtor under the United States Bankruptcy Code and a Bond Counsel's Opinion has been delivered to the Issuer, the Company, the Trustee, Moody's, if the Bonds are then rated by Moody's, and S&P, if the Bonds are then rated by S&P. The provisions of this paragraph apply only if (x) the Bond with respect to which such deposit is made is to mature or be called for redemption prior to the next succeeding date on which such Bond is subject to purchase as described herein under the captions “THE BONDS—Optional Purchase” and “—Mandatory Purchase” and (y) the Company waives, to the satisfaction of the Trustee, its right to convert the interest rate borne by such Bond.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraph, no deposit under clause (a)(ii) of the immediately preceding paragraph will be deemed a payment of such Bonds as aforesaid until: (a) proper notice of redemption of such Bonds has been previously given in accordance with the Indenture, or in the event said Bonds are not to be redeemed within the next succeeding 60 days, until the Company has given the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, irrevocable instructions to notify, as soon as practicable, the Owners of the Bonds in accordance with the Indenture, that the deposit required by clause (a)(ii) above has been made with the Trustee and that said Bonds are deemed to have been paid in accordance with the Indenture and stating the maturity or redemption date upon which moneys are to be available for the payment of the principal of and the applicable redemption premium, if any, on said Bonds, plus interest thereon to the due date thereof; or (b) the maturity of such Bonds.

REMOVAL OF TRUSTEE

With the prior written consent of the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be (which consent, if unreasonably withheld, will not be required), the Trustee may be removed at any time by filing with the Trustee so removed, and with the Issuer, the Company, the Insurer, the Registrar, the Remarketing Agent and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), an instrument or instruments in writing executed by (a) the Insurer, if no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing, or (b) the Owners of not less than a majority in principal amount of the Bonds then outstanding and, if no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing, the Insurer. The Trustee may also be removed by the Issuer under certain circumstances.

MODIFICATIONS AND AMENDMENTS

The Indenture may be modified or amended by the Issuer and the Trustee by supplemental indentures without the consent of the Owners of the Bonds, but with the consent of the Bank in certain circumstances, for any of the following purposes: (a) to cure any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity in the Indenture; (b) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Indenture or of the Company, the Insurer or the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company which does not materially adversely affect the interests of Owners of the Bonds; (c) to confirm, as further assurance, any pledge of or lien on any property subjected or to be subjected to the lien of the Indenture; (d) to comply with the requirements of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended; (e) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture or any supplemental indenture in any other respect which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; provided, however, that any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement will not take effect until the Insurer (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing) and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, has consented in writing to such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement; provided further that in determining whether any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds, the Trustee will consider the effect on the Owners as if there were no Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds; (f) to implement a conversion of the interest rate on the Bonds or to evidence or give effect to or facilitate the delivery and administration under the Indenture of an Alternate Credit Facility or a Substitute Letter of Credit; (g) to provide for a depository to accept tendered Bonds in lieu of the Trustee; (h) to modify or eliminate the book-entry registration system for any of the Bonds; (i) to provide for uncertificated Bonds or for the issuance of coupons and bearer Bonds or Bonds registered only as to principal, but only to the extent that such would not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (j) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category (as defined in the Indenture) and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (k) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies; (l) to provide for any Substitute Collateral and the release of any First Mortgage Bonds; (m) to provide for the appointment of a successor Trustee, Registrar or Paying Agent; (n) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (o) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds; (p) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Indenture in any other respect (which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners), if the effective date of such supplemental indenture or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased; and (q) to provide for the delivery to the Trustee of an Insurance policy or replacement of the Insurer or for an additional Insurer following the occurrence of an Insurer Default or to provide for an additional Insurer following the withdrawal or suspension or reduction below AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's of the long-term ratings of the Insurer provided that the insurance policy provided by the replacement or additional Insurer would result in a long-term rating on the Bonds equal to AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's.

Before the Issuer and the Trustee enter into any supplemental indenture as described above, there must be delivered to the Trustee, the Company, the Insurer and the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by the Indenture and will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms, and will not impair the validity under the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, of the Bonds or adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Trustee will provide written notice of any Supplemental Indenture to the Insurer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), Moody's, S&P and the Owners of all Bonds then outstanding at least 30 days prior to the effective date of such Supplemental Indenture. Such notice must state the effective date of such Supplemental Indenture, briefly describe the nature of such Supplemental Indenture and state that a copy thereof is on file at the principal office of the Trustee for inspection by the parties mentioned in the preceding sentence.

Except for supplemental indentures entered into for the purposes described above, the Indenture will not be modified, altered, amended supplemented or rescinded without the consent of the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (if its Insurance Policy is in effect and no Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), together with the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of Bonds outstanding, who have the right to consent to and approve any supplemental indenture; provided that, unless approved in writing by the Bank (if its Letter of Credit is in effect and no Bank Default shall have occurred and be continuing) or the Insurer (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), and the Owners of all the Bonds then affected thereby, there will not be permitted (a) a change in the times, amounts or currency of payment of the principal of, or premium, if any, or interest on any Bond, a change in the terms of the purchase thereof by the Trustee, or a reduction in the principal amount or redemption price thereof or the rate of interest thereon, (b) the creation of a claim or lien on or a pledge of the Revenues ranking prior to or on a parity with the claim, lien or pledge created by the Indenture, or (c) a reduction in the aggregate principal amount of Bonds the consent of the Owners of which is required to approve any such supplemental indenture or which is required to approve any amendment to the Loan Agreement. No such amendment of the Indenture will be effective without the prior written consent of the Company.

AMENDMENT OF THE LOAN AGREEMENTS

Without the consent of or notice to the Owners of the Bonds, the Issuer may, with the consent of the Insurer (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing), modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement, and the Trustee may consent thereto, as may be required (a) by the provisions of the Loan Agreement and the Indenture; (b) for the purpose of curing any formal defect, omission, inconsistency or ambiguity therein; (c) in connection with any other change therein which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds; provided, however, that any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement will not take effect until the Insurer (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing) and the Bank or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be, have consented in writing to such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement; provided further that in determining whether any such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is materially adverse to the Owners of the Bonds, the Trustee will consider the effect on the Owners as if there were no Insurance Policy with respect to the Bonds; (d) to secure or maintain ratings for the Bonds from Moody's and/or S&P in both the highest short-term or commercial paper debt Rating Category and also in either of the two highest long-term debt Rating Categories; (e) in connection with the delivery and substitution of any Substitute Collateral and the release of any First Mortgage Bonds; (f) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer contained in the Loan Agreement or of the Company or of the Insurer or of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be) contained in any document, other covenants or agreements thereafter to be observed, or to assign or pledge additional security for any of the Bonds, or to surrender any right or power reserved or conferred upon the Issuer or the Company, which does not materially adversely affect the interest of the Owners of the Bonds; (g) to provide demand purchase obligations to cause the Bonds to be authorized purchases for investment companies, (h) to provide the procedures required to permit any Owner to separate the right to receive interest on the Bonds from the right to receive principal thereof and to sell or dispose of such right as contemplated by Section 1286 of the Code; (i) to provide for any additional procedures, covenants or agreements necessary to maintain the Tax-Exempt status of interest on the Bonds; (j) to modify, alter, amend or supplement the Loan Agreement in any other respect (which in the judgment of the Trustee is not materially adverse to the Owners), including amendments which would otherwise be described herein, if the effective date of such supplement or amendment is a date on which all of the Bonds affected thereby are subject to mandatory purchase and are so purchased; and (k) to provide for the replacement of the Insurer or for an additional Insurer following the occurrence of an Insurer Default or to provide for an additional Insurer following the withdrawal or suspension or reduction below AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's of the long-term ratings of the Insurer provided that the insurance policy provided by the replacement or additional Insurer would result in a long-term rating on the Bonds equal to AAA (or its equivalent rating) by S&P and Aaa (or its equivalent rating) by Moody's.

Before the Issuer enters into, and the Trustee consents to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, (a) the Trustee will cause notice of such proposed modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to be provided to the Bank, the Insurer, Moody's and S&P, stating that a copy thereof is on file at the office of the Trustee for inspection by the Insurer, Moody's and S&P and (b) there must be delivered to the Bank, the Issuer, the Insurer and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

The Issuer will not enter into and the Trustee will not consent to any other amendment, change or modification of the Loan Agreement without the written approval or consent of the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Insurer (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing) and the Owners of not less than 60% in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds at the time outstanding; provided, however, that, unless approved in writing by the Owners of all Bonds affected thereby, nothing in the Indenture may permit, or be construed as permitting, a change in the obligations of the Company to make Loan Payments or payments to the Trustee for the purchase of Bonds or the nature of the obligations of the Company on the First Mortgage Bonds. No amendment of the Loan Agreement will become effective without the prior written consent of the Insurer (unless an Insurer Default has occurred and is continuing) and the Company and under certain circumstances, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be).

Before the Issuer enters into, and the Trustee consents to, any modification, alteration, amendment or supplement to the Loan Agreement as described in the immediately preceding paragraph, there must be delivered to the Issuer, the Bank (or the Obligor on an Alternate Credit Facility, as the case may be), the Insurer and the Trustee an opinion of Bond Counsel stating that such modification, alteration, amendment or supplement is authorized or permitted by the Loan Agreement or the Indenture and the Utah Act, the Wyoming Act or the Colorado Act, as applicable, complies with their respective terms, will, upon the execution and delivery thereof, be valid and binding upon the Issuer in accordance with its terms and will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Bonds.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

Pursuant to the provisions of the Indentures and six separate Pledge Agreements each dated as of November 1, 1994 between the Company and the Trustee (individually, a “Pledge Agreement” and, collectively, the “Pledge Agreements”), the First Mortgage Bonds were issued by the Company to secure its obligations under the Loan Agreement relating to each of the six Issues of Bonds. The following summary of certain provisions of the First Mortgage Bonds and the Company Mortgage referred to below does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference thereto and includes capitalized terms defined in such Mortgages. All references in this summary to the Trustee, the Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and the Pledge Agreement are deemed to refer to the Trustee, the Bonds, the Indenture, the Loan Agreement, the Pledge Agreement and such other documents and parties, respectively, relating to each issue of the Bonds.

GENERAL

The First Mortgage Bonds are in the same principal amount and mature on the same dates as the Bonds. In addition, the First Mortgage Bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity upon the same terms as the Bonds, so that upon any redemption of the Bonds, an equal aggregate principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds will be redeemed. The First Mortgage Bonds bear interest at the same rate, and be payable at the same times, as the Bonds. See “THE LOAN AGREEMENTS—Loan Payments; The First Mortgage Bonds” above.

The Company Mortgage provides that in the event of the merger or consolidation of another electric utility company with or into the Company or the conveyance or transfer to the Company by another such company of all or substantially all of such company’s property that is of the same character as Property Additions under the Company Mortgage, an existing mortgage constituting a first lien on operating properties of such other company may be designated by the Company as a Class “A” Mortgage. Any bonds thereafter issued pursuant to such additional mortgage would be Class “A” Bonds and could provide the basis for the issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds (as defined below) under the Company Mortgage.

The Company will receive a credit against its obligations to make any payment of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the First Mortgage Bonds and such obligations will be deemed fully or partially, as the case may be, satisfied and discharged, in an amount equal to the amount, if any, paid by the Company under the Loan Agreement, or otherwise satisfied or discharged, in respect of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Company

Mortgage Bonds. The obligations of the Company to make such payments with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds will be deemed to have been reduced by the amount of such credit.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture, the Loan Agreement and the Pledge Agreement, the First Mortgage Bonds will be registered in the name of and held by the Trustee for the benefit of the Owners and will not be transferable except to a successor trustee under the Indenture. At the time any Bonds cease to be outstanding under the Indenture, the Trustee will surrender to the Company Mortgage Trustee an equal aggregate principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds.

SECURITY AND PRIORITY

The First Mortgage Bonds and any other first mortgage bonds now or hereafter outstanding under the Company Mortgage (“Company Mortgage Bonds”) are or will be, as the case may be, secured by a first mortgage Lien on certain utility property owned from time to time by the Company and by Class “A” Bonds, if any, held by the Company Mortgage Trustee, if any. All Company Mortgage Bonds, including the First Mortgage Bonds, issued and outstanding under the Company Mortgage are equally and ratably secured.

The Lien of the Company Mortgage is subject to Excepted Encumbrances, including tax and construction liens, purchase money liens and certain other exceptions.

There are excepted from the Lien of the Company Mortgage all cash and securities (except those specifically deposited); equipment, materials or supplies held for sale or other disposition; any fuel and similar consumable materials and supplies; automobiles, other vehicles, aircraft and vessels; timber, minerals, mineral rights and royalties; receivables, contracts, leases and operating agreements; electric energy, gas, water, steam, ice and other products for sale, distribution or other use; natural gas wells; gas transportation lines or other property used in the sale of natural gas to customers or to a natural gas distribution or pipeline company, up to the point of connection with any distribution system; the Company’s interest in the Wyodak Facility; and all properties that have been released from the discharged Mortgages and Deeds of Trust, as supplemented, of Pacific Power & Light Company and Utah Power & Light Company and that PacifiCorp, a Maine corporation, or Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation, contracted to dispose of, but title to which had not passed at the date of the Company Mortgage. The Company has reserved the right, without any consent or other action by holders of Bonds of the Eighth Series or any subsequently created series of Company Mortgage Bonds (including the First Mortgage Bonds), to amend the Company Mortgage in order to except from the Lien of the Company Mortgage allowances allocated to steam-electric generating plants owned by the Company, or in which the Company has interests, pursuant to Title IV of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990, as now in effect or as hereafter supplemented or amended.

The Company Mortgage contains provisions subjecting after-acquired property to the Lien thereof. These provisions may be limited, at the option of the Company, in the case of consolidation or merger (whether or not the Company is the surviving corporation), conveyance or transfer of all or substantially all of the utility property of another electric utility company to the Company or sale of substantially all of the Company’s assets. In addition, after-acquired property may be subject to a Class “A” Mortgage, purchase money mortgages and other liens or defects in title.

The Company Mortgage provides that the Company Mortgage Trustee shall have a lien upon the mortgaged property, prior to the holders of Company Mortgage Bonds, for the payment of its reasonable compensation and expenses and for indemnity against certain liabilities.

RELEASE AND SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY

Property subject to the Lien of the Company Mortgage may be released upon the basis of:

- (1) the release of such property from the Lien of a Class “A” Mortgage;
- (2) the deposit of cash or, to a limited extent, purchase money mortgages;
- (3) Property Additions, after making adjustments for certain prior lien bonds outstanding against Property Additions; and/or
- (4) waiver of the right to issue Company Mortgage Bonds.

Cash may be withdrawn upon the bases stated in (1), (3) and (4) above. Property that does not constitute Funded Property may be released without funding other property. Similar provisions are in effect as to cash proceeds of such property. The Company Mortgage contains special provisions with respect to certain prior lien bonds deposited and disposition of moneys received on deposited prior lien bonds.

ISSUANCE OF ADDITIONAL COMPANY MORTGAGE BONDS

The maximum principal amount of Company Mortgage Bonds that may be issued under the Company Mortgage is not limited. Company Mortgage Bonds of any series may be issued from time to time on the basis of:

- (1) 70% of qualified Property Additions after adjustments to offset retirements;
- (2) Class “A” Bonds (which need not bear interest) delivered to the Company Mortgage Trustee;
- (3) retirement of Company Mortgage Bonds or certain prior lien bonds; and/or
- (4) deposits of cash.

With certain exceptions in the case of clauses (2) and (3) above, the issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds is subject to Adjusted Net Earnings of the Company for 12 consecutive months out of the preceding 15 months, before income taxes, being at least twice the Annual Interest Requirements on all Company Mortgage Bonds at the time outstanding, including the additional Company Mortgage Bonds that are to be issued, all outstanding Class “A” Bonds held other than by the Company Mortgage Trustee or by the Company, and all other indebtedness secured by a lien prior to the Lien of the Company Mortgage. In general, interest on variable interest bonds, if any, is calculated using the rate then in effect.

Property Additions generally include electric, gas, steam and/or hot water utility property but not fuel, securities, automobiles, other vehicles or aircraft, or property used principally for the production or gathering of natural gas.

The issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds on the basis of Property Additions subject to prior liens is restricted. Company Mortgage Bonds may, however, be issued against the deposit of Class “A” Bonds.

CERTAIN COVENANTS

The Company Mortgage contains a number of covenants by the Company for the benefit of holders of the Company Mortgage Bonds, including provisions requiring the Company to maintain the Company Mortgaged and Pledged Property as an operating system or systems capable of engaging in all or any of the generating, transmission, distribution or other utility businesses described in the Company Mortgage.

DIVIDEND RESTRICTIONS

The Company Mortgage provides that the Company may not declare or pay dividends (other than dividends payable solely in shares of common stock) on any shares of common stock if, after giving effect to such declaration or payment, the Company would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of business. Reference is made to the notes to the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K incorporated by reference herein for information relating to other restrictions.

FOREIGN CURRENCY DENOMINATED COMPANY MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company Mortgage authorizes the issuance of Company Mortgage Bonds denominated in foreign currencies, provided, however, that the Company deposit with the Company Mortgage Trustee a currency exchange agreement with an entity having, at the time of such deposit, a financial rating at least as high as that of the Company that, in the opinion of an independent expert, gives the Company at least as much protection against currency exchange fluctuation as is usually obtained by similarly situated borrowers. The Company believes that such a currency exchange agreement will provide effective protection against currency exchange fluctuations. However, if the other party to the exchange agreement defaults and the foreign currency is valued higher at the date of maturity than at the date of issuance of the relevant Company Mortgage Bonds, holders of such Company Mortgage Bonds would have a claim on the assets of the Company which is greater than that to which holders of dollar-denominated Company Mortgage Bonds issued at the same time would be entitled.

THE COMPANY MORTGAGE TRUSTEE

Affiliates of The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., may act as lenders and as administrative agents under loan agreements with the Company and affiliates of the Company. The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., serves as trustee under indentures and other agreements involving the Company and its affiliates. The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., is the Company Mortgage Trustee.

MODIFICATION

The rights of holders of the Company Mortgage Bonds may be modified with the consent of holders of 60% of the Company Mortgage Bonds, or, if less than all series of Company Mortgage Bonds are adversely affected, the consent of the holders of 60% of the series of Company Mortgage Bonds adversely affected. In general, no modification of the terms of payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest and no modification affecting the Lien or reducing the percentage required for modification is effective against any holder of the Company Mortgage Bonds without the consent of such holder.

Unless there is a Default under the Company Mortgage, the Company Mortgage Trustee generally is required to vote Class "A" Bonds held by it, if any, with respect to any amendment of the applicable Class "A" Company Mortgage proportionately with the vote of the holders of all Class "A" Bonds then actually voting.

DEFAULTS AND NOTICES THEREOF

Each of the following will constitute a "Default" under the Company Mortgage with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds:

- (1) default in payment of principal;
- (2) default for 60 days in payment of interest or an installment of any fund required to be applied to the purchase or redemption of any Company Mortgage Bonds;
- (3) default in payment of principal or interest with respect to certain prior lien bonds;
- (4) certain events in bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization;
- (5) default in other covenants for 90 days after notice;
- (6) the existence of any default under a Class "A" Company Mortgage which permits the declaration of the principal of all of the bonds secured by such Class "A" Company Mortgage and the interest accrued thereupon due and payable; or
- (7) an "Event of Default" as described in clauses (a), (b) or (c) under the caption "THE INDENTURES—Defaults" above.

An effective default under any Class “A” Mortgage or under the Company Mortgage will result in an effective default under all such mortgages. The Company Mortgage Trustee may withhold notice of default (except in payment of principal, interest or funds for retirement of Company Mortgage Bonds) if it determines that it is not detrimental to the interests of the holders of the Company Mortgage Bonds.

The Company Mortgage Trustee or the holders of 25% of the Company Mortgage Bonds may declare the principal and interest due and payable on Default, but a majority may annul such declaration if such Default has been cured. No holder of Company Mortgage Bonds may enforce the Lien of the Company Mortgage without giving the Company Mortgage Trustee written notice of a Default and unless the holders of 25% of the Company Mortgage Bonds have requested the Company Mortgage Trustee to act and offered it reasonable opportunity to act and indemnity satisfactory to it against the costs, expenses and liabilities to be incurred thereby and the Company Mortgage Trustee shall have failed to act. The holders of a majority of the Company Mortgage Bonds may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceedings for any remedy available to the Company Mortgage Trustee or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Company Mortgage Trustee. The Company Mortgage Trustee is not required to risk its funds or incur personal liability if there is reasonable ground for believing that repayment is not reasonably assured.

The Company must give the Company Mortgage Trustee an annual statement as to whether or not the Company has fulfilled its obligations under the Company Mortgage throughout the preceding calendar year.

VOTING OF THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

So long as no Event of Default under the Indenture has occurred and is continuing, the Trustee, as holder of the First Mortgage Bonds, shall vote or consent proportionately with what officials of or inspectors of votes at any meeting of bondholders under the Company Mortgage, or the Company Mortgage Trustee in the case of consents without such a meeting, reasonably believe will be the vote or consent of the holders of all other outstanding Company Mortgage Bonds; provided, however, that the Trustee shall not vote in favor of, or consent to, any modification of the Company Mortgage which, if it were a modification of the Indenture, would require approval of the Owners of Bonds.

DEFEASANCE

Under the terms of the Company Mortgage, the Company will be discharged from any and all obligations under the Company Mortgage in respect of the Company Mortgage Bonds of any series if the Company deposits with the Company Mortgage Trustee, in trust, moneys or Government Obligations, in an amount sufficient to pay all the principal of, premium (if any) and interest on, the Company Mortgage Bonds of such series or portions thereof, on the redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be. The Company Mortgage Trustee need not accept such deposit unless it is accompanied by an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that (a) the Company has received from, or there has been published by, the Internal Revenue Service a ruling or (b) since the date of the Company Mortgage, there has been a change in applicable federal income tax law, in either case to the effect that, and based thereon such Opinion of Counsel shall confirm that, the holders of such Company Mortgage Bonds or the right of payment of interest thereon (as the case may be) will not recognize income, gain or loss for federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit, and/or ensuing discharge and will be subject to federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same times, as would have been the case if such deposit, and/or discharge had not occurred.

Upon such deposit, the obligation of the Company to pay the principal of (and premium, if any) and interest on such series of Company Mortgage Bonds shall cease, terminate and be completely discharged.

In the event of any such defeasance and discharge of Company Mortgage Bonds of such series, holders of Company Mortgage Bonds of such series would be able to look only to such trust fund for payment of principal of (and premium, if any) and interest, if any, on the Company Mortgage Bonds of such series.

LITIGATION

There is no pending or, to the knowledge of each Issuer, threatened litigation against such Issuer that in any way questions or materially affects the Bonds of such Issuer, the validity or enforceability of the Loan Agreements or the Indentures to which such Issuer is a party or any proceedings or transaction relating to the reoffering of the Bonds.

REMARKETING

The Remarketing Agents have agreed with the Company, subject to the terms and provisions of separate Remarketing Agreements, dated November 18, 2008, between the Company and the Remarketing Agents, that the Remarketing Agents will use their best efforts, as remarketing agent, to solicit purchases from potential investors of the Bonds. Pursuant to such Remarketing Agreements, the Company has agreed to indemnify the Remarketing Agents against certain liabilities and expenses, including liabilities arising under federal and state securities laws, and to pay for certain expenses in connection with the reoffering of the Bonds.

In the ordinary course of business, the Remarketing Agents have provided investment banking services or bank financing to the Company, its subsidiaries or affiliates in the past for which they have received customary compensation and expense reimbursement, and may do so again in the future.

TAX EXEMPTION

CARBON BONDS AND EMERY BONDS

In connection with the original issuance and delivery of each of the Carbon Bonds and the Emery Bonds, Chapman and Cutler, as Bond Counsel to the Company, rendered an opinion with respect to each issue that subject to compliance by the Company and the applicable Issuer with certain covenants referenced in the opinion, under then existing law, interest on the Carbon Bonds and on the Emery Bonds, as applicable, would not be includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Carbon Bond or Emery Bond, as applicable, for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related Project or Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) and such interest is not treated as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest is taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the federal alternative minimum tax for certain corporations.

Bond Counsel also rendered an opinion that, under then existing statutes and laws of Utah, interest on the Carbon Bonds and on the Emery Bonds, is exempt from taxes imposed by the Utah Individual Income Tax Act.

A copy of each of the opinion letters provided by Bond Counsel in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Carbon Bonds and the Emery Bonds is set forth in Appendix C-1 and C-2, respectively, but inclusion of such copies of the opinion letters is not to be construed as a reaffirmation of the opinions contained therein. The opinion letters speak only as of their dates.

Chapman and Cutler LLP will deliver separate opinions in connection with execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement for each of the Carbon Bonds and the Emery Bonds in each case to the effect that (a) each of such First Supplemental Indentures (i) is authorized or permitted by the Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) upon the execution and delivery thereof, will be valid and binding upon the respective Issuer in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Carbon Bonds or the Emery Bonds, as applicable and (b) each of such First Supplemental Loan Agreements (i) is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) will be valid and binding upon the respective Issuer in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Carbon Bonds or the Emery Bonds, as applicable. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Chapman and Cutler has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to the prior opinion of Bond Counsel or the Carbon Bonds or the Emery Bonds subsequent to their date of issuance. The proposed form of such opinions are set forth in Appendix D-1 and Appendix D-3.

CONVERSE BONDS, LINCOLN BONDS AND SWEETWATER BONDS

In connection with the original issuance and delivery of each of the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds, Chapman and Cutler, as Bond Counsel to the Company, rendered an opinion with respect to each issue that subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants referenced in the opinion, under then existing law, interest on the Converse Bonds, on the Lincoln Bonds and on the Sweetwater Bonds, as applicable, would not be includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Converse Bond, Lincoln Bond or Sweetwater Bond, as applicable, for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related Project or Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) and such interest is not treated as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest is taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the federal alternative minimum tax for certain corporations.

Bond Counsel also rendered an opinion that, under then existing statutes and laws of Wyoming, Wyoming imposed no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Converse Bonds, on the Lincoln Bonds or on the Emery Bonds, as applicable.

A copy of each of the opinion letters provided by Bond Counsel in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds is set forth in Appendix C-3, C-4 and C-5, respectively, but inclusion of such copies of the opinion letters is not to be construed as a reaffirmation of the opinions contained therein. The opinion letters speak only as of their dates.

Chapman and Cutler LLP will deliver separate opinions in connection with execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement for each of the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds and the Sweetwater Bonds in each case to the effect that (a) each of such First Supplemental Indentures (i) is authorized or permitted by the Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) upon the execution and delivery thereof, will be valid and binding upon the respective Issuer in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds or the Sweetwater Bonds, as applicable and (b) each of such First Supplemental Loan Agreements (i) is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) will be valid and binding upon the respective Issuer in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds or the Sweetwater Bonds, as applicable. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinions, Chapman and Cutler has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to the prior opinion of Bond Counsel or the Converse Bonds, the Lincoln Bonds or the Sweetwater Bonds subsequent to their date of issuance. The proposed form of such opinions are set forth in Appendix D-2, Appendix D-4 and Appendix D-6.

MOFFAT BONDS

In connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Moffat Bonds, Chapman and Cutler, as Bond Counsel to the Company, rendered an opinion that subject to compliance by the Company and the Issuer with certain covenants referenced in the opinion, under then existing law, interest on the Moffat Bonds would not be includible in the gross income of the Owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Moffat Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the related Project or Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code) and such interest is not treated as an item of tax preference in computing the federal alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Such interest is taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the federal alternative minimum tax for certain corporations.

Bond Counsel also rendered an opinion that, under then existing statutes and laws of Colorado, so long as interest on the Moffat Bonds is not included in gross income for federal income tax purposes, interest on the Moffat Bonds is not included in Colorado taxable income for purposes of the income tax imposed by Colorado pursuant to Article 22 of Title 39 of the Colorado Revised Statutes, as amended, upon individuals, corporations, and estates and trusts.

A copy of the opinion letter provided by Bond Counsel in connection with the original issuance and delivery of the Moffat Bonds is set forth in Appendix C-6, but inclusion of such copy of the opinion letter is not to be construed as a reaffirmation of the opinions contained therein. The opinion letter speak only as of its date.

Chapman and Cutler LLP will deliver an opinion in connection with execution and delivery of the First Supplemental Indenture and the First Supplemental Loan Agreement relating to the Moffat Bonds to the effect that (a) such First Supplemental Indenture (i) is authorized or permitted by the Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) upon the execution and delivery thereof, will be valid and binding upon Moffat County in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Moffat Bonds and (b) such First Supplemental Loan Agreement (i) is authorized or permitted by the Original Loan Agreement or Trust Indenture relating thereto and the Act and complies with their respective terms, (ii) will be valid and binding upon Moffat County in accordance with its terms and (iii) will not adversely affect the Tax-Exempt status of the Moffat Bonds. Except as necessary to render the foregoing opinion, Chapman and Cutler has not reviewed any factual or legal matters relating to the prior opinion of Bond Counsel or the Moffat Bonds subsequent to their date of issuance. The proposed form of such opinion is set forth in Appendix D-5.

Re: $9,365,000 Carbon County, Utah, Pollution Control
Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project)

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Carbon County, Utah (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Utah, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994, in the aggregate principal amount of $9,365,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of the Utah Industrial Facilities and Development Act, Title 11, Chapter 17, Utah Code Annotated 1953, as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project) Series A of 1974 now outstanding in the amount of $9,365,000 (the "Refunded Bonds"). The Refunded Bonds were issued for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of air and water pollution control facilities (the "Project") at the Carbon coal-fired electric generating plant (the "Station") in Carbon County, Utah for use by Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation which, subsequent to the issuance of the Refunded Bonds, merged with PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"). The proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys to be provided by the Company, are to be deposited with the trustee for the Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on November 1, 2024, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to purchase and redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for said issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Utah now in force.

CHAPMAN AND CUTLER

Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer, the Issuer has agreed to loan the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of refunding the Refunded Bonds, and the Company has agreed to pay amounts at least sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, call for redemption or acceleration. The Loan Agreement (an executed counterpart of which has been examined by us) has, in our opinion, been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought.

We have also examined an executed counterpart of the Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), securing the Bonds and setting forth the covenants and undertakings of the Issuer in connection with the Bonds and making provision under certain conditions for the remarketing of the Bonds by a Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), for the fixing of variable interest rates to be borne by the Bonds from time to time, which variable interest rate may be a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Flexible Interest Rate (each as defined in the Indenture), and for the conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds to a different variable interest rate or to a Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture) under certain conditions. The Indenture provides that the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate until conversion to a different variable interest rate or to a Term Interest Rate. Under the Indenture, the revenues derived by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, together with certain of the rights of the Issuer thereunder, are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security for the Bonds. From such examination, we are of the opinion that the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above show lawful authority for the execution and delivery of the Indenture, that the Indenture is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought, that the Bonds have been validly issued under the Indenture, and that all requirements under the Indenture precedent to delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied.

In connection with the issuance of the Bonds, the Company has entered into a Standby Bond Purchase Agreement dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Standby Purchase Agreement"), with The Bank of New York (the "Bank"). Pursuant to the Standby Purchase Agreement, the Bank has agreed to provide (a) an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price or portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase and not remarketed, plus (b) an amount equal to 62 days' accrued interest on the outstanding Bonds to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. Execution of the Standby Purchase Agreement, however, does not release the Company from its payment obligation under the Loan Agreement. The stated expiration date of the Standby Purchase Agreement is November 17, 1999, subject to the provisions of the Standby Purchase Agreement.

For the purpose of securing the Company's obligation to repay the loan of the proceeds of sale of the Bonds made to the Company by the Issuer pursuant to the Loan Agreement, the Company has delivered to the Trustee, in trust for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $9,365,000 (the "First Mortgage Bonds"), issued by the Company under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 9, 1989, between the Company and Chemical Bank, as successor trustee, as supplemented and amended by ten supplemental indentures, including a Tenth Supplemental Indenture dated as of August 1, 1994 (collectively, the "Mortgage"). Pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture, payments by the Company representing principal of and interest on the First Mortgage Bonds are deposited into the Bond Fund created under the Indenture and are used to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds on an equal and ratable basis as the same become due. The First Mortgage Bonds are being issued as a part of a series of $216,470,000 aggregate principal of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds pursuant to the Mortgage on the date hereof to secure the Bonds and five other issues of pollution control revenue refunding bonds being issued on the date hereof by Emery County, Utah, Converse County, Wyoming, Lincoln County, Wyoming, Sweetwater County, Wyoming, and Moffat County, Colorado (collectively, the "Other Issuers") to refinance certain pollution control or solid waste disposal facilities (the "Facilities") for the benefit of the Company.

We further certify that we have examined the form of bond prescribed in the Indenture and find the same in due form of law and in our opinion the Bonds, to the amount named, are valid and legally binding upon the Issuer according to the import thereof and, as provided in the Indenture and the Bonds, are payable by the Issuer solely out of payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and all moneys and investments held by the Trustee under the Indenture or otherwise available to the Trustee for the payment thereof.

Subject to the condition that the Company, the Issuer and the Other Issuers comply with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, we are of the opinion that under present law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code), and interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Interest on the Bonds will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Failure to comply with certain of such covenants could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon certifications of even date herewith of the Company relating to the Station, the Project and the application of the proceeds of the Refunded Bonds and the proceeds of the Bonds with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

In our opinion, under the laws of the State of Utah as presently enacted and construed, interest on the Bonds will be exempt from taxes imposed by the Utah Individual Income Tax Act. No opinion is expressed with respect to any other taxes imposed by the State of Utah or any political subdivision thereof. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other Utah tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds.

We are not passing upon the Standby Purchase Agreement or any action taken by the Bank in connection therewith. The validity of the Standby Purchase Agreement has been passed upon by Davis Polk & Wardwell.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, counsel to the Company, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith concerning the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon said opinion with respect to, among other things: (i) the due organization of the Company, (ii) the good standing or existence of the Company in the States of Utah and Oregon, (iii) the approval of the execution and delivery by the Company of the Loan Agreement by all necessary regulatory authorities exercising jurisdiction over the Company, (iv) the corporate power of the Company to enter into, and the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company of, the Loan Agreement, and (v) the binding effect of the Loan Agreement on the Company.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey has also rendered an opinion of even date herewith, as to the due authorization, execution and delivery of the First Mortgage Bonds and the Mortgage, the validity and binding effect thereof, the enforceability thereof in accordance with their respective terms and the requisite issuance of all orders, approvals, authorizations and consents of any court or administrative or governmental body with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds.

Gene Strate, County Attorney of the Issuer, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith with respect to the obligations of the Issuer under the Bonds, the Loan Agreement and the Indenture.

We express no opinion as to the title to, the description of, or the existence of any liens, charges or encumbrances on the Project or the Station.

Re: $121,940,000 Emery County, Utah, Pollution Control
 Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project)

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Emery County, Utah (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Utah, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994, in the aggregate principal amount of $121,940,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of the Utah Industrial Facilities and Development Act, Title 11, Chapter 17, Utah Code Annotated 1953, as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project) Series A of 1974, Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, 6-3/8% Series due November 1, 2006 (Utah Power & Light Company Project), Pollution Control Revenue Bonds, 5.90% Series due April 1, 2008 (Utah Power & Light Company Project) and Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project), 10.70% Series Due September 1, 2014, collectively outstanding in the amount of $121,940,000 (collectively, the "Refunded Bonds"). The Refunded Bonds were issued for the purpose of financing or refinancing a portion of the cost of certain pollution control or solid waste disposal facilities (the "Projects") at the Hunter coal-fired steam electric generating plant (formerly known as the Emery Generating plant) and the Huntington coal-fired electric generating plant (collectively, the "Stations") in Emery County, Utah, for use by Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation which, subsequent to the issuance of the Refunded Bonds, merged with PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"). The proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys to be provided by the Company, are to be deposited with the respective trustee for each series of Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on November 1, 2024, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to purchase and redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

CHAPMAN AND CUTLER

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for said issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Utah now in force.

Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer, the Issuer has agreed to loan the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of refunding the Refunded Bonds, and the Company has agreed to pay amounts at least sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, call for redemption or acceleration. The Loan Agreement (an executed counterpart of which has been examined by us) has, in our opinion, been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought.

We have also examined an executed counterpart of the Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), securing the Bonds and setting forth the covenants and undertakings of the Issuer in connection with the Bonds and making provision under certain conditions for the remarketing of the Bonds by a Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), for the fixing of variable interest rates to be borne by the Bonds from time to time, which variable interest rate may be a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Flexible Interest Rate (each as defined in the Indenture), and for the conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds to a different variable interest rate or to a Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture) under certain conditions. The Indenture provides that the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate until conversion to a different variable interest rate or to a Term Interest Rate. Under the Indenture, the revenues derived by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, together with certain of the rights of the Issuer thereunder, are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security for the Bonds. From such examination, we are of the opinion that the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above show lawful authority for the execution and delivery of the Indenture, that the Indenture is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought, that the Bonds have been validly issued under the Indenture, and that all requirements under the Indenture precedent to delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied.

CHAPMAN AND CUTLER

In connection with the issuance of the Bonds, the Company has entered into a Standby Bond Purchase Agreement dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Standby Purchase Agreement"), with The Bank of Nova Scotia (the "Bank"). Pursuant to the Standby Purchase Agreement, the Bank has agreed to provide (a) an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price or portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase and not remarketed, plus (b) an amount equal to 62 days' accrued interest on the outstanding Bonds to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. Execution of the Standby Purchase Agreement, however, does not release the Company from its payment obligation under the Loan Agreement. The stated expiration date of the Standby Purchase Agreement is November 17, 1999, subject to the provisions of the Standby Purchase Agreement.

For the purpose of securing the Company's obligation to repay the loan of the proceeds of sale of the Bonds made to the Company by the Issuer pursuant to the Loan Agreement, the Company has delivered to the Trustee, in trust for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $121,940,000 (the "First Mortgage Bonds"), issued by the Company under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 9, 1989, between the Company and Chemical Bank, as successor trustee, as supplemented and amended by ten supplemental indentures, including a Tenth Supplemental Indenture dated as of August 1, 1994 (collectively, the "Mortgage"). Pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture, payments by the Company representing principal of and interest on the First Mortgage Bonds are deposited into the Bond Fund created under the Indenture and are used to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds on an equal and ratable basis as the same become due. The First Mortgage Bonds are being issued as a part of a series of $216,470,000 aggregate principal of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds pursuant to the Mortgage on the date hereof to secure the Bonds and five other issues of pollution control revenue refunding bonds being issued on the date hereof by Carbon County, Utah, Converse County, Wyoming, Lincoln County, Wyoming, Sweetwater County, Wyoming, and Moffat County, Colorado (collectively, the "Other Issuers"), to refinance certain pollution control or solid waste disposal facilities (the "Facilities") for the benefit of the Company.

We further certify that we have examined the form of bond prescribed in the Indenture and find the same in due form of law and in our opinion the Bonds, to the amount named, are valid and legally binding upon the Issuer according to the import thereof and, as provided in the Indenture and the Bonds, are payable by the Issuer solely out of payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and all moneys and investments held by the Trustee under the Indenture or otherwise available to the Trustee for the payment thereof.

Subject to the condition that the Company, the Issuer and the Other Issuers comply with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, we are of the opinion that under present law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of any of the Projects or the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code), and interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Interest on the Bonds will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Failure to comply with certain of such covenants could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon certifications of even date herewith of the Company relating to the Stations, the Projects and the application of the proceeds of the Bonds, the Refunded Bonds and the Issuer's $16,750,000 Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project), dated May 11, 1984, with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

In our opinion, under the laws of the State of Utah as presently enacted and construed, interest on the Bonds will be exempt from taxes imposed by the Utah Individual Income Tax Act. No opinion is expressed with respect to any other taxes imposed by the State of Utah or any political subdivision thereof. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other Utah tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds.

We are not passing upon the Standby Purchase Agreement or any action taken by the Bank in connection therewith. The validity of the Standby Purchase Agreement has been passed upon by Davis Polk & Wardwell.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, counsel to the Company, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith concerning the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon said opinion with respect to, among other things: (i) the due organization of the Company, (ii) the good standing or existence of the Company in the States of Utah and Oregon, (iii) the approval of the execution and delivery by the Company of the Loan Agreement by all necessary regulatory authorities exercising jurisdiction over the Company, (iv) the corporate power of the Company to enter into, and the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company of, the Loan Agreement, and (v) the binding effect of the Loan Agreement on the Company.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey has also rendered an opinion of even date herewith, as to the due authorization, execution and delivery of the First Mortgage Bonds and the Mortgage, the validity and binding effect thereof, the enforceability thereof in accordance with their respective terms and the requisite issuance of all orders, approvals, authorizations and consents of any court or administrative or governmental body with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds.

Re: $8,190,000 Converse County, Wyoming,
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Converse County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Wyoming, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994, in the aggregate principal amount of $8,190,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's Collateralized Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1977 now outstanding in the amount of $8,190,000 (the "Refunded Bonds"). The Refunded Bonds were issued for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of water and air pollution control facilities (the "Project") at the Dave Johnston Plant (the "Station") in Converse County, Wyoming, for use by Pacific Power & Light Company, a Maine corporation which, subsequent to the issuance of the Refunded Bonds, merged with PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"). The proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys to be provided by the Company, are to be deposited with the trustee for the Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on November 1, 2024, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to purchase and redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon certifications of even date herewith of the Company relating to the Station, the Project and the application of the proceeds of the Refunded Bonds and the proceeds of the Bonds with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

In our opinion, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. No opinion is expressed with respect to any other taxes imposed by the State of Wyoming or any political subdivision thereof. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other Wyoming tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds.

Re: $15,060,000 Lincoln County, Wyoming,
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Wyoming, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994, in the aggregate principal amount of $15,060,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Utah Power & Light Company Project) Series A of 1974 now outstanding in the amount of $15,060,000 (the "Refunded Bonds"). The Refunded Bonds were issued for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of air pollution control facilities (the "Project") at the Naughton coal-fired electric generating plant (the "Station") in Lincoln County, Wyoming, for use by Utah Power & Light Company, a Utah corporation which, subsequent to the issuance of the Refunded Bonds, merged with PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company"). The proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys to be provided by the Company, are to be deposited with the trustee for the Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on November 1, 2024, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to purchase and redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for said issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Wyoming now in force.

CHAPMAN AND CUTLER

Pursuant to a Loan Agreement, dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Loan Agreement"), by and between the Company and the Issuer, the Issuer has agreed to loan the proceeds from the sale of the Bonds to the Company for the purpose of refunding the Refunded Bonds, and the Company has agreed to pay amounts at least sufficient to pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Bonds when due, whether at stated maturity, call for redemption or acceleration. The Loan Agreement (an executed counterpart of which has been examined by us) has, in our opinion, been duly authorized, executed and delivered by the Issuer, and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought.

We have also examined an executed counterpart of the Trust Indenture, dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Indenture"), by and between the Issuer and The First National Bank of Chicago, as Trustee (the "Trustee"), securing the Bonds and setting forth the covenants and undertakings of the Issuer in connection with the Bonds and making provision under certain conditions for the remarketing of the Bonds by a Remarketing Agent (the "Remarketing Agent"), for the fixing of variable interest rates to be borne by the Bonds from time to time, which variable interest rate may be a Daily Interest Rate, a Weekly Interest Rate or a Flexible Interest Rate (each as defined in the Indenture), and for the conversion of the interest rate borne by the Bonds to a different variable interest rate or to a Term Interest Rate (as defined in the Indenture) under certain conditions. The Indenture provides that the Bonds bear interest at a Daily Interest Rate until conversion to a different variable interest rate or to a Term Interest Rate. Under the Indenture, the revenues derived by the Issuer under the Loan Agreement, together with certain of the rights of the Issuer thereunder, are pledged and assigned to the Trustee as security for the Bonds. From such examination, we are of the opinion that the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above show lawful authority for the execution and delivery of the Indenture, that the Indenture is a valid and binding obligation of the Issuer, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the qualification that the enforcement thereof may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization and other similar laws relating to the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or usual equity principles in the event equitable remedies should be sought, that the Bonds have been validly issued under the Indenture, and that all requirements under the Indenture precedent to delivery of the Bonds have been satisfied.

In connection with the issuance of the Bonds, the Company has entered into a Standby Bond Purchase Agreement dated as of November 1, 1994 (the "Standby Purchase Agreement"), with The Bank of New York (the "Bank"). Pursuant to the Standby Purchase Agreement, the Bank has agreed to provide (a) an amount sufficient to pay the purchase price or portion of the purchase price equal to the principal amount of Bonds delivered to the Trustee for purchase and not remarketed, plus (b) an amount equal to 62 days' accrued interest on the outstanding Bonds to pay the portion of the purchase price of the Bonds delivered to the Trustee equal to the accrued interest, if any, on such Bonds. Execution of the Standby Purchase Agreement, however, does not release the Company from its payment obligation under the Loan Agreement. The stated expiration date of the Standby Purchase Agreement is November 17, 1999, subject to the provisions of the Standby Purchase Agreement.

For the purpose of securing the Company's obligation to repay the loan of the proceeds of sale of the Bonds made to the Company by the Issuer pursuant to the Loan Agreement, the Company has delivered to the Trustee, in trust for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $15,060,000 (the "First Mortgage Bonds"), issued by the Company under the Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of January 9, 1989, between the Company and Chemical Bank, as successor trustee, as supplemented and amended by ten supplemental indentures, including a Tenth Supplemental Indenture dated as of August 1, 1994 (collectively, the "Mortgage"). Pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture, payments by the Company representing principal of and interest on the First Mortgage Bonds are deposited into the Bond Fund created under the Indenture and are used to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds on an equal and ratable basis as the same become due. The First Mortgage Bonds are being issued as a part of a series of $216,470,000 aggregate principal of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds pursuant to the Mortgage on the date hereof to secure the Bonds and five other issues of pollution control revenue refunding bonds being issued on the date hereof by Emery County, Utah, Carbon County, Utah, Converse County, Wyoming, Sweetwater County, Wyoming, and Moffat County, Colorado (collectively, the "Other Issuers"), to refinance certain pollution control or solid waste disposal facilities (the "Facilities") for the benefit of the Company.

We further certify that we have examined the form of bond prescribed in the Indenture and find the same in due form of law and in our opinion the Bonds, to the amount named, are valid and legally binding upon the Issuer according to the import thereof and, as provided in the Indenture and the Bonds, are payable by the Issuer solely out of payments to be made by the Company under the Loan Agreement and all moneys and investments held by the Trustee under the Indenture or otherwise available to the Trustee for the payment thereof.

Subject to the condition that the Company, the Issuer and the Other Issuers comply with certain covenants made to satisfy pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (the "1954 Code"), and the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, we are of the opinion that under present law interest on the Bonds is not includible in gross income of the owners thereof for federal income tax purposes, except for interest on any Bond for any period during which such Bond is owned by a person who is a substantial user of the Project or the Facilities or any person considered to be related to such person (within the meaning of Section 103(b)(13) of the 1954 Code), and interest on the Bonds will not be treated as an item of tax preference in computing the alternative minimum tax for individuals and corporations. Interest on the Bonds will be taken into account, however, in computing an adjustment used in determining the alternative minimum tax for certain corporations. Failure to comply with certain of such covenants could cause the interest on the Bonds to be included in gross income retroactive to the date of issuance of the Bonds. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other federal tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon certifications of even date herewith of the Company relating to the Station, the Project and the application of the proceeds of the Refunded Bonds and the proceeds of the Bonds with respect to certain material facts solely within the knowledge of the Company.

In our opinion, under present Wyoming law, the State of Wyoming imposes no income taxes that would be applicable to interest on the Bonds. No opinion is expressed with respect to any other taxes imposed by the State of Wyoming or any political subdivision thereof. Ownership of the Bonds may result in other Wyoming tax consequences to certain taxpayers; we express no opinion regarding any such collateral consequences arising with respect to the Bonds.

We are not passing upon the Standby Purchase Agreement or any action taken by the Bank in connection therewith. The validity of the Standby Purchase Agreement has been passed upon by Davis Polk & Wardwell.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey, counsel to the Company, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith concerning the obligations of the Company under the Loan Agreement. In rendering this opinion, we have relied upon said opinion with respect to, among other things: (i) the due organization of the Company, (ii) the good standing or existence of the Company in the States of Wyoming and Oregon, (iii) the approval of the execution and delivery by the Company of the Loan Agreement by all necessary regulatory authorities exercising jurisdiction over the Company, (iv) the corporate power of the Company to enter into, and the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company of, the Loan Agreement, and (v) the binding effect of the Loan Agreement on the Company.

Stoel Rives Boley Jones & Grey has also rendered an opinion of even date herewith, as to the due authorization, execution and delivery of the First Mortgage Bonds and the Mortgage, the validity and binding effect thereof, the enforceability thereof in accordance with their respective terms and the requisite issuance of all orders, approvals, authorizations and consents of any court or administrative or governmental body with respect to the First Mortgage Bonds.

Joseph B. Bluemel, County Attorney of the Issuer, has delivered an opinion of even date herewith with respect to the obligations of the Issuer under the Bonds, the Loan Agreement and the Indenture.

We express no opinion as to the title to, the description of, or the existence of any liens, charges or encumbrances on the Project or the Station.

Re: $21,260,000 Sweetwater County, Wyoming,
Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds
(PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994

We hereby certify that we have examined certified copy of the proceedings of record of the Board of County Commissioners of Sweetwater County, Wyoming (the "Issuer"), a political subdivision of the State of Wyoming, preliminary to the issuance by the Issuer of its Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994, in the aggregate principal amount of $21,260,000 (the "Bonds"). The Bonds are being issued pursuant to the provisions of Sections 15-1-701 to 15-1-710, inclusive, Wyoming Statutes (1977), as amended and supplemented (the "Act"), for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's Taxable Pollution Control Revenue Refunding Bonds (PacifiCorp Project) Series 1994T now outstanding in the amount of $21,260,000 (the "Refunded Bonds"). The Refunded Bonds were issued for the purpose of refunding the Issuer's Pollution Control Revenue Bonds (Pacific Power & Light Company Project) Series 1973 (the "1973 Bonds") which were issued by the Issuer for the purpose of financing a portion of the cost of certain air and water pollution control facilities in which PacifiCorp, an Oregon corporation (the "Company") owns a 66-2/3% undivided interest (the "Project") at the Jim Bridger coal-fired steam electric generating plant (the "Station") in Sweetwater County, Wyoming. The proceeds of the Bonds, together with other moneys to be provided by the Company, are to be deposited with the trustee for the Refunded Bonds to provide for the payment of the Refunded Bonds.

The Bonds mature on November 1, 2024, bear interest from time to time computed as set forth in each of the Bonds and are subject to purchase and redemption prior to maturity at the times, in the manner and upon the terms set forth in each of the Bonds. The Bonds are issuable in Authorized Denominations as provided in the hereinafter-defined Indenture as fully-registered Bonds without coupons.

From such examination of the proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners of the Issuer referred to above and from an examination of the Act, we are of the opinion that such proceedings show lawful authority for said issue of Bonds under the laws of the State of Wyoming now in force.
